INSTRUCTOR, WIFE INJURED IN CRASH WHEN AUTOS SKID

Roger Clapp of Agriculture
Faculty Was Returning
From Boston Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Clapp of Orono were severely injured Sunday night when the car which Mr. Clapp, a member of the faculty of the College of Agriculture, was driving skidded into a Nash sedan driven by Simon MacDougall of Boothbay Harbor on a bad turn near Troy. According to a report received Monday night, Mrs. Clapp is in a critical condition at the Eastern Maine General Hospital in Bangor, suffering mainly from a fracture of the frontal skull, while Mr. Clapp was cut deeply under the chin and had various other minor injuries.

The accident took place early Sunday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Clapp were returning from a visit to Boston. Ice and a sharp curve in the road caused a head-on collision of the two cars. MacDougall's car had three occupants other than the driver—his wife, a woman, and a girl. A passing motorist took the six injured people to Unity, where Dr. C. M. Whitney rendered first aid. The occupants of the MacDougall car all received minor injuries. An ambulance from Pittsfield brought Mr. and Mrs. Clapp to the Bangor Hospital, where they are under the care of Dr. Asa C. Adams of Orono.

Mr. Clapp's brother, Henry, arrived Monday night from the University of New Hampshire, where he is an instructor. He is staying with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Waring at Orono, and will remain until the condition of his relatives is better.

Deputy Sheriff Brown of Unity investigated the accident.

Aviation Essays To Win Scholarships

Aeronautical scholarships totalling $7,500.00 in tuition value are being offered for the fourth consecutive year to aviation-inclined students of universities and colleges by W. E. Boeing, leader in the aircraft industry, it has been announced by the Boeing School of Aeronautics, located at Oakland, California. The Boeing scholarships, coveted by every college man interested in aviation, annually attract many entrants from leading educational institutions.

Four college undergraduates who submit the best essays on aeronautical subjects to a national committee of award and who are able to meet necessary physical standards, will be given flying and ground training at the Boeing School at no tuition cost.

Regulations of the scholarships specify that the candidate must be an undergraduate of this school in regular attendance and in good standing. Physical requirements are that he must be white, between the ages of eighteen and twenty-five, of average height and normal weight, with proper eyesight and devoid of any physical handicap.

The scholarship competition will close on April 15, 1933, and essay subjects selected by candidates must be approved prior to March 15, 1933. The candidate who is selected for the first award must be able to pass the Department of Commerce transport pilot license examination within ten days after awards are announced. Three alternate candidates will be selected for possible awards in the event winners are unable to qualify physically.

In previous years, students of the following universities and colleges have been awarded scholarships: Stanford University, University of Washington, University of Nebraska, University of Maine, University of California, University of Minnesota, Mt. Union College, California Institute of Technology, Clarkson Memorial College, and Santa Barbara Teachers' College.

LAST THREE DAYS FOR PRISM PICTURES

Thursday, Friday, and Saturday
December 1, 2, 3

All students, not having been photographed, please make appointments at M.C.A. Building for pictures to be made during these three days. No pictures can be made without appointments.

Plans Completed For Military Ball Next Friday

Friday, December 9th, brings to the Maine campus one of the greatest social events of the year—the Military Ball. That evening the campus will take on a festive air. The old hall will be transformed into a stately ballroom, where fair ladies sway to and fro sedately to soft music. Glittering officers will lend a charm of unreality to the evening. The formal dress and courtly manners will make one believe it to be a diplomatic ball in a foreign country.

The Military Ball is traditional. Each year the members of the Scabbard and Blade fraternity give this dance in honor of military men of this college. And each year they choose an Honorary Lieutenant Colonel from the ladies present. The young lady is chosen for her supremacy in personality, in other words for her popularity. The title winner is announced at intermission, and this year there is much indecision as to who will receive this honor. Those nominated are Melba Gifford, Madeline Bunker, Dorothy Newman, and Louise Milliken.

The program for the evening will be carried forth in the traditional form. The committee is: John Doyle, chairman, Philip Linn, John Farnsworth, Hobart Chase, and Charles Bunker.

Martial strains which will set many feet adancing will be furnished by Lloyd Rainell and his Georgians from Lewiston.

Scabbard and Blade is a national military fraternity. Men are selected for this honor on the basis of superior qualities for leadership, and for distinguished character.

This ceremonious social function will raise all above the level of commonplace living to a land of unreality—a land of romantic beauty. Imaginations will recall stories of the days of chivalry. And all attending the affair will feel themselves not in the old gym at the old University but in a story with a medieval setting and medieval characters.

Pale Blue Debates Bates at Houlton

The University of Maine debating team participated in a non-decision debate with a team from Bates at the Houlton High School auditorium last evening. This was the third interscholastic debate of the year.

The Maine speakers, Arnold Kaplan, '35 and Hamilton Boothby, '35 upheld the negative of the question, Resolved, that most advertising is detrimental to the best interests of the general public; while Bond Perry, '35 and John Pierce, '35 of Bates argued the affirmative. Principal M. B. Lambert of Houlton High School acted as chairman. An audience of about 500 attended the debate.

Kaplan and Boothby were entertained at the home of Galen Veayo, U. of M. '31, who is now principal of the Junior High School in Houlton. D. W. Morris, debating coach, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Churchill, parents of Newton and Margaret Churchill, U. of M. '32.

Senior Foresters Leave For Camp at Princeton

One of the cabins in which the Maine forestry seniors are living while on their nine weeks' stay in the big woods

Twenty-two senior foresters left the campus Sunday for the big woods where they will spend nine weeks growing beards, playing bridge, and learning forestry from the lumberjack angle. These lads opened their camp at Princeton on Monday of this week when they invaded the log mansions constructed there last year, namely the Hovel, the Bronx, and the Ritz.

Professor R. J. Ashman is in charge of the camp, and will have as his assistant Austin H. Wilkins of the Maine Forestry Service at Augusta.

Briscoe Reelected Forest Ass'n Pres.

Professor J. M. Briscoe, head of the department of forestry at the University of Maine, was reelected president of the Yale Forest School Alumni Association at a meeting of that organization held in New Haven on November 18 and 19.

Five Maine graduates are now taking graduate work in the Yale School according to Professor Briscoe. These students are: Ralph M. Hutchinson '24, Henry O. Trask '27, Kenneth E. Keeney '31, Wilfred S. Davis '32, and Edmond T. Hawes '32. Professor Briscoe also reports having a visit with Allan W. Godspeed '28 who is an assistant under Professor Hawley in the branch of applied forestry. George W. C. Turner '27 is also another Maine man taking graduate work at the Yale School.

Freshman-Sophomore Track Meet Is Outgrowth of Prior "Pumpkin" Meets

The running off of the sophomore-freshman track meet this Saturday will probably call to the minds of those who have been connected with the University for the past decade or so the time when the annual interclass track meet was called the "Pumpkin" Meet and all four classes participated. The most intense rivalry existed between the freshmen and sophomores and the meet was usually won by either of these lower classes, the victory swinging from one class to another indiscriminately.

A track meet between the two lower classes is a fairly new feature; until 1929 all classes took part. The meet between the two lower classes was instituted by the Senior Skulls Society as a means for the removal of freshman rules; for, if the yearlings win the meet, the rules are automatically suspended. This ruling has been a boon for the freshmen, since in two out of three years the first-year men have defeated their more experienced rivals.

The first interclass track meet as recorded in the Campus, was held in October, 1906, in the form of a relay race, all classes taking part. The sophomores won the race with the frosh placing a close second. The track meet of 1907 was a regular affair with both field and track events; the sophs were victorious again. A new feature was introduced in 1908—a five mile marathon race from Old Town to Alumni Field. The juniors won the marathon race while the sophs won the pumpkin meet. The frosh won their first meet in 1910 by the close margin of 47 to 44, and the second year men protested the decision, declaring that the decision of one event was unfair.

WORK PROGRESSING FOR MASQUE DRAMA

Second Play of Season To Be
Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler"
Next Thursday

By JOHN C. WILLEY

The members of the cast for the Masque play, Hedda Gabler, are holding rehearsals every evening under the direction of Professor Mark Bailey in preparation for the production of the Ibsen drama next Thursday in the university chapel.

Hedda Gabler is considered one of the finest works of Ibsen, the premier Norwegian dramatist. Endowed with powerful character portrayal and dramatic action, the play sweeps on to its tragic close, leaving one with the conviction that it is a tragedy of fate rather than a tragedy brought about by the weakness of a central character. It may then be compared to the later play, Mourning Becomes Electra, by Eugene O'Neill.

The play is the story of Hedda, a cold-hearted, supremely selfish person whose desire is to control the destiny of those with whom she comes in contact. Married to a husband who finds his greatest contentment in poring over historical documents of the Middle Ages and who is an altogether uninteresting person, she has found life intolerable. Elert Lovborg, the man who once loved her, re-enters her life, bringing with him Mrs. Elvsted who has restored him from degradation and has encouraged him to write a book which has made a sensation. Enraged by the knowledge that Mrs. Elvsted has been able to mould a man's character—the very thing that she has been unable to do—Hedda plots to ruin the lives of both Lovborg and Mrs. Elvsted. From this point the play gathers intensity and proceeds with breath-taking speed to its final tragedy.

Plan Gala Time For Penny Carnival Friday

Tomorrow night it may snow. Tomorrow night it may hail, it may freeze, it may be warm and balmy! Whatever the weather there will be the Penny Carnival, and weather can't stop everyone from going to it! This Penny Carnival is a traditional affair. Every year the W.A.A. holds a barn dance and to have a "swell" time at these dances is just as traditional as the dances themselves.

What did you all do Maine Night? You certainly didn't sit at home and listen to the radio. Well—don't stay at home tomorrow! This is one night every fellow with courage leaves the dearly beloved hearthrug. And this is one night the co-eds will leave off their city-going clothes and "sign out" for campus. Yes, there will be plenty of partners for you shy freshmen!

Just a hint—come early, for the faculty patrons are arriving at the gym in a horse and buggy! From where the ancient vehicle was dug no one can say but it will be there the whole evening.

The patrons will arrive in state; be escorted up—the stairs; inside—the door and then—!! The orchestra will arrive; be escorted up—the stairs; inside—the door and then!!—all the lads and ladies will arrive.

"Local atmosphere" will abound in the "Barn," and the orchestra may be obliged to play in the hay loft. Where oh where will the rest of us have to sit? The decorations will be there, and will afford the poor freshman swains something more interesting to look at than the ceiling!

This hick affair will be "just right." It'll have a Grand March, a Lady of the Lake, and last but not least a Ladies' Choice.

Antics permitted, hilarity encouraged, Dame Prosperity will take a back seat in the "buggy wagon" while Sir Monkey Shines takes the reins. We'll all amble around from seven-thirty until twelve o'clock midnight.

Co-eds, here's your chance to parade. Costumes will be worn by all girls and as many fellows as dare. The well-dressed will be there in his favorite burlap bag. The worst-looking fellow takes the prize.

The whole affair will be strictly informal, strictly non-conventional, and strictly a Maine escapade. Listen, you freshmen who believe you never "get a break while upperclassmen are around"—Listen to this:

"There was a sweet lassie on campus
Who went all alone to the dances
She danced all alone, and she came home alone.
Da-da-da-da-da-da-da-da-da."

Another big drawing card will be the entertainment; but this topic is taboo and you'll have to go and find out for yourself.

Prof. Huddilston Gives Art Talk at Bangor Y.

Continuing his series of lectures on "The Renaissance of Art in the United States," Professor J. H. Huddilston gave a talk at the Bangor Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday evening. Little has been done in this country toward the sponsoring of art; and whatever attempts have been made, are usually squelched by congressmen with "cornob pipes" who "should board in a livery stable instead of at the Willard Hotel."

Professor Huddilston pointed out that although the original plans called for a truly beautiful city at Washington, it has been only recently that the "site has been changed from a sight." In the recent utterances of Presidents Coolidge and Hoover, however, he said that some hope could be found in looking toward a new order of things.

NOTICE

Girls' rifle practice will start Monday afternoon at one-thirty in Lord Hall. Those who signed up must keep their appointments or be eliminated from the team.

Monday, Tuesday and Thursday afternoon are scheduled for practice.

NOTICE FRESHMEN

Freshmen taking military training will vote on their choice of an honorary lieutenant colonel at their regular drill period this Saturday morning. The nominees for the position are: Madeline Bunker, Doris Newman, Louise Milliken, and Melba Gifford, members of the junior class.

FROSH GET CHANCE TO REMOVE RULES IN MEET SATURDAY

Outcome of Annual Clash Is Doubtful. Sophs Weakened
By Initiations

The annual freshman-sophomore track meet, which will decide how much longer the freshman rules are to remain in effect, will be held Saturday afternoon in the indoor field. Should the freshmen win, rules will be automatically removed; should the sophomores win, the date and method of removal will be announced later by the Senior Skull society.

This meet is the first of the season and will afford Coach Jenkins an opportunity to determine some prospective members of both the varsity and freshman squads.

Ken and Ernie Black and Horace Drummond lead the field in the distances for the sophomores, while Prince, Cunningham and Beal top the yearling list. Carl Briggs and Dick Barstow are also promising second year men. Bob Wishart and Harry Saunders will be unable to compete because of fraternity initiation. The pride of the sophomores in the 440 yard dash is found in Bill Cole and "Mac" McGinley, and O'Connor '36 will furnish them with ample competition. Maurice Hall and "Chick" Shea will uphold the thirty-fivers in the dashes, but outstanding frosh sprinters seem to be lacking.

The weight events find Sidelinger, Callette, Thompson and Al Roberts in the foreground for the cubs, while the sophs will depend on Clay Totman, Sam Reese and Bunny Anderson. Files, Robertson, and Henderson will also be lost to the sophomores because of fraternity initiation.

Charlie Sleeper heads the list of sophomore high-jumpers aided by Bob Lakin, "Chick" Shea, and Gridley Tarbell. Ireland and Blackwell are the prominent freshmen in this event. The pole vault finds Frank Gross, Sargent, and Richter in the limelight for the freshmen, while V. L. Hathorne will compete for the second year men. Warren Flagg and "Chick" Shea lead the field for the sophomores in the broad jump; here, as in the dashes, prominent freshmen are among the missing. Dick Gaffney, '35, outstanding for his work in this event last year, has met the same fate as Files and Wishart.

Wilson M'Donald Assembly Speaker

Wilson MacDonald, Canada's greatest living poet, spoke in Chapel this morning before a large audience, reading from his own writings.

Mr. MacDonald is at present the president of the Poetry Society of Canada. He was the representative of poetry at the 1932 conference of the Eastern States Association of Professional Schools for Teachers.

He has published six volumes on nature, religion, and satire. Several noted authors have commented favorably on his work, among them Karl Kitchen, Bliss Carman, and William Archer.

Major Oliver Chooses R.O.T.C. Corporals

Fifty-four freshmen and sophomores have been appointed corporals by Major Oliver. They are: H. B. Wood, A. A. Guptill, J. F. O'Connor, F. D. Peaslee, J. A. Wakefield, P. P. Snow, R. Haggett, R. Levenson, C. Tropp, H. P. Solomon, W. Leed, A. Rottenberg, L. Mindel, J. Heath, R. Hayes, C. Hendrickson, D. Huff, E. Webster, F. W. Chadwick, D. W. Wilkins, D. T. Lull, A. R. Judd, K. S. Pruett, M. J. Breslaw, S. S. Miller, J. M. Coombs, E. B. Woods, K. R. Oxner, R. W. Nangler, W. R. Bearse, F. J. McAlary, R. W. Pinkham, A. A. Fitts, E. A. Sturgis, G. E. Jordan, K. H. Johnstone, C. T. Dexter, M. L. Tilton, B. R. Blackwell, H. T. Boardman, A. F. Crowder, M. Collette, C. A. Harmon, F. H. Hickey, P. C. Brown, J. T. Miller, J. J. Fogarty, R. Lunt, J. W. Jatkevicius, J. L. Sawyer, V. A. Herrick, H. Woodbury, E. E. Kenney, and G. M. Flagg.

A call has been issued for women's basketball, practice for which for freshmen is on Monday and Wednesday nights, and for upper-class women on Tuesday and Thursday nights.

A Model League

A Model League of Nations carried on by the five leading Universities of the Maritime Provinces of Canada is taking place this week. The Universities participating are: Acadia, University of New Brunswick, Mount Allison, Kings, and Dalhousie. Each of these colleges sends delegates to a meeting at which problems of the world are discussed.

Such a league would be a fitting project for the colleges of Maine or New England. Each college could have its delegates, who would act as representatives from various nations. Then actual problems before the League of Nations could be taken up, and action taken just as they are in reality.

A project of this sort would have great benefit. It would create greater interest in the leading questions of the day, and would cause at least those students chosen as delegates to the meetings to think rather deeply on these problems. The meetings could be conducted so that an audience could be present to hear the discussions, and this would also create an interest in international affairs.

At present the only organizations on the campus under whose work such a project would fall are the M.C.A., which has intercollegiate relationships as part of its work, and the Liberal Club, which was organized to create an interest in national and international questions. It would not be amiss for these two organizations to have a joint meeting, and draw up plans for a Model League of Nations, a Model Congress, or a Model World Court. Each of these would serve the purpose of creating student interest in important political problems.

Remember the Others

Either through thoughtlessness or else through deliberate lack of consideration of fellow students, books in which assignments have been made and of which the Library has only a limited number, are being taken from the Library and kept out until after the assignments are due. As a result many students are unable to get their assignments in on time and consequently suffer when ranks are issued. This is a fault which students themselves can remedy. Don't try to get a monopoly on a book. Take it, get your assignment completed as soon as possible and return the book. Just remember the other fellow and give him a break.

Students are also taking magazines from the Library without signing them out or bringing them back. This question has been mentioned before, but the wrong continues. To keep magazines in the Library the librarian has been forced to take them off the racks and make it necessary for students to ask for them at the desk. Remember that those magazines are for the entire student body and that stealing them is not clever. Again we say, give the other fellow a break.

CHURCH NOTICE

Methodist Episcopal Church and Wesley Foundation

Twenty minutes of interesting movies on "Young India in Action" with an address by Harry Hanson, young missionary on furlough, will be the program of The Student Forum for Sunday evening at 7:30. This will be an open meeting and will be held in the church auditorium. Mr. Hanson is an authority on the Indian situation and will be able to meet the questions students are asking about India and Christianity's opportunity there. The morning service will be at 10:30 with sermon by the pastor. Fellowship Hour and luncheon at the Wesley House at 6:30.

SPORTS-EDIER

By BOB BERG

Three Black Bear football stars, Captain Julius Pike, Don Favor and Gil Robertshaw brought further honor to the University of Maine's state championship eleven, when they received honorable mention in the Associated Press All-Eastern football consensus. They were selected by experts on the Associated Press sport staff.

The only other college team in the state to gain recognition was Colby who placed Mal Wilson, end, on the honorable mention list. This is the first time in years that three Maine players in one year have received such national recognition and the trio certainly deserve the credit given to them as they were instrumental in giving the Pale Blue gridiron outfit its most successful season in many a year. They must have been great in order to be placed on a par with some of the leading players in the country. As a tackle, Pike's name was associated with Hardy of Harvard, Meredith of Pittsburgh, Armstrong of Army, and Fortune of Princeton. In the backfield Favor and Robertshaw were both in the same list with Weinstock of Pittsburgh, Buonanna and Gammino of Brown, Rovinski of Holy Cross, and Samuels and Ash of Colgate.

The annual Freshman-Sophomore track meet takes place Saturday and from all indications, the confident sophs are in for a tough dual. Although the second year men went through their season undefeated last year and have on their outfit outstanding tracksters, the frosh can boast of several cinder men who are due to give their more experienced rivals a hard tussle for honors. Furthermore, it seems that the sporters of the green tie are much better fortified in the weight events than the sophs are, and that they also have the edge in the pole vault.

Coach Bill Kenyon is putting his sixty odd candidates for the freshman basketball quintet through the fundamental points of the court game this first week of practise. However, starting next week, the yearling basketball mentor will work his candidates at full speed in order to mould together several good combinations as the first game of the schedule takes place immediately after the Christmas vacation. Since the Xmas recess starts on the sixteenth of next month this leaves Coach Kenyon but two weeks to get a line on his candidates and select the most likely looking candidates. It's a tough job for any coach, but Kenyon has been up against the same problem for many years already, and he has always turned out crack frosh outfits.

One of the leading features of Coach Kenyon's style of coaching is his idea of an A and B squad for the freshman players. Kenyon divides his entire squad into two groups so as to give every candidate a fair chance to display his wares on the court, as a schedule is drawn up for each group. In this way, not one single aspirant is slighted or neglected. It also gives the inexperienced players an excellent opportunity to improve their game and take part in actual competition.

A situation which must be remedied is the manner in which the tennis tournaments are being run off. It seems that each time there is a tournament, it is never finished on account of either examinations or cold weather. Last spring the Tennis Club held a tourney and it was not finished because examinations came out just as the semi-finals were about to be played. This fall, there were two tournaments held, the Student-Faculty and a General Invitation Tourney and neither has been completed. In the latter tournament the finals had been reached and from latest reports it will not be played off due to the bad conditions of the courts.

Something should be done about this tennis problem, as in the past two years there has been a great deal of interest shown towards the net game by the student body. It is a shame that when the students are given an opportunity to display their abilities as racket wielders, that a circumstance always arises which prevents them from going as far as they can through a tournament.

Methodist Episcopal Church

Dr. Sharpe, pastor of the Fellowship Church, will speak Sunday evening at the Wesley Foundation Student Forum. "An Evening with the Celebrities" is the subject chosen. This will be an illustrated address in which all will have a part. There will follow a period of discussion of Celebrities of the Bible if the time allows. Come for luncheon at 6:30 and the social half hour following. The Forum begins promptly at 7:30 and is over at 8:30. Morning Worship will be at 10:30 with sermon by the pastor. Adult Vested Choir.

Two new laboratories are being built in the section of Coburn Hall which formerly was a part of the stockroom of that building. One of the laboratories will be used by Dean Achsa M. Bean.

Maine Described Since The Election

(From the Chicago Tribune)
(According to new Democratic geography)

Maine. The greatest state in the country! The greatest state in any country! The greatest state in the world! Gloriously situated in the northeast portion of our glorious nation. Bounded on the north by Canada; on the east by Happiness; on the south by oceans of joy, and on the west by the delighted cheers of the Democrats. The climate is most salubrious, healthy, inspiring and sopping wet. Population, 118,958 souls and some Republicans. It is a most fertile state, everything growing to immense size, especially Democratic election majorities. State flower, Forget-Me-Not. State motto, "Remember the Maine vote." State slogan, "Do with Might and Maine."

Ah, little children, nothing re-Maines to be said. And now that likker is coming back, let us pipe all hands on deck and splice the Maine brace.

(From the new Republican geography)

Maine. A bleak, cold country in the northeast corner of the United States of America, somewhere near Labrador. Discovered by Leif Ericson, who was so disgusted with Maine after living there a couple of weeks that he decided to go back to Norway and forget about discovering America. Inhabited by woodticks, Indians, small mouth black bass, porcupines, wolves, lumberjacks, rock scorpions, devilfish and Democrats. State flower, the poison ivy. State motto, "Thiseo Issa Helluva Placeo." Principal occupations, sitting in front of the village store, clam digging, and manufacture of antique hooked rugs and squirrel whisky. Climate, formerly bone dry, now soaking wet. The state originally belonged to the Indians, from whom it was bought by the first white settlers for a dollar and seventy-five cents in cash and nine strings of glass beads. The first settlers were cheated. The name, "Maine" is from the Indian word "Meijeine" meaning a pain in the neck.

DUKE UNIVERSITY

The MAINE SNOOPUS

WHAT RANK did you make? Don't worry about it, you'll still be eligible—for ye Snoopus... Looks like Johnny (Pep) Wilson is falling. He's been seen with the same femme twice in succession at the movies, at the dorm dance, at the S.A.E. party, and at the A.T.O. party.... We nominate for oblivion—the Phi Gam who invented the idea of an onion necklace. It's O.K. to chastise the pledges, but why make the rest of us suffer?... It must be love when the two McMichaels plan to come down all the way from the forestry camp at Princeton for the military ball and the Phi Eta party.... Dame Rumor brings the report that Gil the Grinder Robertshaw believes that variety is the spice of life.... And just who is the Dartmouth lad who is going to be highly honored by taking one of our fairest of the fair co-eds to the Lambda Chi party tomorrow night?... And while we're asking questions, who was the beautiful young lady getting Russ Shaw's ranks from the dean's office the other day? Looks like love.... It appears that one of our pretty co-educational students is drifting back to that Arlen-like countenance of Phil Linn, but then there are irresistible forces.... Have the Phi Gam's and the A. T. O.'s gone in for pioneering now that they are living in a log cabin?... Somebody asked the other day when Prescott Ward is going to pass out the cigars.... And we have found that there are attractions strong enough to draw some men away from the environs of the campus. Sir Giguere is seeking his fortune in his spare time in other places.... We have it on good authority that Frankie Dean owes money on this campus.... Can she make fudge? CAN she, boy, oh boy, oh boy, she sure can make fudge whoever she is. We're talking about the person who makes that DELICIOUS fudge for Mun(rrr) Romansky.... Talk about being such a good friend that you would give the shirt off your back, listen to this (meaning of course, read it). Last week one of our handsome hunters wore his scarlet shirt to classes, and one of our co-eds admired the shirt. Ye hunter said when his shirt was being thus admired, "Do you want it?" Whereupon the lil lady said "sure," whereupon she got the shirt. On a bet she wore the blazing piece of apparel all day.... Special Extra!! Al Grua, Breaks up happy home (Story on page 26) —And we'll bet that the income of the post office up there in Princeton is increasing by leaps and bounds since the foresters have arrived.... Is it true that Pete Karalekas has hanged his pin? Pete says NO, but everybody else says yes.... Love blossomed at the Hannibal Hamlin Hog Wrasse several weeks ago when Janet Campbell successfully vamped one of the wearers of the green ties and blue caps.... Pasky went home last Tuesday for the weekend and came back this Tuesday. Some week-end, Pasky.... Who was the midnight visitor at the Maples at 1:30 P.M. Tuesday night, that was embarrassed to the nth degree?... Hast thou seen the cute lil ear muffs that the Phi Kappa lads are parading around the campus in this week? Maybe they need 'em and maybe they need pillows for protection, we don't know, and we don't care.... This Ouija board has been doing queer things over there in Balentine. Who is this Peter Christopher Standish from the University of Edinburgh? Rog Heifer, noble busy manager of the Campus, went hunting and got an 8-point deer.... And the little Phi Gam's visited Balentine and took the places of the waitresses last night.... Some of the little freshettes have gone in for skating in a big way, why they even get up before breakfast to go down to the river and skate in the dark.... Oh, oh, oh, it has been proved that you can't take a pretty picture of a homely person, but what a mob has invaded the M. C. A. Building to get a look at themselves.... Love and kisses.

"BANANAS—THE LONG WAY!"

"Maine trounces Colby!" "The backfield stars!"

"Thrilling passes stir the air!"

Our team was praised; our band was cheered;

But what about our new Maine Bear?

Bananas surpassed the overgrown Mule;

Pulled down high score in the second quarter,

When crouching behind the wire fence

He drank two bottles of soda water.

Bananas eagerly watched the game

As behind Coach Brice he sat.

When Colby brought the White Mule over

Bananas downed the old "High Hat."

One touchdown made, the game all over,

Bananas heaved a high,

Received with gusto from "warm" Maine friends

A bottle of old Scotch Rye.

ANNUAL TECH SMOKER HELD IN ALUMNI HALL

The annual technology smoker was held last evening in Alumni Hall, the feature of the meeting being a short play given by each of the departments of the college. Cider, doughnuts, and cigarettes were served as refreshments.

The committee consisted of: John Gonzales, chairman, Henry Raye, Arthur Cronkright, and Charles Brown.

DELTA TAU HAS SMOKER FOR FRESHMEN TUESDAY

A smoker for freshmen was held at the Delta Tau Delta house Tuesday night, November 22. The program included entertainment, refreshments, and an informal talk by Major Eberle. A group picture was taken during the evening. Professor Lucas of the mathematics department was a guest of the evening.

Carlita L. Mutty of the Class of 1929 was married to James A. Dunning of Bangor, November 10, in Edmunston, N. B.

While at the University, "Cal" was active in Maine Christian Association work, Spanish Club, Rifle Team, and Archery. She is a member of the Phi Mu Sorority and All Maine Women.

Mr. Dunning is employed at the R. B. Dunning Co. in Bangor.

Dean Achsa Bean was at Harvard Medical School recently to take the preliminary oral examinations for her Doctor's degree. Miss Bean is working on the problem, "Emotional Blood Sugars."

The Contributors' Club met on Tuesday night at the home of Professor Wood. The members enjoyed a literary program, followed by refreshments.

George Solomon spent Thanksgiving in Boston.

PHI GAM SOPHOMORES HOLD SMOKER FOR '35ERS

The Phi Gam sophomores entertained representatives of '35 from the other fraternities with a sophomore smoker last Friday evening. The meeting was an informal get-together to promote good fellowship and class feeling. Games were played and refreshments served. The meeting concluded with an exchange of stories and group singing around the fire. Harry Files was chairman and master of ceremonies.

Phi Mu sorority entertained their district president, Mrs. Dorothea Watters of New York City, for several days this week. A model initiation was held on Tuesday evening.

The Country Club had the annual tea dance for the members and their guests on Thanksgiving afternoon. Many students were present. The music was furnished by Larry Miller's Bears.

Delta Zeta sorority held an initiation Monday evening at Stevens Hall. The following pledges were initiated: Claire Sanders, Winona Harrison, Kathleen Hardy, and Mildred Willard.

Marion Davis '32 was a week-end guest at Tri Delta House.

A. Merton Larrabee was in Laconia, N. H., on Thanksgiving Day.

TRI DELTS OBSERVE FOUNDERS DAY MONDAY

Tri Delta sorority observed national Founder's Day last Monday evening. The seniors were in charge of the program which was in the form of a radio broadcast including several Tri Delta songs, the national president's message, and a clever little skit.

Mr. and Mrs. Waring, Mrs. Moreland, and two alumnae, Sarah Thompson and Jean Kierstead, enjoyed the program with the chapter members.

About a hundred couples were present at the Y.W.C.A. Stag Dance held on Thanksgiving afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. James Moreland and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bliss chaperoned the affair. Smith Ames' orchestra furnished the music.

Miss Ava H. Chadbourne instructor in the School of Education is receiving medical attention at the Eastern Maine General Hospital.

Dean James N. Hart and Dean Olin S. Lutes are attending the meeting of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools at Boston this week where they represent the institution as delegates.

Mr. Merton S. Parsons of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Farm Management was in Augusta, November 25, collecting information regarding taxes.

Ross Palmer of Bowdoin was a dinner guest of Helen Williams at the Tri Delta House Friday.

Betty Lynch spent the week-end in Springfield at the home of Marion Lewis '32.

Philip Snow '36 spent the holiday at Salisbury Beach.

RADIO DEBATE OVER WLBZ TAKES PLACE IN JANUARY

The first scheduled radio debate of the season will be held between the junior varsity debating teams of Maine and Bates about the middle of January over radio station WLBZ at Bangor.

The subject of debate is the same as the high school question of this year: Resolved: That approximately one half of the revenues of all state and local taxes should be derived from sources other than tangible property. The Maine junior varsity will be composed largely of freshmen and no debater in the contest will have had any intercollegiate debating experience.

Since this question is the one selected by the Bates League, the Bates debaters will be amply prepared and Coach D. W. Morris will send out his teams to Grange debates in order to offset this experience. The team is now reading on the question.

A clever radio program was presented by the seniors to the patronesses, alumnae, and active members of Delta Delta Delta Wednesday evening.

Sandwiches, cookies, and coffee were served.

Freshman Basketball Candidates Report For Practice

Separate Schedules Arranged For Two Teams; Old Town High Is First on Schedule for B Team

Fifty-six men reported to Coach Kenyon for freshman basketball practice Monday night at the Armory. This is a slightly smaller number than that of last year, but it is expected that more men will report later.

From the fifty-six candidates an A and a B squad will be chosen. A sixteen game schedule has been arranged for team A, and a slightly smaller one for team B.

An intensive practice program has begun in preparation for the first game of the season, January 3, when team B will play Old Town High. Team A does not play until January 10, when it meets Calais. Up to the present, the guards have been spending their time shooting baskets, while the forwards and centers have been practicing passing and dribbling.

Out of the total number of men reporting, there were twenty-one forwards, twenty-five guards, and ten centers. Most of them have had some previous experience on their high and prep school teams.

The men trying out for the teams are: Forwards, R. Bearce, A. Fitz, H. Boardman, A. Crowder, C. Harmon, F. Hickey, P. Brown, J. Miller, J. Fogarty, H. Woodbury, E. McKenney, K. Chute, R. Chase, R. Knowlton, G. Raymond, M. Duncan, E. Webster, D. Wilkins, D. Lull, A. Judd, and C. Hermon.

Guards, R. Naugler, T. McAlary, R. Pinkham, E. Sturgiss, C. Conian, M. Collette, R. Lunt, W. Jatkevicius, J. Sawyer, V. Herrick, G. Flagg, A. Doherty, C. Kenney, L. Halle, L. Brown, F. Johnson, C. Stinchfield, R. Levenson, F. Chadwick, K. Pruett, M. Breslaw, S. Miller, J. Coombs, E. Woods, and K. Oxner.

Centers, G. Jordan, K. Johnstone, C. Dexter, M. Tilton, B. Blackwell, C. Patten, R. Dumlevy, H. Foley, and M. Walker.

OWLS HOLD LITTLE PARTY FOR UNRULY FRESHMEN

Two more freshmen graced the Tuesday evening meeting of the Sophomore Owls, as a result of which, Raymond Dunlevy is wearing his clothes backwards, carrying a bow and arrow, and wearing the sign, "Dan Cupid" on his back today. Guy Flagg was the other recipient of the Owl's attentions. He was warned and released without punishment.

Plan Gala Time for Penny Carnival Friday

Come anyway. You can eat good food even if you don't want to join the dancers. There's one thing that might be added. It's going to be much easier to walk in the front door than by the orchestra. That's just a hint!

Everyone come to Penny Carnival in the gym tomorrow night. The theme song of the evening will be "When You Hear Those Bells Go Ding-a-ling." So let's all get out and make Dec. 2 a record night for dear old Maine.

Charles Lampropoulos and Freeman Webb, bridge champs of last year, will welcome any challenge from championship aspirants.

BING CROSBY

Bing Crosby, featured in "The Big Broadcast," coming to the Strand Theater, Orono, Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 7 and 8, was born and raised in Spokane, Washington. He had his first singing experience in the glee club at Gonzaga College, and did so well that the idea of making a profession of singing was born full-fledged.

In cooperation with a classmate he organized a seven-piece dance band, which clicked so successfully that it was soon touring Pacific Coast vaudeville houses and dance places. In Los Angeles, playing a vaudeville date, they met Paul Whiteman. He liked them so much that he signed the two leaders to sing for him. A third man was added to their duo, and Paul Whiteman's Rhythm Boys, as they were soon known, became a sensation.

They toured with Whiteman for three years, and when the maestro made the movie, "The King of Jazz," and packed up to start back east, they remained on the coast. Crosby had roles in more than a dozen talking pictures before departing for the east to score phenomenal success on the Columbia Broadcasting System network.

RIFLE ENTHUSIASTS HAVE MEETING AT VALENTINE

A meeting was held in the Valentine sun-parlor Monday for girls interested in riflery. About thirty-five girls were present, and all were enthusiastic about starting practice.

"Jo" Mutty presided. Discussion was held concerning the time which would be best suited for holding rifle practice. It was decided that the girls who have not shot before will come to Lord Hall Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and all the others will come Tuesday and Thursday. Everyone is urged to come and try it out.

"Look at that Baby roll 'em"

YOU would be astonished too, if you could see this machine that turns out 750 Chesterfields a minute...and every one as near perfect as cigarettes can be made.

But please bear this in mind. It is what happens before the tobacco goes into this machine that matters most. Rolling and packaging are important, but not nearly as important as the selection, blending and treatment of the tobacco.

That's why we keep telling you about the tobaccos used in Chesterfields. They're fine, mild, and pure tobaccos. We tell you about ageing and curing the tobaccos...about blending and cross-blending them...because they are things that count.

Chesterfields are milder. They taste better. Prove it for yourself...Just try a package.
