THREE WEEKS ROUND OUT A TEAM

With the Championship Series Only Three Weeks Away, the Eleven is Showing Excellent Form

With a new coach, of whom very little was known, suddenly taking charge of the football squad in place of Schildmiller, who had been expected to return this fall, and with several of the best men either out of the University or ineligible, the prospects for this season were not the brightest when the squad first reported. After three weeks of strenuous practice Coaches Wingard and Reilly have a varsity eleven whose work is gratifying both to them and to the student body.

PHILIP S. STROUT, South Portland,

The team is as heavy as is necessary to work under the new rules. In fact, its weight retards it in speed and the problem of securing this quality is perhaps the gravest one faced by the coaches at present. In the past week, however, both the line and the backs have become considerably faster, and if the team continues its progress it will be fast enough by the time the State games begin.

One point which is in favor of the steadiness and the form of the eleven is the fact that nearly all the men who now look to be of varsity material have had at least a year's college coaching. Notwithstanding the absence from the squad of Cleaves, Sawyer, and Amadon, upon whom Maine men counted this fall, only two freshmen have found places on the team as yet.

Eales is making good use of the training that he received last year and is playing a strong game at center, while Crowell, a freshman from South Portland high school, is holding down right guard, and Derby and Whitney, another freshman, are striving hard to win the other guard position permanently. Derby did not make the Vermont trip on account of injuries. Bigelow, who played right tackle last fall, is at his old position and is showing up well, while McNeil, who hails from Wollaston, is proving one of the best men in the line at left tackle. Buck, who was at right end last year, is there again, and King is on the other wing. Both ends are faster than they ever have been before.

In the backfield, Smith and Waite are fighting it out for quarterback and neither has much on the other. Smith is steadier, but Waite is quicker. Captain Parker is playing right half-back in the form which won him the captaincy in his junior year. He has a way of sliding through the line that no one can duplicate. Both Cobb and Carlton are playing equally as good a game at left half, and with Shepherd at fullback Maine has a ground-gaining machine which it will be hard to stop in the State contests. These dozen men are not by any means the only good players on the squad, however, and it will be only by hard work that they will hold the berths which they now have. There are two more fast backs in Davis and Smiley, two tackles in Albee and Tipping, and two ends in Smith and King, who make a strong set of substitutes.

In its present development the team as a whole seems to be very strong on the defense and fairly fast on the offense. More speed is necessary, however, in both the line and backfield and this the coaches will try to bring out of the men this week. Maine does not need to worry when punting is the game, for Shepherd, the former Wesleyan star, has been doing kicking which warrants the supposition that he can send the ball farther than any other man in the State.

SENIOR MEMBERS A. A. BOARD

ATHLETIC BOARD ELECTIONS

McCarthy and Howe, 1911, and Woodward, 1912

The election of the undergraduate members of the Athletic Board was held Thursday afternoon. The complete Board now consists of Alumni members, H. B. Buck, '93, P. B. Palmer, '96, C. P. Crowell, '98; Faculty members, Prof. R. K. Jones, Prof. H. S. Boardman, Prof. P. L. Bean; M. R. Sumner, '11, President of the Athletic Association, and undergraduate members George Howe, Jr., of Caribou, Maurice McCarthy of Lewiston, 1911, and Karl Woodard of Kingston, Mass., '12.

The Athletic Board is a new institution at the University, taking the place of the old Executive Committee. The Board has supervision over all teams connected with the University, both varsity and interclass, and its approval must be had for any contests on the field or in the gymnasium. The Board must also approve or reject the nomination of managers and the election of captains of the various teams, its rejection being final for that term. By a majority vote the Board may force the resignation of any manager or captain and fill the position temporarily. The Treasurer of the Athletic Association is elected directly by the Board, as are also the University's three members of the Maine Intercollegiate Athletic Board. It determines the athletic dues, fixes the date of elections, and counts the ballots. Its approval is required for the schedules of the teams and for any amendments to the constitution of the Association.

From the outline given above, it is evident that the powers of the Board are wide, and the student body should see that its representatives are the very best men obtainable. The men just elected are all that could be desired, and if proper interest is shown in the elections, the same high standard can be continued.

One of the main objects of the new system of electing officers, is to keep up the interest of the students in their athletic affairs. At elections they must learn to vote, not necessarily for the man who is most widely known, but for the man who, in their own opinion, has the most ability and is best fitted for the office. A little serious thought at such times will be repaid in efficient management of the teams.

JUNIOR WEEK PLANS

Committee Hopes to Hold It the Third Week in May

On account of some dissatisfaction with the conditions under which Junior Week was held last year, the present Junior class has already chosen its committee, in order that it may take up the matter of the time for the affair. The committee consists of W. R. Ballou of Bath, Graham B. Spear, of Springfield, Mass., Alfred E. Crabtree of Hancock, Lynne T. Rand of Unity, and Charles E. Sullivan of Gorham, N. H.

It is the desire of the class to change the date of Junior Week back from just before Commencement, when it was held last year, to the former time of the third week in May. The fact that it was through Faculty action that the old date was abandoned may make it difficult to resume that date, but the committee will wait upon the Faculty at an early meeting to support its petition.

AGRICULTURAL CLUB

Special Music and Speakers Welcome New Members to First Smoker

The evening of Oct. 5, found the "Aggies" again assembled for their regular Club meeting. After the usual reports, A. W. Benson, '12, rendered two violin solos, as the first entertainment of the year.

Dr. L. S. Merrill then took the floor and gave a very interesting talk along the lines of extension work and Prof. Simmons next addressed the Club, reminding the members of the importance of their positions. M. D. Jones, '12, followed with current events, which were of great interest.

"Forward is the watchword!" During the past week the Club membership for the coming year has increased very rapidly. There still remains another week before the time limit concerning membership expires, and it is hoped that by Oct. 12, the "Aggie Club" will be the strongest organization of its kind in the University. There will be an especially good programme for the next meeting.

Upon adjournment, the first smoker of the year was held with characteristic features of its own.

CLASS ELECTIONS

B. C. Kent Elected President 1913 and B. Haskell to Student Council

At the meeting of the Junior class held last Wednesday noon the following officers were elected:—President, Benjamin C. Kent of Stillwater; Vice President, Franklin L. Darrell of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Treasurer, Phillip R. Hussey of Patten; Secretary, Miss Marion C. Estabrooke, of Orono; and as member of Student Council, Benjamin Haskell of Westbrook.

The freshmen of Indiana University have started a new annual custom called Cap Burning. At the end of the year they have a large parade through the city streets and then a solemn meeting. Speeches are made, and the affair ends with the burning of the freshman headgear in a huge bon-fire.

BANGOR CO-OPERATIVE PRINTING COMPANY

EDITORIAL.

Often does one take up a magazine and see an article on the relation of fraternities to colleges, and often does one hear college presidents and educators speak upon that subject. This continual discussion and the numerous attempts made in the colleges and universities of the Country to bring the fraternities together in some sort of union, both for their own good and for that of their institutions, go to show that the conditions are far from satisfactory. Yet, the authorities and the fraternity chapters of many American colleges are working out schemes which are proving more or less useful and which are being perfected as rapidly as possible.

Here at Maine, however, where the same difficulties which other institutions have experienced are present, nothing has ever been done toward any fraternity regulations. Maine has chapters of nine national fraternities and two local societies, with a membership last year of 336 out of the 581 regular undergraduates and specials. With such a large percentage of the students in fraternities, the evils which have existed in fraternity conditions elsewhere are bound to be found here, and they are bound to have an effect upon the student life and the University spirit.

Maine needs an inter-fraternity council. She needs it to bring the fraternities more into touch with each other. She needs it to lay down rules regarding the rushing of freshmen and other matters, which each individual chapter admits ought to exist, but which no one chapter can lay down for itself on account of the rivalry among all the fraternities. She needs a council, also, to take up matters of mutual interest to the chapters, such as the recent ruling of the Board of Trustees. And she needs it, most of all, to aid in placing fraternity spirit where it belongs, beneath Maine spirit!

It is true that in other institutions inter-fraternity councils have failed to accomplish all of these things, perhaps any of them. Yet, a successful council is possible; such a one exists in the University of Nebraska. It is successful there because it has been carefully organized and receives the firm support of the university authorities. A ruling of the board of regents of that institution says that "The inter-fraternity council is hereby given full power by the University authorities, in its dealings with fraternity affairs, to correct and to discipline and to impose punishment, subject only to the approval of the Chancellor and the Board of Regents." That is backing which is worth something which makes the council's decisions carry weight.

Some things are not as they should be here. Some of those things could be corrected by an inter-fraternity council. Why not have one? It is worth thinking about.

Valuable prizes are being offered this year by the Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration and by a business firm of Chicago for articles on arbitration and various subjects of political economy. These prizes are going to be won, and why can't they be won by Maine men?

More men for the Band! The Band is an organization to be a member of which a man should be proud. Every note it sounds serves a double purpose: it spurs on the teams and it puts spirit into the cheering section. If you cannot play football, Maine men, but can play an instrument, join the Band. Cheer only if you can do neither of these things.

How many Maine men would like to have a formal inauguration on the assumption of the President's office by Dr. Aley? The CAMPUS board casts its vote in favor.

Five games in a string now! Tufts, M. A. C., Bates, Colby, and Bowdoin. Begin cheering now, and do not quit until after the last game anyway. Practice this week, and practice some new cheers.

WEDNESDAY LECTURE

Aeschylus the Subject of Talk

The topic of the lecture on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 5th, was "The climax of the severe, religious drama of Aeschylus" given by Prof. Huddilston. This lecture was the second of the series given on the Dramatic Literature of Ancient Greece and Rome.

The lecture began by comparing the qualities of Aeschylus, the great poet and dramatist, with poets and dramatists of more modern times. Homer, Aeschylus and a few other writers of that day, although they wrote in a peculiar style of their own time, yet rank with some of the greatest dramatists and poets of the modern days.

Aeschylus, perhaps more than any other writer, should be mentioned because he stands first in the history of dramatic literature. He raised drama from its very cradle to the height of perfection. Aeschylus may not have been the greatest of human sympathizers still there is a grand and gigantic swing to his works that places him in rank with Shakespeare and writers of that calibre.

Aeschylus did not wish to be written down in history as a poet or dramatist but wished to be known as a warrior. He did things worth writing about and wrote about things worth doing. His works were not like our modern love stories but were of a more serious nature, so serious that he is called the prophet of his race.

His play Prothemus may be classed with "Hamlet," the "Book of Job," and other great plays. It is classed among the five sceptical dramas of history. In the "Book of Job" we find the same spirit prevailing as in Prothemus. It shows the relation of man to the great and final cause. This great drama, Prothemus, was produced in a Greek outdoor theatre at Athens a few years after his appearance.

It was the custom in Aeschylus's time that three poets should contest for the position of what we might call today poet laureate. Aeschylus had won this honor several times at Athens but at last he was defeated. He felt the defeat so that it worried his life away and he died from a broken heart 456 B. C.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING

The opening meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held on Wednesday evening, in the lecture room of the library. It was a bible study rally. The address of the evening was delivered by James L. McConaughy, Yale, '09, who is the general secretary of Maine colleges.

Mr. McConaughy spoke on "The Value of Bible Study to College Men." He said there were three reasons why college men should study the Bible. First, in order to appreciate art one must be familiar with the Bible for the most important works of the old masters were on biblical subjects. Secondly, literature would be very incomplete without the Bible. If the biblical references were taken from Shakespeare's works they would lose their position at the head of English literature. In the third place, he said that college men should study the Bible for the dynamic it would give them for upholding their ideals. He held that the greatest temptation of college men is the lowering of their ideals. There is nothing that would enable one to overcome this temptation so much as daily Bible study.

After Mr. McConaughy's address the announcement was made of the classes which are to be started in the various fraternity houses and elsewhere. The meeting was well attended and all those who came were amply repaid for their effort.

The faculty at the University of Michigan is considering the matter of giving credit for work on student publications.

The University of Minnesota students taking engineering are at present constructing an elevated railroad three miles long.

THE BAND

First Practice Held With Many New Men Out

The band has begun regular practice in preparation for its work at the coming football games. There is a good amount of material out and the organization promises to be fully up to the standard of past years. However, more men can be used with every instrument, there being an especially good opening for altos and snare drums.

The attention of everyone is called to the fact that military credit is given to all who register for band work. The freshmen, too, should note that the band is always taken on the special trains to football and track events at the other Maine colleges. These are additional inducements to report for band work, and should bring out many more candidates.

The following is a list of those who have registered up to the present time:

Leader, B. C. Markle, '11.
 Manager, T. C. Higgins, '13.
 Cornets: Fulton, '11, Burgess, '11, Groves, '13, Jones, '13.
 Clarinets: Markle, '11, Wardwell, '13, Cobb, '14.
 Altos: Allen, '13, McBride, '14.
 Trombones: Higgins, '13, Brewer, '13.
 Baritone: Ackley, '13, Morris, '14.
 Bass: Davis, '11, Albee, '14, Towne, '14.
 Snare Drum: Walker, '11.
 Bass Drum: Morrison, '11.
 Cymbals: Peckham, '11.

MANDOLIN CLUB

First Rehearsal Held Monday Shows Many Good Men

At the first rehearsal of the Mandolin Club, the following men reported to Leader R. W. Davis, '11: W. F. Wilson, J. F. Morrison, A. C. Eaton, N. E. Smith, L. A. Fitch and O. E. Whittier, 1911; Phillip Garland and Benjamin Haskell, 1912; J. Littlefield, 1913; and W. H. Johnson, H. W. McBride, H. R. French, P. W. Thomas, W. W. Grace and H. W. Fowler, 1914.

New music was given out and rehearsals will be held several times a week to get in readiness for the first concert Dec. 2. This large number of candidates is encouraging and promises well for a successful aggregation. However there is always opportunity for men to try out, membership is purely competitive, and they are needed to make the club even more successful than that which was so highly complimented by audiences that heard last year's clubs. Especially acceptable would be a 'cello, mando 'cello or mandola.

$1100 IN PRIZES

Premiums for Articles on Topics of Public Interest

In order to arouse the interest of American students in the economic problems of the Country and in her external relations, three prizes amounting to no less than $1100 are being offered from two different sources this year..

A large firm in Chicago offers a first prize of six hundred dollars for the best essay written by an American.

The chairman of the committee in charge of this competition is Prof. J. Laurence Laughlin of the University of Chicago. A competitor may choose any other subject providing that it is approved by the committee in charge. These prizes are offered to arouse interest in the study of topics relating to commerce and industry and to stimulate those who have a college training to consider the problems of a business career.

The Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration offers a prize of one hundred dollars for the best essay on "International Arbitration" by an undergraduate student of any American college or university. The donor of the prize is Chester Dewitt Pugsley of Peekskill, N. Y. The contest closes March 13, 1911. For further information concerning this contest students may write to H. C. Phillips, Secretary Lake Mohonk Conference, Mohonk Lake, N. Y.

FRESHMEN IN DORMITORIES

After This Year No Freshman May Live in Fraternity Houses

By a ruling of the Board of Trustees none of the entering classes after this year shall be allowed to live in the fraternity houses. This action was taken at the June meeting of the Board and has recently been made known to the fraternities. It was to have gone into effect this fall, but by a vote of the Board at a special meeting on September 20 its enforcement was suspended until 1911.

The rule reads as follows: "That during the years 1910 and 1911 no more than half of the new members of the several fraternities shall be taken from the Freshman classes, and that after the year 1911 no Freshman be allowed as a member in any of the fraternity houses."

PRES. HAMILTON OF TUFTS AT VESPERNoted Educator Here Next Sunday

The student body will be very fortunate next Sunday in having the opportunity to listen to an address at the vesper service by Dr. Frederick William Hamilton, the president of Tufts college. During Dr. Hamilton's administration Tufts has risen rapidly in the rank of Massachusetts colleges, and her president is one of the leading educators of New England.

Ever since the inauguration of the vespers here the University has had the services of some of the best known educators and theologians in New England, and many others will be heard during this year. Probably no one who will speak here this year, however, is better qualified to give a message to the student body than Dr. Hamilton.

JUNIOR CIVILS MEET

Smoker Planned for Last of Month

The first meeting of the year of the Junior Civil Society was called for last Friday, but since less than a quorum was present the meeting resolved itself into an informal gathering. The date for a smoker of the society was discussed and it is likely that one will be held the last of the month. The plan of holding smokers proved very successful last year and it will probably be continued throughout this year.

At the Commencement exercises of the University of Pennsylvania, last June, Hon. John E. Reyburn, Mayor of Philadelphia, presented the University with fifty-six acres of land, thus nearly doubling the area of the campus.

WHO IS MERCER?

The Greatest Worker Among College Men in America to Visit Maine Early in November

A man who last year visited 58 institutions in this Country, addressed 40,000 college men, and was welcomed into 369 fraternity houses, is E. C. Mercer, who is coming to Maine early next month. A college man himself and one who fell a victim to the worst habits possible, he entirely changed the course of his life in 1904 and since then has been engaged in a peculiar work among college men, which few other men but himself are capable of accomplishing.

In this work he has won a place into the heart of every student body with which he has come in contact, and has been widely successful in influencing men who have been leading lives like that which he used to lead to seek his aid. He has won many men back to a life which gains the respect of one's fellow-students and which puts him in line to assume the greatest responsibility in student affairs.

THE TRACK OUTLOOK

Possibility of Cross-Country Race This Fall

Although it is rather early in the year to get a definite estimate of the track team which will represent Maine next spring, the prospects of winning the intercollegiate meet look good. It is true that Maine lost many good track men last spring from graduation and other reasons, but it is also true that the total number of points netted by those men in the meet at Lewiston last May is under ten. To offset this loss we have several men who were unable to compete last year and who are practically certain of points this year together with a freshman class that from first appearances is going to take hold of track work with a spirit.

The Pumpkin Meet will probably take place within two weeks although the actual date is some in doubt on account of the conflicting football games and recitations. The freshmen are getting out in fairly good numbers and with a determination to win that meet which should cause worry in the Sophomore camp.

There is being an attempt made this fall by the track management to secure a cross-country race with some Maine college. Nothing definite can be stated at present, but the long distance men including a large number of freshmen are working hard with this idea in view.

MAINE VS. VERMONT

A Nothing to Nothing Game at Burlington

Maine played her first intercollegiate game of football against the University of Vermont at Burlington, Saturday. Neither team was able to score and the advantage was about equal, Maine having a little the best of the game during the first period, Vermont in the last, and the ball see-sawing back and forth in the second and third periods. Every man on the team played a good consistent game and showed improvement since the Ft. McKinley game. Captain Parker played his usual star game and Shepherd did much for the Blue and White with his punting and all round work. Several of his punts held out for 50 yards. The only time Maine came near scoring was on a try for a field goal from the fifteen yard line which narrowly missed the posts. Maine's line was rather weak at times but the backfield was strong and did some fast work.

The line-up:

Good "Send-Off" Given Football Team

Thursday evening about three hundred students, accompanied by the college band, marched four abreast to the Orono station to see the team off for Vermont. All the way from the campus to the station there was singing and cheering, and at the station a snake-dance. O. A. Wakefield mounted the gate and led the cheering for each man of the squad, for Wingard, Reilly, the team, and for victory. As the train pulled out a final "Maine" cheer was given, and the boys wandered back to the campus.

The baseball team of the University of Chicago has received an invitation from Japan to tour that country this year.

Second Game in Freshman-Sophomore Series a Victory for the Lower Class

By connecting with the pitching staff of 1913 the Freshmen, in the second game for the peanuts Saturday, easily won over the Sophomores to the tune of 11 to 4. Up to the fifth inning the game was interesting with the Freshmen leading 4-1, but after this the outcome was certain. Stobie, the tall pitcher, did good work for 1914 in pitching, holding the Sophomores to five hits and ten strike-outs, and at bat where he contributed two base hits and one three bagger, which, by the way, could easily have been good for a home run had he wished to exert himself instead of loafing around the bases.

Rogers for the Sophomores did the most satisfactory work and a long three base hit with a double play by Wescott and Chase was the only sensation created by the older class.

The score:—

MARATHON SATURDAY

Several Candidates for Five-Mile Run, Oldtown to Campus

Manager W. McDonald of the Track team has decided to have the annual marathon run next Saturday as an added attraction for the large crowd which will attend the Maine-Tufts game. The men will leave Oldtown promptly at two o'clock and will finish their five-mile run with a lap around the cinder track. As the time required to cover the distance is about thirty minutes, the crowd will have an opportunity to witness the finish shortly before the beginning of the football game.

The conditions of the run are that the class first having three men cross the line will win. As yet, only the Freshmen have had as many as three men out, but by the time the pistol cracks there will probably be ten or a dozen starters.

DELTA TAU DELTA

First House Party on the Campus Friday Night

The members of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity held an enjoyable dancing party at their house last Friday evening, October 7th. Members of the home orchestra furnished music and light refreshments were served during intermission. Among the guests present from out of town were the Misses Edith Stevens and Lois Grimmer of St. Stephens, N. B.; Myrtle E. Jones of Everett, Mass.; Theodore P. Hersey of Patten; Lorine Bailey of Calais; and Mrs. E. L. Cummings of Vanceboro.

MAINE WINS FOURTH PLACE

Stock-Judging Team at Brockton Fair

In a very close competition with only 300 points difference in the scores of Maine and the other three agricultural colleges of New England, at the Brockton Fair, the Maine team had to be content with fourth place. Massachusetts Agricultural College won first, the place which Maine captured two years ago, New Hampshire State College took second, Maine's place last year, and Vermont was third. The winner's team score was 2760 out of a possible 3600, with Pichard high man at 940 points. Maine made 2640 points.

The team which represented Maine consisted of A. L. Deering, '12, of Denmark, E. W. McKeen,

'12, of Fryeburg, and M. A. Peabody, S. C., of Exeter. Prof. Campbell, who accompanied them, was well satisfied with their work since they were handicapped in not having had much practice in scoring herds. During their stay at Brockton the men had the opportunity to visit the famous Ames and Fields stock farms, which have the best Guernsey and Holstein herds, respectively, in New England.

Sophomores' Vocabulary Tested in Laying Down Commands to Freshmen

Since the opening of the University interest has been expressed as to whether the Sophomores would publish their usual proclamation to the Freshman Class. Sunday morning, however, this wonderment was brought to an end, when on every fence, post, and outbuilding, was seen a huge poster printed in the traditional freshman color, green.

The "procs" this year are the best put out here for a long time, and the committee—whichever they are—have proved that they have a good imagination as well as a wide vocabulary.

The text of the "procs" is as follows:

THIS MEANS YOU
$5000 REWARD $5000

For the arrest, conviction and incarceration of the several or single malicious scoundrels who wantonly, with malice aforethought, turned loose into this blessed land such a round up of bone heads as this bunch of sucklings.

A great charge is imposed upon 1913, a class of God-fearing, self-respecting men, who, although their sacred souls are shocked at the very thought, feel it necessary to impress upon you, the fact that the following laws are essential to the immortality of your soul and your eternal salvation:

Fail not to wear the prescribed bonnets, and to tip them to faculty and upperclassmen.

Remember the fair sex is too good for you. Keep away. Exterminate all "prep" school truck. We don't give a d— where you come from.

Smoke on the campus is provided by the power-house plant. Pipes are manly utensils. That lets you out altogether.

Have your lousy green carcasses always covered with a coat. Avoid the use of hard hats. They are easily crushed.

Make a noise like a 100-yard dash when a Sophomore yells "Beat it, Freshman!"

Associate by yourselves. Think of the noise the chapel bell makes and keep your traps closed.

Nothing from nothing leaves you. Don't ask for sympathy, because this is no place for it.

Bow your ivory domes and obey the above orders of the great and noble class of 1913.

Take a good look at this, then beware.

VESPER SERVICE

College Songs, and Solos. Features of Service

The first in the way of musical Vesper Service was held last Sunday afternoon under the direction of Prof. Thompson. An audience, in which the absence of the student body was conspicuous, enjoyed the three beautiful solos by Miss Margaret Ross of Bangor and the violin solo by A. W. Benson, '12. The singing of the college songs as might be expected from the scanty supply of undergraduates, was, to say the least, unsatisfactory. It would seem that a student body, who, by hard work on the part of a faculty member has just acquired a song book every Maine man should feel proud of, would at least turn out to sing these songs and learn them. It must not be inferred by those in charge of last Sunday's Vesper that the student body does not want these songs to continue even in view of the size of the audience.

Frank B. Kelley, ex-'12, has entered Dartmouth college this fall.

O. W. Mountfort, '12, has returned recently. John Parsons, ex-'12, is back to resume his studies.

Harry Carle, ex-'10, has resumed his studies this fall.

Prof. Bell has moved into the house formerly occupied by Col. Varnum.

B. C. Martin, '07, was a visitor at the Phi Gamma Delta House last week.

F. H. Swasey, ex-'13, is playing right half back on the N. H. State team this fall.

Mrs. C. A. Belcher who was obliged to leave her position as matron at the Phi Eta Kappa House last year on account of illness is back to resume her duties.

Others who have returned to college after a year or more absence are R. L. Talbot, ex-'12, C. H. Steele, ex-'12, Thomas Arbuckle, ex-'12, F. C. Cobb, ex-'11, Blynne Allen, ex-'12, W. H. Dwyer, ex-'12, Miss Louise Hall, ex-'09.

Among those who are coming back to college late this fall are E. M. Partridge, ex-'12, M. F. McCarthy, '11, R. W. Wetherbee, '13, Chas. Cleaves, '12, W. E. Schrumpf, '12, S. L. Quimby, '12, Phil. Ryan, ex-'11, L. A. Keen, ex-'10, G. J. Wentworth, ex-'10.

IT will pay you to make your purchases early. The assortment is always most complete at the BEGINNING of the season, and in consequence you are more liable to get the CHOICEST OF STYLE AND PATTERN by making your selection as early as possible.

Right now, we are showing the very "cream" of Fall fashions. At no time in the history of this store, have we been able to offer our customers an assortment of patterns and fashions which were so decidedly artistic from every point of view. The fabrics, this season, are especially inviting. AND THE STYLES ARE RICH IN DESIGN.
