Spanish Club Celebrates Birth of Immortal Writer

Entertaining Program Presented for Cervantes Night

Last Thursday evening the Spanish Club celebrated Cervantes Night in honor of the immortal writer of Don Quixote. The program was very successful and entertaining.

Asa Stanley spoke on life of Cervantes and his writings. Miss Ruth Hamor sang several Spanish song selections. Two one-act plays were presented in Spanish which proved very interesting. The first one was El Sirviente Astuto (The Wise Servant). Miss Abbie Sargent, Henry Finks, and Parker Spear took the parts. Between the plays a piano duet was played by Harold Perkins and Charles Webber also. Senior Louis Cabrera sang several Spanish songs. The second play was entitled La Lavandera de Napoleon (Washwoman of Napoleon). The parts were presented by Miss Marion Hughes and Arthur Brown.

President Roger Kellogg announced that the Spanish Club elections will be held next fall instead of this spring.

Senior Louis Cabrera spoke about the prospects for the Spanish Club Operetta to be given next year. Because of lack of time the operetta was not presented this year, but it is hoped that it will be as great a success next winter as it was last year. Senior Cabrera plans to travel in Cuba and Porto Rico this summer, and hopes to get many new ideas for the operetta while there.

Refreshments were enjoyed at close of the meeting.

Prominent Socialist Gives Chapel Address

Dr. Harry W. Laidler Describes Industrial Conditions And Says System Must Go

The "Cooperative World in the Making" was the subject of the address by Dr. Harry W. Laidler, Executive Director of the League for Industrial Democracy and President of the National Bureau of Economic Research, at chapel, Monday morning.

Dr. Laidler declared that the present industrial system must sooner or later develop into a cooperative system of industry, based on service to the community rather than on great wealth for the few. He described the concentration of industrial control in the United States in the natural resources, public utilities, manufacturing, banking and distributive fields and declared that in many industries it was becoming a question between private and public monopoly. Two hundred great corporations cover perhaps 45 per cent of our present industry outside of agriculture and banking. With this development is going increasing insecurity.

The present organization of industry is, in fact, marked by gross inequalities, by great economic wastes and by centralized control. These evils are giving rise to a demand for greater social ownership and control. Dr. Laidler described the trends toward social change in the world today. In Great Britain the consumers' cooperative movement has a business of a billion dollars a year. Consumers' cooperation, found in every advanced country, is laying a basis for a finer order. Public ownership is advancing steadily in education, recreation, health, public utility and other lines of effort. Labor, organized on the political and economic fields, is urging increasingly the building up of a cooperative world. It is the duty of all interested in social progress to help to bring about the new social order in a peaceful and evolutionary fashion. We will either drift into increasing chaos or evolve to a juster economic system.

New Song Will Be Heard In Chapel

Assembly Will Be Devoted To Singing of Maine Songs.
Writer, Maine Graduate

Next Monday morning at the Music Assembly, "Spirit of Maine" will make its debut on the campus. The band has been rehearsing the piece preparatory to introducing it as Maine's newest song, which is now out in sheet form.

This Assembly is to be devoted to singing Maine songs, both old and new. It will be similar to the very successful one held last Fall when "The University of Maine Band" was first presented. The band will be on hand and Erno Scott will be song leader.

Arthur L. Deering '12, director of the Extension Service, College of Agriculture, and vice-president and chairman of the Executive Committee of the General Alumni Association will speak briefly about the new song.

"Spirit of Maine" was written by Harry D. O'Neil '16, a native of Bangor, but now teaching in Milwaukee where he founded and is leader of a high school band, and has been leading cornetist in the Milwaukee band for ten years. He was recently appointed band leader at Marquette University. Mr. O'Neil has written several songs and marches.

The new song won first prize for music in the song contest conducted last year by the General Alumni Association. It is quite different from the other songs which are being used; has a good voice range and is attractively prepared.

Dr. Harry W. Laidler Advocates Cooperative Ownership of Utilities

That public ownership of electrical utilities is preferable to private ownership, was the contention of Dr. Harry W. Laidler, co-author of "Power Control", Executive Director of the League for Industrial Democracy, and President of the National Bureau of Economic Research, at the chapel service Monday afternoon.

Dr. Laidler first described a number of successful experiments in public ownership on the American continent. In Ontario, Canada, the Hydro-Electric Power Commission supplies electricity to 600 municipalities, which in turn, distribute electrical energy to their own cities through municipal electrical systems at cost.

"Results of an exhaustive investigation by professors in Syracuse University," declared Dr. Laidler, "show that the average price of electricity charged household consumers in over 30 leading Ontario municipalities was one-third of that charged to comparable cities in Northern New York. In the Ontario municipalities the charge was 1.88 cents per kilowatt hour; in New York, 5.64 cents. The price for power in New York was 30 per cent higher than in Ontario, and for commercial lighting, 270 per cent higher. There is some difference in taxes, but that accounts, according to the Syracuse University professors, for only

Scarlet Fever Case Causes Health Officer To Isolate Fraternity

Phi Mu Delta Quarantined As Disease Breaks Out There;
Diphtheria On Campus

A case of scarlet fever last week at Phi Mu Delta house caused Dr. H. L. Jackson, state health officer, to quarantine that fraternity Friday night and taken to his home in a private car. Jellison, who is a sophomore economics major at the University, was first taken ill on Wednesday. Dr. Adams was in charge of the case and it was thought best that the patient be taken to his home which is in North Sullivan. At the present time there is no known case of scarlet fever at the University.

The health department on Tuesday issued the following statement: "Much can be done to avoid further scarlet fever cases on the campus if everyone suffering from colds or sore throats will report to the health service department or to a physician for examination and treatment. By carefully looking after such ailments we do not think that an epidemic is at all likely to occur."

Quarantine of Phi Mu Delta is slated to end at noon on next Monday, but any further cases at the house will cause a prolongation of the quarantine. For the present, members of the fraternity are not allowed to enter any public building and must in general be careful not to pass on germs which they may carry. This does not prevent the boys from taking walks, although for the most part they prefer to remain near the fraternity house and pass the time in playing ball, working at odd jobs, and sleeping on the roof.

By curious coincidence seven years ago Phi Mu Delta was similarly quarantined for scarlet fever. Since that time there has been no house on the campus that has been completely quarantined. Edward Abbott was called to his home in Freeport to attend the funeral of his grandmother, but was unable to leave the Phi Mu Delta house on account of the quarantine.

Charles E. Prinn, Jr., a freshman in Oak Hall, is practically recovered from an attack of diphtheria. He was placed in the infirmary on Thursday in order to isolate him from the rest of the students, but it is expected that he will be released (Continued on Page Four)

Annual Freshman Banquet Declared Brilliant Success

Excellent Behavior Displayed and

The Freshman class held its annual Banquet at the Bangor Auditorium last Friday evening. The affair was a brilliant success and unique in the annals of Freshman Banquets (according to the accounts of upperclassmen) because of the excellent behavior displayed and the courtesy shown the speaker and entertainers.

Stanwood Searles, vice-president of the class, was toastmaster, and during the banquet Larry Miller's Bears furnished music. The other features of the entertainment were musical numbers by G. Holland Loane and Neil M. Calderwood, songs by Roger Gould and Frank Rufo, and dances by Natalie A. Anderson, accompanied by Frank Fitzpatrick at the piano.

The committee is to be congratulated on securing Professor Charles P. Weston as the speaker. His very clever and humorous speech was enthusiastically received. The evening closed with the singing of the Stein Song.

The patrons and patronesses were Prof. and Mrs. Stanley M. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore S. Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Chester S. Ramsey, and Mr. and Mrs. Irving Pierce. Linwood Cheney and Estelle (Stubby) Burrill were guests.

Great credit is due the members of the committee—Don Corbett, Freddy Black, Roger Heffer, and Peter Karalekas, for the manner in which the banquet was conducted.

THE MAINE SONG COLLECTION

"The University of Maine has done it again. . . ." is the way in which the playing of the Maine Band Song by Arthur Pryor's band was announced over the radio last week. All of which means that the University of Maine is getting a national reputation for its collection of songs. To have supplied the most popular song of the year is a matter for any college to be proud of. To have another song attain national prominence over the larger radio networks a few months later is even more gratifying. And now, with the Maine Band song growing rapidly in popularity comes the announcement that Maine has another song being published in sheet music form.

When the Stein Song achieved popularity the University of Maine came into national prominence. Joe McCusker's song, "The University of Maine Band," came at a difficult time. Everyone still had the Stein Song fresh in their minds, and a new song was likely to be judged on the same high standards that made this Stein Song the most familiar tune in the country. But music critics liked the Band Song, and it was published as sheet music. It was tried out on several radio programs and found favor with the audiences. Now it is a familiar piece on some of the best radio programs sent out over a national network.

Colleges and universities are known by their achievements. Maine is rapidly coming to the front because of its collection of songs. A professional song leader and a graduate of another college stated recently that the University of Maine possesses the best collection of songs which he has ever come in contact with. These college songs offer a fine way of molding college spirit, and Maine should feel proud of her fine collection.

With the appearance this week of the newest of the Maine songs to be published in popular form, every Maine student should take advantage of the opportunity for learning it offered by the musical chapel to be held next Monday. The "Spirit of Maine" is different from any of the other Maine songs. Its writer, Harry D. O'Neil, has long been prominent in musical circles, and has written several other songs which have achieved popularity. He is well qualified to contribute to Maine's ever growing collection.

That this song will achieve the popular recognition which has been accorded the Stein Song and the Band Song is perhaps too much to expect, but that it is a song possessing real merit is not to be denied. If it does strike the chord of popular favor and rise to the mark set by its predecessors, so much the better. At all events, Maine has gained another new song of which to be proud.

THE PROPOSED STUDENT COUNCIL RULING

Elsewhere in this paper there is a story explaining the proposed changes in the rules made by the Student Council. We are printing this because of the many conflicting rumors regarding these rules which are now circulating about the campus, and because we believe this to be a matter of considerable interest to every woman student in the University.

This rule is not yet in final form. It may be remodeled to some extent before being submitted to the students for discussion. We are purposely publishing an explanation of this proposed ruling at this time because we believe that opinions expressed at this time can do more toward a satisfactory system of rules than any amount of discussion after the changes have been made. Letters which have been published in the correspondence column in the past have indicated that the existing code is unsatisfactory. By explaining these proposed changes at this time, we hope a better system may result. The correspondence columns of the Campus will be open to anyone who cares to express an opinion.

LIBERAL CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The Liberal Club held a meeting at the Y.M.C.A. building Thursday evening, April 9.

The topic of discussion was, Should the United States recognize Soviet Russia? Mr. Max Guyer of the History Department acted as Chairman and presented interesting facts on the question. After this introduction the floor was open to discussion. Various aspects of the subject were brought out in the debate by both students and faculty.

The next meeting of the Club is to be held Wednesday, April 22, with Mr. Kirshen of the Economics Department acting as Chairman. The subjects to be discussed at this meeting are Communism and Socialism. It is expected that the meeting will be well represented by both students and faculty. The Liberal Club is making marked progress in bringing to light and clarifying present day problems.

Faculty News

H. W. Allen, who for two years has been a Graduate Fellow in Physics and instructor in the Physics Department, has recently received an appointment to a graduate assistantship in the department of physics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Mr. Allen is a graduate of Parsons College, Iowa, 1929. At the institute he will serve as a part time instructor and at the same time will have an opportunity to work for a Ph.D. degree.

At the regular meeting of the Physics Club on Wednesday evening, Professor A. L. Fitch of the Physics Department, gave an interesting talk on Doctor Albert Michelson and his work. In his lecture Dr. Fitch included a brief sketch of Dr. Michelson's life, and a discussion of his inventions and experiments, particularly his experiments determining the velocity of light and the famous Michelson-Morley Ether Drift Experiment.

The speaker at the next meeting of the University of Maine Student Branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers, which is to be held on Thursday, April 16, at 7:00 p.m. in 14 Wingate, will be an alumnus, Mr. J. Stuart Crandall, a graduate of the class of 1915, now engineer with the Crandall Dry Dock Company, will talk on the subject, Piles and Pile Driving. All who are interested in attending are cordially invited.

Associate Professor E. F. Dow of the department of History will represent the University of Maine at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science to be held in Philadelphia on April 17 and 18. On Thursday evening, April 23, at 7:00 P.M. in Room 305 Aubert Hall, an intensely interesting lecture will be given on "Vacuum Tubes" by Mr. Oliver Ajer of the Research Laboratory of the General Electric Company in Schenectady, New York. This is an unusual opportunity for students, scientists, and industrial men to learn from one actively engaged in the work of vacuum tubes of the future developments in radio communication, industrial applications, and a wide variety of uses. Special attention is called to the change in the room from the Physics Lecture Room to Room 305, the Chemistry lecture room.

Dean and Mrs. Lutes left for New York Tuesday to attend the meeting of The Eastern States Association of Professional Schools for Teachers.

Book Review

Red Fog

By Bruce Harper

Red Fog is one of the scare books of the year. Despite its fantastic plot, jumbled up with intricate details, it has found a host of readers. The reader is hard put to it to decide whether the book is an authentic account of Communism (and that it is high time for the people of the United States to do something about it) or whether it is just a scare story trumped up by a man who has traveled rather widely and has an idea that around every corner of the great cities of the world are lurking bands of Reds, waiting to spring out in more democratic forms of government.

The plot deals with an anti-Communist campaign in Europe and America sponsored by a wealthy American. After his death, his daughter carries on his work. All sorts of troubles pile up in the path of the girl, but with Herculean strength of will she overcomes them and finally wins.

A note in the book endeavors to make it clear that Bruce Harper, the author, is not a Communist, a faddist, or anything but an American who has traveled extensively and has come in contact often with the rebellious element.

Read it—even if you do not derive any intellectual satisfaction from it, you will be more thrillingly entertained than by the latest detective story.

Y.W.C.A. CABINETS HAVE BUSY WEEK

This week, the last in which the present Y.W.C.A. cabinets will hold office, has been full of activities. Among these have been cabinet meetings, a dance, a faculty-bridge, and freshman meetings.

The dance, which was held in Balentine Saturday, was in charge of Lucille Nason, Marion Dickson, and Elizabeth Davis. The chairman of the faculty-bridge, held this afternoon at Miss Ernestine Merrill's home in Orono, was Olive Perkins. Her assistants were Elizabeth Hilliker, Ernestine Merrill, Blanche Henry, and Mary Bean.

An important event of this week was the last official meeting of the cabinet, held Monday afternoon in the M.C.A. It was voted to accept the resignation of Alice Dyer as secretary of the "Y" for the coming year, and to have Francisella Dean fill this office. Plans were also made about reorganizing the Y.W.C.A. for next year. A committee was placed in charge of this consisting of Katherine Trickey, chairman, Francisella Dean, Betty Barrows, Jean Kersey, and Estelle Burrill. Hildreth Montgomery, newly elected president for next year, and Miss Campbell will be on the committee ex-officio.

The freshman cabinet also met on Tuesday. Quite definite plans were made for the meeting which the freshmen give to the upperclass girls every year. This meeting, to be held April 29, is for the purpose of showing what freshmen have received from their work in "Y" during the past year.

The freshman girls discussed books at their meeting Wednesday night at Mt. Vernon. Several book reviews were given. One of the new books mentioned was Larry which has recently been published. This has no author, but contains the diary and letters of a college student.

Next week, on April 22, the Y.W.C.A. cabinets will have an informal dinner. This dinner, which is given by Miss Campbell and Ernestine Merrill, will be held at Miss Merrill's home in Orono.

Lovey (to caller): "Would you put yourself out for me, George?"

George: "I shore would, honey."

Lovey: "Then do it. It's after two and I'm tired."

The Heck Club set out last week on a business enterprise of selling ice cream in the dormitories and fraternity houses every Tuesday and Thursday evening.

The cream is made in all the popular flavors by seniors in the ice cream laboratory at the dairy. It is bought by the Heck Club and sold through the dormitories and fraternity houses, at twenty cents a pint.

The money obtained from the sale of this cream, together with the receipts from their dance, help to send the Maine representatives to the stock and apple judging contests held in Springfield, Massachusetts.

The 1932 Prism was sent to press two weeks ago, and will be ready for distribution within a few weeks. As there are only a few unsubscribed copies, anyone desiring a copy should place their order with Peter Kuntz or Herb Trask at once. These men may be reached through Box 12, Campus mail.

Summoning a Ghost to your bidding

The chemist Van Helmont in 1609 discovered an invisible substance, an emanation from coal, that he named "geist," meaning ghost, shortened in English to gas.

Only now do its miraculous possibilities begin to be glimpsed. Only now can modern industry, like a latter-day Aladdin rubbing his lamp to summon a vaporous genii, turn a valve and order this Ghost to any one of a hundred tasks.

From the beginning, the problem was one of piping. When Crane Co., a half century ago, set itself to develop and produce the right materials for every gas and oil purpose, it began an incalculably valuable contribution to the solution of problems that had held back the gas industry since the Chinese used hollow bamboo.

So in the development of the natural and manufactured gas industry, as in practically every other industry, the Crane line of valves, fittings, fabricated piping, and specialties have played an important part. No matter what branch of industry you enter, you will find Crane materials playing a similarly important part.

PANHELLENIC MEETING

The Panhellenic Association held its regular meeting Monday afternoon.

A new rushing system will without doubt be adopted next year. Various systems were discussed at this meeting, but as yet nothing definite has been decided.

The idea of the quadrangle of sorority houses was also discussed, and appeared to be favored by a majority.

This Panhellenic meeting was the last at which the present officers will preside. The new officers will be elected and will preside at the next meeting, April 27.

THETA CHI HOLDS INFORMAL

CHI OMEGA TO GIVE TEA

The patronesses of Chi Omega are giving a tea, Saturday, April 18, from three to five, at the home of Mrs. Paul Cloke, Forest Avenue.

This is a charming courtesy extended annually to the Chi Omega girls, and always thoroughly enjoyed.

SCREEN

If cast has anything to do with the success of a picture, Columbia's all-talking version of "The Criminal Code," one of Broadway's smash stage hits, is going to repeat its popularity on the screen. This romantic drama is coming to the Strand Theatre on Saturday, April 18, and its players represent the finest acting talent available.

Walter Huston, in the leading role of the prison warden, heads the list. Though Huston has long been one of the highlights of the New York Stage, he made his debut in pictures only a short time ago. Yet in this time he has established himself as a screen personality second to none.

Phillips Holmes, the Princeton student who has made a meteoric rise in pictures, has the leading juvenile role in "The Criminal Code," as the youthful convict. Playing opposite Holmes is Constance Cummings. Others prominent are Boris Karloff, Mary Moran, Arthur Hoyt, Ethel Wales, DeWitt Jennings, Paul Porcasi, Nicolas Soussanin, and John Sheehan. Howard Hawks, famous director, handled the production.

"TEN CENTS A DANCE"

Coming to Strand Tuesday, April 21 and will be the first showing of this production in this section of the State.

A realistic cross section of modern modes of living is revealed in "Ten Cents a Dance," the screen offering which comes to the Strand Theatre on April 21. The picture throbs with the pulse of restless youth. It has a dynamic rhythm like the rushing of a mill race controlled by the giant hand of the great god of jazz music.

Barbara Stanwyck plays the leading role under the guidance of Lionel Barrymore, who directed for Columbia Pic-

It is said that, according to the ranks given out by the English Department, they seem to have marked about one grade too low. We wonder what rank Dickens or Emerson would have pulled?

Following the football game with Fort McKinley on Alumni Field, the annual Sophomore-Freshman flag rush was participated in, the sophomores being the winners.

Tentative Cast For Junior Week Play Is Announced by Masque

The tentative cast is as follows:

Jenny Bumpsted	Ernestine Merrill
Myra Bumpsted	Mary Elmore or Priscilla Bell
Mabel Bumpsted	Hope Clark
Elaine Bumpsted	Helen Findlay
Cyrus Bumpsted	Edward Berry
Bill Clark	Philip Anderson
Sam Green	Walter Hall
Rev. Dr. Stump	Atwood Levensaler
A Stranger	John Barry (undecided)

"Broken Dishes" will be presented on May 7 in Alumni Hall. Tickets will be on sale at the Book Store.

When Mike was asked which he would rather be in a blow up or a train wreck, he replied:

"A train wreck."

"Why, Mike?"

"Well," says Mike, "if you're in a train wreck, there y'are; but, if you're in a blow up, where are ye?"

Two Hundred Couples Attend Sophomore Hop

The annual Sophomore Hop, held Friday evening, April 10, was a great success with nearly two hundred couples attending. The Alumni Gymnasium was decorated in the Maine colors, blue and white, and the fraternity booths and orchestra pit in the same colors added much to the attractiveness of the hall.

Clyde Lougee's orchestra was exceptionally fine, furnishing music from eight until two o'clock. Ice cream, sandwiches, and cookies were served at intermission.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Youngs, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bray, Mr. and Mrs. William Kenyon, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wallace were chaperons of the dance.

to college seniors who have chosen BUSINESS as a career

Those seniors who have decided upon business as a career must possess certain technical skills before they can secure and fill a worthwhile position. The Chandler School of Boston is noted as an educational institution which prepares educated women for secretarial and office positions with marked success. The curriculum, teaching staff, methods, guidance, and placement are all modern and highly effective. The forty-eighth year opens September 14th next and students are now enrolling. A catalog and collateral material regarding the problems of business and their solution will be sent upon request. Address Alan W. STEPPING INTO A MODERN WORLD

"Test it!"

the watchword of an industry

The Bell System—whose plant cost more than $4,000,000,000 and is still growing—offers wide opportunity to the man of engineering bent. Here he has ample scope for testing new ideas, not only in telephone apparatus development but also in manufacture, construction, installation, maintenance and operation.

No matter what his particular branch of engineering—electrical, mechanical, civil, industrial, chemical—his training stands him in good stead. For "telephone engineering" calls for the broad engineering point of view as well as specialization.

Basic technical knowledge, an appreciation of economic factors and the ability to cooperate are some of things that count in Bell System engineering. For men of this stamp, the opportunity is there!

VARSITY BASEBALL TEAM WILL OPEN SEASON MONDAY AT COLBY

Will Play Five Games Before Returning to Orono. Much Depends on Hurlers

Maine's varsity baseball team will receive its first real test of the year when it crosses bats with the Colby College nine on the Colby diamond at Waterville on Monday, April 20.

The Maine squad should gain plenty of momentum by the time they play on home ground. The team plays the first five games away from home and on five successive days, and this, no doubt, will tax the pitchers to their fullest extent.

Where Coach Brice's squad finish in the 1931 State Baseball Championship race depends mostly on how the pitching staff stands up under a long campaign. Pitching, it is said, is 85 per cent of a ball team and with the veteran pitchers, Perkins, Solander and Nutting, and with Romansky, star of last year's frosh, Churchill, Spurling, and Prout to round out the squad, Maine appears to have pitchers who will compare with any in the state league.

Coach Brice is carefully rounding the boys into shape with plenty of field and batting practice. With a strong defense and timely hitting, the Maine squad should carry the 1931 Championship to Orono.

Captain Bill Wells holding down the catcher's post is expected to hit somewhere in the 400 this season. Abbott, promising backstop of last year's freshmen, is doing fine work and is giving Bill Wells a little competition. "Scoop" Smith seems to be the logical man for the keystone sack, while Lewis and Wilson are taking turns on second.

Hallgren who has been doing fast work at short, sprained his ankle during a practice game and may not be able to make the trip next week. If not, Springer will probably fill in. "Irish" McCabe taking care of third expects to knock the cover off the new regulation ball this season. "Blondy" Hinks is alone at center, while the other gardeners will be chosen from Kisonak, Hall, Frost, Wright, and Gonzals, depending upon their hitting ability.

The squad is making the entire trip by bus, their first stop being at Colby on April 20th, where they play their first State game. Their next is a 333 mile trip to Willimantic, R. I. where they stay two nights at the Willimantic Hotel. Maine plays R. I. State on the 21st and Conn. Aggies on the 22nd. Leaving R. I. the squad then moves to Boston to the Bellevue Hotel. They play Northeastern University on the 23rd and then move to Brunswick where they play the second state game at Bowdoin.

The probable Maine line-up for the opening game of the season with Colby is as follows: Abbott, rf; Lewis, 2nd; Smith, 1st; Hinks, c; Wells, catcher; Frost, Hall, or Kisonak, lf; Hallgren or Springer, ss; and Perkins or Solander, p.

Stay away from the indoor field today. The place carries an unusual jinx on April 16, and many persons are wondering what form the jinx will take this year. Last year on the afternoon of April 16 Lee Wescott received a broken jaw when hit by a baseball bat, and Earl Taft suffered an injured lip, having been hit by the same bat. On the afternoon of April 16, 1929, Walter Hall, now a junior, then a freshman, was struck in the head with a discus resulting in a fractured skull, so beware, b-e-e-w-a-t-e.

Track Team Bolstered By Return of Ineligibles

With the return of several men previously ineligible to the track squad, training in varsity track has begun in earnest since the end of the spring recess.

The tracksters are working out well, and are fast rounding out into good shape. Though no time trials have been taken, the men look more efficient now than ever before. Coach Jenkins is especially satisfied by the spirit shown by his men, and predicts a good season.

The frosh trackmen are working hard for their approaching meet with the combined forces of Old Town and Brewer. These men have shown fine cooperation, and by virtue of their time trials, Coach Jenkins is hopeful of victory.

The Women's Athletic Association is sponsoring a high-school play day to be held on the campus May 9. The high schools are invited to send as many girls as they desire to take part in the athletic program which is planned. At noon there is a picnic, and in the evening a banquet.

The following schools have been invited to send representatives: Bangor, Brewer, Ellsworth, Lee Academy, Mat-tanawcook Academy, Old Town, Wint-terport, Belfast, Bucksport Academy, Foxcroft Academy, Castine Academy, Bar Harbor, Houlton, Millinocket, Caribou, Presque Isle, Orono, Dexter, and Fort Fairfield.

All outdoor sports for girls begin next week, including baseball, archery, track, soccer, and tennis.

The preliminaries of the annual oratorical contests of the Intercollegiate Peace Association are to be held Monday at 4:15 in Alumni Hall. The contest is open to all bona fide students at the University. The orations will be original compositions on the subject of peace and will be limited to fifteen minutes in length.

The winner of the preliminary contest will compete in the state contest to be held at Bates on May 4. Two prizes will be offered in the state contest—a first prize of $90.00 and a second prize of $40.00. The best oration in the state contest will be submitted to a national committee of judges which will award prizes to the two best orations in the country.

The contest on Monday will be open to the public. Every one is cordially invited to attend.

CAMP FIRE LEADERS COURSE BEING HELD THIS WEEK

The Camp Fire Leaders Training Course conducted by Miss Eldora Demots of California is being held on campus this week.

Games, folk-dancing, first aid, outdoor cooking, hiking, camp fire nation songs, symbolism as applied to camp fire, hand craft, and council fire are some of the activities to be taken up. Certificates will be awarded for successfully passing this camp fire training course.

This course is intended for those who are planning to teach athletics, or do councilor work at a summer camp. A certificate in this course would be considered as a recommendation.

The course is open to all who are interested. Anyone wishing to take the course should see Miss Lengyel or Miss Rogers as soon as possible.

The military department is planning to hold a competitive drill on May second. One platoon is to be selected from each of the four companies to compete in the drill. The commander of the winning platoon will be presented with a saber, and the other members of the platoon will each receive a single raise in rank.

During the last two Saturday drill periods members of the cadet corps have been closely watched by the officers who are to select the platoons which will take part in this event.

There will be a meeting of the University of Maine Tennis Club Thursday night at the M.C.A. Building. The university has authorized a schedule, and it is necessary to elect a manager. The club tournament will be discussed, and actual drawing of opponents will take place at the next regular meeting, April 21. At present there are thirty-five names on the roll, but any others interested may join.

Dr. Laidler advocated a public control patterned somewhat after the government corporations during the war, and the Port Authority of New York. He declared that public ownership constituted the only method of eliminating the wastes of competition at the same time assuring that all economies of operation accrued to the advantage of the entire community. He described the manner in which the community had increased its power in the past over the educational system, the water supply, the highway, health and recreational services, and declared that the socialization of electrical utilities was one of the next logical developments in social progress.
