

CHURCHILL APPOINTED LIEUTENANT COLONEL OF R.O.T.C. BATTALION

Maine Unit Receives Grade of "Excellent" in Inspection Held Last Spring. Linwood C. Elliott Will Act As Adjutant with Rank of Captain

Newton C. Churchill, Kappa Sigma, has been appointed Lieutenant Colonel of the local R.O.T.C. battalion for the coming year according to an announcement issued by Major A. J. McFarland, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, on Monday of this week. Linwood C. Elliott will act as Battalion Adjutant and Ranking Captain.

Company Commanders with the rank of Captain will be: Ronald E. Young, Company A; Wheeler G. Merriam, Company B; Amel F. Kisonak, Company C; and Francis J. McCabe, Company D. First Lieutenants in these companies will be: Fernald S. Bagley, Robert L. Bittner, Maynard A. Hincks, and James M. Sims, respectively.

Second lieutenants will be: Company A: A. C. Hamilton, Alton W. Alley, and Warren T. Hendrickson; Company B: P. Finn, Raymond A. Jackson, Robert J. Ingraham, and H. Hall; Company C: Donald C. Blake, Bryce H. Jose, Hollis L. Leland, Richard P. Morrison, Kenneth J. Dickerson, John T. Bankus, and Freeman L. Hussey; Company D: John P. Farnsworth, John P. Doyle, Charles E. Bunker, Wallace W. Lord, Hobart H. Chase, John J. McCarty, Herbert G. Follett, G. McLeod, and Norman H. Tule.

Linwood C. Bowen was appointed Student Band Leader with the rank of First Lieutenant.

When inspected by officers of the First Corps Area last spring, the battalion of student cadets won a rating of "Excellent." This rating, the highest awarded by the government, has never before been attained at the University of Maine.

Indicative of this honor, a blue star will be worn on the right sleeve of all the men as long as subsequent inspections are passed with the same credit. When interviewed, Major McFarland expressed the opinion that the battalion will perform as well in 1932 as it did in 1931.

Charlie O'Connor Appointed Dean Corbett's Assistant

Charles E. O'Connor of Millinocket was recently appointed by President Boardman as Assistant to the Dean of Men, L. S. Corbett. This is the first time that such a position has been filled at Maine.

O'Connor formerly belonged to the class of '31, but was forced by illness to leave the University for a time, and is now a member of this year's senior class, completing his requirements for his degree besides acting as assistant to Dean Corbett. He was appointed early in September and began with his new duties when college started.

O'Connor has for four years been a member of the track and debating teams. He holds the indoor records for both the high and broad jumps and is holder of the State intercollegiate record in the broad jump.

He was president of the M.C.A. for two years, President of the Athletic Association, a member of the Senior Skulls, and last year the head proctor in the men's dormitories. He belongs to the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and the Phi Beta Kappa honorary society.

HEALTH DEPT. NOTICE

The Health Department has issued the following notice:

No student shall be given a cut from classes because of illness, unless he or she notifies the health service department at the time of that illness.

This does not mean that the student must notify the department himself, but in case of severe illness, may have someone else inform them.

This notice is particularly fitting at this time, when so many students are having colds, and slight illnesses.

According to the health department, however, the colds are the only sicknesses prevalent on campus.

Dedication of Merrill Hall Attended by 150

Building Presented by Trustees And Accepted for University By President

With impressive ceremonies presided over by Harmon G. Allen, president of the Board of Trustees, the formal dedication of Merrill Hall took place last Saturday morning. About a hundred and fifty persons were present when Frank P. Washburn, representing the trustees, presented the building to the University. President Harold S. Boardman accepted it on behalf of the University.

Florence L. Hall, Field Agent, brought greetings from the Washington office of Cooperative Extension Work; Sybil L. Smith, Administrative Assistant, brought greetings from the Office of Experiment Stations, followed by Esther McGinnis, Field Worker in Child Development, who represented the American Home Economics Association.

Cora M. Winchell of Teachers College, Columbia University, then gave an address on "Extended Horizons in Home Economics."

Arthur L. Deering, Director of Extension Work, paid a very fitting tribute to Dean Leon S. Merrill and as the portrait of Dean Merrill, a gift of the alumni and faculty, was unveiled, the band played softly and the audience rose in homage to one of Maine's native sons who has done much for his state and its University.

At noon a luncheon was served by the Institutional Management Class. About sixty-five of those invited were able to attend.

Another part of the day's dedication was the ceremony at the presentation of the ornamental fountain facing the front entrance. Miss Ruth Callahan, student president of the Home Economics Club, and Mrs. Jennie Hutchinson, representing the alumni, voiced the sentiments of their respective groups stating that they had, themselves, received so much of enjoyment and value in their work that they wished to do something to improve the facilities of the new building.

In the afternoon a large number of interested friends, alumni, and students visited the building.

FIRST MASQUE PLAY TO BE "HOLIDAY"

"Holiday," a three act comedy by Philip Barry, will be presented by the Maine Masque in Alumni Hall on the evening of Thursday, November 12, according to an announcement made by the Masque yesterday afternoon. The play was produced on Broadway in 1929 and had a successful run there. It was later produced on the screen starring Ann Harding.

Tryouts for the play will be held tonight at 7 o'clock in 275 Arts and Sciences. Rehearsals will start next week.

Phi Kappa Sigma Wins Cup For Scholarship Excellence Given by National Chapter

Alpha Delta chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma has been awarded the Founders' Scholarship Cup of the Grand Chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma for their excellence in scholarship during the school year, 1929-30, according to a recent announcement. The Senior Skull Scholarship Cup, awarded each year to the fraternity on the campus with the highest average in scholarship, was presented to the local chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma last spring.

In the rating for the Founders' Cup the local fraternity attained an average rank of 97.00, 11.64 points higher than the chapter at Washington and Jefferson College, which took second place. During the school year 1928-29 the Phi Kappa Sigma chapter here held fourteenth place in ranking for the Founders' Cup, thus showing a considerable advancement during the year 1929-30. In achieving this award the Alpha Delta chapter has surpassed chapters at Purdue, Cornell, Columbia, Leland Stanford, and M.I.T.

Spanish Club Will Present Cielito Lindo in December Under Cabrera's Direction

Cielito Lindo (Beautiful Heaven) an operetta in Spanish by Mr. Cabrera, will be given on December 3, by the Spanish Club, according to an announcement made at the first meeting of the club held in the Chapel last Thursday evening.

Charles Bunker was elected president for the ensuing year. Other officers are: Margaret Davis, vice-president; Abbie Sargent, secretary; and Asa Stanley, treasurer. About eighty-five members were present at the meeting and had a pleasant time rehearsing a few of the new songs which Mr. Cabrera has introduced. Mr. Cabrera is also responsible for the initial showing in New England of two new instruments, the Guiro, and the Maracas. He has discovered talent fully capable of putting over the new instruments as well as the new songs.

Dues for the club are fifty cents a year. Any persons of former membership who desire to take part in this year's production may do so by seeing Mr. Cabrera.

New Alpha Tau Omega House Will Have New Type of Sleeping Quarters Instead of Old Ram

Breaking away from the old conventional style of fraternity house, the new Alpha Tau Omega house, now under construction on College Avenue between the Phi Gamma Delta and Phi Kappa Sigma houses, will institute a new type of "ram pasture." Instead of a large room in which all the residents of the house live, the third floor of the newest addition to the campus, will be divided into a number of compartments, each designed to accommodate two men.

The chapter room of the new building will be located in the basement, which will also house a gymnasium, completely equipped with pool tables, punching bag, etc. The first floor will contain the smoking room, living room, dining room, matron's room, guest room, and kitchen.

Study rooms, baths, and showers will occupy the third floor with eleven study rooms designed to accommodate from two to four men each, according to the size of the room. The house itself is planned to accommodate from thirty-eight to forty-four men. Each study room will have a dormer window, and spacious built-in closets will be installed in each room.

Brown mahogany woodwork will finish off the inside decorations of the house with specially designed decorations for the rooms on the first floor. Plumbing fixtures will be of the most modern type available, and a kitchen equipped with modern electrical appliances is to be installed. The house will be heated by an oil burning heater.

Built of Georgian Colonial architecture, the new structure will present a most pleasing appearance with its ninety-six feet of brick structure facing the road from surroundings of carefully planned landscaping. The house will be thirty-

PARKING REGULATIONS MODIFIED IN ACCORDANCE WITH SENATE PLANS

Night and Day Parking Around Fraternity Houses and Night Parking on Campus Now Permitted to Students. President Thanks Senate

The parking regulations made by the Board of Trustees were modified by that body at their meeting Friday in accordance with the recommendations made by the Student Senate, it was announced Tuesday at the meeting of the Senate by President John R. Moore. The first two clauses, regarding parking adjacent to fraternities and night parking on campus, were adopted as presented. The third section, dealing with snow removal, will be cared for in the usual manner, with the treasurer of the University responsible for having the area kept free of snow, and the only remaining request was nullified by the acceptance of the first part of the recommendations.

An excerpt from the minutes of the Board giving the result of the action was sent to the president of the Senate by President Harold S. Boardman. The changed regulations given in the report are as follows:

Musical Assembly Will Start Song Book Sale

Band and Quartet Are Features Of Monday's Chapel. Profits for Scholarship

The new University of Maine Song Book will be the feature of Monday chapel next week, when a peppy program of Maine music will be held in Alumni Hall during the chapel period.

The band will be present in full strength, as will also the University Quartet. Neil Calderwood will attend in person to render accompaniments on the piano, and "Pat" Loane, president of the musical fraternity, Delta Pi Kappa, will lead the singing.

The program Monday morning will come as a climax following the sale of the new Song Books. The honorary musical fraternity, Delta Pi Kappa, has charge of student sales and will make a small profit on each book sold, any money that the fraternity makes going into the special fund being raised to provide a scholarship of $500.00 for a deserving student in musical work.

Monday, October 19, should witness one of the most enthusiastic and peppiest chapel periods in the history of Maine. Several old songs will be introduced during the program which are new to the student body, and many of the favorites of the last few years will be sung.

The program, as announced below, shows the location of the songs to be sung as they appear in the new Song Book, "Songs of the University of Maine."

1. For Maine (Accompaniment by University Band)
2. University of Maine Band (Accompaniment by University Band)
3. Sing a Song of College Days There are Staunch Men True Hand Me Down My Bonnet (Accompaniment by Neil Calderwood '32)
4. Quartet O! Our Dear Alma Mater Hail Alma Mater

Case of Infantile Paralysis Puts Colby Heads on Guard

Waterville, Oct. 13—Certain that the illness which sent Kenneth Lane, 19, of Newton, Mass., to the college infirmary last Saturday is infantile paralysis, Colby College authorities, upon the suggestion of Dr. G. H. Hutchins, district officer of the State Department of Health, are taking due precautions.

Lane was stricken with a peculiar illness on Saturday and immediately removed to the infirmary. His physician, Dr. John O. Piper, administered serum on Sunday, but paralysis of one leg had already set in. Dr. Hutchins declared that without added complications, the case would not be a severe one.

Lane, a freshman, lives at Roberts Hall, but boards at the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity house. His roommate had been isolated and the boys at the Phi Delta House are restricted in their movements.

At a recent meeting of the Women's Athletic Council, Elizabeth Davis was elected assistant manager of hockey.

Regular meetings of the Council will be held every two weeks on Tuesday evenings at 6:45 o'clock.

"I appreciate the attitude of the Senate and I am sure that you will follow out the assurance of cooperation in helping to make the general plan a success," wrote President Boardman in his letter submitting the results of the Board meeting to Mr. Moore.

OTHER BUSINESS

The executive committee for the Student Senate will be elected at the next regular meeting. Copies of the constitution of the body will be prepared and sent to each member.

At a meeting of the Interfraternity Council the matter of charging pledges to each fraternity was discussed. A vote was taken of all houses present to obtain the sentiment on the question. Eight houses favored the measure, seven opposed, and four did not vote. The houses in favor of the measure were Sigma Phi Sigma, Theta Chi, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Tau Delta, Beta Kappa, Phi Gamma Delta, and Phi Kappa.

Houses opposed were Lambda Chi Alpha, Eta Nu Pi, Sigma Chi, Phi Mu Delta, Phi Kappa Sigma, Phi Eta Kappa, and Sigma Nu. Houses not voting were Kappa Sigma, Alpha Tau Omega, and Tau Epsilon Phi.

Beta Kappa Awarded Prize For Winning Drive Contest

Picture Presented to Fraternity at Chapel Monday. Pat Huddilston Talks

At chapel on Monday morning, the M.C.A. awarded the picture of St. Gauden's statue of Abraham Lincoln to Beta Kappa as a reward for the good showing made by this fraternity in the recent drive. On the first evening of the drive, Beta Kappa reported contributions from every member of the fraternity.

Sigma Phi Sigma and Eta Nu Pi also reported 100% contributions, while several other fraternities responded very generously.

The speaker of the morning was Pat Huddilston who gave an informal talk entitled, "Innocents Abroad, 1931 Edition," on the European trip which the Troubadours took during the summer. Mr. Huddilston spoke in detail of the tour which included important Mediterranean cities and cities on the western coast of Europe.

PRISM DESCRIBED AT FROSH MEETING

To introduce the "Prism," the University year book published by the Junior Class, to the freshman class, a meeting of the Class of 1935 was held in Alumni Hall last Friday noon. Charles O'Connor, Assistant Dean of Men, was the first speaker, and introduced the members of the editorial staff of the "Prism." William V. D. Bratton, editor-in-chief of the yearbook this year, was the next speaker, and he outlined the general plan of the book this year stressing the new features, which will be included.

Freshman subscriptions for the next issue of the "Prism" were then solicited with considerable success.

PARKING MODIFICATIONS ADOPTED

The Trustees have held their meeting and the Student Senate recommendations have been adopted. The Senate should be satisfied in having achieved their ends. The trustees have indicated their willingness to cooperate by modifying the rules strictly in accordance with the Senate proposal. Is the conflict now at an end with the regulations satisfactory to all?

Off campus students still must drive to the extreme end of the campus to leave their cars. The coldest part of the campus remains as the sole parking area open to students during the winter. The long hike back from the parking grounds must still be made through mud or snow, with no adequate walks provided. The enormous cost of removing snow from that area must be paid by the University—and eventually by the students. Faculty members are still denied the privilege of leaving their cars behind their own buildings. All these things still face the off-campus students and faculty. Opinions can be freely expressed in Campus correspondence columns, but where is there a body to take up the complaints brought forward by these people most concerned?

The Student Senate is perhaps the only organization which can appeal to the Board of Trustees with any expectation of having their views seriously considered. But the Student Senate is not representative of the student body as a whole. With two or three possible exceptions, this body is made up entirely of fraternity men. Women students are not represented. Off-campus men hold the right to send representatives, but in actual practice this is impossible. Powerful and efficient though the Senate may be on matters within its scope, it is not the proper body to take up grievances affecting the students as a whole.

Who then is responsible if the rules have not been modified in a manner satisfactory to all concerned? Not the Student Senate, for they drew up a proposal recommending changes in all parts of the original regulations which appeared to them as satisfactory. Neither can it be charged against the Trustees, for they adopted the platform and gave evidence of an intent to make the situation workable.

The need then, obviously, is an association of the entire student body. If student problems are to be ironed out, there is need of a new organization on this campus.

THE MAINE SONG BOOK

Once again a special musical assembly is to be held in Alumni Hall, and as before, this occasion is to mark a new step forward in a field which has gained for this University world wide fame and popularity—that of college songs. First the amazing popularity of the Stein Song, then the national recognition given to Band Song over the larger radio hook-ups, and now comes a whole collection of the most outstanding Maine songs bound in book form.

From the very first, the work of preparing this song book has been carried on by Maine men. To Professor Adelbert W. Sprague, '05, goes credit for collecting, arranging, and editing the book. Without the tireless aid of Professor Sprague and the assistance of other members of the committee, Milton Ellis, '07, James A. Gannett, '08, Charles E. Crossland, '17, Achsa M. Bean, '22, George E. Rose, '29, Doris L. Gross, '31, and Galen I. Veayo, '31, production of the book would have approached the impossible.

No less important has been the contribution of George Otis Hamlin, '00, whose unflagging interest in Maine songs stimulated the publishing of two University songs in single editions as well as the issuance of the new song book.

Each song in the new volume was written by a person intimately connected with the University. Alumni, faculty members, and students contributed. Yet the songs in this volume are by no means the doubtful work of amateurs. Conspicuous among the numbers included is a song written by Dr. and Mrs. William Rogers Chapman, the former long a national figure in musical circles and for many years choral conductor of the New York Philharmonic Society. Dr. Chapman was granted an honorary musical degree from this University in 1926.

The proceeds from the sale of these books will go toward the production of future favorites. Sale of the new song books is being conducted by Delta Pi Kappa, honorary musical fraternity, and the profits derived from this sale will be devoted toward the establishment of a $500 scholarship to be awarded to some needy student of music. Maine song traditions will be perpetuated.

Plans for introducing the new songs at chapel include singing and playing by some of the finest talent on the campus. Pat Loane, president of Delta Pi Kappa, will have charge of the exercises. Luthan Crosby and his quartet will sing several selections, Neil Calderwood will play, and the full Maine band will be heard in four of the best known Maine songs. With a good audience present, nothing will be lacking to give this new song book the enthusiastic welcome it deserves.

One of the obstacles to getting an education nowadays is finding a place to park.—Ohio State Journal.

Correspondence

To the Editor of the Campus,
Dear Sir:

What has become of our book review column? Is space so dear or approval so sweet as to be purchased at the price of advertising and news? News is a vile term scarcely bearing up under the restrictions imposed upon it. Must we confine our attempts at writing to the doings of the Zeta Tus and the out doings of the Gamma Psis? Extensive advertising chains us to the mercenary; being newsy enslaves us. Poor, overworked word—this news.

Now that our Maine-Spring is dismally defunct there is still a chance for Maine to hold her head up in a literary way. Why not improve on the quality of our publication by introducing each week a breezy bit about books and authors? The paper needn't strive to rival Addison and Steele, neither should it go in for reviewing ponderous volumes disturbed only yearly. That type of book, weighted with dust and knowledge, is the kind we must use. What would arouse enthusiasm is the new book Galsworthy or Cather or even Wharton just turned out—the book we'd read first if we had less assigned for the week-end. Perhaps popular appeal is the phrase to apply here. At any rate an attempt might be made to popularize vital books of the day. Even if people were not persuaded to read—just keeping them posted about books would be an asset.

At present the Campus is suffering from a preponderance of the ordinary. What it needs is an awakening—a realization that keeping out of debt and profiting by advertising is not all-important. Certainly it is not inspiring.

Considering the I. Q.'s of many readers of the Campus, isn't it bordering on the insulting to plead lack of intelligent interest among our reading public? Even English majors feel the thrust of that excuse for not giving room to book reviews.

The defense of this anti-literary attitude will no doubt be an upholding of journalism and its purposes as presented in Book One, Chapters Three, Four, and Five. This rigid adherence to rule is all very well for news writing, but every newspaper has features. The Campus should not be an exception. A lively column (or even one-eighth of a column) on lively books shouldn't prove too enervating for an educated and a would-be educated reading public.

Let's get booky.

Sincerely yours,

H. F., '32

Editor of the Campus
University of Maine
Dear Sir:

I have recently read in the Boston Post that there is to be an enforcement of the law regarding hitchhikers. The road from college to Bangor is to be patrolled by both the Bangor and the State Police and students are to be brought into court for violating the law.

I believe that the U. of Maine students should be allowed to beg rides both to and from Bangor. Even Chief Crowley must know that the students are not the ones who have committed the crimes mentioned in the Campus. If the Bangor Police would concentrate their efforts in wiping out the various rum joints that dot their fair city they would accomplish considerable more than keeping the student from begging a ride. The student spends money in Bangor thereby helping the commercial condition there. It is not the time it takes for the electric cars as much as the cost. A student cannot earn money and attend classes at the same time. I think that if the chief would investigate the numerous offenses

The Maine Snoopus

Well, well, well, and WELL—no Maine Night is it! At last, the grand chance to have the fond parents up for the week-end just to impress them with the hushed and holy atmosphere of the place! Right here, if we wanted to be vewy cwude, we might insert the well-known "Ohhh Yeahhh!" But of course it really IS going to be that way this year!...As I was leaving Ye Booke Shoppe the other day I chanced to hear one poor harrassed soul murmur sadly under his breath as he clutched his Ha'va'd bob in desperation and despair, "Depressions may come and depressions may go but M.C.A. drives go on forever!"...I hate to intrude unpleasant thoughts upon your pleasant blissful state of climatic comfort, but I've been a'wonderin' now that Merrill Hall has been "formally dedicated", whatever we are going to do when winter's chill is upon us? We're sort of thrust out in the cold as it were! Maybe the A.T.O. house will be in the proper stage of porousness to admit storm-tossed twains. And by the bye, speaking of A.T.O., will someone tell me what that wee housie, that important-looking little edifice is for? Looks to me as though the Specialist had been around—doesn't it now? Bet you thought of it too!...Can it be that the days o' courtiers and dandies, o' velvets and frills are returning? A great wonderment comes upon me when I behold masculine legs encased in beautiful wine-colored corduroys, a rich magenta color, a —words fail me! Not to mention the glamorous combination of red and green frat coat a-top mauve shirt, superceding honey-colored cordies that I glimpsed in the libe l'autre nuit! Oh flutter, flutter! A lace hanky and a pinch o' snuff would be perfect!...Did anyone escape the "Hope Chest" drive? No, I thought not. But think what a start in life it gave the lucky winner! These big-hearted Phi Mus!...The big hand goes to those owdacious souls who braved the raging elements and stormed up the heights of Mt. Katahdin last Sunday...Honorable mention goes to the well-trained feline who mascot the freshman game last Saturday. We think she made a decided hit with her public...If you can't think of anything by way of polite conversation when walking to class with som'un who happens your way, give the Parking Space a try-out—it works —just like the weather and the business depression!

instead of being so willing to lay the blame to the students he will find that he is greatly mistaken. If a student conducts himself according to the way he should, a person should consider it a pleasure to help him save both his time and money by giving him a ride for those eight miles. If we stand here in front of the fraternity houses there should be no need of taking us to court to give us a police record. Give us a break. We want to go to Bangor for recreation and to shop. Money is just as scarce with the average student today as it is with anyone.

Trees and shrubs with a long terrace will adorn the front of the main building, and a circular driveway will approach the house from College Avenue. A concrete walk will be built from the house to the sidewalk along College Avenue.

The estimated cost of the house is $55,000 while it is expected that furnishings for the interior will add another $25,000 to that amount.

Though they do not plan to occupy the house until next September, the members of Alpha Tau Omega hope to hold their spring house party in the new dwelling in April.

"Since I lent him my pen
it has never been the same!"

Often said,
but NOT of
Parker Duofold

Don't make yourself unpopular by borrowing students' pens. Unless the pen is a Parker Duofold, your hand is apt to foul the point, or change its action. Don't expose yourself.

Stop at the nearest pen counter and pick the Parker Duofold that fits your hand to a "T." You'll be prepared then for any emergency—even for lending—gracefully.

For no style of writing can foul, or alter Parker's miracle Duofold point. Still it writes as easily as you breathe —with amazing Pressureless Touch!

And even the Parker Duofolds at $5 have 22% to 69% more ink capacity than some pens of other makes priced 50% higher. Yet none has Parker's stylish, balanced, streamlined design—"America's Shape-liest"—or Parker's Invisible Filler, or Patented Clip that lets the pen set low and unexposed in the pocket.

The only guarantee you'll need for life is the name on the barrel—"Geo. S. Parker—DUOFOLD."

College-trained engineers revisit the athletic field

ON more than a hundred floodlighted fields, football is being played and practiced in the evening hours, before larger audiences than ever before—with fewer injuries and in better conformity with classroom duties.

This constructive revolution in athletics is largely the work of college-trained engineers— young men personally familiar with the needs of college and school. They are dedicating the technical experience gained in the General Electric Test Department to the practical service of undergraduate athletics—designing and installing floodlighting equipment for virtually every sport—football, baseball, hockey, tennis, and track.

Other college men in the General Electric organization have specialized in street-lighting and floodlighting projects, or in the electrical equipment of industries and mines or of immense power stations; some are designing and applying electric apparatus to propel ocean liners and locomotives. All are engaged in the planning, production, or distribution of G-E products and so are performing a work of national betterment and creating for themselves recognized spheres of personal influence.

PALE BLUE DEFEATS CONNECTICUT 8-0 USING STRONG AERIAL ATTACK

Team Scores on Pass in Final Period To Gain Season's First Victory. Injuries to Kane Are Expected To Keep Him Off Team for Short Time

Unleashing a powerful attack in the final period of their game with Connecticut Agricultural College at Storrs on Saturday, the University of Maine football team conquered the Nutmeg State lads by the score of 8-0. Though it was bitterly fought the first half of the game saw no scoring until Maine scored a safety in the last part of the second quarter. Maine's other six points came with the aid of a pass in the final period.

After Maine's running attack, somewhat foiled in the first half, the pale blue resorted to an aerial attack with Bagley leading the way. This proved much more effective, and Connecticut stopped but one of Maine's forward passes. But for two fumbles, Maine might have added two more touchdowns to its score.

In the last part of the second quarter, after an exchange of kicks in which Bagley shone, Zavarella, Aggie halfback, let a punt roll by him which he thought was going over the goal zone. The ball, however, stopped rolling near his goal line and was grounded on Connecticut's one yard line.

In the next play Coss attempted to rush the ball, but was availed by the Maine line and was tackled for a safety.

Conn. did little in this half as Maine presented a stone wall with Cal Fickett outstanding on the defense. Romansky did the bulk of the rushing but was too closely watched to slip off on his usual long gains.

In the fourth period Maine started a steady march from their 30 yard line to a touchdown. Successive passes from Bagley to Favor and Sims put the ball on the Aggie's 28 yard line. Then after Romansky had thwarted the line for a first down, Conn. was penalized 15 yards for roughness while Romansky again was carrying the ball. This brought the pigskin to the one yard line.

After three unsuccessful attempts to put the ball across, Bagley tossed a pass to Aldrich who was standing in the open back of the Aggie line. The point after touchdown failed when Bagley's attempt-

Bridgton Pushes Over Touchdown Late in Final Period on Run Of Fifty Yards by Kelly

Fighting hard and again holding their opponents scoreless until the closing minutes of the game, the Maine frosh dropped their second football game of the season to the Bridgton Academy aggregation on Alumni Field Saturday afternoon by the score of 6-0. Kelly, flashy Bridgton halfback, took the honors of the game when he broke through for a fifty yard run to score the only touchdown of the game late in the fourth quarter.

Frequent fumbles and penalties marred the contest and added an element of uncertainty. These fumbles gave O'Connell, freshman star, a chance to shine when he cleverly recovered three of them. Considerable improvement was shown in the work of the freshmen during the first half of the game, since during that period they did most of the rushing.

Kane, left tackle, was injured and will not see action for a few weeks. Pike, one of Coach Brice's consistent linemen, is expected to be shifted into Kane's place.

Bridgton's victory is attributed to a strong backfield, every member of which displayed his skill during the game, and the stars of Coach Jones' gridsters were: Reese, O'Connell, Foster, and Totman.

All freshman and sophomore women who are interested in the position of manager of Women's Debating should consult Mr. Bricker of the Public Speaking Department, before noon Monday, October 19.

Are they as good as when the ruffles came down to the ankles?

GOOD? . . . You bet they are! Maybe the girls are even better. Anyhow, cigarettes are a whole lot better. No doubt about that.

They used to be made by hand—
Now it's machines; no hand but yours ever touches them.

They used to be packed in expensive, highfalutin' cardboard boxes—
Now the quality is in the cigarettes.

The U. S. Revenue Tax used to be a penny a package of twenty—
Now it's six cents a package of twenty.

Tobacco used to be dried by air—
Now Liggett & Myers alone has thirty-five drying machines of the latest type, with a daily capacity of over 2,000,000 pounds—and over four miles of warehouses for tobacco storage.

BETTER—they're miles better! Everything used in the manufacture of Chesterfield cigarettes is the best that money can buy or that Science knows about.

CHESTERFIELD TOBACCOS—both Turkish and Domestic—are mild and ripe, the best that money can buy.

AND THE WAY Chesterfield tobaccos are blended and cross-blended is like making a new and better-tasting kind of tobacco, with greater smoothness, more mildness and a more pleasing aroma—a fragrance and flavor not to be found in any other cigarette.

CHESTERFIELD gives you the benefit of all the world knows about the production of better cigarettes. Nobody smokes a better cigarette than Chesterfield.
