ROUND TABLE GIVES ENTERTAINMENT

Excellent Vaudeville and Dance

The entertainment given by the ladies of the Round Table in Alumni Hall on Saturday evening, was a distinct success. The five vaudeville acts were applauded; by the exceptionally large audience until the roof almost shook. The ladies of the Round Table are certainly to be thanked for their pleasant evening.

The first number was a piano duet by Miss Hutchins and Miss Brown. This was followed by a selection by the girls' Glee Club of 19 girls. They were encored three times. The next number was given by White '15, and Goodwin '15. They rendered three selections on the banjo and mandolin in a very pleasing manner.

Everyone expected when Hanson '15 came upon the stage that he was going to sing a solo. After a few lines however, he was interrupted by a loud hammering off the stage. He went to the wings and dragged a whiskered carpenter who proved to be Bradbury '14, after him. He told him if he wanted to be in the act he must sing. So they started only to be interrupted again by sawing. Angriely they dragged another brawny workman from the wings who was discovered to be "Bid" Thomas '14. An angry talk was commenced only to be interrupted by Haskell '14, who it developed was the stage manager. Thus an excellent quartet was assembled. They gave four or five numbers and had hard work in getting off the stage.

This was followed by two duets and solos by Sheridan '15, and Dolan '15. Anyone acquainted with Sheridan's vivacious manner can imagine how well these were enjoyed. This was followed by another piano duet by the Misses Hutchins and Brown. The entertainment then closed with a very pretty act given by the Misses Chilcott and Coombs and Hanson '15 and Chadbourne, '16.

The entertainment was followed by a dance. Members of the faculty served as ushers.

JUNIOR ELECTION

Junior Week and Prom Committee Elected

At the Junior Class election held Friday, the following were elected to the "Prom" and Junior Week Committees:

For the Junior Prom: Goodwin, Howland, Easson and Hall.

For Junior Week: Fogler, Goodwin, Ingalls, Thurrell and Varney.

Sir William Ramsay of England, foremost Biblical scholar in the world, has arranged to deliver a series of five lectures on the "Life of St. Paul" at the University of Pennsylvania.

DELTA TAU DELTA RECEPTION

Gamma Nu Chapter of Delta Tau Delta held its annual reception to the matron, Mrs. Currier, on Friday, evening, December 12th.

The house was decorated with purple and white crepe paper, the fraternity colors with Japanese lanterns and colored lights. The orchestra was sheltered from view by palms.

The receiving line was composed of Dean and Mrs. J. S. Stevens, Prof. and Mrs. Huddilston, Mrs. Currier and R. W. Peaslee '14.

After the reception an order of nineteen dances was enjoyed. Among the guests present for the occasion were: Mrs. W. T. Rodden and Miss Marion Rodden of Reading, Mass.; Miss Frances Hopkins of Vinalhaven, Me.; Miss Jennie Martin, Old Town; Misses Marjorie Hall, Dover, Me.; Pauline Hassell, Sebec; Alta Hall, Doris Woodbury, Alice Merrill, Brewer; Mary R. Kelly, Gertrude Hammond, Margaret McCann, Frances Creamer, Madeline Clark, Gladys Collins, Doris Currier, Bangor; Bertha Dennison, Portland; Marjorie Brown, Charleston; Eunice Niles, Hallowell; Helen Greeley, Bar Harbor; Hazel Lane, Lewiston; Margaret Wood, Bar Harbor; Muriel Colbath, Hampden, Nora Smart, Greenville; Marion Emery, Limerick.

SIGMA CHI ENTERTAINS

Christmas Party

The annual Christmas party and dance of Rho Rho Chapter of Sigma Chi was held at the chapter house, Friday evening, Dec. 12. The house was very prettily decorated with fir, pine, and spruce bows, intermingled with red lights and the usual Christmas decorations. A feature of the entertainment was a joke Christmas tree which proved to be a decided hit.

Dancing was enjoyed by about twenty couples to the strains of Newman's Orchestra of Bangor. The matrons were: Mrs. Frank E. Whitecomb, Miss Josephine Campbell, and Mrs. Coburn of Orono; Mrs. Bertha Thompson of Ellsworth was the guest of the chapter.

Among the guests were the Misses Madeline Robinson, Imogene Wormwood, May Yerxa, Cordelia Carlisle, Elsie Hutchins, Mary Marsh of Bangor; Miss Mary Moore of Bar Harbor; Miss Lillian Hunt of Old Town; the Misses Minnie May Park, Pauline Bayard, Mabel Arnold, Gladys Treat, Ethel Gray, Mary Leonard, Margarite Littlefield, Eugenia Rodick, Ruth Dodge, Helen Soper, Cornelia Phelps and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Toner of Orono.

NEW CANDIDATES

A tentative cast of The Learned Ladies will be announced at the Tuesday rehearsal, December 16. New candidates are requested to appear at this rehearsal to try for the parts of Clitandre, the young lover, and Vadius, a character part.

MEETING OF SPEAKERS CLUB

Meeting of speakers Club Plans and Questions for Debate

A meeting of the Speakers' Club was held in the board room of Alumni Hall after the Sophomore Declamation contest, Friday evening, for the discussion of names of men to take part in the interclass debates and to choose question to present to the classes the questions for debate. It was decided to put over the date for the trials for the interclass debates to January 7, the Wednesday after the recess so as to give the contestants more of an opportunity for proper preparation. All men who have any ability at all for debate are urged to try out.

The questions for debate as they will be submitted to the classes for a choice are as follows:

FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE

1. Resolved, that a commission form of government like the Des Moines plan, is more desirable than prevalent forms, for cities of more than 20,000 inhabitants.
2. Resolved, that a single tax is the most desirable system of taxation for the United States.

JUNIOR-SENIOR

1. Resolved, that industrial insurance is preferable to employers' liability.
2. Resolved, that the abrogation of the Monroe Doctrine would be to the advantage of Americans in general.

A. L. Hamblen, C. S. Libby and S. C. Clement of the sophomore class will enter the local oratorical contest on Temperance and the liquor traffic recently announced in the CAMPUS. Several other members of the class have indicated their interest in the contest.

The men who are to enter the contest for the prize offered by the International Peace Society held a conference at Professor Daggett's rooms on College Avenue. Professors Daggett, Stevens and Matthews gave informal talks followed by a general discussion of the question. Refreshments were served and a very enjoyable as well as profitable evening was spent. Those present were R. H. Varney '15, H. E. Rollins '16, R. F. Thurrell '15, V. S. Treworgy '15, and P. H. Martin '14. It is planned to continue these conferences.

MAINE MASQUE TO BE ENTERTAINED BY PROFESSOR BROWN

The cast and officers of the Maine Masque will be entertained by Professor Charles B. Brown, at his residence on Main Street, Friday night January 9, 1913. On this occasion, Professor Segall will give a talk on the "precieuses" and the social conditions which influenced Moliere in the writing of "The Learned Ladies."

University of Pennsylvania is to have a new chapel to cost at least half a million dollars. It is to be 180 feet long and 66 feet wide, and is to have a seating capacity of 1500.

MERRILL WINS THE SOPHOMORE DECLAMATIONS

Speaking up to Usual Standard

Earl Stephen Merrill of Orono won the annual Sophomore Prize speaking held last Friday evening, at Alumni Hall. His subject was Clay's Speech in the Senate on The Greek Revolution. George Harrison Garrison of Portland, won honorable mention with his speech on "General Amnesty" by Carl Schurz.

Prof. Daggett who served as chairman, said that the speakers of the evening were the best in the sophomore class as they included not only the best in English I but also those had done so well in freshman debating.

Rev. David N. Beach in awarding the prize congratulated the University and Prof. Daggett on the excellence of the work done, and said that the judges had a most difficult task in awarding the prize.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON GIVES ITS ANNUAL CHRISTMAS DANCE

Alpha Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon held its annual Christmas Dance at the chapter house on Friday evening. The house was prettily decorated in evergreen and the fraternity colors. Refreshments consisting of chicken salad, cakes, coffee and ice cream were served. The following guests were present: Ruth E. Whitman, Margaret Moran, Katherine Crowley, Myrtle Jones, Frances E. Dugan, Isabelle Frawley, Miss Scanlon, Bangor; Miss Mildred Morrison, Bar Harbor; Elizabeth Allen, Waterville; Isabelle Dempsey Stillwater; Hazel McLellan, Old Town, Mary Phillips, Orono; Marie Foster; Bar Harbor; Marian E. Plummer, Old Town; Ethel W. Foster, Bar Harbor; Cora Blithen, Stillwater; Bernice Smith, Old Town; Katherine Kelleher, Orono; Helen Norris, Auburn; Mildred Williams, Waterville; Louine Tibbetts, Orrington.

Aided by the open weather of the past month the contractors have been able to make very satisfactory progress on the new building which is intended to house the departments of chemistry and physics. The cement foundation has been poured and is drying out very rapidly. Work on the superstructure of the building will commence almost immediately.

Harry G. Bell, formerly professor of agronomy at the University of Maine, and now chief agronomist of the middle west soil improvement committee of National Fertilizer Association, has been selected by the superintendent of schools of Chicago to conduct the work in general farming and farm management, which has been added to the curriculum of the night schools of that city.

Wesleyan has taken up intercollegiate soccer football.

Cornell Medical College recently received a gift of four million from Col. O. H. Payne, a Yale graduate.

The ladies of the Round Table are to be congratulated upon the entertainment and dance which they gave to the Round faculty and the students last Table Saturday evening. The affair Dance served its two-fold purpose admirably. The faculty members and their wives who attended became much better acquainted with the students who were present. The members of the Round Table also succeeded in making the evening a family affair inasmuch as only those directly connected with the University were allowed to be present. Every one who had the pleasure of attending expressed the wish that more functions of the same character might be held.

We do not think that an admission fee would be out of place if the Round Table should consider giving another entertainment and dance. The faculty and students would turn out in as large proportion as they did last Saturday now that they are well acquainted with the new character that the Round Table functions have taken.

Last issue of the CAMPUS until after the Christmas recess.

Remember Maine on your vacation travels.

The CAMPUS takes this opportunity to wish all connected with Maine a pleasant vacation, a Merry Christmas, and a Happy New Year.

MEETING OF THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Color and Size of "M" to be Changed

At a meeting of the Athletic Board held Wednesday, the following changes in the constitution subject to the approval of the student body were brought up.

Voted: To recommend to the Athletic Association that Art. 5, Sec. 1 of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

"In track athletics, to those winning a point or fraction thereof at the N. E. I. A. A. meet; to those winning first or second place, or two third places or the equivalent at the M. I. A. A. meet in one season; to those breaking University of Maine records; to members of winning 'Varsity relay teams contesting with other colleges; to members of 'Varsity Cross Country teams winning one of the first fifteen places at the N. E. I. A. A. meet, or one of the first ten places at the M. I. A. A. meet, and to winners of such other contests as may be approved by the Athletic Board."

Voted: To recommend to the Athletic Association, that Art. 5, Sec. 3 of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

"The 'Varsity initial shall be a light blue block M and may be worn on sweater, jersey, cap or hat, and on track men's running shirts. The football M shall be 7 inches in height by 8 inches in width, and shall be worn on a V neck sweater. The baseball, track, and basketball M's shall be 5 inches in height by six inches in width, and shall be worn on a coat sweater. All sweaters to be navy blue in color. The M in the tennis insignia and the M of the TMT and the BMB the T's and the B's shall be half the height of the M, and on opposite sides and midway of the M. The M on hat or cap shall be one inch in height by 1 1/4 inches in width."

The above amendments will come before a student chapel shortly to be voted on.

FRESHMAN DEBATING CLUB MEETING

At a recent meeting of the freshman class debating club four teams debated the question "Resolved that the U. of M. should return to amateur coaching if they could enter into an agreement to that effect with the other colleges in the state." The teams were as follows in order of the speaking. First section, affirmative, Hall, Varney and Gilpatrick; Negative, Emery, Roderic and Wilson; Second section, affirmative, Stack pole, Smiley and Cram; negative, Jacobs, P. H. Cobb and R. H. Cobb.

In the first section the affirmative won the argument.

In the second section the negative won the argument.

The judges choice for best individual debaters were: Hall, Gilpatrick and Varney, from section one and R. H. Cobb, P. H. Cobb and Cram in section two.

The two winners of these debates will debate the same question on Wednesday, December 17, at 7.30 P. M.

The Judges were Professors Daggett, Mathews, Barrows and Mr. Rand.

It is earnestly requested that all members of the freshman class who are interested in debating will be present next Wednesday night and take part in a floor discussion of this debate.

After the debating the meeting was called to order by President Roderic and a letter was read from Bangor High concerning a debate with a team from the freshman class. It was voted to debate with Bangor High and the arrangements for the same were left in the hands of the secretary.

1058 STUDENTS AT MAINE

Enrollment Increases and Now Numbers 47 More Than Last Year

The enrollment of the University of Maine now totals 1058 students, the largest the institution has ever known. This year is a gain of 47 over the 1011 students here last year or a gain of 4.6 per cent. This increase comes through the large gain in the registration of students in the college of arts and sciences and the college of technology, it being 15.5 per cent in the former and 13.8 per cent in the latter.

The students as enrolled in the different colleges of the university at the present time are college of agriculture, 328; college of arts and sciences, 216; college of law, 111 and college of technology, 403. This number includes the specials as well as students pursuing regular courses.

The faculty members of the institution now number 126. They are divided among the different colleges of the institution as follows: Agriculture, 25; arts and sciences, 41; experiment station, 14; law, 11; technology, 28; and officers common to all, seven.

After physical examination by a surgeon, it was found that over 80 per cent. of the men students at the University of Missouri have curvature of the spine.

BASKET BALL RULES

Only Two Important Changes This Year

At a meeting of the Rules Committee, appointed by the National Collegiate Athletic Association held at the Hotel Astor, New York, on November 28th, the changes in basketball rules were discussed and points of minor interpretation explained. There are only two important changes this year, the others dealing with questions of technicality. Under the present rules when a ball goes out of bound it will be given at all times to the player opposite the one touching it last before it goes over the line. This includes the kicking of the ball out by the centers at the beginning of the game and also shooting for baskets. The other change provides that whenever two players jump for the ball one hand must be kept behind the back until the ball has been actually touched. Those attending the committee meeting included: Harry A. Fisher, Columbia; Albert H. Shrape, Cornell; E. C. Lincoln, Williams; Fred T. Dawson, Union; Edwin A. Afauver, Princeton; C. C. Williams, Springfield Training School.

The University of Colorado is enlarging its station from one half to five k. w. and will procure a government license.

Harvard men are protesting because Christmas vacation begins Tuesday and ends Saturday, cutting off both week ends.

1916 won the annual "flour rash" at University of Pennsylvania.

GENERAL LECTURE

Prof. Chase on "The Analogy of Language"

Professor Chase gave the third of his series of lectures in the library on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 3rd. Following is a brief summary of his interesting talk.

It has been by a gradual unconscious development of sound change that the different languages have reached their present conditions. In English, the plurals of nouns were once formed as the plurals of many of the German nouns are now formed by adding "er." The French Invasion, however, gradually changed the plural ending of "er" to "s."

English was once an inflected language similar to Latin. The gradual development of sound change has, however, done away with many of the endings. The genitive still holds its original ending both in the singular and plural.

Analogy tends to do away with differences in languages. It is a great leveling factor. It attracts the minority to the majority. Analogy has made the most of our verbs the same in the plural as in the singular. As verbs have been added to our language they have been of the ending "ed". From this it may readily be seen that verbs of a strong ending are rapidly diminishing. Analogy also tends to level past tenses and past participles. That is it tends to make both the past tense and the past participle the same word. Not only does analogy work in English but in all languages the same. It tends to make new classes of words, and by its work, different endings have come to have the same meaning in two or more languages.

In English, the ending of the superlative of adjectives is either "st" or "est." In early times "m" was greatly used as the superlative ending. When the new ending came into use the "st" or "est" was in many cases added directly onto the old superlative as:—foremost, etc. Thru analogy the "s" of the genitive has come to be added onto the end of the expression in many cases, rather than the end of the noun.

In many instances the phrase has been made into one word. These words were in fact merely the contraction of two or more words. As the language changed, the true meaning of these combined words were lost, and the words were, in many cases, changed over to suit the taste of the speaker. It may thus be seen why many of our compound words do not seem to fit the meaning which we attach to them.
