Scoring, unofficially, a total of 41 1/2 points, Coach Jenkins' Pale Blue tracksters were easy winners in the Class B division of the Second Annual Intercollegiate Track Meet sponsored by the University Club at the Boston Garden last Saturday. At the Harvard Cage during the afternoon, Don Favor tossed the 35 pound hammer 51 feet 3/4 in. to set a new record for the Class B division, outdistancing Galbraith's record by nearly a foot, and also setting a new record for the Harvard Cage.

Alton Alley heaved the 16-lb. shot put a distance of 45 feet 11 1/4 inches, beating Niblock of Bowdoin by six inches and setting another new record.

Maine's third record-breaking feat came in the evening when Freeman Webb pole vaulted 12 feet 9 1/4 inches to outjump even the Class A man who vaulted 12 feet 6 inches. Webb also garnered a third in the high jump.

In the dashes, Mel Means and Rod Mullaney won their trial heats and were second in their semi-finals. In the finals, Mullaney placed fourth and Means fifth. In addition to placing second to McLaughlin in the high hurdles, Maurice Goddard also captured third place in the fifty-yard dash.

Off his usual form, Ken Black was only able to place third in the half-mile. Horace Drummond and Don Corbett finished fourth and fifth respectively in the mile. Women Debaters Speak In Bates-Maine Contest

A no-decision debate upon the question "Resolved: that the materialistic culture of Western civilization cannot survive unless it absorbs the spiritual culture of the Orient," was held in Colvin Hall yesterday afternoon with Mrs. James Mullenburg acting as chairman. The affirmative was upheld by Ruth Walenta '34, and Eva Bisbee '34, of Maine, and the negative by Helen Hamlin '33, and Rebecca Carter '33, of Bates. About thirty invited guests were present. Following the debate, tea was served, at which Mrs. Ronald Levinson poured.

The Women's Debating team has scheduled two more debates on the question of the payment of war debts to be held with Colby and Pembroke this spring.

Romances Crop Up as Mid-Winter Ball Shows Many Pretty Gowns

Alumni Hall was decorated Tuesday night for one of its grandest functions, Mid-Winter Ball. To this colorful and gay affair, many of us would like to return or be crystal gazers and see the dance in a vision.

Turning the ball slowly, the whole hall swings into view, the fraternity booths, the patrons and patronesses, Nate Gold's orchestra in the southeast corner—"soberly arrayed in black."

Graceful couples swing round the hall. The belle of the evening, "Phil" Hamilton with Maynard Lombard. Phil is wearing a white crepe gown, simple and charming.

Gayly down the hall come "Peanut" Bunker and Arden Mercier, "Peanut" wearing a lovely and simple blue gown.

Effie Mayberry and George Cobb would be seen, Effie wearing the fashionable gray crepe; Arlene Higgins and "Gil" Robertshaw were there, and Helen Baker and Johnny Wilson. Merle Schubert and Jack Leddy, Merle wearing coral colored gown with a matching muff. Kay Dick and Bob Russ—blond haired Kay wearing becoming black.

Over near Sigma Nu stood tall fair haired Hester McNair with Dwight Leighton, and small, white gowned Beatrice Cummings with Lolly Graves.

Louise Milliken and Eddie Dane conversing with Ruth Vaughan and Slugger Jackson near Phi Mu Delta.

Dorothy Sawyer in a glorious long, heavy, and sparkling sequin gown, danced joyfully with Alfred MacMichael.

Louise Steeves and Stanley Prout sat in the A. T. O. booth with Arlene Merrill and Manly Kilgore, golden haired Kay Small and Johnny Stinchfield.

Near the orchestra a couple stood out. It was Betty Barrows in a flattering flame-colored gown, with Bob Pendleton.

FRED SANBORN WINS $500 CONTEST PRIZE

Has 2,434 Points in Contest
Sponsored by Portland Publishers

Fred M. Sanborn of Standish, a member of the senior class, won the first prize of $500 in the Game of Names Contest sponsored by the Portland Maine Publishing Company, publishers of the Portland Sunday Telegram, Portland Evening Express, and Portland Press Herald. Sanborn finished with 2,434 points, which was almost a perfect score.

A total of 7,410 contestants took part in the contest and each contestant was required to solve sets of thirty cartoons. A second set was used to work off ties, with a word building contest completing the race for the prizes. There were two groups: those who purchased classified advertising in connection with the contest, thereby making them eligible for the higher prizes, and those who merely solved the cartoons.

Sanborn is studying a civil engineering course at the University and is a member of the Civil Club and Beta Kappa Fraternity, of which he is president.

Maine Review Is To Be Published

The Maine Review, literary magazine that was born at the University last year, will be out again within the next two weeks, according to an announcement made yesterday by Donald M. Stewart '35, editor of the magazine.

The outstanding articles in this issue of the publication will be one by Dean James Mullenburg of the College of Arts and Sciences entitled "Remodeling Minerva," in which he depicts modern trends in education. Dr. William Gilliland of the Chemistry department writes an article "Technocracy; An Adventure in Advertising," whose title is self explanatory.

Thomas A. Knowlton contributes "Nothing Serious," a student article on religion. In addition there will be other feature articles, as well as a book review section and a theatre criticism column by Charles Munro Getchell, graduate student in the department of English.

CUPS WILL BE GIVEN TO VODVIL WINNERS

Affair Takes Place Tonight
In Alumni Hall. Stag
Dance Follows

This is Vodvil Night, annually sponsored by the M.C.A. for the pleasure of the entertainment-loving students of Maine. The time is seven o'clock, and the place, the university chapel.

Vodvil Night was inaugurated four years ago. Realizing that all students occasionally wish to display their latent histrionic abilities, the M.C.A. devised this means of satisfying their desire. The event has proven very popular in former years, and competition has been keen, with sororities and fraternities presenting everything from tragedy to buck and wing dancing in the hope of adding the silver loving-cups, awarded to the winning sorority and fraternity, to their private collections.

This previous success augurs well for Stunt Night this year. With approximately ten entries, the audience is assured of some fast and furious entertainment. The stunts, however, do not conclude the evening, for there will be two and a half hours of dancing in the Gym, after the curtain has come down upon the last stunt. Smith Ames and his orchestra furnish the music, and there is no extra charge for the dance.

The committee in charge of Vodvil Night this year is: Clifford Ladd, Beta Theta Pi, chairman; Charles Bunker, Lambda Chi; and Kenneth Foster, S.A.E.

Miss Helen J. McGrath, a prominent member of the sophomore class at the University of Maine, was chosen to act as secretary to Representative-elect John Utterback at a Democratic meeting in Bangor last Friday night.

Last year at the age of eighteen, Miss McGrath was sworn in as a justice of the peace, and at the time it was believed that she was the youngest of her sex to ever hold such a position in the State of Maine. Her home is in Bangor.

Who's Who Among Our Alumni

One sunny day in the spring of 1896, the varsity baseball men stood in the field. A fellow named Brann stood in the position of center fielder. Bowdoin was at the bat. The pitcher loomed up and the game was on! "Lou" Brann, as his college pals dubbed him, played that game consistently and well, not startlingly brilliant but he proved himself a worthy man, and our new State Governor, Louis J. Brann, is doing just that! He has always been, according to his friend, Frank Morey, a good student, pleasing in his manners. "We found him reliable and a hard worker."

On campus he was a "social recluse," avoiding all functions. He was a Beta Theta Pi, and to his fraternity brothers even he remained a mystery. Quiet, yet observing, seemingly non-aggressive, yet he has "gotten there just the same." Today he does not dance; does not play contract, and, quoting the Lewiston Evening Journal (a Republican newspaper), "he is good-looking, gentle-mannered, soft voiced, is a home man, has countless friends among the members of the opposing party in politics, and will grace the gubernatorial chair."

Out of college, he entered a law office

3 ACCIDENTS ON ICY ROADS INJURE FIVE U. OF M. STUDENTS

Lunt, Cooney, Costa Hurt
When Car Crashes into Large Oil Truck

Icy roads caused the injury of five students in two automobile accidents Sunday and Monday, while another mishap occurred Monday afternoon when two cars collided on campus, with no one hurt.

Frederick Lunt, Daniel Cooney, and Charles Costa, all freshmen, were injured Monday afternoon when the automobile in which they were driving crashed into a large truck owned by the Gulf Refining Co. at Higginsville, on a sharp curve. Lunt suffered concussion of the brain, and contusions of the chest. Cooney received contusions of the left arm, and lacerations of the scalp and right leg. The students were enroute to Charleston, Lunt driving. At Higginsville, on a sharp banked curve, the two machines skidded together. Lunt's car was almost completely demolished.

Philip Webber '36, and Edward Littlefield '35, narrowly escaped serious injury

ETA NU PI CHANGES TO DELTA CHI ALPHA

One of Local Fraternities
Changes Name and Begins
To Incorporate

Eta Nu Pi Fraternity, one of the two local fraternities on the campus, has changed its name to Delta Chi Alpha, and has already taken the preliminary steps toward organizing a corporation under which the business of the fraternity will be carried on.

Eta Nu Pi was founded here in the winter of 1926, by a group of seniors and like most fraternities on the campus its early home was in one of the University dormitories.

In the fall of 1930 the fraternity moved into its present chapter house on Park Street, and has lived there for the past three years. At present it has eleven active members.

Girls' Dormitories Elect New Heads

Officers have recently been elected in each of the girls' dormitories. In Balentine they are as follows: president, Jane Berry; vice-president, Margaret Denton; secretary, Dorothy Moynihan; treasurer, Ruth Todd.

The officers for Colvin Hall are: president, Bernice Wilson; vice-president, Tillie Bell; secretary, Etta Grange; treasurer, Ernestine Moore. The Maples girls elected as president Elizabeth Shiro, and as secretary and treasurer, Geneva Epstein.

The president of Mount Vernon is Marie Archer; vice-president, Virginia Nelson; secretary, Mildred Brooks, and treasurer, Sue Lord.

Gov. LOUIS J. BRANN '98

His contributions to the field of electrical engineering have earned for him the Edison Medal by the A.I.E.E. and the Lamme Medal in 1930 by the S.P.E.E. In 1921 he was elected to the presidency of the American Engineering Council and the following year he was reelected. A School of Medicine

A bill is before the State Legislature for the establishment of a medical school for the state of Maine. Though the bill does not state specifically that the school is to be a part of the University of Maine, it is logical to suppose that, should such a school be instituted, it would be a part of the University.

Certainly a good school of medicine would be an asset to the University, but let us consider the situation to see what the possibilities of such an establishment are.

To begin with, Maine is trying in every way to economize, and the University has already been cut $251,000 in its income from the state. A medical school with the necessary equipment to carry it on, would cost more than the entire University now costs. There would be no logic in instituting such a school unless it could measure up to the standards of the best medical schools of the country, for in no field does the statement that a "little bit of knowledge is more dangerous than none at all" apply more than it does in the field of medicine. A doctor who thinks he knows what he actually does not know and who proceeds to put his ideas into practice is certainly a dangerous person.

Without proper equipment and a well trained faculty a medical school would have difficulty in turning out good doctors. The founding of a good school of medicine here at the present time is out of the question because of the financial situation, so the passage of the proposed bill would be unwise.

Music Night

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast." On March 3, next Friday night, Delta Pi Kappa will stage its annual music night in Alumni Hall. This Music Night is the only time during the college year that students have an opportunity to see and hear all the musical organizations on the campus.

An appreciation of music, other than popular music, is a necessary part of one's education, and Delta Pi Kappa, Maine's honorary musical fraternity, is serving a worthy purpose in providing this opportunity for us to hear real music played by fellow students.

Will thirty-six states ratify the Twenty-First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which received the favorable vote of the Senate last week and of the House Monday?

Construction of Roads Advocated

"Road construction is a sound method of relieving unemployment," stated Lucius D. Barrows, '07, chief engineer of the Maine Highway Department, at a recent meeting in Atlantic City, N. J., of the North Atlantic States Highway Association of which he is president.

"Road construction as an agency of employment has furnished work directly to thousands of men and indirectly to many more engaged in the production of materials and machinery," he said.

"Highway construction does not result in a surplus product which cannot be sold. If we are willing to accept the demonstrated proposition that improved highways result in large savings to road users, then the improved highway is one investment, at least, that pays a dividend."

Barrows graduated from Maine with a bachelor's degree in Civil Engineering. He was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. He has been associated with the State Highway department since 1910, and in 1929 was made chief engineer of the Maine State Highway Department.

For six Wednesday afternoons during Lent special Lenten services of worship will be conducted in the M. C. A. Building. The services, from 4:15 to 5 o'clock, will consist of special music and a speaker. All persons interested are urged to attend. The first of these services will take place next Wednesday afternoon.

SPANISH CLUB BECOMES HONORARY IN MEMBERSHIP

The Spanish Club, formerly consisting of all students in the Spanish department, has been reorganized as an honorary society, with one semester of high grade work as a requirement for membership. It is hoped that later the club may be affiliated with the national honorary Spanish society.

The charter members of the new organization are: Marcia Adelman, R. F. Pascarelli, Roger Keloch, Eloise Lull, Arthur Brown, Charles Bunker, Margaret Davis, Orissa Frost, Paul Snow, and the faculty adviser, Abbie Sargent. In January the society initiated Charles Straffin, Eleanor Cross, Louise Clement, and Max Rapaport. Last night at the second initiation, the following students became members: Richard Rice, Emily Lyon, Marian Hughes, Pauline Siegal, Pauline Cohen, Frederick Jones, Ruth Hamor, Richard Morrison, Emily Pickering, Rita Stone, Dorothy Sawyer, and Robert Hinckley.

PROFESSOR MAGEE IS LEGION TOASTMASTER

Prof. John H. Magee was the toastmaster at the banquet held at Bangor Thursday evening when approximately three hundred veterans, representing all parts of Eastern and Northern Maine gathered to hear Louis A. Johnson of Clarksburg, West Virginia, the National Commander of the American Legion. Prof. Magee received his commission in the Navy in a war time class at the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, and served at sea in the cruiser and transport force of the Atlantic Fleet until seriously injured and placed on the retired list with the rank of Lieutenant, U.S.N., Ret'd.

Pictures of the Carnera-Schaaf bout in which Schaaf was knocked out never to recover, and which has caused quite a furor in fight circles will be shown in addition to the regular program at the Strand Theatre in Orono on Thursday and Friday of next week.

Alfred Gordon was elected president of the freshman M.C.A. Cabinet Monday night at M.C.A. Building, with Burton Mullen as vice-president, and Robert McKay, Clark Gowen, David White, and Frank Chadwick as councilors.

FORMER TRUSTEE DEAD AT HOME IN HOULTON

Ora Gilpatrick, 73, trustee of the University of Maine from 1919 to 1925, died last Thursday at his home in Houlton after a long sickness.

He was born in Danforth in 1859, and was educated in the common schools there. Gilpatrick was a widely known Aroostook County business man, and up to a short time ago was president of the Houlton Trust Company. In addition to his activities as head of the bank, he was founder of the Summit Lumber Company and Summit Farm at Davidson. The lumber firm controlled extensive woodland holdings in Aroostook, while the farm was widely known for its pure blood registered stock. Gilpatrick was also a director of the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad for many years.

MARILLA H. BOARDMAN

Mrs. Marilla H. Boardman, mother of President H. S. Boardman, died at the president's home on the campus yesterday morning after a long decline.

Funeral services will be held at the president's house at two o'clock Saturday afternoon.

I BEEN THINKIN

By Senator Sully

Well, it's all over, ball and holiday. Back to the old grind again. Down, noses, down.

Nietzsche says that "marriage is a long talk." (It's fun to be fooled.... It's more fun to know.)

A sophomore's definition of chivalry in a final exam defined it as the spirit of the fourteenth century in which knights fought for the honor of all women except their wives. Who says the day of chivalry is past?

Extremes are extremes, and means are means, but this is about the limit. First a former world champion heavy-weight boxer, and now a radio crooner are appointed to the state military staff. At least, Maine is safe for democracy.

"Now, Johnny," said teacher, "just how did Anthony entertain Cleopatra that night?"
"Easy, teacher. He served wine and nectar."

Now that carpenter Roosevelt has finished cabinet-making, he can turn to office-chiseling and bureau-construction.

Today's Poem:

I think that I shall never see,
A billboard lovely as a tree.

PITCHERS AND CATCHERS PRACTICING IN ARMORY

Twenty-two candidates for battery positions on the 1933 Black Bear baseball team are working out daily in the Armory cage under the watchful eye of Coach Fred Brice. The Pale Blue mentor is giving every candidate plenty of opportunity to come through and each man who reported is getting individual attention and coaching. The Maine team this season will be forced to place their destinies on the results of what Coach Brice can find in the way of pitchers during this inside practice.

"Mun" Romansky is practically assured of getting assignments in the major games as he is the only veteran pitcher to return this year. Stan Henderson and John Hoyt, both of whom showed up well on last year's freshman team, are again on hand and the experience they gained in the 1932 season may be sufficient to warrant giving them a few games to handle.

Out of the twenty-two candidates reporting, seventeen are pitchers, and five are catchers. The flingers are Hamilton, Mann, Leland, Leveroni, Solomon, Hildreth, Wiers, Hall, Higgins, Romansky, Aldrich, Farwell, Hoyt, Prout, Searles, Gersoni, and Henderson. The catchers are Stratton, Walton, Blanchard, Ring, and MacBride.

Brann took into his political life his finer qualities of open honesty, clear headedness, keen political ingenuity. He has the personality that can lead the people, and the character of as clean-cut a man as we could ask as our chief state executive head.

Sunday afternoon when the touring car in which they were returning to the University from spending the week-end in Belfast left the road near Searsport, turned over, and landed in a ditch. Webster escaped with abrasions of the left leg, while Littlefield suffered from shock and body bruises. Apparently something went wrong with the steering gear of their car. They were treated at the Waldo County Hospital in Belfast.

A sedan driven by Capt. Loren P. Stewart of University military department, collided with a roadster driven by Norman J. Rawding, a student, at an icy corner on the campus near Fernald Hall Monday afternoon. No one was hurt, but Rawding's car was damaged.

WASHINGTON PROGRAM IS STAGED IN CHAPEL MON.

Music and dances that George Washington knew were the features of the assembly Monday morning. A stringed quartet composed of Shirley Young, Bessie Gray, and Esther Carr, violins, and Elizabeth Kimball, cello, with Ruth Bowen accompanying, played Washington's March, Eleventh of September, Emancipated Gaze, and President's March. Alice Sisco and Katherine Small gave appropriate readings. Margaret Davis, Lora Brown, Marjorie Moulton, and Merritt Dunn, dressed in Colonial costume, danced a minuet.

The Freshettes at Mount Vernon held their second Vic party Saturday evening. About twenty couples attended and spent the evening informally playing games and dancing. The committee in charge was Georgia Fuller and Evelyn Tracy.

The MAINE SNOOPUS

NEW FADS and new ideas are constantly cropping up, but the best one we have seen recently is this idea of taking a girl on a bum, or to be more explicit bumming one's way to the cinema with a young lady. This depression is bringing out some surprising traits.... Just a few ideas picked up at the Grand and Glorious Mid-Winter Shin Dig Tuesday night: Why didn't Cliff Ladd wait on at the Beta booth as he had been scheduled to?... What fun there would have been if the decorations had suddenly fallen down on the heads of the dancers below!... Our hats are off to the Queen, and to the committee, though nobody has been able to find out who was on it, that picked her.... Did Maine's army laugh when Private Staples turned out for drill the other day wearing spats, much to the disgust of Captain Wear? The answer is "Yes".... Larry Gagnon of Delta Tau Delta is taking quite a ride since he fell for the old gag of being told to look for something "behind the axle." Poor Larry hasn't yet been able to find the axle.... Hazel (Charlie) Feero the other day said that her hero must be willing to live and die for her. Step right up, you strong brave young gents, brings your seconds, and let's see who's most willing to live and die for the young lady.... Collected from the track team's Boston trip: Mullaney, Foster, and Alley seemed quite attracted by several beauties seen on the train.... Will some one ask Harry Saunders to explain who Emily is, and whose picture it is that he had when he returned from the trip?... Horace Drummond is a good cross country man, but you can't expect anyone to run from Providence to Boston, especially after a track meet. Yes, Waterville's contribution to the Maine track team went all the way to Roger Williams' city to visit a sweet young thing, and then missed his train back to Boston.... And Stretch Williamson is said to have spent some of his time with the young lady of his choice during the trip.... The A. O. P.'s, or Alpha O's as they should be called, seem to have come out on the big end of the score as far as the sorority pledging went Tuesday.... Evans Page of Delta Tau has answered one of these "Are You Lonesome Ads" and has been offered pictures and addresses of beautiful young ladies all over the land who desire to marry a strong handsome man. Imagine it. A Maine man, with all the co-educational beauty we have here, doing such a thing. But console yourself, girls, remember a poet is appreciated everywhere except in his own home town.... And who wouldn't have paid to see and hear Manley Kilgore asleep on the table in the history seminar room of the Libe last Thursday?... And does Doris Smart, home ec at North Hall, fall for her men in a big way? The answer again is "Yes," for the other night in answering a door call she fell down a flight of stairs to see who was there.... Mavilla Randall gets the new speed record for Balentine. Last week upon being awakened at 7:50 she was nearly fast asleep, but nevertheless, at 7:58 she was in Stevens Hall all ready for her first class, and was wide awake. Campbell travelled 272 miles an hour Wednesday, but we'll bet a nickel he couldn't beat Mavilla's record.... We nominate for this week's roll of honor FRED BENDTSEN, who Tuesday night in Bangor after seeing a man hit by a truck, saw to it that the man was taken to the hospital, and then reported to police headquarters to help the police in their angle of the accident.... And we nominate for oblivion each and every Maine student who while driving an empty car passes another Maine student without so much as looking at him, much less offering him a ride to where the man with the car is going.

The American Federation of Arts, a national organization for the cultivation of the arts, presented an exhibition in Merrill Hall Thursday and Friday. The exhibition consisted of block prints, textiles, reproductions of masterpieces, paintings, and two illuminated manuscripts. It was sponsored by the All Maine Women.

WOODBURY LEADS WAY AS FROSH TRIM BAPT

Coming from behind in the last period with a barrage of baskets by Harold Woodbury, the Freshman A basketball team continued on its winning road Saturday night by taking into camp a fighting Purple and White quintet from John Baptist by a 24-23 score at the Armory before a capacity crowd.

The Maine team started the fourth quarter on the short end of a 23-13 score, but once its sharp-shooting forward got going nothing could stop the frosh attack, and in the final minutes the score stood 23-23. With 45 seconds to go, Arby Doherty, former John Baptist star, sank a foul shot to give the Pale Blue yearlings their tenth straight victory.

The freshman win was the second in two nights, as Friday evening they easily downed Higgins by a score of 40-17. In a preliminary game Saturday night, the Frosh B hoopsters defeated Bar Harbor 33-29.

A drinking fountain has been installed on the first floor of the M. C. A. building.

SEARCH BEING CONDUCTED FOR MISSING U. P. SOPH

Henry Huntington Gibbs, a 20-year old sophomore at the Wharton School of Finance of the University of Pennsylvania, disappeared from that institution on January 6 of this year after sending letters to his father, Henry C. THE HUMAN CRICKET

BEATS OLYMPIC RECORD!

ILLUSION:

Josie, the lovely trapeze artist, stands upon a small platform. At the will of the magician she leaps twenty feet into the air to reach her trapeze. She uses no ropes, no ladder! A phenomenal leap for a woman... or a man!

EXPLANATION:

Josie didn't jump... she was sprung! The twenty-foot leap is not dependent on Josie's ability, but on a powerful spring mechanism hidden beneath the stage which propels the artist upward through the air. The force is so violent that the lady wears a light steel jacket which protects her from injury as she starts her astonishing leap.

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED

...IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW

Magic has its place...but not in cigarette advertising.

Consider the illusion that there is a mysterious way to give cigarettes a superior "flavor."

EXPLANATION: Cigarette flavor can be controlled by adding artificial flavorings. By blending. And by the quality of tobaccos used.

Cheap, raw tobaccos can be "built up" or "fortified" by the lavish use of artificial flavorings.

Such magic, however, seldom holds the audience. Your taste finally tells you the truth.

The cigarette flavor that never stales, never varies, never loses its fresh appeal, comes from mild, ripe, fragrant, more expensive tobaccos...blended to bring out the full, round flavor of each type of leaf. It's the quality of the tobacco that counts!

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Because Camel actually pays millions more every year for choice tobaccos, you find in Camels an appealing mildness, a better flavor.

And Camels taste cooler because the welded Humidor Pack of three-ply, MOISTURE-PROOF cellophane keeps them fresh.

FRESHMEN TAKE 3 OF 4 CLASHES IN AROOSTOOK

Lose for First Time to Houlton High By 23-19

Making it three out of four, Maine's freshman basketball team defeated Fort Fairfield at Fort Fairfield last night with a score of 16-11. Woodbury and Johnstone again starred for the frosh.

Smarting under the sting of a 23-19 licking administered by a mediocre Houlton High quintet that shattered their hopes for an undefeated season, Monday night, the freshman hoopers came back strong Tuesday and Wednesday nights to defeat Presque Isle, 26-22, and Caribou, 28-11.

Although hampered in their passing attack by the small playing surface and the low ceiling of the Houlton court, the frosh team led the way for three periods. In the final quarter, however, Al Williams, Black and White captain, after playing a remarkable defensive game in holding Harold Woodbury to one basket for the entire evening, sank three shots to give his team its victory.

On Tuesday night the team journeyed to Presque Isle where the Pale Blue leader succeeded in redeeming himself when, with the score tied 22-22 and but thirty seconds left to play, he scored two baskets before the final gun, to make the score 26-22.

Caribou High was host to the Kenyon men on the following night. Woodbury again starred for the frosh, piling up twelve points as his team chalked up its twelfth win, 28-11, in thirteen starts. Ken Johnstone was back in the Maine line-up after being out a week with sickness, and added four points to the freshman score.

SPORTS SPIELS

By BOB BERG

Although there was not supposed to be any official scoring kept of the University Club Meet in Boston Saturday, unofficial tallying released showed one of the wierdest manipulations of figures to appear in track circles in years. In arranging the unofficial point total, the Boston Sunday Herald and the Associated Press gave a total of 28 points for Bowdoin, 27 for Maine and so on down the list, which signified that Bowdoin was the Class B winner of the games.

Without any sort of reason or thought, the authors of the scheme which gave Bowdoin its 28 points called for five places in the shot put 35 pound hammer throw and broad jump and just three places in the high jump, pole vault and all the running events. Digest that type of mathematics and queer figuring and you will agree that it is simply bewildering. As Jack Moran, sports editor of the Bangor Daily News, stated in his column, "What was in the back of the head of the statistician who released that estimate of who, in his opinion, was the high scoring team of the meet, is his own private conscious this morning, but he did succeed in getting into print information that, no matter how you figure it, was misleading."

In the same meet last year, the scoring was made on a 5-4-3-2-1 point basis for the first five places and when places are tallied according to this method of scoring which was the official one a year ago, then Maine obtained rightfully 41½ points to Bowdoin's 33½ points, in this year's games. The usual scoring accepted in dual meets is 5-3-1 and if the games last Saturday were scored in this manner then Maine and Bowdoin would have been deadlocked with 23 points each. So while any of these two methods are applicable in the case of the University games, it is

Frosh Trackmen Beat Bridgton Acad. 59-31

The Armory was the scene of decisive victory last Saturday afternoon when the freshman track team outscored Bridgton Academy 59 to 31. The high scorer for Maine was Myron Collette who took the certainly unjust and without precedent to employ portions of two methods.

Just to show an example of the unfairness of the method of scoring which was kept is illustrated in the 45 yards high hurdles and the broad jump. Ray McLaughlin of Bowdoin won the event with Maurice Goddard of Maine second who received three points for his work. But in the broad jump Briggs and Adams, both of Bowdoin, were first and second. Yet in figuring their 28 point total for Bowdoin the pair were credited with nine points, five of which went for first place and four for second. And Maine's timber topper, Goddard, was credited with but three points for his second place! Still further, in the shot put, Maine won a first while Bowdoin garnered a second and third. The official scoring here brought five points for Maine for its first place while Bowdoin received seven points (four for second, three for third). Is that fair?

45 yd. high hurdles and first place in the shot put. The freshmen proved themselves superior in the 600 yd. run when O'Connor defeated Pettingill of Bridgton with the time of 1 minute 18½ seconds, the fastest time recorded in any freshman dual meet this year. Maine also led the pace in the mile run with Beal, Ives, and Prince coming in together a quarter of a lap ahead of Lachapelle, Bridgton's only entry.

The summary:

70-yard dash: Won by Lewis, Bridgton; second, Huff, Maine; third, Keene, Bridgton. Time: 7½ seconds.

300-yard run: Won by Keene, Bridgton; second, Callahan, Bridgton; third, Huff, Maine. Time: 33 seconds.

600-yard run: Won by O'Connor, Maine; second, Pettingill, Bridgton; third, McLaughlin, Bridgton. Time: 1 minute 18½ seconds.

1,000-yard run: Won by Stevens, Bridgton; second, Peaslee, Maine; third, Keller, Maine. Time: 2 minutes, 33½ seconds.

the cigarette that's Milder
the cigarette that Tastes Better

I'd never thought much about what's inside a Chesterfield cigarette. But I have just been reading something that made me think about it.

Just think of this, some of the tobacco in Chesterfield—the Turkish—comes from 4000 miles away! And before it is shipped every single leaf is packed by hand. All because Turkish tobacco is so small and delicate.

Of course I don't know much about making cigarettes, but I do know this—that Chesterfields are milder and have a very pleasing aroma and taste. They satisfy—and that's what counts with me!
