

A. M. W. PLEDGE 9 PROMINENT COEDS BEFORE 80 GUESTS

Dr. Turner Gives Address At Annual Banquet Held Last Wednesday

Nine new All Maine Women pledges were stamped with the pine tree at the eighth annual All Maine Women banquet held Wednesday, April 13, at the Penobscot Valley Country Club. These new pledges are: Seniors: Doris Dunphy, Priscilla Noddin, Katherine Trickey; Juniors: Elizabeth Barrows, Ruth Callaghan, Blanche Henry, Grace Quarrington; Sophomores: Francisca Dean, Alice Dyer.

About eighty students, alumni, and faculty wives attended the banquet. Dr. Albert M. Turner of the English department was the principal speaker of the evening, his subject being "Leisure Time." Other speakers were Dean Elizabeth Foster, Olive Perkins for the All Maine Women, Sadie Thompson for the alumnae, Elizabeth Barrows for Women's Student Government, Blanche Henry for the Women's Athletic Council, Grace Quarrington for the Y.W., and Alice Dyer for the Sophomore Eagles. Estelle Burrill, president of the All Maine Women, acted as toast-mistress.

The All Maine Women are chosen from the three upper classes on the basis of character, Maine spirit, honor, dignity, leadership, and willingness to accept responsibility. The new pledges are prominent on the campus and active in all college functions.

Doris Dunphy has been active in women's athletics, outing club, and Campus board. She is a member of Chi Omega Sorority.

Priscilla Noddin has been an outstanding basketball player during her four years, has been active in Y.W. work, belongs to Sodalitas Latina, and is a Chi Omega.

Katherine Trickey is not only a star hockey and basketball player but an excellent scholar as well, belonging to Neai Mathertai, Phi Kappa Phi, and Phi Beta Kappa. She has served on the Y.W. cabinet, A.A., and has been a member of the orchestra. She is a Tri Delta.

Elizabeth Barrows was a Sophomore Eagle, member of the Student Government Council, women's sports' editor of the Campus, belongs to the Latin Club, was manager of riflery, and is on the Y. W. Cabinet. She is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi.

Ruth Callaghan was a Sophomore Eagle, is president of the Home Ec club, active in Y.W. work, and has played hockey for two years. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta.

Two Maine Debating Teams See Action Against Colby

A dual debate with Colby on Wednesday, April 13, resulted in a decision for Colby at the home debate held in Bangor at which Max Rapaport and A. Hamilton Boothby upheld the affirmative of the question, "Resolved that Congress should enact legislation providing for the centralized control of industry," against George Hunt and Arthur Stetson of Colby. Chester Smith and William Wood represented the University at Waterville in a no decision debate, taking the negative of the same question against Edward Gunney and Peter Mills.

Marine Lab Summer Courses To Continue

The University of Maine will continue to conduct summer courses in invertebrate zoology and ecology at the marine laboratory in Lamaine, Maine this year. Lamaine, on Frenchman's Bay not far from Bar Harbor, is well located for such a laboratory since within short distances are found many types of habitats near the ledges, mud flats, and pebbly beaches.

This is the second season in which these courses are to be given. Last year there were twelve students enrolled, representing nine different colleges.

Dr. Engle is an especially competent teacher, having been a member of the American Museum Expedition to Africa to study the natural life of the gorilla. He is an authority in the field of internal secretion and his works in endocrine are internationally known.

Ducking and Haircuts Features of Class War as Frosh Pull Kidnapping

"STUBBY" BURRILL

A search leading to nearly every small town near Bangor was immediately begun by members of the Sophomore class, while the Frosh sat back and laughed.

Sophomores Retaliate

Thursday morning saw retaliation on the part of the second year men when they captured Ted Butler, who was supposed to have known the whereabouts of the missing Searles. After a grilling by his sophomore captors revealed nothing of importance, Butler was released. The day proceeded with a horde of frosh marching about the campus in search of unwary sophomores.

At one o'clock Thursday, groups representing the two classes came together near the M.C.A. building with several wrestling matches as the result. A group of sophomores gathered near the print shop hoping to capture the programs for the Freshman Banquet. Though they waited several hours for the programs to appear their efforts were in vain.

Superintendent of Grounds, J. W. Glover, went into action when the warring freshmen captured the University hose (Continued on Page Two)

CONSTRUCTION MAY BEGIN ON NEW GYM

Deering Outlines Plans for Completion of Armory At Assembly

Arthur L. Deering, president of the General Alumni Association spoke at assembly Monday morning, concerning plans for the completion of the new indoor gymnasium. According to Mr. Deering construction will probably begin this fall or this summer. Approximately $30,000 more is needed to complete the building according to the plans as they have been revised to meet present financial conditions.

The plans for the new building call for: a trophy room, three basketball courts, locker rooms for home and visiting teams, offices for coaches and physical training instructors, seating capacity for 2200 in the main gym, banquet hall, stock room, and smaller rooms for wrestling and boxing.

Music at the assembly was provided by the band, and singing was led by Pat Loane '32.

University Will Issue New Alumni Directory

Trustees Authorize Publication To Conform With Four Year Period Program

The Board of Trustees of the University of Maine authorized, at their last meeting, a new alumni directory of the University to be issued sometime next year. The authorization for this publication carried with it the understanding that a similar issue was to be gotten out every four years thereafter.

The last issue of the alumni directory was published in 1929, the first that had come from the press for nine years. According to Alumni Secretary Charles Crossland, there were the names of 1488 graduates who had graduated since this issue and whose names did not appear in the 1920 issue. During the nine year period there had been 113 deaths among graduates of the institution and 2608 graduates had changed their address. In all it was necessary to make 4268 corrections and additions.

The Alumni office estimates that the directory ordered by the trustees will require 376 pages to cover the information necessary. Realizing the importance of this information the trustees not only have authorized an issue for next year but will see that it is kept up to date thereafter.

Modern Religion Being Discussed At Alumni

Five speakers arrived on the campus yesterday to conduct a series of talks entitled "Modern Religion for Moderns." The talks began last night and there will be one tonight and another tomorrow night in Alumni Hall at 6:30. In addition to their talks in the chapel, the speakers are holding private conferences at various points about the campus. Private interviews can be arranged for at the M.C.A. building.

The speakers include: Rev. Harold B. Metzner of the Waterville Methodist Church, formerly of Orono; Wilbur J. Kitchen and Henry B. Taylor of Boston, secretaries of the New England Student Division of the Y.M.C.A.; Mrs. Wilbur J. Kitchen, and Miss Virginia Corwin.

PREP JOURNALISTS ATTENDING ANNUAL CONFERENCE HERE

F. L. Perrin, Editor, Will Be Speaker on Program This Week End

At least forty or fifty delegates are expected to respond to Kappa Gamma Phi's call for the tenth annual Journalistic Conference of Secondary Schools April 22 and 23 to be held here. Frank L. Perrin, executive editor of the Christian Science Monitor will be the chief speaker at the banquet Friday evening. Professor Moreland being the toastmaster. Many interesting discussions and talks have been arranged.

The round of events is as follows: Registration, Friday noon; 2 P.M., Welcome to the University, by one of the University officials; and round table discussions of newspapers, magazines, and yearbooks, by members of Kappa Gamma Phi; Friday evening, banquet; Saturday morning, election of officers of delegates for the coming year; a talk by Mr. Moreland; announcements of awards of cups for best newspaper, best magazine, and best yearbook; visit to the Bangor Daily Commercial plant.

The student publications will be on display in the M.C.A. building during the conference. The judges are: for the newspapers, Oliver Hall, Fred Jordan, and A. H. Brown; for the magazines, Waldo Whitney and Frank Barrows; for the yearbook, Arthur Stevens and L. T. Ibbotson.

JOHN WILSON ELECTED PRESIDENT OF STUDENT SENATE FOR NEXT YEAR

Due to the change of conditions on the campus since the last Senior Skull Scholarship Cup was placed in competition, it was necessary to revise the rules governing its award. As a result, the Senior Skulls have enacted the following resolution:

Resolved: that all social fraternities having twenty or more members during the school year are automatically made eligible for competition. Under this ruling, there are several fraternities previously barred from competition, which are thus made eligible for the award.

Body Will Sell Theatre Tickets on Campus All Next Week

John Wilson, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, was elected president of the Student Senate for the coming year at a meeting of the Senate held last night in Rogers Hall. Melbourne Means, Lambda Chi Alpha, was elected vice-president, and Brice Jose, Phi Gamma Delta, secretary. These men will take office at the next meeting of the body.

J. Milton Sims, representing the Athletic Board, addressed the senate urging the delegates to nominate well qualified men for positions on the board for next year. The nominees who will be voted upon May 10 are: President, Swen Hallgren; Senior Representative, John Wilson, Robert Pendleton, Melbourne Means, and Frank Hagan; Junior Representative and Vice-President, Carl Davis, Donald Corbett, Donald Favour, and Philip Parsons; Sophomore Representative and Secretary, Clyde Higgins, Kenneth Black, George Cobb, Milton MacBride, and Harry Files.

Following these nominations, Peter Talbot, representing a committee appointed to investigate a proposition made by the Strand Theatre of Orono, reported that the theatre will supply the senate with a block of tickets, good for one week, to be sold exclusively to students at the University. The senate will make a profit of 10¢ on each ticket, though they will be sold for the usual 35¢, and the money will go toward the new loan fund. The senate voted to undertake this project, and tickets will be sold for the week beginning Monday, April 25. These tickets will be sold at the dormitories, Book Store, and fraternity houses.

W. S. G. DELEGATES GO TO CONFERENCE

Marnie Smith and Al Dyer Represent Maine At Amherst Meeting

The Women's Student Government Association sent two delegates to the New England Conference of Women's Student Government Associations of Coeducational Colleges, held at Massachusetts State College at Amherst, Mass., on April 14, 15, and 16. Those chosen to represent Maine at the conference were Martha Smith '33, president of the association for the coming year, and Alice Dyer '34, recently elected secretary.

The work of the conference was carried on by means of discussion groups, in which problems previously submitted by the associations were considered, such as faculty-student relationships, the honor system, smoking, penalties, and others of equally vital importance to the functioning of a system of student government. The delegates received many beneficial suggestions for the work of next year's council in the round table discussions.

All ten of the New England coeducational institutions which have student government were represented at the conference. Besides Maine, those sending delegates were Colby, Bates, Tufts, University of New Hampshire, Middlebury College, University of Vermont, Rhode Island State College, Connecticut Agricultural College, and Massachusetts State College.

Tennis Club Arranges For Five Intercollegiate Matches

Five intercollegiate tennis matches have been arranged for this year according to an announcement made at a meeting of the tennis club held in the M.C.A. Building last Thursday night. The matches include one with each of the other three Maine colleges and a state intercollegiate championship match. There will also be a handicap tournament on the campus, for which a cup will be awarded. Every student in the University is eligible to play, and those who participate in the tournament or in the intercollegiate matches are excused from physical training.

About twenty-five persons attended the meeting Thursday, over which President Fred Colby presided.

Two Students Injured In Motorcycle Crash

Two Phi Gams, John Bates and James Page, a junior and sophomore respectively, were injured in a motorcycle accident on the Orono-Old Town road north of the S.A.E. house Friday afternoon at about four-thirty o'clock when the motorcycle they were driving hit the car tracks and overturned. They were taken to the Eastern Maine General Hospital where they were examined for broken bones and internal injuries. It was found that neither of the two were seriously injured, and Page was released that evening, although Bates was held that night for further examination. He was released Saturday morning. His injuries consisted of external cuts and bruises on the head and other parts of the body, while those of Page were comparatively slight.

Stan Searles Relates Own Story of Capture

By STANWOOD R. SEARLES

No warning—no questions asked or answered when suddenly from out of the folds of the campus somewhere in the neighborhood of 30 freshmen appeared—not painted as Indian warriors of years ago—but many times bolder and more courageous. I made a fatal stand against them, but was quickly enveloped, handled roughly, and thrown into a waiting car—one of my brothers, classmates of 1934, the wiser. I was able to utter two or three cries for aid—one of which was answered by two sophs who pursued us to Bangor. What a ride! Our driver had no care for speed and little sense of direction—his intentions were good—so he afterward told me.

I was seated, rather shoved, between two frosh, one of them stuffing clean (?) handkerchiefs down my throat—the other, after having snapped a pair of handcuffs, had one of his famous headlocks on me—try and move. I did and was threatened with the crank which one of the frosh waved around in mid-air.

The chase was hot—one car was following us closely trying to keep off the oncoming soph car until the car that I was in could escape. The fellow sitting on my right, or rather on my head, would yell "Go to the right!"

Then the fellow on my legs would yell, "Turn left," and thus we traveled, no one knowing our next move. Speaking of ignorant people—gosh how those cops in Bangor gazed at us, yet made no move to investigate the situation.

The trail eventually took us to Brewer where one car stopped to give fight to the two lone sophomores, who battled madly to keep up the chase—they realized their fate—so turned around and returned to Orono. What a ride to Bucksport for us! There I was thrown from the Ford into a Chevrolet, from bad to worse. One car, the Ford, proceeded to Orono, and we for more muddy, rough Maine roads. One we traveled—few words were spoken—unless one of the abductors would mention what a great evening it was for a date in Bangor! He made a hit with such remarks.

Our first stop was Belfast—handcuffed to a big red head I was allowed to eat—all I wanted! While eating, by chance I sent a telegram by way of a kind waitress, reading that I was to be held in Waldoboro, which later proved wrong, because my friends, the frosh, decided to go on to Bath.

Off again—in better spirits! Still in handcuffs. Our next stop was Rockland. I tried to get away, but the attempt was fruitless—the man I tried to get for an aid thought it was all a big joke, thus leaving me to my own resources. Where to now? We got through Thomaston—I don't know how—Bath at last and what a ride, from four in the afternoon to midnight.

First University Grad, 80 Years Old, To Revisit Maine

The first student to receive a diploma from the University of Maine at the first Commencement plans to come back to his Alma Mater this June when the various classes will hold their reunions. He is Benjamin Flint Gould, 80 years old, who was graduated from the Maine State College as the University was called at that time.

Gould recalls quite vividly that first graduation on August 7, 1872, when six men received their sheepskins in the Orono Town Hall. During the morning program that day the six men were called upon to make speeches. The exercises began with the playing of music, followed by a prayer. The first speaker was George Omer Weston, who spoke upon "Republicanism." Then Eber Davis Thomas gave an address on "Our Republic—Its Safeties and Dangers," followed by James Haskell on "Educated Labor." Heddle Hilliard on "Magnetic Telegraph," George Everett Hammond on "Chinese Immigration," and ending with Benjamin Flint Gould on "Maximillian."

The first man to receive his diploma from the Maine State College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts, now lives on a large ranch in Colusa, California, but plans to be back in Orono this June despite the fact that he will have to traverse the length of the United States. His friends know him as a very modest man and although he has had a busy and active life as an engineer, he has treated the matter lightly. He is a native of the Pine Tree state, having been born in the town of Madison, on Christmas Day of 1852.

"At the age of eight," Mr. Gould wrote to friends in Orono, "I walked the railing of the bridge across the Kennebec River, a feat which I have always considered the outstanding achievement of my life. In 1868 I was admitted to what is now the University of Maine, for no reason that I know except that the institution had to have pupils in order to function. I am a prohibitionist in theory but not always in practice; have been a Republican all my life, voted for a Democrat now and then, but hope to be forgiven."

Large Crowd Attends Annual Sophomore Hop

Affair Is Held Without Interference From Freshmen. Decorations Are Pink and Grey

Alumni Hall was the scene of a colorful event last Friday night when the Class of 1934 held sway with its annual Sophomore Hop. The committee in charge, led by Arthur Hoyt and assisted by Rita Stone, Shirley Young, and William Rossing, succeeded in making the hall look its best by means of intricate decorative arrangements of gray and pink crepe paper and subtle lighting effects secured by multi-colored shaded bulbs. Although crowded to its capacity the dance went off well and contrary to many expectations suffered no freshman interruptions.

President and Mrs. Harold S. Boardman, Dean and Mrs. James N. Hart, Dean Elizabeth S. Foster and Stanwood R. Searles, president of the class, served as patrons and patronesses and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Kenyon chaperoned. The musical program was furnished by the University of Maine Troubadours.

Seniors and Freshmen Victors in Volleyball

In spite of the previous evening functions of Sophomore Hop and Freshman Banquet, the co-eds played a consistent game of volleyball Saturday morning. The seniors defeated the juniors for the second time, by the margin of 3 points although the juniors threatened greatly in the last half.

The line-up was:
Seniors: Burrill, Churchill, Montgomery, Dunphy, Noddin, Armstrong, Fowles, McCready, and Meacham.

Juniors: Moulton, Henry, Bolan, West, Hill, Hutchinson, E. Thompson, and Mutty.

The freshmen again won over the sophomores although the latter had a decisive lead in the first half. The final score was 51-42.

Freshmen: Johnson, Todd, McClellan, Crowley, Sonnichsen, Willard, Rowe, Holmes, and Chase.

Sophomores: Coy, Young, Zeitman, Lord, Jalbert, Cummings, Myers, Covell, Briggs, and Allan.

KID PARTY FEATURES SIGMA TAU FUNCTION

Mrs. Betty Cooper Cohen, honorary member of Sigma Tau, entertained for the sorority with a Kid Party at her home in Bangor, Saturday night, April 16.

Juvenile games were played and a buffet supper was served. Marcia Adelman was awarded the prize for being the "cutest kid" present.

Florence Kaminsky and Sara Meltzer, pledges of the sorority, were honor guests at the party.

Francis Carbone of Harvard Dental School visited Theta Chi house last weekend.

Alfred Bittner spent the past week-end in Portland, Maine.

CHI OMEGA SORORITY HOLDS PLEDGE SERVICE

Monday, April 18, Chi Omega held a pledge service at the home of Louise Hill for its five new members.

Those pledged were "Franie" Knight, Frances Johnson, Phyllis Johnson, Kay Smith, and Betty Wilhelm.

Initiation for all pledges will take place April 30 and May 1.

Sigma Delta Zeta, honorary mathematics society, held its informal initiation Thursday evening in 155 Arts and Sciences building. The initiates were Dorothy Goode, William Milliken, Jr., Richard Snare, and Joseph Senechal. The members on the initiation committee were Gertrude Dorr, Norman Schultz, and Arthur Brown.

A special initiation of Theta Chi was held last Monday night with the following candidates: honorary membership, Capt. Hugh Wear and Henry McCusker of So. Braintree, Mass. Laurence Lynch '34 of Bangor and Clifford O'Donnell '34 of Bangor were also initiated at this time. Prof. Harry Smith, Prof. John Smyth, Mr. George Findlen of Orono, and Mr. Harry Beale of Corinna were guests.

Miss Dorothy Shiro entertained at a bridge Wednesday afternoon, April 13 at her home in Old Town in honor of Sarah Hoos '29, whose engagement to Fred Stern of Waterville was recently announced. Members and pledges of Sigma Tau were present.

The Bangor Alumnae Chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi entertained the local chapter Monday evening with an interesting and educational movie of the Frontier Nursing Service in the Kentucky Mountains. This is the section where the new philanthropic branch of Alpha Omicron Pi national work is located.

Pi Beta Phi sorority held a pledge service at the Cabin Thursday night. Miriam Linscott and Ruth Todd were pledged.

Nutting Fans Eight Batters As McCabe Hits 3 Out of 4; Team Plays Harvard Today

With Ted Nutting on the mound fanning eight batters and Pat McCabe getting three hits out of four trips to the plate, the pale blue baseball team opened its season yesterday afternoon by defeating Colby 7-4 at Waterville. Amel Kiszczak nearly made history in the first inning when he got what was supposed to have been a homer, but was in reality a neat triple. The first man up Kiszczak slammed the ball deep into right field, but was nabbed at the plate while trying to stretch the triple to a homer.

SPORTS SPIELS

By BOB BERG

It looks like old man Depression has even hit the University of Maine athletic department with the result that several of the varsity baseball players have to miss out on the annual baseball tour through New England, which is a rather expensive affair. Much to his dislike, Coach Fred Brice is just allowed to take 14 players and naturally some of the boys, who deserve the trip and ought to be taken along, must take it on the chin. It's a tough break, but so it goes.

A year ago Harvard College was happy to announce the fact that it possessed an out-of-the-ordinary scholar in the person of the famous athlete, Barry Wood. But now, Maine has in its midst one of those rare combinations in Clark Abbott, varsity baseball catcher. Recently Abbott was elected to Phi Beta Kappa which is one of the greatest honors an undergraduate can attain, and more so to reach that goal in the junior year. Abbott starred on last year's baseball team and is now considered to be the best catcher at Maine. Clark Abbott, scholar and student, Maine is proud of you!

Here is some news that ought to tickle the hearts of you track followers and devotees. Efforts are now being made to arrange a track meet between the varsity and a team composed of former pale blue track stars. With the cooperation of Bud Lindsay, Ted Curtis has sent out letters to about 35 of Maine's former track luminaries, and, to judge by some of the responses, it would not be surprising to see the gala event take place on May 7. Maybe it would not be thrilling to watch some of Maine's grads, whose deeds are well known, strut their stuff on Alumni Field.

Those who took advantage of going to Bangor and listening to Bill Cunningham, famous columnist of the Boston Post, were certainly given as interesting a two hour entertainment as could be asked for. Using a style decidedly original and refreshing, Cunningham included in his talk high lights of sporting events and personalities during the past few years. One of the features of his talk was his conception of the "long count" in the famous Dempsey-Tunney fight. Coaches Kenyon and Jenkins were also among the speakers, the former having as his subject "Inside Baseball" and professional football, while the latter gave an informative talk on track.

MAINE BOWLING TEAM IS WINNER AT COLBY

The University of Maine All Stars bowling team travelled to Waterville Saturday afternoon where they bowled the Colby All Stars and returned the victors, having won the match and taking nine out of the twelve points. Both teams were composed of five men selected from the various teams in the Fraternity Bowling League.

The contest was scored on a point basis, one for each string, and the two totals counting the remaining two points. The games this Saturday were the second half of the match. Colby visited here last week and bowled the first half.

WANTED

A STUDENT CRUISE DIRECTOR

WE want one student in this university to organize air-tour groups. Generous financial return to the man who qualifies. Also opportunity for interesting travel.

Cruises are made in giant Pan American multi-motored air-liners. Cool, luxurious travel in the upper air at 117 miles an hour. The West Indies, Central America, South America out of the tourist season, in all their native charm. Night life in gay Cuba. The drums of magic Haiti, throbbing in the distant hills. Panama, crossroads of the world. The ancient Mayan ruins at Chichen Itza in Yucatan. Mexico City, that mile-high metropolis where bullfights still flourish. Or Rio de Janeiro, sparkling Buenos Aires and Montevideo, Peru, Chile. To these exotic places and a hundred others in the 30 countries of Latin America covered by Pan American, largest air transport system in the world, on 20,000 miles of airways.

This year these student group tours will be offered at 40% reduction from standard passenger rates, between June 1 and September 1. For example: this discount brings air trips from Miami to Havana down to $16.80. From our Texas terminal to Mexico City, $36.60. From Miami to Panama, with overnight stop at Jamaica, luncheon stops in Cuba and Colombia, only $108. Same student reductions to any point on our lines.

If you feel that you have the personality, the social position and collegiate standing to qualify as representative of our company on the campus, write immediately. Please give full particulars as to your personal qualifications and responsibility. Address: Mr. V. E. Chene, General Traffic Manager, Pan American Airways System, 122 East 42d Street, New York, N. Y.

SOPHOMORES DEFEAT SENIORS, 59-57, TUES.

Tuesday night, April 12, the seniors and sophomores met in the gym for a fast game of volleyball. The seniors, undefeated up to this time, lost to the sophomores by a score of 59-57. The line-ups were as follows:

Seniors: Randall, Dumphy, Capt. Montgomery, Burrill, Churchill, Armstrong, Noddin, Fowles, and McCready.

Sophomores: Lord, Haney, Young, Newman, Briggs, Myers, Covell, Capt. Coy, Cummings, and Zietman.

On the same night the juniors played the freshmen and took them over in a close game 45-44. The freshmen, at the end of the half, had a big lead, but the juniors staged a snappy comeback.

The Athletic Association has set May 10 for election day of various offices, which includes election of managers and assistant managers in relay, basketball, track, and baseball. There will also be a vote to decide the election of a senior member to the athletic board and the head cheerleader.

"Made-to-measure" service for business

Whether the business is small or large—the corner grocery or the refrigerator factory—requirements for telephone service vary. So, to meet special conditions, Bell System men custom-fit the service to the subscriber.

They worked out a telephone conference plan for a large manufacturer. Every Friday, at specified times, each district manager calls the home office, where telephone facilities are so arranged that the chief sales executives are on the line simultaneously. Problems are discussed, decisions given. In minutes, the executives cover the country. This plan lowered selling costs, raised efficiency, helped the user to increase profits 31% in a year's time.

By making the telephone more useful, Bell System men contribute to the success of many industries.
