Phi Eta Kappa, Theta Chi, and Beta Theta Pi in Triple
Tie for First Place in Northern League; Phi Gamma Delta Leads Southern League; Beta Theta Pi,
Last Year Champs, Suffer First Defeat
In Two Years

BETA THETA PI BASKETBALL TEAM
Winner of campus championship for past two years. Defeated by Phi Eta Kappa 32-18 for first time since 1927

Several unlooked for spills have been handed out during the last two weeks and the cinches are tightening up on what promises to be one of the closest Intra-Mural Basketball competitions ever witnessed at the University of Maine. So far there is not a team in the Northern League that hasn't received a spill, even the ringleaders receiving their falls with the rest. Phi Gamma Delta still remains supreme in the Southern League waiting for someone to oust her from her throne. Nemesis may appear to offer a scare in the fast club of A.T.O. or the fighting quintet from Phi Mu Delta.

Things took their natural course when Phi Mu Delta arranged themselves on the court to spank Sigma Chi 32-12. One of the real upsets of the season followed on the following night when the ill-famed Dormitory Council five staged a dreadful comeback over their opponents, Delta Tau Delta, to smear them 17-7. The Aggie boys from down the back road passed over Beta Kappa's head to pile up a tally of 19 as opposed to 11 for their opponents.

The sensation of the campus occurred when Phi Eta Kappa romped to a victory over Beta Theta Pi, piling up a tally of 32-18, which lacked but one basket of doubling the score, outplaying what had hitherto been considered the strongest team on the campus, two to one. This is the first time that Beta has been defeated in the past two years, the Beta boys having copped the championship cup for two seasons straight.

What promised to be a dull game was avoided when Lambda Chi forfeited to Sigma Chi. Delta Tau Delta received a second defeat in the last two weeks when Sigma Nu pulled the unexpected and nosed them out 25-24 in a hot scrimmage, which definitely put Delta Tau out of the running for League championship contenders. Phi Mu Delta who promises to give a strong bid for championship of the Southern League ousted A.T.O. 20-17. S.A.E. enjoyed a practice game to close an afternoon's festivities when they shot baskets at the expense of

COACH BRICE ISSUES CALL FOR BASEBALL PRACTICE

Coach Brice has issued his first call for varsity baseball practice calling out the battery candidates immediately. Practice will be held in the Indoor Field starting this week. There are few letter men back for battery prospects. Solander, the only letter man left in the pitching staff is incapacitated at present with an injury and may not be available this season. Wells is the only letter man in catcher's booth and new men will have to be developed.

There are a promising number of pitchers available centering around Perkins, Bangs, Nutting, Bagley, and Black. Behind the bat Brice will have Wells, Palmer, Sezak, Ingalls, and Ward working for a steady job.

Desmond Stars in Frosh Hoop Victory Over E. M. C. S.

The frosh basketball quintet fought their hardest game of the season Saturday against E.M.C.S. Several times the visitors threatened to take over the cubs who only nosed out a victory from them 26-23. The game was exciting throughout and the victory was in the air during the contest. Fine court work on the part of the frosh gave them the necessary winning edge. Desmond at center for the yearlings ran wild scoring eleven points while Berritz of E.M.C.S. was high man for the visitors with a tally of ten.

This game adds another victory to the long chain of wins piled up by the Kenyonites this season and it was undoubtedly as classy a game as the cub courtmen will engage in for some time. No team in the state has been able to break the winning streak of the frosh up to date. Next Saturday they tackle strong out of state competition, bucking up against the strong hoop team of frosh from New Hampshire State. It remains to be seen whether the Granite State organization can down Kenyon's finely coached hoop-

MAINE STUDENTS GIVE THEIR BLOOD TO SCIENCE

Several students at the University of Maine have been giving measures of their blood to aid in the progress of science. During the past week Abe Rubin '29 who is doing graduate work in bacteriology has been taking blood samples from the arms of a number of student subjects. Most of the samples were taken from students taking courses in bacteriology but Sunday Mr. Rubin took it into his head to open a clinic in Hannibal Hamlin Hall, where with the assistance of Peter Hofer, another graduate student in bacteriology, he obtained large numbers of patients.

The blood samples are being tested for Underdend fever, and Mr. Rubin has already found several fine cases of the disease.

Mr. Rubin would be glad to make tests of students willing to give a drop of their blood. He will be found almost any time during the day in the bacteriology laboratory in Winslow Hall.

Maine Cross Country Co-captains Awarded Medals by Alumni

Francis "Bud" Lindsay and Harry Richardson, co-captains of the 1929 Maine cross-country team, were the recipients of two specially designed medals given them by the General Alumni Association in Chapel in recognition of the credit that they brought to the University of Maine by jointly winning the 1929 national cross-country championship.

Harry A. Sutton, '09, ex-president of the General Alumni Association and present member of the Alumni Council, paid tribute to these two men in a most inspiring speech in which he compared their accomplishment to something which he termed "romantic". To him, "romance", as exemplified by Lindsay and Richardson, meant perseverance in any field of endeavor—the kind of perseverance that makes one realize his highest ambition not only by merely wishing and hoping for it, but by continuously striving and working to make it a reality. True romance, as it appealed to him, is opposite to the commonplace. It is some-

Sophomore Tracksters Swamp Frosh In Dual Track Meet

The Sophomore tracksters swamped the Frosh Saturday in a dual track meet held at the Indoor field. With Fickett leading the Sophs as high scorer of the meet and McKinney, Alley, and Booth all taking first places for the Frosh the cubs were able to pile up 46 points but the strong Soph team reached a tally of 85. The track events were close decisions for the most part and the Freshmen are to be complimented upon their turnout and interest shown in the contest.

Booth turned in fine time in the mile, nosing one Gunning for a win as the clock ticked 4.32. Alley achieved a sensational heave in the shot put when he pushed out the twelve pound weight 46 ft. 9 1/2 inches. Dekin disclosed his usual form in the quarter mile when he completed the circuit in 52.4. Riley flashed the 100 yd. dash in 10.1, and Webb topped the bar at 11.2 1/2 in the pole vault with Hovey and Burnham climbing aloft to 11 ft. 1 inch.

Preliminary Boxing Tourney Will Be Staged February 27

Bill Daley's Group of Leatherpushers Rapidly
Rounding into Shape for Series of Elimination Tournaments

RED AVERY

The lull before the storm will develop into a chaos of thickly flying mitts when the University sluggers try to push each other over in the boxing prelims which are to be held on Feb. 27, in order that the large field may be pared down to see who deserves to be allowed to enter the semi-finals on the afternoons of the basketball tournament at the college, March 15 and 16. Then when the deserving victors have maulled each other around for a few gory rounds on the night of March 18, the same date as the championship basketball game, the survivors of the boxing campaign of 1930 will be accorded their respective crowns and the best of medical attention so that they may be fit to weather the conflicts next year. This year will bring many stars before the eyes of the boxing fans, for there is more class this year than in any year past.

The premier heavyweight of the University, Bill Daley, may or may not compete, and if he does, such enterprising young men as Smith and Rufo will do their best to knock him from the heavy throne, a pedestal which he has kept

Ray White Captures N.E.A.A.U. Sprint Title At B.A.A. Meet

Coach Jenkins states that with the exception of the showing made by the relay team, he was well satisfied with the performance of the men who represented Maine in the B.A.A. games last Saturday. The coach was emphatic in his statement concerning the need of a board running track at Maine for winter practice. The coach states that all the men who competed against Brown and Boston University in the mile relay quarter were at a disadvantage on the board running track. Captain Berenson was the only man of the four who had received much previous training of this sort, Tolman, Westcott and Wendell all having little or no experience running on a board track.

There is no doubt that a board track at Maine would be a welcome innovation for the winter relay season. Men who train all season on a dirt track and are then forced to run on boards are at a decided disadvantage in the caliber of competition that any team competing in a relay meet is forced to contend with.

Girls' Varsity Debate Team Meets Pembroke, Radcliffe, and Turner

Margaret Hammel, '32, Caroline Cousins, '31, and Florence Ward '31 have been selected to make the debating trip of the Women's Debate Council. Miss Hammel has been prominent in college dramatics and exhibits fine possibilities in the debating field. Miss Cousins is a varsity debater, having made the annual trip two years ago. Miss Ward has also debated for the University prior to this year. The schedule for the trip includes Radcliffe, March 19, Pembroke—the women's college of Brown University—March 20, and Hunter College of City of New York, March 21. The question of which Maine will debate both sides is "Resolved that Modern American College Education is a Failure". The women debaters of the University are now coming into the limelight. It was only a lack of funds which prevented them from debating Boston University, Keene University, New York University, and

Maine Outing Club Winter Sports Team To Compete at Bates

The M.O.C. winter sports team leaves the campus Friday noon for its last and most important contest of the season, the State Carnival at Bates on Saturday. All four Maine colleges will be represented in this meet. Bowdoin and Colby have been rather inactive in the field of winter sports this season, but each will have a team competing for the championship of Maine. This championship has been won by Bates for the last six years, but will this year be closely contested for by the Maine team.

The Outing Club will be represented by a strong seven-man team, made up of four skiers, Harry Davis, Wilfred Davis, Herbert Trask, and Leif Sorenson; and three snowshoers, Henry Plummer, Charles Cutting, and Clayton Hardison. This is almost identically the same team that represented Maine in the recent Bates-Maine dual meet. This was won by Bates, but the Bates team has since then been materially weakened by the loss of Wallace Lovell, who was injured in ski jumping.

The M.O.C. team is not lacking in the

A HOT PARTY

Dense was the smoke that oozed from the doors and windows of the stock judging pavilion Monday morning, but denser was the mystery that surrounded the little soiree held in the building Sunday night.

According to reports several couples in search of a warm place to park drifted into the pavilion on the evening of the Lord's Day. While enjoying the heat it seems that they indulged in a number of cigarettes, the butts of which they evidently forgot to extinguish.

Now the stock judging pavilion has on its floor a soft bed of dry sawdust, that crows and other animals may rest comfortably during their short sojourns within its walls, and it was some of this sawdust that caught fire Sunday night, evidently from the cigarette butts of some careless persons.

No damage was done to the building.

The University of Maine chapter, D Company second regiment of Scabbard and Blade, national military organization with chapters in 80 American colleges and universities and a total enrollment of about 13,500 men has been awarded a large silk company flag valued at about $70 for having sold the largest number of subscriptions of any chapter to the Scabbard and Blade Journal, official publication of the organization in a sales campaign which closed recently. The campaign was conducted by the National Scabbard and Blade society of which the Maine chapter is a branch.

A new tailored officer's uniform given to the individual getting the largest number of subscriptions was awarded to Captain John Sweat of Andover, an officer of the R.O.T.C. corps at Maine.

Sweatt obtained his large number of subscriptions by writing to a large number of University of Maine alumni asking them to subscribe to the publication. The regular officers in charge of the Maine Unit supported the drive one hundred percent.

An unofficial report states that Miss Pauline J. Stearns of Millinocket, honorary cadet colonel of the University of Maine Corps will present the awards to the Maine company at a presentation ceremony to be held in the near future.

Frances Babb Leads In Annual English Major Examinations

The annual English Major Examinations for seniors at the University of Maine were held on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, February 13 to 15. Of the twelve English major students competing, Miss Frances Harriet Babb, of Bangor, won the highest rating, closely followed by Charles Munro Gutchell, of Oakland.

Two of the examinations were written, one covering the general history of English literature and another dealing with matters of composition and grammar. The remaining test consisted of a half-hour oral questioning for each student, based upon his advanced courses in literature. The major examinations were introduced by the department in 1923 and were designed for a comprehensive review and to supplement the information regarding the student's ability and mastery of his subject furnished through his ordinary course examinations.

In accordance with the usual practice, the rating of the students in the upper half of those taking the examinations is announced by Dr. Milton Ellis, head of the Department, as follows: Frances Harriet Babb, Bangor; Charles Munro Gutchell, Oakland; Paulene Marguerite Dunn, Bangor; Mary Theresa Quinn,

RUSHING

No, the freshman co-eds haven't just returned from a trip abroad. The truth is that they have been right on the Maine campus ever since they registered last fall, except for a few weeks' vacation. The whole reason for all of the affection that is being showered upon them by their upperclass sisters is that these most honorable women want them to join some particular sorority, fraternity or whatever the correct name for the women's Greek letter societies happens to be.

Up until this week the first year co-eds have been getting the cold shoulder for the main and simple reason that one society seems to be of the opinion that some other organization might get their prize if the women were allowed to mix with the freshman co-eds and talk "frat" to them during the whole year. But for this week, at least, one would think that it was visiting day at the children's hospital the way the upperclass women are fondling their younger sisters. They are not satisfied to take them to the movies, and entertain them at a party or two, but they must needs grapple them in their arms lest they get away. The Maine campus may not be lovers' lane and as some writers say there may not be a great deal of affection existent between women, but the fact remains that there has been a great deal of high pressure "mush" being employed by many co-ed members of sororities to show the freshmen "how much they love them."

Now the whole object of this rushing business is, or should be, to place the freshman co-eds in the particular society where they will feel most at home, and where they will be able to come in contact with the women with whom they would like to associate while in college. The purpose of rushing should be to help the new women to get into the right society, rather than to take her off her feet, and give her a "real large time" for one week, which she may regret all the rest of her college years.

It is probably true that the Pan-Hellenic society has been and still is trying to work out a successful rushing system, but it would seem that college women who are supposedly above average intelligence could work out some system that would, at least, be an improvement on the present high pressure selling method.

No woman can decide what sorority she wishes to join by going to a moving picture with a woman who is doing all in her power to attract her to some particular society. Neither can she make this decision on the grounds that she had a fine time at the rushing party given by a certain group of women, and as for the man-handling, it would seem that if the freshman co-eds are as "dumb" as the upperclass women seem to think they are they might fall for that sort of thing. However, since these young women have been taking very good care of themselves so far this year with very little attention from the upperclass group it would seem that they should be able to play "follow the leader" without getting themselves into a trap. But why the trap should be used we cannot understand.

How much better it would be if the co-eds mixed with the freshmen women as they wished from the time the first year women enter the university until the beginning of rushing week, and in this way give the new students something more on which to judge a sorority or a woman by than a rushing party or theater trip.

What the freshman co-ed who is contemplating joining a society wants to know is what the organization does as a rule not what they can do to appear attractive for a special occasion.

RICHARDSON, LINDSAY AND MAINE

The University of Maine general alumni association expressed their appreciation for the great work done by Harry L. Richardson and Francis J. Lindsay, star cross country and distance men of the university track squad, when they were awarded gold medals at chapel Monday morning. These medals carry with them the good will of Maine alumni, and show that they are still interested in the activities of their alma mater, but only in a small way do they repay these two men for what they have done both for the University of Maine and for the state of Maine itself.

They have gone through their careers in track together, almost as one man. They have won many a race for Maine, and are deserving of anything that the college can give them. What they have done for the university and the state of Maine is something that money could not buy, but it is also something that should not go unrewarded, and the alumni association has seen fit to recognize their accomplishment.

INFORMATION FOR OUR READERS

For the past two weeks the Campus has been late in publication. This was caused by an attempt on the part of the board to get more late news on the front page of the paper. With the six page edition of two weeks ago the system worked very well as the news was received in sufficient time so that it might be placed according to its importance. Last week, however, when an attempt was made to print the front page last it was found that when press time came that the complete news for all four pages was not available. This made it necessary to put several stories on the inside of the paper that were really front page material.

It is the purpose of the Campus to give all activities on the campus complete coverage, and criticism is invited at all times.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor of the Campus,

Ever since the last issue of the Campus was brought to me there have been several serious questions in my mind:

(1) Did the Student Senate's plans for improvement of the Chapel include the erection of a fire escape not especially for the Chapel but rather for the stage and dressing room?

(2) If not, don't they think it advisable to include this item?

(3) If they did, what will the action of University trustees be on the subject?

It is self evident that a fire escape is needed, for if we take a look at the dressing room we find that there is not a more perfect fire trap in this part of the state.

Let us imagine ourselves in the dressing room for a few minutes. We are busy being "made-up" or perhaps dressing. There is no one on the stage below. A fire starts in the electrician's locker which is directly below the step. What are we to do??? Take a chance and dash through the flames or jump from the one small window? (The soft snow will not be below the window for the whole year.)

One or the other must be done for the timbers in the Chapel would be totally enveloped in flames by the time the fire department began to function.

This is a bit of thought which should not remain as such but rather be turned into immediate action, for the Maine Masque is to present its spring play before long, and we should all have to see headlines in the paper the next day which read: "Maine Students Burned to Death While Dressing for Play."

Sincerely yours,
A Fellow Student

To the Editor of the Campus,

Dear Sir,

What price freshmen? Are they so sweet, or pins so dear as to be purchased at the price of smutty politics, neglected studies and ill feelings? Yes, it's a grand rush, but is it worth the struggle, is the existing system of rushing claimed satisfactory in all respects?

Surprising discoveries reveal that some eligible freshman women do not feel the necessity of making further acquaintances with many sororities, they already have their fraternity mothers chosen, the number of jewels in a pin decided upon, and are even rushing their own classmates. Seemingly the dark ages of the last few months have hidden some underhanded rushing, have seen illegal play in the field, and points out unsportsmanlike sorority women not playing the game straight.

Unwary freshmen are probably not conscious when attention is rightfully being showered upon them. It is significant to bear in mind that unfairness by pre-season rushing is an unprincipled thing, possibly characteristic in not only on subject.

All is not fair in war where rushing is concerned; so, many hopes that freshman women will not build up happy illusions about fraternity, only to have them shattered when they are "in the game" themselves.

Non-frat

Editor, The Campus:

I received a letter, the other day, from a friend of mine who attends a medical school in Philadelphia, Penn. In it he inquired about "Beef Stew", the story that was barred at the last moment from the "Maine-Spring", a month ago. He had read a great deal about it in the newspapers and wondered about its contents which made the administration disfavor it in spite of it being the product of an English instructor.

It may interest "Campus" readers of my friend's cogent words, or thoughts, on the matter:

"It's a shame that some people can't stand a bit of literature in spite of being literary."

That may sting and even hurt some person's feelings.

Positions for time-keepers, clerks, accountants, engineers, etc. are offered to prospective graduates whose interests are centered in this type of work in foreign lands. The growing of sugar cane, bananas, cocoa and other tropical products are also listed under possible positions with this company. Students who are interested may learn more of this matter by correspondence with the Employment department of the United Fruit Company at 1 Federal Street, Boston, Mass.

Those interested should apply to Prof. J. H. Waring, Winslow Hall.

Mid-Winter Ball And Senior Skull Poverty Party Week-End Events

Plans for the mid-winter ball are rapidly approaching a climax. The orchestra, entertainment, and programs have been attended to, only the decorations remain. The color scheme will be green and white, perhaps symbolic of the pine trees against their wintry background.

This will be one of the largest and undoubtedly most enjoyable affairs of the year. All those who are at all able should go and they will find their efforts well rewarded.

Also the Campus wishes to make a correction. The tickets are $4.00 and not $4.50 as previously stated.

On Saturday evening the Senior Skull Poverty Party will be held in Alumni gymnasium. This affair promises to prove of interest to many who intend to make a full week-end for Washington's Birthday.

CIVIL CLUB MEETING TONIGHT

The speaker at the regular civil club meeting tonight will be Mr. James S. Brooks of the Maine State Highway Commission. Mr. Brooks graduated from here in the class of '14 and was an instructor in the civil department for the next few years. His intimate knowledge of the highway situation in Maine and his ability as a speaker should make his talk of great interest to all civils. The meeting will be in 14 Wingate at 7 o'clock and is open to all who wish to attend.

PHI SIGMA ELECTS SIX NEW MEMBERS

At a meeting of Phi Sigma, honorary biological fraternity Thursday, Dr. F. H. Steinmetz gave a talk on "Sulfur Dioxide in the Control of Carnation Rust."

UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA ELECTS OFFICERS

The orchestra is planning to build up a repertoire in view of many future campus programs.

A.T.O. INFORMAL

Another round of house parties is in full swing. Alpha Tau Omega is to hold an informal dance on Saturday evening, February 22. Major and Mrs. Oliver will chaperone. Those on the committee are Arthur Lufkin, Malcolm Long and John Lane. The Crescent Serenaders promise to furnish some lively music.

BRADSTREET APPOINTED VICE-PRESIDENT OF MASQUE

E. Raymond Bradstreet has been appointed vice-president of the Maine Masque to fill the vacancy caused by the graduation of Miss Pauline Hall. Mr. Bradstreet is taking an important part in The Swan, which will be produced next week, and has rendered some fine interpretations in Dulcy, Craig's Wife, and The Enemy.

Many Favorite College Actors Will Be Seen In The Swan Wednesday

SYLVIA GOULD

ASA V. WASGATT

The Maine Masque presents "The Swan" Wednesday evening in the chapel with a cast of favorite student actors that the campus has enjoyed seeing perform before.

"The Swan" is a romantic comedy that leaves the usual trend of dramatic thought, especially among the modern playwrights, and plunges into the fanciful and quaintly pleasing in such a way as to insure any audience a night of pleasure.

The plot of the drama centers around the love affair of a princess and a poor tutor. A prince seeks the princess for his queen and the princess' mother schemes for the successful marriage of her offspring. The solution is an interesting one from an entertaining and dramatic point of view.

SCABBARD AND BLADE INITIATES SIX MEN

BETA TO HOLD PARTY

Theta Eta chapter of Beta Theta Pi will entertain at an informal house party on the evening of March seventh. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Youngs will chaperone, and the Troubadours will furnish the music.

PHI MU DELTA PLANS DANCE

At Phi Mu Delta plans are being made for an informal dance to be held March seventh. The committee in charge is composed of Kenneth Lapworth, Frederick Mossler, and Robert Dearth. The party will be chaperoned by Mrs. Ada King and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hitchner.

Prof. Paul Bray is in New York City attending the annual Technical Association of Pulp & Paper Industries Convention.

Prof. H. W. Leavitt attended the American Concrete Institute held last week at New Orleans, Louisiana.

WESLEY FOUNDATION ORGANIZES PLAY GROUP

One of the recent activities of the Wesley Foundation Student Council of the Methodist Church has been the organization of a group of Wesley Players, students interested in dramatics, particularly drama dealing with religious and moral questions.

As their first production the Wesley Players will offer "The Confessional," a play in one act by Percival Wilde, next Sunday evening at 7:45 at the Methodist Church on Oak St. This well-known drama, tense in its atmosphere and vital in its message will be produced by an excellent cast: Niran Bates, Donald McCormick, Hazel Parkhurst, Edna Grange, Horace Croxford, and Margaret Davis.

Plans are already being made for the presentation in the near future of a one act play, which, though just off the press, has already been recognized as one of the best of the shorter dramas—"He Came Seeing" by Mary P. Hamlin.

Ermo Scott, University singer, will be the soloist next Sunday evening when "The Confessional" is presented.

Dean James S. Stevens addressed the Augusta Kiwanis Club Thursday, February 13, on The English Bible. He will also speak at the Men's Club of the Madison Congregational Church on the same subject on Friday, February 21.

Gamma Chapter of Kappa Phi Kappa had as its chief speaker on Tuesday evening, Professor Ronald B. Levinson. His topic was the Aesthetic Aspect of Education.

WOMEN'S A.A. MAKES RULING ON VARSITY PLAYERS ON INTERCLASS TEAMS

A new ruling, limiting the number of varsity girls to play in the interclass games, has been passed by the Women's Athletic Association Council. Hereafter, only one-third of the class team can be of straight varsity material. Formerly the varsity girls were very unevenly divided through the different classes. A team having five varsity players might compete with a team containing only one. Now, with the one-third rule, the team having one varsity girl has a better sporting chance.

The Council also voted to increase their winter-sport equipment, by the purchase of three pairs of snowshoes. The funds for this have been obtained by renting the present supply of skis, snowshoes, and toboggans.

The application of chemistry to forestry is strikingly demonstrated in the production of colored woods by the action of dyes on living trees. Most of the highly colored woods are of tropical origin, and the cost of transportation is generally so great that the woods are used only as veneers in the better grades of furniture. Recently attempts to produce evenly colored wood from rapidly growing conifers

Piquant Irene Bordoni, French accent and all, will be seen and heard here for the first time in a motion picture with the showing Friday and Saturday of "Paris" at the Strand Theatre.

"Paris" is the spicy story of a Boston family with Mayflower ancestry who land in the French capital to prevent the marriage of their son to an actress. It is an all-dialogue production with musical sequences depicting the French theatre. And some of the lavishly brilliant scenes are made in Technicolor.

Jack Buchanan, English comedian and Louise Closser Hale, who played in the footlight production of "Paris", take prominent supporting roles. Jason Roberts, Margaret Fielding and Zasu Pitts are also in the cast.

CO-OPERATE, wait and see "Sunny Side Up", which is coming to the "Strand" the first week in March.

Manager Goldsmith of the Strand Theatre is the recipient of a letter of commendation from Miss Ella J. Mason, Regent of the local chapter of the D.A.R. and Matron at the Kappa Sigma House. The letter is as follows:

THERE'S no let-up in the crescendo of Will Osborne's popularity as intimate vocalist and polished dance-maker. That's probably because there's no let-down in the excellence of his performances—take his newest Columbia record, for instance.

THIRTY PREPARATORY SCHOOL BOYS ATTEND CONFERENCE

Thirty preparatory school boys came to the Maine campus last week-end to discuss questions concerning school, college and life. The program of the conference consisted of banquets and assemblies. Such questions as: "Is Religion Necessary to the Life of a Student?" and "Personal Religion in a Modern Age" are examples of the sort of work the boys are interested in.

There were delegates from: Coburn Classical, Kents Hill, Ricker, Gould Academy and Bucksport Seminary. The undergraduate students who acted as leaders were: Valery S. Burati, Bates; Artine Actinon, Bowdoin; Robert Brown, Colby; Theodore Nelson, Colby. From our group Don Marshall, Dave Kingman and Allen Bradon acted as hosts.

George B. Workman had charge of the conference. "Bill" Flynt assisted him. Among the speakers of the conference were: Professor Howard LeLourd, Reverend Harold Metzner, A. Buel Trowbridge, Arthur Heald and Professor Crook.

At Vespers Sunday afternoon Professor Crook gave an interesting talk on the "Touchstone to Beauty." With this quiet and impressive hour the conference came to a close.

Removing mental barriers

In the Bell Telephone System men are constantly studying new ways to make the customer's dealings with the company easy and pleasant. The new "counterless" idea, now being introduced in the telephone company's business offices, is a case in point.

Here the customer is placed at once on a friendly personal basis with the company representative. He is invited to sit down comfortably and discuss his business. Certainly more satisfactory than standing at a counter.

This single instance represents a point of view which telephone men think is important. Telephone service calls for engineering skill and more—it needs human understanding.

Tau Epsilon Pi to pile up a tally on the score sheet 56-17.

The week began with a new eyeopener which startled all the court fans, when the Dormitory Council fought to a draw the strong quintet from Kappa Sigma and nosed them out by a margin of time figured in seconds and a winning margin of one foul shot, scored as the final whistle blew, resulting in a tally of 16-15. The one point margin wins seemed to be the feature of the week for Phi Kappa duplicated the tally of the night before when they took a win from Phi Kappa Sigma 17-16. Phi Gamma Delta enjoyed a fine workout for the team when they dallied with Lambda Chi Alpha in a tiresome forty minutes of play that gave the boys from the brick house another margin towards the League Championship by a 50-12 edge. Two evenly matched teams lined up for the final scrimmage Tuesday night, S.A.E. and Theta Chi and a battle royal ensued in which the proteges of Manager Gowans were forced to drop a victory to Captain Hebert's quintet 29-20, giving Theta Chi a long coveted edge for first place in the Northern League.

A closely contested battle fought between Beta Theta Pi and Kappa Sigma in which both teams displayed poor team work, resulted in a win for the Beta boys, 16-14. Alpha Gamma Rho took a drubbing from Phi Mu Delta the same evening, 36-11. Saturday afternoon Sigma Chi struggled against Phi Kappa Sigma

CO-EDS BEGIN INTERCLASS
 BASKETBALL SERIES

The co-eds began a series of interclass basketball games Saturday morning when the juniors played one of the freshman teams and the seniors one of the sophomore teams. At ten o'clock the contest opened with the first half of the junior-freshman game which was followed by the start of the other game. Both upperclasses displayed unusual speed, considering that very few on either of these older teams are out for varsity, and at the half were leading their respective rivals. After a vigorous effort the juniors came out ahead of the freshmen 24-23 but the sophomores maintained the stable footing they have made for themselves in athletics this year by defeating the ancients 24-17.

in an overtime period to down them 24-19, and Theta Chi finished the afternoon's excitement when they swamped the Delta Tau Delta quintet, 45-13. Monday night Phi Kappa and Lambda Chi Alpha engaged in a hot contest in which the latter were forced to drop a victory to their opponents 19-18. S.A.E. recovering from the defeat handed out to them by Theta Chi staged a strong comeback when they took Sigma Nu into court 47-17. Tuesday night Phi Gamma Delta ousted Alpha Gamma Rho away from the victory line 26-6. During the week Tau Epsilon Pi forfeited a game to Beta Theta Pi and one to Phi Eta Kappa. An exciting contest was held Tuesday night when Phi Eta upset the dope sheet of the court fans and galloped to a win over the strong Dormitory Council five, 26-10. Wednesday night Sigma Chi drubbed Beta Kappa and Beta Theta Pi overhauled Delta Tau Delta.

way of experience, since each man is a seasoned veteran. Herbert Trask and the Davis brothers have competed for years for the Mechanic Falls Ski Club, and later for Maine; Leif Sorenson, who has this year distinguished himself by his splendid jumping for the M.O.C. team, was formerly a valuable member of the Chisholm Ski Club in Rumford; Plummer and Cutting have creditably competed for Maine in many intercollegiate meets; and Clayton Hardison, Maine's high-point man in the Bates-Maine dual meet and at Rumford, won a countless number of points by his superior snowshoe running for Caribou High before entering Maine. In addition to this, two of the men, Wilfred Davis and Henry Plummer, are intercollegiate champions in their respective events. Davis will this year defend his title as State intercollegiate ski jump champion, and Plummer will attempt to prove that he is still the best college competitor in the 150-yard snowshoe dash in this state.

With this strong and seasoned team it seems possible that the Maine Outing Club may win the Bates Carnival. In the mind of each team member, there is no doubt as to that fact. Each man is confident of winning, and the team as a whole is out to break the "Bates jinx" that has so sadly followed Maine during the last athletic season.

 Sprint Title at B.A.A. Meet

Only with the instigation of a board running track may coaches at Maine hope to turn out a successful relay quarter. In the race with Boston University and Brown, Maine took third place due to the inexperience of the runners at board running with short corners.

Richardson conducted himself well in the two mile run, scoring second place against a strong field and Lindsay placed fourth in the mile run. The time of the mile was 4.22 while Lindsay turned in 4.25. Lindsay has turned in 4.20 or better on the indoor track. The time of the two mile run was 9.36 while Richardson equalled 9.44.

Raymo White turned in the sensation of the afternoon when he won the N.E.A.A.U. 40 yard dash in 4 and four-fifths seconds.

Maine will uphold the affirmative side. The University of Toronto has favored us by requesting a debate with us on the Education question. Beatrice Farwell, Fanny Fineberg, Muriel Holmes, Margaret Grover, Helen Peabody, and Ruth Nelson are preparing material for this debate. The added interest shown in women's debating this year, and the excellent work done by the manager, Alice Houghton Bagley, have been responsible for the enlargement of the debate field.

thing for which one has to prepare years and years in advance. It is that romance which every student, loyal to himself and his university carries with him through life—the kind that is typical of all true Maine men and women. Such romance is admirably exemplified in Lindsay and Richardson who have shown an unsurpassable spirit of sportsmanship in all their years of competition with the result that they have realized their ambitions—the national cross-country championship.

Raymond H. Fogler, '15, present chairman of the General Alumni Association, also delivered a stirring address on the ideal type of an alumnus. He said in part that affiliations with one's alma mater does not of necessity cease with graduation. On the contrary, the obligation of an alumnus to his college or university becomes even greater after graduation than it had ever been at any time previously. An alumnus should first feel obligated to himself. He owes it to himself to succeed in whatever he may undertake. He is obligated to his parents who have striven to equip him with the education so helpful to him in later life. He is obligated to those men and women who came before him for what they did, and to those who are to follow him to set an example for them to look up to. And above all there is that spiritual obligation to his university which cannot be figured out on any material basis—the love and respect for his alma mater.
