MASS MEETING THURSDAY

Last Smoker Before State Series to be the Best Yet

On Thursday evening next, at seven o'clock, every loyal Maine man will hie him to the gymnasium for the last big smoker-rally before the state series of football games. The prospective speakers are: Dean Boardman, Prof. Bean, Prof. Huddilston, G. H. Howe, '11, M. F. McCarthy '11, G. D. Bearce '11, and Frank Cobb '12, varsity halfback. Every man who knows the date is looking forward to it with a twinkle of the eye and a preservation of the lungs that bid fair to make the event a hot time in the gymnasium that night.

DEAN BOARDMAN

The fact that the University has a winning team this year will only add fuel to the blaze.

With the Bates game two days later, the rally will be a forecast of that burst of enthusiasm which will greet the team when they trot out upon Garcelon Field at Lewiston. Every one who knows the speakers is anticipating a big laugh, a big noise, and an overflow of Maine spirit that will effectually obliterate all former demonstrations.

FRESHMAN DEBATING CLUB

Creditable Movement Started by the Freshmen

A meeting was held last Thursday afternoon in the Club Room of the Library for the purpose of forming a Freshman Debating Society. About fourteen men were present and after discussion the following officers were elected: President, Benjamin Anthony; Vice President, Carrol P. Adams; Secretary and Treasurer, Herman R. Clark; and Sergeant at Arms, Lewis J. Brown. Instructor Alvin Ketchum will have charge of the work and will try to turn out a team that will be an honor to the class and University. The next meeting will be held on next Thursday evening, October 27th. The Sophomores have gotten together and will begin work at once for the Freshman-Sophomore debate.

CLASS ELECTIONS

E. W. McKeen Elected Assistant College Cheer Leader

At a meeting of the Junior class held Wednesday, E. W. McKeen of Fryeburg was elected assistant cheer leader. The following men were elected as the "Prom" Committee: R. S. Hopkinson of Saco, W. B. Emerson of Biddeford, H. C. Faulkner of Lynn, C. S. Cleaves of Bar Harbor, G. E. King of Bethel.

The Sophomores elected the following: G. V. Dyer of Calais, manager of class football; L. C. Smith of Topsham, manager of class track; and O. H. Davis of North Berwick, F. W. Haines of Dexter, G. C. Tilley of Ashland, H. H. Hamlin of Orono and C. E. Chandler of Portland, Sophomore Hop committee.

STUDENT COUNCIL

First Meeting Very Successful: Notices to be Read in Chapel.

The Student Council, one of the most important institutions which exists as an intermediary between the students and the Faculty, recently held its first meeting and discussed several things which have a direct bearing on the present affairs of the University.

The fraternity question has long been prominent as a matter to be regulated and it was agreed among the members of the council that something must be done soon to bring about a closer relation between the fraternities, to legislate in regard to such matters as pledging and rushing men, and to determine questions concerning the formation of new fraternities. A committee was appointed to confer with delegates from the various fraternities and it is sincerely hoped that an inter-fraternity council is not far distant.

For over a year notices have not been read in chapel because it was understood by both students and Faculty that a long list detracted from the solemnity of the services. This scheme has no doubt helped to make chapel more impressive, but the crowds around the bulletin boards have made it practically impossible for all to ascertain the character of the notices, posted there, hence the attendance to class meetings has fallen off fifty per cent. In view of this fact it has been decided to resume the reading of such notices which effect large groups of the student body.

The new bell system which was installed last year has proved itself to be a success in opening and closing recitations. Often, though, the ten o'clock bell has broken in on the chapel services, especially on Wednesday mornings when special music is rendered. To obviate this difficulty the ten o'clock bell will be discontinued.

It is customary in most colleges to rise when the Faculty enter chapel. This practice has been inaugurated and discontinued several times and it was decided by the council to leave the matter to the senior class, trusting that the lower classes will follow their example.

On Friday, Oct. 21st, the Deutscher Verein held its first meeting of the year and elected the following officers: President, Niles C. Pinkham, Portland; Vice President, Raymond Floyd, Portland; Secretary, Chester S. Phinney, Pawtucket, R. I.; Treasurer, Clifton E. Chandler, Portland; Member of the Executive Committee, Sumner Waite, Portland.

NEBRASKA'S FRATERNITY COUNCIL

Talk of Council Here Makes This Plan Interesting

Although for the past year or two there has been more or less talk about the Campus and in the fraternity houses regarding the possibility of having a fraternity council in Maine, never has this topic been so much discussed as it seems to be this fall. In consideration of this interest on the part of the student body and of the certain advantages in having such an organization to look after fraternity matters, it seems appropriate to publish the following extracts from the by-laws and regulations of the council at the University of Nebraska.

Many colleges and universities in the Country have tried various forms of inter-fraternity councils. Many have failed to accomplish the purposes for which they were organized, yet a few have been successful, and of these few perhaps none has met with greater success than that at Nebraska. The strength of that council, which makes it possible to bring the fraternities quite within its control, lies principally in the power which has been given to it by the university's authorities to enforce its rulings. This strength may be quickly perceived in glancing over the following extracts:

AUTHORITY

At the meeting of the Board of Regents on December 15, 1905, the following resolution was adopted:

"The Inter-Fraternity Council is hereby given the necessary full power by the University authorities, in its dealings with fraternity affairs, to correct and to discipline and in persistent and extreme cases to impose punishment, subject only to the approval of the Chancellor and Board of Regents."

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL RULES

The Council shall be composed of one alumnus and one active member from each academic fraternity (not honorary or professional), represented in the University of Nebraska, and also one member of the faculty.

An active member shall be defined as one who is paying active chapter dues and who has passed in at least fifty (50) hours or their equivalent of college credit.

An alumnus shall be defined as a graduate from the University of at least two years' standing with at least two years' college credit who has been out of the University five or more years.

Each chapter shall elect its own representative to the Council.

The active members shall be elected for one year, alumni members for three years. All elections to the Council shall take place between the 1st and 15th of February of each year.

Any vacancy in the Council shall be filled by the active chapter concerned at the first regular chapter meeting following such vacancy.

A majority vote of the membership of the Council shall be necessary to carry any and all measures.

c. No fraternity shall pledge a new student who is registered for less than twelve (12) college hours and who cannot present the minimum number of entrance points required by the University.

d. No fraternity shall initiate any new student until he has completed twelve (12) hours of registered college work.

e. No new student shall be pledged or initiated without the approval of the President of the Council, to whom the name of each prospective member shall be submitted at least one day in advance.

No fraternity shall rush, pledge, or initiate any student of the University who is registered in a secondary school only.

Beginning Monday of the fourth week in any semester no new student shall be entertained within or without the Chapter House by or in the interests of any fraternity later than 6 p. m. on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays.

No new student shall be met at the train by any fraternity man (with the single exception of one brother meeting another brother.)

High School or prospective University students may be entertained within or without the Chapter House by or in the interests of any fraternity or be invited to functions given by fraternities only on occasions as high school field day, interscholastic and high school debates and similar gatherings of high school or prospective University students.

These rules shall be binding upon all fraternity men both alumni and active.

If any fraternity shall violate the rule of this Council with reference to rushing or pledging of a student, such fraternity shall not be allowed to pledge or initiate such student within a period of one year from the date of such violation. Any student pledged or initiated in violation of the rules of the Inter-Fraternity Council shall be liable to expulsion from the University, and the chapter concerned shall be publicly reprimanded as directed by the Council.

CHAPEL LEADERS ANNOUNCED

List for Semester Includes Dr. Fernald and Dr. Aley

So much favorable comment has been heard on the new chapel scheme of having one professor lead the services throughout one week, that it may be of interest to the undergraduates to know who the Faculty members are who will conduct the chapel during the remainder of the semester. The schedule is as follows:

October 24. Professor Weston.
October 31. Professor Merrill.
November 7. Professor Huddilston.
Nov. 4. Professor Russell.
November 21-28. Doctor Fernald.
December 5. Professor Jewett.
December 12. Dean Boardman.
December 19. Professor Simmons.
January 2. Dean Hart.
January 9. Professor Gray.
January 16. President Aley.

PRACTICAL HUSBANDRY OF MAINE

Initial Appearance of New Agricultural Paper

The first issue of Practical Husbandry of Maine, the new paper of the Agricultural students, has just been published, and is a distinct credit to the editors. It is printed in an attractive form and contains articles by Prof. V. R. Gardner, Prof. Comstock, R. W. Redmond, ex-'10, C. W. Mitchell, '11, C. J. Dunlap, G. Bushfield and M. D. Jones, '12, besides editorials and one page devoted to Alumni notes. The articles are interesting, well written, and instructive.

The object which the editors hold uppermost, is to make the paper a real help to the farmers of the state. In addition to the work done by the students, they will publish articles by the Agricultural Faculty and by alumni, many of whom are authorities of wide reputation. The paper will also keep the farmers in touch with the work of the College of Agriculture and in this way should be a power for good to the whole University. It deserves the active support of every student in extending its circulation throughout the State.

It was originally intended to publish the paper every month, but it has since been decided to make it a quarterly.

DRAMATIC CLUB

In First Rehearsal Plans Are Formulated For Winter's Work

As a result of the successful smoker given by the Dramatic Club, about twenty-five candidates appeared at the first rehearsal Tuesday evening, October eighteenth.

Under the supervision of Professor Daggett portions of the play which will be enacted this year were read. This play, the Twelfth Night by Shakespeare, furnishes a fine opportunity for dramatic skill and is fully up to the standard already set by the Dramatic Club.

For a time the play will be studied as a whole and literature bearing on the Shakespearian period will also receive consideration. In this way a more comprehensive understanding of the play will be obtained which, in turn, will help to a better interpretation of the lines. During the work this year an endeavor will be made toward perfect finish not only in acting but also in enunciation and pronunciation. As soon as a thorough general knowledge is obtained the cast of characters will be chosen and real work be undertaken.

EDITORIAL.

In these days of many colleges and universities, each of which is striving to reach and hold a high standing, the position of Maine, like that of all other institutions, is based principally upon three grounds, first the efficiency of her Faculty and her equipment and curriculum, secondly, the ability and success of her Alumni, and thirdly, the support which her undergraduate activities receive from the student body. It is the duty of the Faculty and Board of Trustees to meet the first requirement, the duty of the Alumni to fulfil the second condition, and the duty of the undergraduates—which means the men who are here now—to make Maine supreme in every branch of student activity.

Of all these conditions nothing can have more influence in determining the state of public opinion regarding the University than her success in intercollegiate athletic, debating, and agricultural contests and in the fields represented by the Dramatic Club, the Musical Clubs, and the literary publications. Here is where every Maine man can lend his bit of effort to place Maine first in these lines.

If no such thing as student activities existed all a student would have to do would be to prepare his lessons, attend classes, eat, and sleep. They do exist, however, and they are allowed to do so for the benefit of the University and the students themselves. Hence, when a man comes to Maine he should make a vow to give her a little something besides his tuition in return for all that he will gain from her influences.

If he starts in immediately to fulfil this duty his love for Maine will increase just as fast as he gives a little bit more of his time and effort to work in one or more branches of student activity. Every man has ability in one way or another, and here there is a field for him. He should not hesitate a moment to grasp the opportunity, and the regard in which he will be held by his fellow-students will be small in comparison with the self-satisfaction of knowing that he has done something for Maine.

Practically every fraternity man in the University admits that a properly formed inter-fraternity council would be of general benefit to Maine. The subject has been spasmodically discussed for some time, yet never has the feeling been so general that a council should be organized as it is at present.

Consequently, in this issue of the CAMPUS appears an article regarding the inter-fraternity council at the University of Nebraska, which has been very successful. The rules of that council are worthy of careful perusal by every member of every fraternity in the University. As shown by the organization of councils in so many other institutions, there is a large field in which such a joint society can work.

The same field exists here, and just now it is being brought forcibly to the attention of the undergraduates. There are many things here which a strong council could accomplish, and while the same things might be accomplished by the Board of Trustees, there is little doubt that a properly authorized and properly restricted council, which would know the conditions better than the Board of Trustees, could gain these ends to the greater satisfaction of everybody concerned. Now, early in the year and when the question is rife, is the time to take the matter under serious consideration.

The recent organization of a Freshman Debating Club bids fair to arouse, at least in the Freshman Class, that interest in an important student activity which ought to exist here. Mr. Ketchum of the English department is very much interested in debate, and if he effects the formation of clubs in the upper classes and of a strong debating team, he will deserve the warmest praise from the student body.

Debating is an activity which is given too little support by the undergraduates. This lack of interest is due, no doubt, to the small proportion of students who are in the College of Arts and Sciences. With nearly 150 men in this one college, however, there ought to be enough interest in debate to make a team possible. At the same time, the students in the other colleges of the University should not lose sight of the benefits which they may derive from supporting this activity.

The fact, moreover, that a winning debating team would aid in pushing Maine to the fore is of quite as much importance as the personal advantages gained from work in this line. Here is where the students of the College of Arts and Sciences can show their vigor by seeing to it that Maine is represented this year by a team of able debaters. The movement should find its origin in this College and then the other colleges will lend their support.

Some football last Saturday! With such an all-star eleven, coached by such men as Mr. Wingard and Mr. Reilly, Maine has the opportunity of her life-time to win the Championship. It's up to the team to do things, and it's up to the student body to make it do them.

The vision which candidates for the Musical Clubs may have of a week's trip into Massachusetts and of a similar trip into western Maine should make every man strive the harder to make the Clubs.

The CAMPUS would like to have the students and Faculty make use of the news box in Alumni Hall. That is what it is there for.

Everybody out for the smoker Thursday evening! Learn the songs and have your voices with you.

All aboard for the Bates special!

1875 CLASS BOOK

Novel and Interesting Book Presented by Hon. L. C. Southard, '75, to His Classmates

Through the courtesy of L. C. Southard, the University has received one of the seventeen copies of the 1875 Class Book. This book which was compiled and published by Mr. Southard, gives a brief history of the Maine State College in the days when the members of the Class of 1875 were undergraduates, and a history of each of the members of 1875 with two photos. The history of the College was written by Dr. W. H. Jordan, '75, and is very interesting reading. Judging from this history, the college men of that time were not essentially different from those of the present time although their advantages were not perhaps so great. The only buildings at that time were Oak, White and Fernald Halls. Where the President's house now sets was then a pasture full of bushes and springs. The Chapel services were held in the Chemical Lecture Room of Fernald and the Commencement Exercises in Orono Town Hall.

The book devotes three pages to each member of the class, giving the positions he has held and some little anecdote of his undergraduate days, each, as before stated, being accompanied by two photos, one taken while in college and one at a recent date.

Altogether the book is a very interesting picture of " '75 days" and Mr. Southard is deserving of a great deal of credit for his painstaking efforts in compiling it.

MAINE SWAMPS M. A. C.

Shepherd's Kicking and Running Feature of Game

There was a slaughter on Alumni Field Saturday. The Massachusetts Agricultural College sent a football team down here which was tooted as the strongest eleven the College had ever had, but all their confidence and previous good work counted for naught, for they went down to ignominious defeat before the Maine team. The score was 29 to 2 and it was good to see.

Much of the victory is due to Thomas Shepherd, who besides making such good use of his powerful leg that he kicked four goals from placement, reeled off a pretty 40 yard run and another for 25 yards. His punting was also a feature of the game.

While M. A. C. had a heavy, fast, and presumably strong team, their line was like paper before the attacks of Parker, Cobb, and Carlton, and although stronger on the offensive than was Tufts the week before, they failed to make one-third as much distance by rushing as did Maine. Maine's line and ends were ready for their plays every time, and were ably supported by the backfield.

Maine's scoring was made on three touchdowns in the first half, from two of which goals were kicked, and on Shepherd's four goals from placement in seven tries. M. A. C. made two points on a safety by Smith.

The summary:

M. A. C.	MAINE

Goodnow, Williams, rhb.	lhb., Cobb, Carlton
Brewer, fb.	fb., Shepherd, Hammond

Score, Maine 29, M. A. C. 2. Touchdowns made by Shepherd, Carlton, Parker. Goals from placement, Shepherd 4. Goals from touchdowns, Shepherd 2. Safety, Smith. Referee, McCreadie. Umpire, Jones. Field judge, Boynton. Head linesman, Kent. Time, two 15-minute and two 12-minute periods.

The Vermont Cynic has suggested the following three rules for freshmen: 1st. "Every man should have some line of activity outside of his classroom work." 2nd. "Don't expect to arrive at once for you cannot be a senior without having been a freshman." 3d. "Form friendships, but slowly and with your eyes open."

FOOTBALL LOOKS GOOD

Team in Great Condition for the Bates Game

Not for several years has the football team when it began the State series, held the confidence of the student body to as great an extent as it does this fall. From the last two games there seem to be no weak spots in either the line or the backfield for Maine supporters to worry about. When Tufts and M. A. C. had the ball the line held; when Maine had the ball it seldom failed to make the holes. Likewise, when the opposing teams had the ball Maine's backs were "Johnny on the spot" in the defensive game, and when Maine was on the offensive the backs rarely failed to make some gain.

While the line is becoming stronger with every day of practice, the superiority of the team this fall, if Maine comes out victorious, will be due to the men in the backfield. The three varsity backs are showing extraordinary speed notwithstanding their weight. They make up a ground-gaining machine against which the Tufts and M. A. C. elevens were no more obstruction than a hedge. Moreover, Smith, never a varsity quarter before, is running the team like a veteran.

In the State games, however, Maine will not have to depend upon rushing entirely to score. The twelve points which Shepherd brought into Maine's cap Saturday by kicking four goals from placement assures Maine of having more than an even chance to score if the team can reach its opponents 35-yard line.

The coaches have developed speed and power. Their greatest concern now is to keep the men in condition.

TRAINING TABLE

Table Been Running a Week with Eighteen Men

The plans for a training table for the football men have materialized, and the men ate their first meal together on Monday, October 17, in the new quarters at the Commons. From now until the end of the football season, the men will eat their dinners and suppers there, the coaches being with them. After the evening meal, the men all adjourn to Alumni Hall where the coaches give them blackboard lectures. The following men are eating at the table at present: Eales, King, McNeil, Whitney, Buck, Waite, Cobb, Parker, Bigelow, Murray, Carleton, Davis, Crowell, Smith, Cook, Smiley, Shepherd, Tipping.

PUMPKIN MEET

Apparently the freshmen won the Annual Pumpkin Meet from the sophomores last Saturday with the score of 47 to 42, but the true score is still in doubt on account of the protest which the sophomore management have filed against Stobie '14, who took first place in the discus throw. The sophomore manager claims that Stobie is ineligible to represent the freshman class as he is registered in the two year course the mile race for the same reason, but the freshman manager decided to have Stobie compete under protest. If the protest is upheld by the Athletic Board, each man who competed in the discus throw will be moved up one place to fill the vacancy caused. This result would give the freshmen first place in this event and the sophomores second and third places, making the final score of the meet 45 to 44 in favor of the sophomores. Only eight points were awarded in the pole vault for the reason that the third man in the event failed to clear any height at all.

The feature of the meet was the vaulting of Luther Rogers '13, of Patten, who made a new college record and excelled the Maine Inter-collegiate record in the pole vault with a height of eleven feet, three inches.

The summary:

Mile Run—Won by Power '13; Allen, '13; Hollywood '14, third. Time 5 min. 53-5 sec.

100 Yard Dash—Won by Murphy '13; Wetherbee '13, second; Jones '14, third. Time: 10 3-5 sec.

120 Yard Hurdles—Won by St. Onge '14; Tabor '13, second; Clifford '14, third. Time: 21 sec.

Half Mile—Won by Morris '14; McAlary '13, second; Power '13, third. Time: 2 min. 12 sec.

440 Yard Dash—Won by Jones '13; Martin '14, second; Lutts '13, third. Time: 56 2-5 sec.

High Jump—St. Onge '14, Twitchell '14, and True '14, tied for first place. Height: 5 ft.

Broad Jump—Won by Fenderson '14; Hall '14, second; Wilkenson '13, third. Distance: 18.3 ft.

Pole Vault—Won by Rogers '13; Jennison '13, second; no third place awarded. Height: 11 ft. 3 in. (new college record.)

Discus Throw—Won by Stobie '14, (protested); Thomas '14, second; Payson '13, third. (Wescott '13, fourth). Distance: 99.4 ft.

Shot Put—Won by Hodgkins '14; Wescott '13, second; Olson '14, third. Distance: 39.9 ft.

MERCER HERE NEXT MONTH

Noted College Worker to Visit Fraternity Houses and to Hold Mass-Meetings

Mr. E. C. Mercer, the widely known college worker, who has been very successful in the many colleges and universities which he has visited throughout the United States, will spend five days here early next month. This will be his first visit to the State and besides coming here he will go to Bowdoin and Colby.

Working in a peculiar field in which he is self-appointed and for which his interesting experiences have especially adapted him, he has done much good in every college which he has visited. He has been so invariably successful, not because he has advanced religious theories or attempted to work upon the emotions of men, but because he has brought college men to stop and think. He makes them, through public meetings and private interviews, see the folly of allowing themselves to succumb to certain moral influences which exist in every college and university. His success, however, has not been due so much to the nature of his work as to his own attractive personality.

His work is carried on both in public meetings and in smaller gatherings in fraternity houses. This plan will be followed out during the five days that he will be on the Campus. He will arrive here on Friday, November 4th, and will remain until the following Tuesday. In this time he will take meals at all the fraternity houses which he has the opportunity of visiting, will speak at Vespers on Sunday, will hold a smoker for non-fraternity men, and will close his visit with a mass-meeting the last evening. A committee of students from each fraternity house has been organized to assist him, and a sub-committee, consisting of R. W. Davis, A. H. Hart, G. H. Howe, Jr., and B. O. Warren, has charge of the arrangements.

HOUSE PARTY

Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity Entertains

The members of the Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity held their first house party at their fraternity house, Friday evening, October 14th. This was one of the first dancing parties held on the campus this year and was a most enjoyable time for everyone.

Wilbur Cochrane of Bangor, furnished the music and during the intermission ice cream, cake, and punch were served.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION

Several of Faculty to Speak at Large Meetings in Bangor This Week.

The Annual convention of the Maine Teachers' Association, which is to be held in Bangor on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week, is of especial interest to the University on account of the papers which will be given by members of the Faculty. On the program, in which professors from Bowdoin, Colby, and Harvard, as well as many high school superintendents and teachers, will participate, are several subjects which are to be treated by men of the University Faculty.

Prof. Segall will act as president of the Modern Language department of the convention, Mr. Prince of the English department will discuss the English work in the high school from the college teacher's viewpoint, Mr. Ketchum, also of the English department, will take up the value of training in debate in high schools, Prof. Chase will give a paper on the metrical reading of selections from the Latin poets, Mr. Reed will open the discussion on methods in geometry, and Dr. Hart will speak upon the important subject of college entrance requirements from the universities' standpoint.

Arrangements have been made and an invitation has been extended to the principals, superintendents, and teachers who are present at the Maine Teacher's Convention in Bangor to visit the college on Saturday Oct. 29. It is planned to serve a luncheon in the Agricultural Building at 11 A. M., so that the members of the Association living in the western part of the state can get to their trains on time. The committee in charge consists of Acting President J. N. Hart, chairman, Prof. R. J. Sprague, and Prof. V. R. Gardner.

The Round Table, an organization consisting of the wives of faculty members and women faculty members, has been completely reorganized and enlarged. At the coming reception to the Maine Teachers' Association the ladies are to serve luncheon in the Agricultural Hall.

The Thursday Club, which is composed of the wives of the younger members of the Faculty met this week with Mrs. O. A. Johannsen.

On Saturday evening at the Mt. Vernon House a reception was tendered the new matron Miss M. E. Sweatte.

ALUMNI NEWS

A. E. Mitchell, a Successful Mechanical Engineer, in Railroad Work

One of Maine's Alumni who has made a name for himself in the engineering world is Mr. Albert E. Mitchell of the Class of '75. Mr. Mitchell received the degree of Mechanical Engineer upon his graduation and soon after entered the employ of the Baldwin Locomotive Works where he served as an apprentice until 1877. He then entered the railway service in the Altoona Shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad. From this position he worked up through many departments until in November 1882 he became chief draughtsman for the New York and New England Railroad. He left this position after two years to become mechanical engineer for a large manufacturing company and after working in that capacity for several years again entered railroad work this time with the New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R. serving successively as engineer of signals, engineer of tests, mechanical engineer and finally as superintendent of motive power for the Erie Railroad and also the Chicago and Erie R. R. In 1902 he became assistant superintendent of motive power for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R. R., leaving soon after, however, to accept the position of superintendent of motive power for the Northern Pacific Railway and afterwards holding the same position with the Lehigh Valley R. R. From 1905 until 1908 he was with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. in charge of a very important division of that line's engineering. At present he is Vice President and Secretary of the Wyckoff Pipe and Creosoting Co.

Mr. Mitchell has designed thousands of locomotives. In 1900 he was U. S. Government Jurer in Railway and Transportation at the Paris Exposition. He is a member of many societies both of a social and technical nature.

C. C. Whittier, '99, who is President of the Western Alumni Association of the University is with R. W. Hunt & Co., 217 La Salle St., Chicago. His work takes him out of the city a large part of the time.

W. E. Belcher, '99, is chief draughtsman with H. M. Byllesby & Co., Chicago, Ill.

W. A. Weston, '00, is with D. H. Burnham & Co., Architects, Railway Exchange Bldg., Chicago. He has recently purchased a house at 3912 Lowell Ave., Irying Park, Chicago, Ill., where he now resides with his family.

George W. Carle, '05, and Miss Emily Sawyer of Portland, were married in June. They will Robert Edmund Clayton, '07, and Miss Charlotte Colston Haliburton of Dorchester, Mass., were married on Tuesday evening, Oct. 18. Mr. Clayton is in the employ of the E. H. Clapp Rubber Co. at Hanover, N. H.

The marriage is announced of George E. Springer, '10, and Miss Abbie I. Kent at Billingham, Washington, Oct. 18, 1910.

WEDNESDAY LECTURE

The Early Development of Comedy

"Comedy as a parallel development with tragedy, reaching its highest repute in Aristophanes," was the subject of the interesting lecture given by Prof. Huddilston Wednesday in the Library.

Greek comedy had a ring and significance as important as the ethical writings of Aeschylus and Sophocles. Its origin was in the song Comus, which was first presented at the festival of Dionysus and was later sung at the fall and winter carnivals.

Aristophanes was the leading writer of comedy in the fifth century but his comedy was different than that of modern days. He dealt with the serious problems of city and political government with a ridicule and sarcasm that brought about many needed reforms. He was a censor and championed the cause of the old life against the new ideas of life brought forward by the younger generation.

The history of that time could not have been written had it not been for the help given by this first writer of comedy. His writings constitute a history in themselves. Being a cartoonist and having no competitors he was able to greatly influence Greek life and he had preached his own convictions with the rise of ridicule. He was the first advocate of woman, suffrage in that he pointed out to women their opportunity of accomplishing things in government.

Dr. Easley contributed another paper on the Atomic Weight of Mercury to the October number of the Journal of the American Chemical Society.

VESPER SERVICE

Dr. Fenn of Harvard on October 30th

The student body next Sunday will have another opportunity to hear Dr. William Wallace Fenn, D. D., the dean of the Harvard School of Theology. Dr. Fenn spoke last year at Vesper, in the month of December, and he had the largest attendance of any man, who spoke at vesper service during the year. He is a very eloquent speaker and he is in great demand as a preacher for college church services. The fact that Dr. Fenn comes from the Harvard School of Theology should offer great inducements to the student body to attend the service.

AGRICULTURAL CLUB

Team Comes Second in Fruit Packing

At a meeting of the Agricultural Club held Wednesday night October 19th, the following men were elected members of the Executive Committee of the club: R. Smith, '11, Peabody '12, W. W. Jones '12, and McKeen '12. It was decided to send a Corn Judging team consisting of three four-year men and three two-year men to the Corn Exposition to be held at Worcester, Mass. on November 9th. Individual cups will be given to members of the winning team, who will compete with all the New England Agricultural Schools. The men to represent the University of Maine have not yet been chosen, but many are now trying out for the team which will probably be picked in a few days.

Professor Gardner accompanied the apple judging and packing team consisting of W. M. Worden, L. R. Hartell, W. C. Hall, T. A. Piper and E. H. Beckler, to Boston, Wednesday, October 19th, to take part in a judging and packing contest at Worcester, Mass., on October 20th, when Maine landed second place.

LUNCHES

We Advise Early Buying

IT will pay you to make your purchases early. The assortment is always most complete at the BEGINNING of the season, and in consequence you are more liable to get the CHOICEST OF STYLE AND PATTERN by making your selection as early as possible.

Right now, we are showing the very "cream" of Fall fashions. At no time in the history of this store, have we been able to offer our customers an assortment of patterns and fashions which were so decidedly artistic from every point of view. The fabrics, this season, are especially inviting. AND THE STYLES ARE RICH IN DESIGN.
