

THE MAINE CAMPUS

Published Weekly by the Students of the University of Maine

Vol. LII Z 265

Orono, Maine, October 26, 1950

Number 5

Editors And Lawmakers Visit Campus

Newspaper Day Program And Exhibits

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27

10:45 a.m.—General assembly, Memorial Gym—address, "Tomorrow's Front Pages," by Turner Catledge, assistant managing editor of the New York Times.

11:45 a.m.—Tour of campus. Exhibits in library and Fernald hall, print shop.

12:45 p.m.—Luncheon, Estabrooke hall. Introduction of guests.

2:00 p.m.—Louis Oakes Room, Library—Seminar, "The Newspaper Job." Discussion leader, Louis M. Lyons, curator of the Nieman Foundation for Journalism, Harvard University.

3:00 p.m.—Louis Oakes Room, Library—Seminar, "Freedom of Information on the Home Front." Leader, Herbert Brucker, editor of the Hartford Courant.

4:00 p.m.—Louis Oakes Room, Library—Seminar, "Significant Legal Events Affecting Newspapers." Leader, Harold L. Cross, newspaper lawyer and former associate dean, Graduate School of Journalism, Columbia University.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28

10:00 a.m.—Room 3, Fernald Hall—Shop Talk, informal gathering of speakers and visiting editors and publishers.

10:30 a.m.—Room 3, Fernald Hall—Report, "Journalism and the Armed Services." Lt. Col. William M. Summers, recent editor-in-chief, European edition of Stars and Stripes.

11:00 a.m.—Room 3, Fernald Hall—Seminar, "Sports News for Community Papers." Leader, John McKernan, editor, the Penobscot Times; sports commentator.

New U. S. Army Has Golden Lure

It's getting so a man can't afford to stay out of the Army.

Army pay schedules are erratic, but these figures will come pretty close for an enlisted army reservist with eight years service (active and reserve) who gets recalled as a corporal.

For a single man: base pay, $147; clothing allowance (after seventh month), $5; Total, $152.

If he's lucky enough to get on DEML (duty off post, with recruiting service, civilian components, etc.) he can add: Quarters, $45; and Rations, $67.50; Total, $264.50.

If he marries, he can add $22.50 more for quarters; Total, $287.

With three dependents (wife and two children) he can add $17.50 more. Grand total, $304.50 per month.

The next crop of veterans should return in a better financial state than the present crop.

Maine Papers Taking Part In Seminars

Noted Journalists To Be On Program

By JIM BARROWS

Editors and publishers from Maine daily and weekly newspapers will converge on the campus Friday for the second Maine Newspaper Day.

Turner Catledge, assistant managing editor of the New York Times, will speak at the 10:45 a.m. assembly, in the Memorial Gym.

Catledge will speak to students, members of the faculty, and University visitors on "Tomorrow's Front Pages." President Arthur A. Hauck will preside at the assembly.

James D. Ewing, president of the Maine Daily Newspaper Publishers' Association, and Roger Woodcock, president of the Maine Press Association, cooperated in the arrangements for the day. Both associations will be represented by large delegations.

A special schedule for morning class periods tomorrow has been arranged as follows: first period, 7:45-8:35; second period, 8:45-9:15; third period, 9:25-9:55; fourth period, 10:05-10:35; assembly, 10:45-11:35.

Photographs from Maine daily newspapers will be exhibited in the (Continued on Page Eight)

Draft Non-vets, Says Sen. Smith

By BEN TUCKER

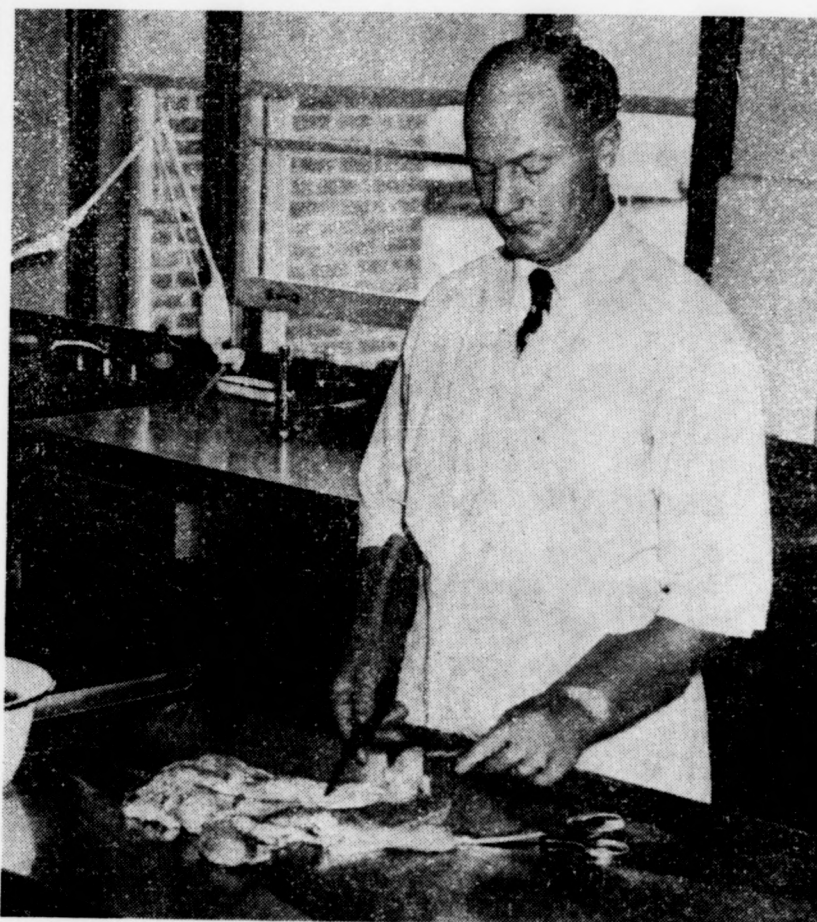

"I am not in favor of drafting veterans until the non-vets have been called," Senator Margaret Chase Smith told a Campus reporter Monday afternoon.

At an interview in the office of President Arthur A. Hauck just before her Little Theatre address, Senator Smith also expressed the opinion that reservists are currently getting a "raw deal."

In reply to a question about the so-called McCarran Communist Control Act, recently passed by the 81st Congress, Maine's junior Senator stated that she would not vote for repeal of the measure. Whether or not there is any inconsistency in permitting foreign students who were members of what the act terms "totalitarian organizations" to study in this country, while other aliens are excluded on similar grounds, is a question she felt insufficiently prepared to discuss. Senator Smith did say, however, that she believes the Act will be amended considerably.

In her talk in the Little Theatre, a few minutes after the interview, Senator Smith emphasized the importance of working on a "long-term" project for world government.

New Pathology Building Here Is Rated Highly By Staff

Dr. J. Franklin Witter

—Garvin Photo

Animal disease is taking a bigger and better beating at the new Animal Pathology building which was completed last summer.

"We've got new and better equipment, and what's more important we've got room to use it," said Dr. J. Franklin Witter, flicking an imaginary speck off the stainless-steel dissecting table in the autopsy room.

Dr. Witter, professor of animal pathology and animal pathologist for the Agricultural Extension Service, unabashedly claims that the University's animal pathology facilities are now "equal to the best in any college in New England."

The three-story red-brick building, neat-appearing outside and efficient-looking inside, was made possible through a special appropriation by the Maine Legislature. Funds from the sale of poultry bronchitis vaccine, fees for mastitis and pullorum tests, and the like, brought most of the equipment.

Service For Farmers

The laboratory is primarily a service for Maine farmers, for the livestock and poultry raisers. Autopsies of domestic and wildlife animals are performed free of charge in the autopsy room on the first floor.

Valuable records dating back three decades, and locked in a fireproof safe for protection, form the basis for the work which occupies most of the second floor—testing for pullorum in poultry. In charge of this department is Dr. E. Reeve Hitchner, professor of bacteriology and head of the Department of Bacteriology and Biochemistry, who first joined the University in 1922. Dr. Hitchner has made a study of pullorum for 29 years.

Maine has an enviable record among poultry-raising states in its low incidence of pullorum. The increased room for records, better laboratory facilities, and new equipment which includes a busy labeling machine,

(Continued on Page Five)

Ticket Prices Stabilized At $2.50, Says Curtis

Ted Curtis, Faculty Manager of Athletics, announced today that no cut rates in football tickets will be allowed for the remainder of the season.

All tickets will be sold at their $2.50 value as opposed to a pre-state series policy which permitted high school players to attend by paying the government tax only.

Extra bleachers are being set up to accommodate an expected overflow of patrons for Maine's two home tilts with Bates and Colby.

Tickets may be bought at the athletic office in the Memorial gymnasium.

Animal Lab Dedication Is On Saturday

Guests Will Attend Luncheon, Game

By BOB WILSON

Governor Frederick G. Payne and members-elect of the 95th Maine Legislature will participate in the dedication of the new Animal Pathology Building on Saturday.

Members of the Governor's Council have also been invited to attend.

The $135,000 building, made possible by an appropriation by the 94th Legislature, is now in use for research and diagnostic work on poultry and animal diseases.

George S. Williams of Augusta, president of the University's board of trustees, will preside at the ceremony slated for 11:15 a.m. Governor Payne, President Arthur A. Hauck, and Harold J. Shaw, alumnus and trustee of the University and prominent dairyman and livestock breeder of Sanford, will speak.

Campus Tour Before Dedication

The dedication will be on campus, near the new building, which is south of Rogers Hall. In event of rain, the program will take place in the Louis Oakes Room of the Library. Opportunity will be provided before the exercises for visitors to look over the activities and facilities of the University. Student guides will direct visitors to points of interest.

Some of the Maine groups who were interested in seeing the laboratory built were the Maine Poultry Improvement Association, the Maine Livestock Breeders Association, the Maine Federation of Agricultural as-

(Continued on Page Eight)

Students To Meet For MCA Confab

The Maine Christian Association will be host to approximately 50 Protestant student leaders from schools throughout the state this week end at the Maine Area Conference of the New England Christian Movement.

Main speaker at the three major meetings, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, will be Dr. Peter Bertocci, author of "The Human Venture in Sex, Love, and Marriage." His first lecture will be given Friday, Oct. 27 at 8 p.m. in the Louis Oakes Room, Library. His subject is to be "The Presupposition of Prayer." Prayer also will be the topic of his two Saturday addresses, one at 9:30 a.m. in Carnegie Lounge and the other at 7:30 p.m. in the Louis Oakes Room.

Students from Bowdoin, Ricker, Bates, Washington State Normal School and other Maine institutions will be here for the conference, according to Eleanor Shima who is in charge of arrangements for the event.

N. Y. Times Editor To Address Assembly Oct. 27

(Continued from Page One)

of visitors from more distant parts of the state to attend.

The University Chorus will open the assembly program with the finale from "The Song of Man" by Richard Kountz.

Visiting editors and publishers will be welcomed to the University by President Arthur A. Hauck at a luncheon in Estabrooke Hall at 12:45.

Seminars open to students and the public will be held in the Louis Oakes Room on the afternoon of the 27th as a part of the Newspaper Day program.

Nieman Curator To Speak

Louis M. Lyons, curator of the Nieman Foundation for Journalism, Harvard University, will conduct the first seminar at 2 p.m. His topic will be "The Newspaper Job."

At 3 p.m., Herbert Brucker, editor of the Hartford Courant, will speak on "Freedom of Information on the Home Front." He is author of "Freedom of Information," a book which appears on many college reading lists.

Harold L. Cross, newspaper lawyer who received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from the University of Maine last June, will conduct a seminar on newspapers and the law at 4 p.m.

Saturday Morning Events

A Saturday morning shop talk program for the visiting editors and publishers is also scheduled. It will be in Room 3, Fernald Hall.

At 10:30 a.m. on the 28th, Lt. Col. William M. Summers of the military department, recent editor-in-chief of Stars and Stripes, European Edition, will speak on "Journalism and the Armed Services."

John McKernan, editor of the Pennsylvanian Times and well known Maine sports commentator, will conduct a seminar on "Sports News for Community Papers" at 11 a.m.

Exhibits Are Scheduled

Exhibits in the Louis Oakes Room, under the direction of Vincent A. Hartgen, associate professor of art, will include outstanding photographic art from Maine daily newspapers and a group of William Gropper's satirical lithographs on political subjects. In Fernald Hall, visitors will find a display of Maine weekly newspapers.

James D. Ewing of the Bangor Commercial, president of the Maine Daily Newspaper Publishers' Association, and Roger N. Woodcock of the Sanford Tribune, president of the Maine Press Association, are co-operating with the University in general arrangements for the newspaper program.

The University of Maine Press Club, headed by Alvan Mersky, and the Maine Campus are participating.

Three University of Maine delegates attended a New England home economics workshop last week end at Rhode Island State college.

The delegates from Maine were: Dr. Katherine A. Miles, New England province adviser; Marilyn Harmon, Maine Home Economics club president; and Ann Preble, Maine club vice president.

UN Film Comes To Orono

"Tomorrow Begins Today," a special short movie, will be shown at the Orono Strand theatre Monday and Tuesday. A feature about the United Nations, the film is being shown to celebrate the UN's fifth birthday, which falls on Tuesday.

Mail Must Go Through

The campus head proctors have requested that all organizational notices concerning meetings and activities be mailed to members on the day before the affair is to be held. In the past many members received their notices after the affair had taken place.

HILLSON ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

For the week of October 16, 1950

To

MARIBELLE (TUFFY) TUFFS

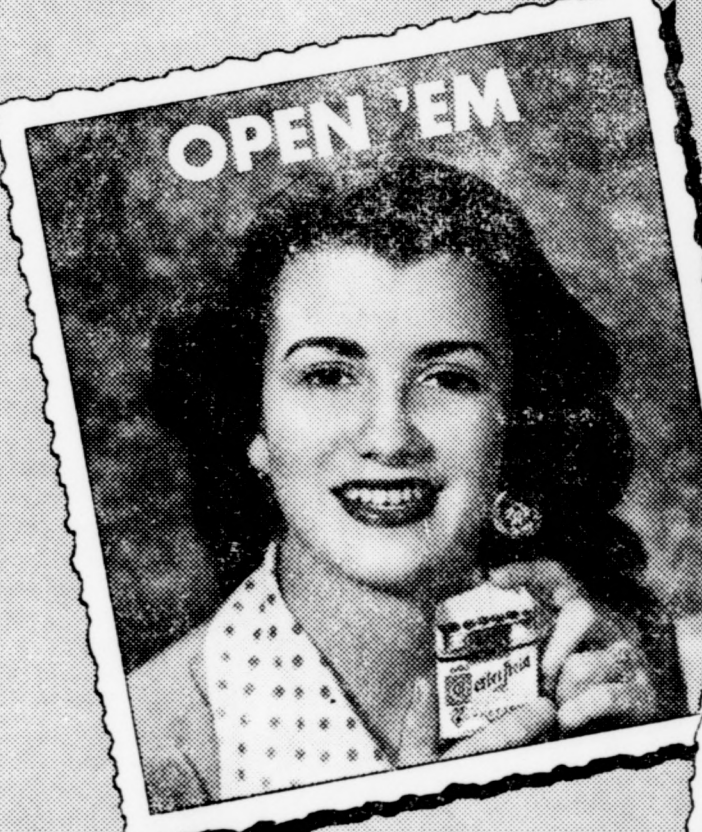

For her spirited cheer-leading at the Maine-New Hampshire Game

The recipient of this award is entitled to
$2.00 PERSONAL CLEANING SERVICE
ABSOLUTELY FREE

HILLSON CLEANERS

18 Mill Street

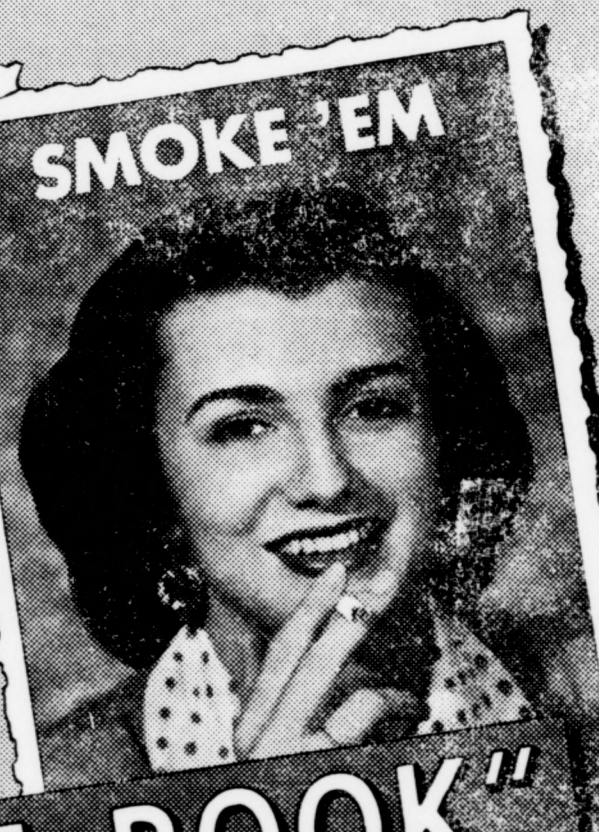

Orono 647

OPEN 'EM

SMELL 'EM

SMOKE 'EM

JANET LEE, UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS '53
SAYS:

"EASIEST TEST IN THE BOOK"

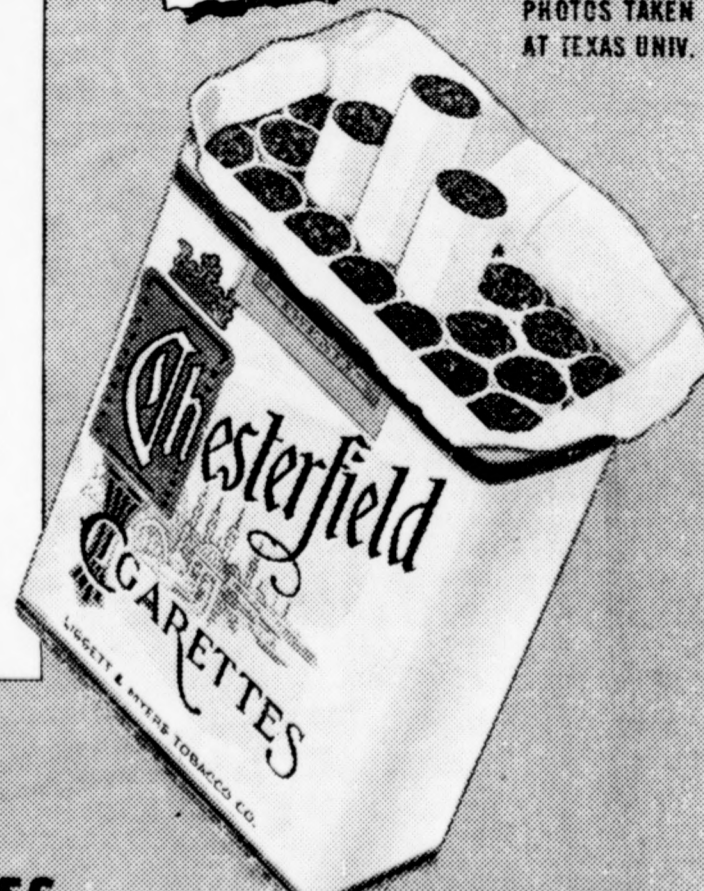

COMPARE CHESTERFIELD WITH ANY OTHER CIGARETTE!

BEFORE YOU SMOKE THEM
...you can tell Chesterfields will smoke milder,
because tobaccos that smell milder smoke milder.

AFTER YOU SMOKE THEM
...you have no unpleasant after-taste.

WHILE YOU SMOKE THEM you get more pleasure than any other cigarette can give you—that's why millions of smokers say: THEY SATISFY.

PHOTOS TAKEN
AT TEXAS UNIV.

CHESTERFIELD

LEADING SELLER IN AMERICA'S COLLEGES

Copyright 1950, Lorillard & Sons Tobacco Co.

THE MAINE CAMPUS

Published Weekly by the Students of the University of Maine

Vol. LII Z 265

Orono, Maine, October 26, 1950

Number 5

Editors And Lawmakers Visit Campus

Newspaper Day Program And Exhibits

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27

10:45 a.m.—General assembly, Memorial Gym—address, "Tomorrow's Front Pages," by Turner Catledge, assistant managing editor of the New York Times.

11:45 a.m.—Tour of campus. Exhibits in library and Fernald hall, print shop.

12:45 p.m.—Luncheon, Estabrooke hall. Introduction of guests.

2:00 p.m.—Louis Oakes Room, Library—Seminar, "The Newspaper Job." Discussion leader, Louis M. Lyons, curator of the Nieman Foundation for Journalism, Harvard University.

3:00 p.m.—Louis Oakes Room, Library—Seminar, "Freedom of Information on the Home Front." Leader, Herbert Brucker, editor of the Hartford Courant.

4:00 p.m.—Louis Oakes Room, Library—Seminar, "Significant Legal Events Affecting Newspapers." Leader, Harold L. Cross, newspaper lawyer and former associate dean, Graduate School of Journalism, Columbia University.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28

10:00 a.m.—Room 3, Fernald Hall—Shop Talk, informal gathering of speakers and visiting editors and publishers.

10:30 a.m.—Room 3, Fernald Hall—Report, "Journalism and the Armed Services." Lt. Col. William M. Summers, recent editor-in-chief, European edition of Stars and Stripes.

11:00 a.m.—Room 3, Fernald Hall—Seminar, "Sports News for Community Papers." Leader, John McKernan, editor, the Penobscot Times; sports commentator.

New U. S. Army Has Golden Lure

It's getting so a man can't afford to stay out of the Army.

Army pay schedules are erratic, but these figures will come pretty close for an enlisted army reservist with eight years service (active and reserve) who gets recalled as a corporal.

For a single man: base pay, $147; clothing allowance (after seventh month), $5; Total, $152.

If he's lucky enough to get on DEML (duty off post, with recruiting service, civilian components, etc.) he can add: Quarters, $45; and Rations, $67.50; Total, $264.50.

If he marries, he can add $22.50 more for quarters; Total, $287.

With three dependents (wife and two children) he can add $17.50 more. Grand total, $304.50 per month.

The next crop of veterans should return in a better financial state than the present crop.

Maine Papers Taking Part In Seminars

Noted Journalists To Be On Program

By JIM BARROWS

Editors and publishers from Maine daily and weekly newspapers will converge on the campus Friday for the second Maine Newspaper Day.

Turner Catledge, assistant managing editor of the New York Times, will speak at the 10:45 a.m. assembly, in the Memorial Gym.

Catledge will speak to students, members of the faculty, and University visitors on "Tomorrow's Front Pages." President Arthur A. Hauck will preside at the assembly.

James D. Ewing, president of the Maine Daily Newspaper Publishers' Association, and Roger Woodcock, president of the Maine Press Association, cooperated in the arrangements for the day. Both associations will be represented by large delegations.

A special schedule for morning class periods tomorrow has been arranged as follows: first period, 7:45-8:35; second period, 8:45-9:15; third period, 9:25-9:55; fourth period, 10:05-10:35; assembly, 10:45-11:35.

Photographs from Maine daily newspapers will be exhibited in the (Continued on Page Eight)

Draft Non-vets, Says Sen. Smith

By BEN TUCKER

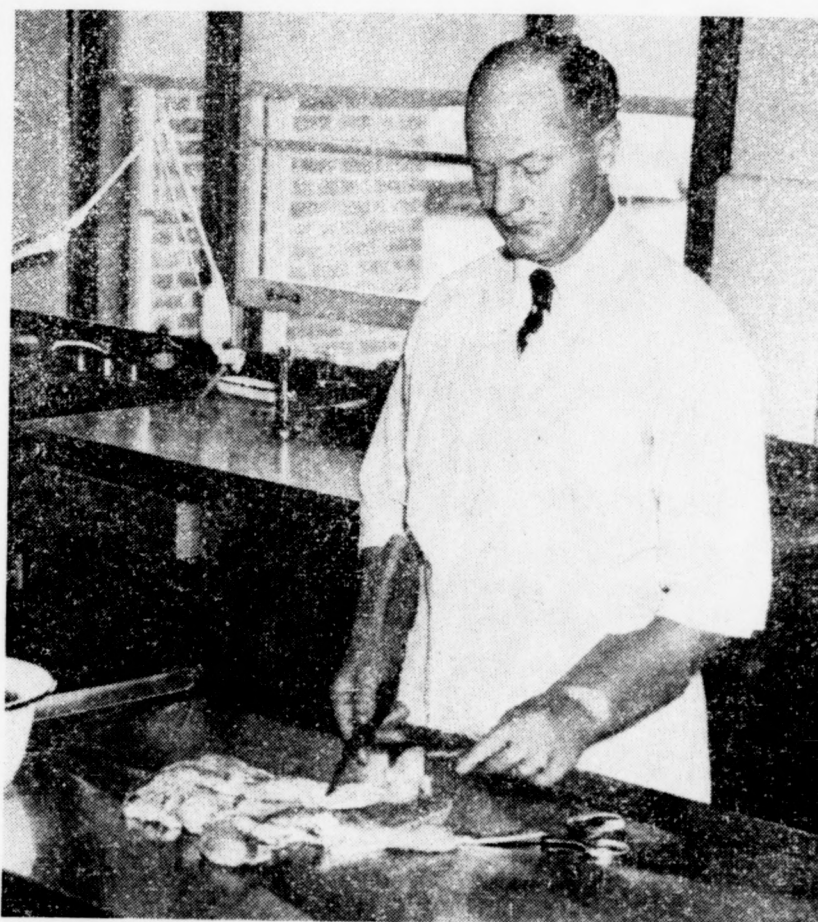

"I am not in favor of drafting veterans until the non-vets have been called," Senator Margaret Chase Smith told a Campus reporter Monday afternoon.

At an interview in the office of President Arthur A. Hauck just before her Little Theatre address, Senator Smith also expressed the opinion that reservists are currently getting a "raw deal."

In reply to a question about the so-called McCarran Communist Control Act, recently passed by the 81st Congress, Maine's junior Senator stated that she would not vote for repeal of the measure. Whether or not there is any inconsistency in permitting foreign students who were members of what the act terms "totalitarian organizations" to study in this country, while other aliens are excluded on similar grounds, is a question she felt insufficiently prepared to discuss, Senator Smith did say, however, that she believes the Act will be amended considerably.

In her talk in the Little Theatre, a few minutes after the interview, Senator Smith emphasized the importance of working on a "long-term" project for world government.

New Pathology Building Here Is Rated Highly By Staff

Dr. J. Franklin Witter

—Garvin Photo

Animal disease is taking a bigger and better beating at the new Animal Pathology building which was completed last summer.

"We've got new and better equipment, and what's more important we've got room to use it," said Dr. J. Franklin Witter, flicking an imaginary speck off the stainless-steel dissecting table in the autopsy room.

Dr. Witter, professor of animal pathology and animal pathologist for the Agricultural Extension Service, unabashedly claims that the University's animal pathology facilities are now "equal to the best in any college in New England."

The three-story red-brick building, neat-appearing outside and efficient-looking inside, was made possible through a special appropriation by the Maine Legislature. Funds from the sale of poultry bronchitis vaccine, fees for mastitis and pullorum tests, and the like, brought most of the equipment.

Service For Farmers

The laboratory is primarily a service for Maine farmers, for the livestock and poultry raisers. Autopsies

of domestic and wildlife animals are performed free of charge in the autopsy room on the first floor.

Valuable records dating back three decades, and locked in a fireproof safe for protection, form the basis for the work which occupies most of the second floor—testing for pullorum in poultry. In charge of this department is Dr. E. Reeve Hitchner, professor of bacteriology and head of the Department of Bacteriology and Biochemistry, who first joined the University in 1922. Dr. Hitchner has made a study of pullorum for 29 years.

Maine has an enviable record among poultry-raising states in its low incidence of pullorum. The increased room for records, better laboratory facilities, and new equipment which includes a busy labeling machine,

(Continued on Page Five)

Ticket Prices Stabilized At $2.50, Says Curtis

Ted Curtis, Faculty Manager of Athletics, announced today that no cut rates in football tickets will be allowed for the remainder of the season.

All tickets will be sold at their $2.50 value as opposed to a pre-state series policy which permitted high school players to attend by paying the government tax only.

Extra bleachers are being set up to accommodate an expected overflow of patrons for Maine's two home tilts with Bates and Colby.

Tickets may be bought at the athletic office in the Memorial gymnasium.

Animal Lab Dedication Is On Saturday

Guests Will Attend Luncheon, Game

By BOB WILSON

Governor Frederick G. Payne and members-elect of the 95th Maine Legislature will participate in the dedication of the new Animal Pathology Building on Saturday.

Members of the Governor's Council have also been invited to attend.

The $135,000 building, made possible by an appropriation by the 94th Legislature, is now in use for research and diagnostic work on poultry and animal diseases.

George S. Williams of Augusta, president of the University's board of trustees, will preside at the ceremony slated for 11:15 a.m. Governor Payne, President Arthur A. Hauck, and Harold J. Shaw, alumnus and trustee of the University and prominent dairyman and livestock breeder of Sanford, will speak.

Campus Tour Before Dedication

The dedication will be on campus, near the new building, which is south of Rogers Hall. In event of rain, the program will take place in the Louis Oakes Room of the Library. Opportunity will be provided before the exercises for visitors to look over the activities and facilities of the University. Student guides will direct visitors to points of interest.

Some of the Maine groups who were interested in seeing the laboratory built were the Maine Poultry Improvement Association, the Maine Livestock Breeders Association, the Maine Federation of Agricultural as-

(Continued on Page Eight)

Students To Meet For MCA Confab

The Maine Christian Association will be host to approximately 50 Protestant student leaders from schools throughout the state this week end at the Maine Area Conference of the New England Christian Movement.

Main speaker at the three major meetings, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, will be Dr. Peter Bertocci, author of "The Human Venture in Sex, Love, and Marriage." His first lecture will be given Friday, Oct. 27 at 8 p.m. in the Louis Oakes Room, Library. His subject is to be "The Presupposition of Prayer." Prayer also will be the topic of his two Saturday addresses, one at 9:30 a.m. in Carnegie Lounge and the other at 7:30 p.m. in the Louis Oakes Room.

Students from Bowdoin, Ricker, Bates, Washington State Normal School and other Maine institutions will be here for the conference, according to Eleanor Shima who is in charge of arrangements for the event.

Spanish Club Meets

Henri Casavant will speak on his travels in Mexico at the meeting of El Circulo Espanol in the SRA building tonight at 7:30.

Dick Ayotte will lead the group in several Spanish songs, afterwards.

Because of an error the price of $47.50 was omitted from the ad featuring Shetland Suits by ALLAN-LEWIS 175-181 Exchange St. Bangor

OUR
TWO-PLY GUARANTEE
TO YOU!

"BOTANY"
BRAND 500
Tailored by DAROFF

It's the clothing favorite of value-minded American men. The only clothing that gives you this Botany two-ply 100% virgin worsted—exclusive soul-of-the-suit quality. And the only clothing that gives you the exquisite Daroff tailoring—resulting in fit without a flaw. Thus our wonderful new assortment of "Botany" Brand 500 suits and topcoats...in the latest styles, weaves, colors and models...puts a "dual guarantee" on a factor most vital to you—DOLLAR'S WORTH!

$60

The Fabric is the Soul of the Suit

Allan
Lewis

175-181 Exchange St. Bangor

Pullen Wins Degree

Winston E. Pullen, assistant professor of agricultural economics and farm management, has received his Ph.D. degree from Cornell University. Dr. Pullen was recently appointed acting assistant agricultural economist in the Agricultural Experiment Station.

He was graduated from the University of Maine in 1941 with a major in agricultural economics and farm management.

Audio-Visual Lists Films

Maine schools, colleges, and civic organizations may now profit from a new catalog, issued by the Audio-Visual department, listing 600 films now available for use. Their purpose, as quoted from the list, is the improvement of instruction in institutional and adult education throughout the state. Copies of the catalog and films may be obtained at South Stevens Hall.

Lewis Studies At Heidelberg; Finds Girls There "Less Spoiled"

BY DOUG KNEELAND

Charles Lewis, University of Maine senior, who spent the school year 1949-50 at the University of Heidelberg, expressed the opinion last week that "the economic outlook for the people in the Western Zone of Germany is quite depressing." He supported this statement by pointing to the large number of unemployed persons in Western Germany.

In an entirely different vein, he was just as adamant in stating that the German girls are "much less affected and spoiled" than those of our own country.

Lewis commented very favorably on the educational system at Heidelberg, particularly in regard to the personal freedom students are allowed. The enrollment was comparable to that of Maine but that was a much closer contact between faculty and students than there is here, he said. The choice of subjects is wider and there is no time limit which one must feel confined to in his quest for a degree.

While at Heidelberg, Lewis was a member of the Philosophy Faculty (similar to our College of Arts and Sciences), and he said he found that his progress was much more rapid when freed from the restrictions which our system places on the individual.

When queried as to conditions throughout Europe, he said that he "had not traveled extensively enough to make a general statement," but that Belgium and Holland had risen to a state of "stable economy" while France was still in "bad shape."

Germany he termed "beautiful," and its people "friendly and without resentment."

After graduation, Lewis hopes to return to Europe if "it is financially possible."

Make Final Plans For Debaters' Meet

An exhibition debate will be presented at tonight's meeting of the Debate Council, to be held in 6 South Stevens at 7:15 p.m.

Those debating the affirmative of the question, Resolved: That the Non-Communist Nations Should Form a New International Organization, will be Clair Shirley and Al Weymouth. Those debating the negative will be John Brewer and Larry Wright.

This question will be the subject for the 1950-51 intramural debate tournament, according to Professor Wofford Gardner, head of the Speech Department.

Final arrangements for the intramural tournament will be made at tonight's meeting. Teams will be assigned to each side of the question, and the first debates will be scheduled.

As individual entries for the intramural tournament will close at this meeting, all interested students, as well as regular council members, are urged to attend.

We're 58 years young!

Help us celebrate!

Come to our big

ANNIVERSARY SALE

beginning FRIDAY of this week

FREESE'S

"MAINE'S GREAT STORE"

PAL HOLLOW GROUND

Your Best Blade Buy!

Shaves you better • Costs you less
PROVE IT YOURSELF AT OUR EXPENSE

Make this test. Don't risk a penny. Buy a package of PALS. Use as many as you wish. Then if you don't agree they're your best blade buy...more shaves, better shaves, at lowest cost...return the dispenser to us for refund of full purchase price. (If your dealer can't supply you, send us his name and address. Order type blades wanted and enclose payment. We'll reimburse dealer.)

Pal Blade Co., Inc., 43 West 57th St., New York 19, N.Y.

Fit your injector razor perfectly

PAL INJECTOR BLADES
20 for 59¢ 10 for 39¢
6 for 25¢ (Trial Size)

PAL SINGLE and DOUBLE EDGE
in ZIPAK dispenser
44 for 98¢ 10 for 25¢
21 for 49¢

ONE, TWO...OLD BLADE TO NEW

PAL single or double edge in regular packing, 4 for 10¢

Pal takes the Hour of SHAVING and leaves you a SAVING!

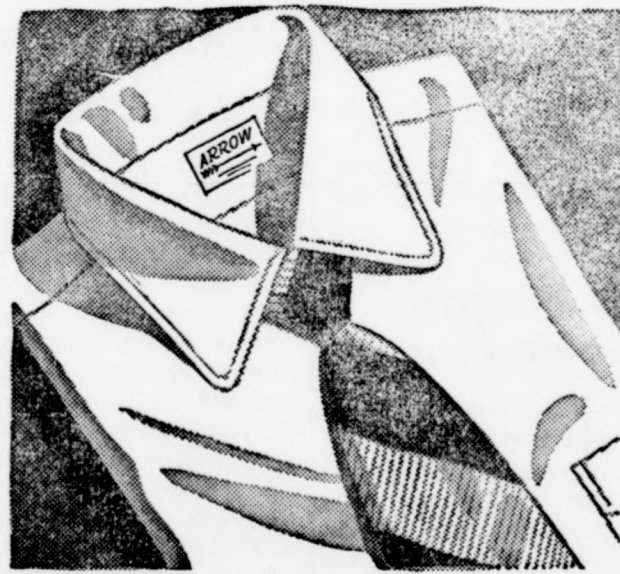

PAL—Hollow Ground like a barber's razor

Usual Blade—ground like a jackknife

The New,
Brand New

Arrow "Pell"

Smart Spread Collar
With Rounded Points!

$3.95

You'll like the new Arrow "Pell"... that wide flare, those new rounded points are mighty flattering! "Pell" comes in lustrous broadcloth, Sanforized-labeled, and Mitoga cut to fit. Drop in—see it today!

GOLDSMITH

Old Town

Maine

Hauck Accepts UN Banners From 2 Clubs

President Arthur A. Hauck received two United Nations flags and made two acceptance speeches, all within one-half hour, last Friday morning.

The first flag was presented by the Pine Tree Women's Farm Bureau, Bangor group. Duly accepted, photographed, admired, and folded, the flag was laid aside and President Hauck made ready to accept the second one.

Gratitude Is Expressed

Girls from the Home Economics Club stood by while their president, Marilyn Harmon, made her presentation speech on behalf of the club. President Hauck complimented Marilyn on her speech and appeared equally grateful for the second flag.

Cameras flashed again on variously arranged groups. To quell any apprehension over either flag's receiving display preference, President Hauck enumerated various places where the flags could be displayed either indoors or outdoors, including six flagpoles atop the Library.

Girls Present Flag

The flag presented by the school group was made by three girls from the Home Economics Club: Shirley Howard, Marie Bean, and Roseanne Pendleton. Other home economics girls in the presentation group were Ann Preble, vice president of the club; and Rita Morancy. Miss Esther A. Martin, home economics instructor who supervised the flag-making project, accompanied the girls.

The Extension Service, College of Agriculture, U. of M., in cooperation with the National Extension Service, has been spearheading efforts to encourage the making of United Nations flags throughout the state.

400 Flags In Maine

Both flags were displayed on United Nations Day, Oct. 24, and will be displayed on similar future occasions. Observance of this day is being promoted by the National Citizen's Committee for United Nations Day, of which Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is chairman.

The efforts of the Maine Extension Service have resulted in the making of over 400 UN flags in 350 Maine communities this month. These flags are being presented to schools, Granges, churches, and other organizations.

Students Register For New Aggie Course

Students who are taking the two-year agriculture course registered Monday and then attended a dinner in Hannibal Hamlin Hall in the evening. President Hauck, Dean Deering, and John C. Sealey, Jr., alumni secretary, addressed the group.

Classes started this week and will end May 5. Courses in dairy and poultry farming, farm mechanics, potato farming and fruit-and-vegetable growing are being offered.

FIRST with the
LATEST RECORDS
All Speeds
33 1/2-45-78 R.P.M.'s

VINER'S
MUSIC CO.

Maine's Most Complete
Music Store

51 Pickering Sq. Tel. 2-3378

University Calendar

THURSDAY, OCT. 26

- 7 p.m.—Amateur Radio Club, 25 Lord Hall.
- 7:30 p.m.—Scabbard & Blade, 15 Coburn Hall.
- 7:30 p.m.—OCUMMO, Carnegie lounge.
- 7:30 p.m.—Spanish Club, SRA Main Lounge.
- 8 p.m.—Sailing Club, 32 South Stevens.

FRIDAY, OCT. 27

- 10:45 a.m.—Assembly, Memorial Gym.
- Main Newspaper Day (See program on Page One).
- 7 p.m.—Parade starts at New Dorm 3.
- 7 p.m.—International Club, SRA Main Lounge.
- 7:30 p.m.—Football rally, Memorial Gym.
- 7:10 p.m.—Maine Area Student Christian Movement, Louis Oakes Room.
- 8 p.m.—Pi Beta Phi stag dance, Memorial Gym.

SATURDAY, OCT. 28

- 8-12 a.m.—Dedication of the new Pathology Building, Louis Oakes Room.
- 3-12 a.m.—M.A.S.C.M., 101 Carnegie Hall and Carnegie Lounge.
- 10-12 a.m.—Newspaper shop talk program, 3 Fernald Hall.
- Football—Maine vs. Bates at Orono.
- Cross Country—Maine vs. Springfield at Orono.

- 7-10 p.m.—M.A.S.C.M., Louis Oakes Room.

- 8 p.m.—Sigma Mu Sigma stag dance, Memorial Gym.

- 8-11:30 p.m.—Open house, New Dorm 3.

SUNDAY, OCT. 29

- 8-12 a.m.—M.A.S.C.M., Carnegie Lounge.

- 9:15 a.m.—Episcopal services, SRA Little Chapel.

- 11 a.m.—Protestant services, Little Theatre.

- 8-9-10-11 a.m.—Catholic masses, Our Lady of Wisdom Chapel.

- 2:30 p.m.—Panhellenic Council, Estabrooke Hall.

- 7-9 p.m.—Canterbury Club, SRA Reading Room.

MONDAY, OCT. 30

- Freshman Football—Frosh vs. Jayvees at Orono.

TUESDAY, OCT. 31

- 6:45 p.m.—Freshman Club, Memorial Gym.
- 7-9 p.m.—Women's Student Government, Carnegie Conference Room.
- 7 p.m.—Men's Student Senate, 15 Coburn Hall.
- 7-9 p.m.—Square Dance club, Women's gym.
- WEDNESDAY, NOV. 1
- 7 p.m.—Sophomore Owls meeting, Memorial Gym classroom.
- 7:30 p.m.—M Club meeting, 22 Wingate Hall.

Homecoming Tug-Of-War Battle Will Determine Fate Of Beanies

Maine Freshmen, anxious to doff their beanies, will have their chance on Nov. 4, Homecoming morning, according to Jim Elliot, president of the Senior Skulls. At 10:30 a.m., 50 Frosh challengers will pit their strength against 50 members of the Sophomore class in a tug-of-war to be held at the skating rink.

Rules will stay in effect "until an announcement is made at the game" that afternoon, according to Elliot. If the Freshmen win the contest, they may then throw away their caps, he explained. If not, the caps stay on.

Elliot put thumbs down on the proposal that the event be held across the Stillwater river. "Even if we could hold it there," he said, "we haven't a rope long enough."

Since the Frosh rebellion two weeks ago, the first-year men seem to have dropped plans for any further crusades against the beanies. The consensus among students is that the Homecoming contest will best decide the affair.

"The uprising had a reverse effect," said one freshman. "It was all disorganized. We just wanted to show some spirit. We'll wear the beanies willingly now."

Another member of the class of 1954 was emphatic in his protests. "Anyone who tries to take this beanie off before Homecoming is going to get his face bashed in," he affirmed.

Mrs. Maine Club Elects

The Mrs. Maine club held its Halloween party in the Balantine sun-parlor Tuesday night. An election of officers followed games and contests. The club is composed of wives of Maine students.

FOR RENT

For two male students, to share apartment with other students. Twin (new) bed, desk, closet, etc., kitchen has electric refrigerator, electric hot water tank, gas & oil range, cooking equipment. Rate $6.00 per week, including heat, electricity, etc., 3 miles from campus on bus line. House insulated and warm.

Mrs. L. W. Allen

255 Center St.

Old Town, 569

YOUR LATEST OUTSTANDING SCREEN HITS

NEW ENGLAND THEATRES, Inc.

OPERA HOUSE

BANGOR

Oct. 26, 27, 28

"THE DESERT HAWK"

Yvonne DeCarlo, Richard

Greene, Jackie Gleason,

Lois Andrews

Oct. 29, 30, 31, Nov. 1

"I'LL GET BY"

June Haver, William Lundigan,

Gloria DeHaven, Dennis Day,

Harry James

BIJOU

BANGOR

Oct. 25, 26, 27

"THE FIREBALL"

Mickey Rooney, Pat O'Brien,

Beverly Tyler, James Brown,

Marilyn Monroe

Oct. 28, 29, 30, 31

"TO PLEASE A LADY"

Clark Gable, Barbara Stanwyck

PARK

BANGOR

Oct. 25, 26

"THE BLACK ROSE"

Tyrone Power, Orson Welles

"MISSISSIPPI RHYTHM"

Jimmie Davis, Lee "Lassie"

White, James Flavin

Oct. 27, 28

"FLAXY MARTIN"

Virginia Mayo, Zachary Scott,

Dorothy Malone

"SINGING GUNS"

Vaughn Monroe, Ella Raines,

Walter Brennan

Bijou and Opera House operate continuously from 1:30 to 11 o'clock.

Matinee Prices: 35¢ to 5 o'clock

STRAND

ORONO

Wed. & Thurs., Oct. 25-26

Double Feature

"THE AVENGERS"

6:30-9:42

John Carroll, Adele Mara

Plus

"711 OCEAN DRIVE"

8:00

Edmund O'Brien, Joanne Dru

Fri. & Sat., Oct. 27-28

"THE PETTY GIRL"

(Technicolor)

Robert Cummings, Joan

Caulfield

Also Shorts

Sat. Mice2nt a2"fl"

Sun. & Mon., Oct. 29-30

"THREE SECRETS"

Eleanor Parker, Patricia Neal

Sun. Matinee 3:00; 6:30-8:19

Tuesday, Oct. 31

"CURTAIN CALL AT

CACTUS CREEK"

Donald O'Connor, Gale Storm

Also Shorts. 6:30-8:19

Wed. & Thurs., Nov. 1-2

"RED SHOES"

(Technicolor)

Anton Walbrook, Marius

Goring

At Regular Prices. 6:30-8:43

MOC Will Be Host At Hikers' Meeting

The Maine Outing Club will be host at the first convention of the Maine Council of Outing Clubs on December 2 and 3. Organized last spring at the Intercollegiate Outing Clubs Association conference, the new council includes clubs from the colleges, junior colleges, and teacher's colleges of Maine.

The conference aims at helping new clubs to organize and to exchange ideas. Hiking, square dancing, and outdoor sports will be featured during the week end. The convention will be at Beech Hill Pond.

Former Maine Student At Business Institute

Stephen T. Clafin, University of Maine student for the past two years, is enrolled in the foreign business department at the American Institute for Foreign Trade at Thunderbird Field, Phoenix, Arizona. Specializing in Latin American business, he will graduate this June with the class of 1951.

Freshman Club

Hallowe'en Party

Tues. Oct. 31

Have You Had Your McIntosh?

On sale now at Central Salesroom

in the Poultry Building

Selling season here will be short this year

so get the apple eating habit early

MIXMASTERS
CLEANSERS
CEMENT
FANS

PARK'S HARDWARE & VARIETY
31-37 MILL ST., ORONO, MAINE

SPRAYERS
LOCKSETS
SCALES
TOYS

Electrical Supplies

We have a complete stock
at popular prices

FISHING TACKLE - LINOLEUM BINDING - SIDING SHINGLES - FLASHLIGHTS - PADLOCKS - SEPTIC TANKS - V BELTS - SHELF BRACKETS

FLOOR WAXERS - WALLPAPER STEAMER - WAXED PAPER - GREETING CARDS - STEEL STOOLS - DISH TOWELS - POCKET ARTICLES - OVENS - DDT

ALUMINUMWARE - BITS - BRACES - LEVELS

People say—"You can find it at PARK'S"

HEATERS - SEEDS - WHEELBARROWS - TURNBUCKLES

The Maine Campus

Published Thursdays during the college year by students of the University of Maine. Subscription rate: 75¢ per semester. Local advertising rate: 60¢ per column inch. Editorial and business offices 4 Fernald Hall. Telephone Extension 52. Member Associated Collegiate Press. Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service Inc., College Publisher's Representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, N. Y. Entered as second class matter at the Post Office, Orono, Me.

Peace, It's Wonderful

Approximately 200 freshmen attended an organizational meeting of the Freshman Club last Thursday night. The fact that over one-quarter of the class attended indicates, perhaps, that the club will be more successful this year than it has been in the past. Attendance will undoubtedly dwindle at future meetings, but the large initial assembly is indicative of the "New Spirit" we've heard so much about.

The meeting was held in Memorial Gym—the scene of another kind of "meeting" ten days earlier. This time the Frosh used the occasion to get acquainted with the better dance and date prospects through the medium of vic-music. Refreshments were served, and a good time was had by all. All of which brings us to a point. The whole program went off without a hitch. No records were broken, no cider was thrown, and no beaks were busted. The freshmen, it seems, when left alone, are as capable of enjoying a quiet get-together as any other group.

At the business meeting before the dance, the Frosh agreed to meet again next Tuesday to elect officers and "get organized." We suspect that by the time Homecoming week end, with its tug-of-war, rolls around, they will be a well-organized group, with plans all made for a "beanie roast" celebration.

—WALT SCHURMAN

Horses Need Vitamins Too

We got quite a jolt from a recent AP dispatch. The story said the Massachusetts Racing Commission had suspended two harness-race driver for giving horses vitamin B₁. Under Massachusetts racing laws it is illegal to feed horses vitamin B₁ within 48 hours of a race.

One of the suspended drivers said he gave the horse the vitamin on a "veterinary's prescription to correct a deficiency in the horse's diet." A very likely story, indeed.

This is the sort of thing we like to see tracked down and followed through to the bitter end. Unchecked, it is appalling possibilities.

Vitamin B₁ is found abundantly in such items as liver, whole wheat bread, and whole wheat cereals. It is quite possible that the out-of-state football team which recently made such an unaccountably good showing on our field, may have been fed Wheaties the very morning of the game.

Certainly, if it's illegal for a horse to eat Wheaties before a race, it should be illegal for a left tackle to eat them before a game.

We feel that Maine has a very personal interest in this matter... Maine and Notre Dame.

Honesty Is The Best Policy

Reports have reached the Campus office to the effect that the moral caliber of some Maine students is not what it might be. The students who partially defray their college expenses by selling newspapers in the dining halls say that evidently some students think the coins lying in the change box are their personal beer money supplied by an anonymous benefactor. Perhaps it's only one student, but if so, that's one too many.

The time involved is too great and the remuneration too little for these concessionaires to stand guard over their papers and coin boxes. Hence, a stack of papers with a change box on top is left on a bench before breakfast begins. The whole operation takes the form of an exchange. The concessionaires get up while it is still dark, pick up their papers, carry them to the dining halls and leave some of their hard-earned money in the change box.

All this service is rendered so that late-rising students may have the convenience of their morning paper with their breakfast. In return the concessionaires ask only that the purchasers (1) leave the correct amount of money and (2) refrain from filling their pockets from the change box.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF.....Roland Mann
BUSINESS MANAGER.....Harry Hulley
ASSOCIATE EDITORS...Alvan Mersky, Jim Barrows, Dick Sprague
ADVERTISING MANAGER.....Mary Ellen Chalmers
DEPARTMENTAL EDITORS.....Bill Loubier (Sports),
Marilyn Hoyt (Society)

"If you think that was a good running block, you should be around when I take off his chains!"

Sacred Bull

By JIM BARROWS

Only 60 more days until Christmas! And some of the guys have already bought half their presents. Probably listened to Harry's speech on preparedness, and are taking no chances.

The University boasts another fraternity, as un-official as the Annex's Phi Delta Chapeau. It's five members, all seniors, have buddied around since '48. The two requisites for membership are that the pledge have a passion for spaghetti, and that he have made either the dean's list or probation during his first three years at Maine. So, Chuck, Stud, Pete, Fubb, and Little Stud: three cheers for Theta Sigma.

Maine's student hunters were out dark-and-early Saturday morning, peering down the sights of their rifles (or somebody else's rifles). A hard Friday night doesn't seem to bother some people. Others like to play golf in heavy storms.

Former Campus city editor Don King stopped by to see us before becoming government property. His new address will be Recruit Donald J. King, US 51037214, 663rd Trans. Trk. Co., Bldg. T 715, Camp Edwards, Mass.

Suppose you had to learn that address?

The student body is invited to attend Maine Newspaper day tomorrow and Saturday. If you have a spare period, drop in on one of these seminars. Last year's discussions were quite conducive to serious thought. Yeah!

For two weeks now, Schmo College, who lives in the Hannibal-Oak hall area, has been exercising his Constitutional prerogatives to an excessive degree in his vehemence against Commons culinary art. In plain language, he's griping about the chow. The kitchen help has been overheard to say, "Jeez, I'd feed you guys different. You'd have at least one good meal a week."

And who does this guy Hershey think he is? (This is not too pertinent to the University of Maine, but you can read it if you wish.)

Perhaps, after being more thoroughly educated by a couple more bull sessions, your Sacred Bull-slinger can present for your consumption the following:

1. An expose on Hershey's plan to draft all male college joes. (Comparatively few of us realize the inevitable benefits to be derived from compulsory military training.)

2. An expose on the Quoddy project (what the hell is the Quoddy Project?), scooping all other papers, national or local.

3. An expose, completely censored, on where the hell is our Student Union Building that we were promised would be done before we (of '51) graduated?

4. An expose on how to dig up exposes.

A Winchellorchid to Duke for his spur-of-the-moment rally last Sunday afternoon. [Terrific! What a combo! What a voice!]

Are you planning to run for the "Groaner Champ" in '51?

She wouldn't mention it in her column, so Happy Birthday, Marilyn, and many more.

I am snowed; you are snowed; it is snowing.....
Ma Nature's (Serutan spelled backwards) snowy mantle is already producing its quota of colds, runny noses, and stalled vehicles.

A short quiz to end all quizzes:
(1.) How would you spend a million dollars?

(2.) How would you get a million dollars? (Description of Brinks' hold-up not accepted.)

*Two Wheaties boxtops and a bar of Lava to the nearest correct answer.

Is the Campus turning into a freshman-faculty publication? Will Nellie find her ration book? And what of Mary? Will Phi Kap take her back on its "pinned-to-the-frat" list?

Don't miss next week's thrilling story. I don't know, either.

Blood Money Is Boon To The Broke

'Ods blood, Sirrah... There's gold in your veins!

Some red-blooded, one-hundred-percent campusites have been strengthening the budget by signing up as blood donors at $25 a pint in Bangor.

Investigation at the Eastern Maine General Hospital blood bank puts this enterprise in the uncertain income class, however. About the best you can hope for, if you're a scarce type "O" with an RH-negative, is the maximum frequency call of one donation every three months.

Other RH-negatives may expect a call about once in six months. Common, everyday types with positive RH factors may never get called.

Know Any Folklore? This Society Pays For Contributions

According to a recent announcement, Jo Stafford, popular singer, is offering cash prizes to college students for articles on American folklore, in an attempt to collect and preserve native culture.

Prizes of $125, $75, and $50 are being offered this year. Student's collections of what people do, say, sing, and pass on to following generations should be sent to Dr. Hector Lee, chairman of the contest committee appointed by the American Folklore Society, before January 15, 1951. His address is Chico State College, Chico, Calif.

The theses or dissertations must be gathered from primary sources and must be the result of original research. Manuscripts must be typed and accompanied by letters explaining when, where, and how the material was collected.

Registrar's Office Plans For Eternity

Want to find out what day of the week July 4, 1805, fell on, or what day May 20, 1960, will be? The registrar's office has a calendar which can tell you. Known as a universal calendar, it covers a period of 200 years, from 1800 to 2000.

So, if you want to know the day on which your girl's birthday will fall three years from now... provided you're that far-sighted... why not check with the registrar's office?

Mail Bag

A Cheer For The Team

To the Editor: To those who were fortunate enough to witness the Maine-UConn game last Saturday it was evident that guts and the "will to do" are practically an unconquerable combination. Such determination, however, can hardly survive when there's nothing left for which to win.

In spite of all the recent ballyhoo concerning the re-birth of Maine spirit, the football squad climbed on the bus last Friday with no more send-off than a sleepy nod from the Field House janitor. When they returned, after one of the greatest games most of them had ever played, they were mobbed by 200 loyal students.

How about breaking out the University band, both going and coming? Perhaps an area could be roped off for it.

BILL ROBERTSON

Pictured above from right to left are Emil Winter, last year's "Mr. University," Dwight Frye, winner of this year's contest, and Don McGlaulin, this year's alternate.

—Longley Photo

Frye Is Fourth Mr. University

Dwight Frye, '52, with no previous radio experience, talked his way to the title of "Mr. University" this week as he competed for the honor against 30 other contestants. Frye, a five-year pulp and paper major, succeeds Emil Winter as the fourth "Mr. University." All classes were represented in the try-outs, but Maine's new "Voice" was a unanimous selection of the judges. Professor Wofford Gardner, J. Duff Gillespie, and William Whiting of the speech department served as judges.

The runner-up and alternate is Don McGlaulin, Sigma Chi, class of 1951, an English major from South Portland. McGlaulin also has had no radio experience.

Frye and McGlaulin will share programs. The first program, "Strenuous Strenuousity," is centered around Captain Albert Stevens, an outstanding alumnus of the University.

Radio time is now being scheduled over WLBZ for the Guild productions.

Anonymous Gift To Gallery

An original watercolor, Ogden M. Pleissner's "Pont St. Marie," has been presented to the Art department by an anonymous donor. The painting shows one of Paris' famous bridges. It was selected from a group of paintings recently made by Pleissner in Europe.

Born in Brooklyn, Pleissner sold his first painting, a view of a neighbor's back yard, to the Metropolitan Museum of Art in 1932. Since then he has received many prizes and honors, and his works are now in the Brooklyn Museum, the Toledo Museum, the Minneapolis Art Museum, and many other public and private collections.

Critics liken his work to that of Winslow Homer. Ernest Watson, noted art critic and author says, "Pleissner's popularity is quite permanent because he is interested in the kind of subjects most people consider worth painting. He is no propagandist, out to reform society, unless it be through contemplation of nature's delight."

The painting is now on exhibition in the Seminar room of the Art department in Carnegie Hall.

Mu Alpha Initiates

Maine's honorary music society, Mu Alpha Epsilon, held its initiation ceremonies Sunday at 8:30 p.m. in Carnegie hall. New members admitted were Roberta Hendricks, John Godsoe, Janice Cogswell, Robert Haynes,

Pathology Building Features "New And Better Equipment"

(Continued from Page One)

should enable this state to maintain its fine record.

Besides its facilities to work with pullorum, mastitis, Bang's disease, and many other domestic animal disorders, the laboratory will now be able to increase the scope of its wildlife inspection. Its work in this field represents a valuable contribution to the state's game animal resources.

In addition to its function as a service to Maine farmers, the laboratory serves as a workshop for several of the University's agricultural classes.

Students in these classes are concerned with animal diseases, domestic animal anatomy, animal hygiene, domestic animal physiology, poultry diseases, and disease and parasite control in wildlife.

The laboratory personnel no longer have to "live with the animals," as Dr. Witter puts it. The third floor of the new building provides "wards" for small animals and birds known to be, or suspected to be, diseased or undergoing inoculations. "Much, much better!" says Dr. Witter.

Come in and see our Fine Assortment of Men's Suits and Top Coats
also
Men's and Women's Storm Coats,
Bostonian Shoes, Dobbs Hats, Pendleton Shirts
SHOP WITH CONFIDENCE AT

VIRGIE'S

Mill Street

Orono

BEN SKLAR'S

Old Town

Maine

Headquarters for VAN HEUSEN PRODUCTS
● SHIRTS ● PAJAMAS ● SPORT SHIRTS
● NECKWEAR ● WOLSEY SOCKS

not a stitch in sight...

on the new
Van Chick

the shirt with the secret stitches

It's what you don't see that's the sensation. Not a stitch to be seen on the wide-spread collar, cuffs... or down the clean-cut button front. In white, colors, and novelty weaves... guaranteed not to shrink out of size. $3.95

Van Heusen shirts
"the world's smartest!"
PHILLIPS-JONES CORP., NEW YORK 1, N. Y.

Allan Lewis Co.
175-181 Exchange Street • Bangor

Pan-Hel Council Meets

Both the Freshman and transfer women students met with the Panhellenic council in the Louis Oakes room last Monday night to discuss "An introduction to Sororities." Winifred Ramsdell, Theresa O'Reilly, Joanne Josslyn, Mary Linn, and Mrs. Sam Sezak were speakers.

— AMMUNITION —
Burpee-Davidson Co.
HARDWARE
Orono, Maine

Snack Bar in Carnegie Library
University of Maine
Orono, Maine

THE MAINE CAMPUS

In Orono, Maine, a favorite gathering spot of students at the University of Maine is the Snack Bar in Carnegie Library because it is a cheerful place—full of friendly collegiate atmosphere. And when the gang gathers around, ice-cold Coca-Cola gets the call. For here, as in college haunts everywhere—Coke belongs.

Ask for it either way... both trade-marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY THE COCA-COLA BOTTLING PLANTS, INC.

© 1950 The Coca-Cola Company

Swimmers
go in for
HEINE'S
BLEND
Fragrant
PIPE
TOBACCO

SUTLIFF TOBACCO CO. 650 FIFTH ST. S.F. Calif.
HEINE'S TOBACCO CO. Massillon, Ohio

Extension Adds Four Courses

Four new courses will be added to the list of over 30 offered by the General Extension Division of the University, according to Dean Mark R. Shibles.

Two of the courses will be given in Biddeford, he said. Analytic geometry will be presented by David Hopkinson, and engineering mathematics by Tim C. Preston. Walter W. Leach, instructor in psychology at the University of Maine, will give a course in mental hygiene in Patten, Maine. Professor Payson Smith will present a course, the "Philosophy of Education," in Brewer.

During 22 years of regular play, Babe Ruth hit 714 home runs and added 15 more in world series contests.

Weekly University Society

By MARILYN HOYT

Note from a Student's diary: October 20-22—We had our first snow fall...our potential Hiawathas are dusting off their shot guns...birds aren't too plentiful...Maine won over Connecticut, 16-7...Thansgiving vacation is almost here...Can't get caught up on my studying...gosh, I'm sleepy.

Sigma Chi's Sunday afternoon jam session was variegated with campus talent.

Dottie McCann sang several songs while Dick Danforth played bass on the tub.

Delta Zeta held a tea Tuesday afternoon from 3-5 in North Estabrooke. Quite a universal student.

Phi Mu sorority held a "Welcome

Tea" for the foreign students on Sunday, Oct. 15. The serving table was attractively decorated.

Besides the 27 foreign students, President and Mrs. Hauck, Dean Edith Wilson, Dean and Mrs. Elton Wieman, house directors, and house and sorority presidents attended.

The Elms had a costume party last Saturday evening.

Guests were required to come dressed as twins. First prize for best costume went to two angels, Shirley Howard and Ed Merrill.

The house was attractively decorated with leaves, crepe paper, and clusters of fruit. Couples danced to vic music. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

Friday, Oct. 13, Alpha Gam entertained the Elms girls at a buffet supper. The house was decorated with autumn leaves.

MARILYN

A lot of birthday parties last week. Members of the Radio Script Writing Class gave Marge Williamson a birthday party Friday afternoon, Oct. 13, in her office.

Edith Curtis also held an informal dinner party at her home in Orono a couple of Saturdays ago, in honor of her 21st birthday.

Connie Barry was another recipient of a surprise birthday party held Sunday night, Oct. 15, in South Estabrooke.

Over 50 couples attended Sigma Nu's Friday the 13th Hobo Hop. The house was decorated to resemble a hobo jungle and the guests came dressed as tramps.

Sigma Chi celebrated that week end with a square dance party Saturday night.

Joyce Chipman called the dances and Earl Williams was in charge of the party. Over 100 couples attended.

Recent pinnings: Peggy Bowden, Rumford, to Alec Agostinelli, Kappa Sig; Carolyn Mooers, New England Baptist Hospital, to Prescott Johnson, Sigma Chi.

President Hauck Says Our House In Good Order

In most important respects, the state of the University is good, Pres. Arthur A. Hauck told a group of student leaders from 140-odd campus organizations at a banquet last Sunday evening in Estabrooke Hall.

Commenting on the condition of the roads and some other physical facilities of the University, Dr. Hauck said, "We have felt that education came first, and should continue to do so."

He discussed the problem of enrollment, and declared that while this fall's registration figure of 3600 was larger than expected, the long-term picture promises a slow but steady increase in college enrollments all over the country.

Plans for the new Student Union Building are due to be completed in two or three weeks, Dr. Hauck stated. "While they may seem to have been a long time in the making," he said, "it must be kept in mind that we are building, not for a decade, but for a century or more."

According to Charles E. Crossland, director of Student and Public Relations, the University expects to be ready to receive bids on the structure from contractors some time this fall.

Dr. Hauck concluded his talk with a discussion on Maine spirit and its meaning. To him, he said, Maine spirit means courtesy, friendliness, and respect for the rights of others. The use of toilet paper as confetti at football games and rallies seems to him inconsistent with the best of Maine spirit, he remarked, adding that he was confident that it could be eliminated with the help of proper guidance from within the student body.

ARROW DEALER
in Old Town
A. J. Goldsmith

M. L. French & Son
196 Exchange St. Bangor
ARROW DEALER IN BANGOR

For Your "Double Life"...

New Arrow "Doubler"

It's easy to quick-change with the "Doubler." For lounging, for sports... wear the collar open. Close it, add a tie... and you're set for class or date. Try it!

$3.95

ARROW SHIRTS & TIES
UNDERWEAR • HANDKERCHIEFS • SPORTS SHIRTS

FREESE'S MEN'S SHOPS
MAIN STREET BANGOR, MAINE
Headquarters
FOR ARROW PRODUCTS

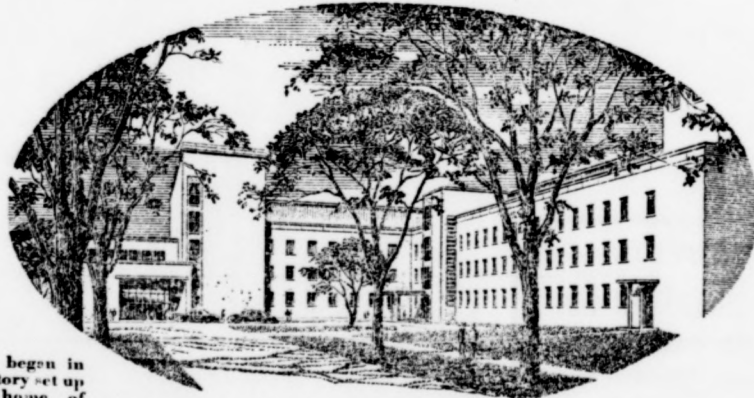

"You haven't completed your college education until you've had a course at Pat's"

Farnsworth Cafe

Orono

Maine

50 YEARS
of General Electric Research

Industrial research began in 1900 in G-E laboratory set up in barn behind home of Charles P. Steinmetz.

When the General Electric Research Laboratory was established in 1900, it was the first industrial laboratory devoted to fundamental research.

At that time E. W. Rice, Jr., then vice president of General Electric, said:

Although our engineers have always been liberally supplied with every facility for the development of new and original designs and improvements of existing standards, it has been deemed wise during the past year to establish a laboratory to be devoted exclusively to original research. It is hoped by this means that many profitable fields may be discovered.

Many profitable fields were discovered—profitable not only for General Electric but also for industry, the American public, and the world.

A half century ago the industrial experimental laboratory was itself an experiment. This month it begins its second half-century with the dedication of a new building, greatly augmenting the facilities it offers to the advancement of man's knowledge.

You can put your confidence in—

GENERAL ELECTRIC

Bates Here Saturday For First State Series Contest

Bear Facts

By BILL LOUBIER

Disappointing Homecoming fans for the opposing teams seems to be a favorite pastime with the Maine football squad. Last week the Bears continued their destructive wave of marring the opponents' big week ends by trouncing Connecticut 16-7.

Last year, the squad dampened the spirits of New Hampshire fans at Durham, to the tune of 13 points, when they defeated the Wildcats 26-13. Two years ago, they trekked to Bowdoin as a decided underdog, and pulled out a 7-6 triumph over the Polar Bears.

So it seems that every year, at least one opponent is fated to suffer a loss when their student-alumni homecoming crowd is seated in the grandstand.

Little publicity has been given one group of boys who have been busily putting the University on the map and also making a name for themselves. We are referring to the Sailing Club.

Last year, this group copped the unofficial state title at Brunswick when they defeated the rest of the Maine colleges by outclassing and outpointing them all the way.

The club is still in its infancy upon entering its sophomore year, but it has attracted wide attention and favorable comment.

The club is still a long way from being officially recognized by the University Athletic Board, however. It takes a great deal of interest by the participants, an impressive record, and a good argument to the Board to be able to convince them that the University needs a Sailing team.

It took the Tennis Club five years to become a team and the golf squad all of four years for official recognition.

As it stands now the athletic budget is made out for the next three years, thereby making it impossible for the club to be officially recognized during that time.

We think that the addition of another sport to the roster of Maine's long list of sports would certainly bring favorable attention to the school. We think that if the matter comes up it should not be thrown out but tabled until the possibilities are better.

Women's Sports

By SALLY ARSENEAULT

At the end of the second week of the girls' double round-robin hockey tournament, the class standings are:

Freshmen won-2	tied-2
Sophomore won-2	tied-1
Junior lost-3	tied-0
Senior won-1	lost-2 tied-1

The hockey season will be climaxed on homecoming week end by the annual Freshman vs. Sophomore Hat Game at 8:30 Saturday, November 4. At 9:30 the juniors and seniors vs. the alumnae will play field hockey.

At the end of the hockey season the honorary awards of being on the All Maine Team and All Maine Reserve will be presented at a hockey supper.

There is still time to enter the Archery tournament by playing on Friday-3:30.

Varsity Dalers In Vital Meet With Gymnasts

Coach Chester Jenkins' varsity cross country squad, unbeaten in four straight starts, will attempt to remain in the undefeated bracket when they meet a strong Springfield College team Saturday.

This is their last dual meet of the year.

Maine, paced by the sparkling Dick Dow, will try to repeat its last year's victory over the Gymnasts, which they won 25-32. In the team's four meets this year Dick Dow has set one record and shattered three others. His most recent performance was last Saturday against New Hampshire. For the second time he lowered the course record, this time by 17 seconds.

The major part of Springfield's team is made up of sophomores who were members of the last year's Gymnast Frosh squad.

They made a very impressive showing in last year's New England meet. Returning to compete will be Angel who took a second from Maine, last year.

Although this is the last meet of the year for the harriers, they still have the State Meet, the New England Meet, and the IC4A to sharpen their sights on.

No Upsets Recorded As Tennis Tourney Nears Final Round

The annual fall tennis tournament has reached the eighth finals and according to coach G. W. Small there have been no major upsets in the matches as yet.

Seven seeded players have already come through. They are: Ben Blanchard, Paul Peterson, Bill Bird, Dana Warren, Gordon Johnston, Dick True, and Bob Lepage. Both Blanchard and Warren have reached the quarter finals in their respective matches. Two minor upsets occurred when Dunc Pearson and Gene Drolet both lost their rounds.

The Maine tennis coach was pleased with the showing of the Freshmen. Emil Touchette, Ken Bernard, Nelson Luce, Dave Bradford, Art Traub, Mark Lieberman, and Preston Hall all received favorable comment from the tennis coach.

A total of 16 players have come through from the starting 76 and Coach Small had this to say about the tourney: "The prospects of replacing the loss of three of last year's veterans look good at this time. I expect to be able to build up a strong team around three of last season's veterans, Ben Blanchard, Paul Peterson, and Bill Bird."

Intramural Basketball Starts Before Vacation

The intramural basketball season will start before Thanksgiving, according to Coach Sam Szak. Dormitory, fraternity, and off-campus students who are interested in entering teams may pick up entry blanks at the Physical Education office, he said. He stated that all entries must be in the office by Nov. 3.

Dow Shines In Cross Country As Bears Remain Undefeated

Coach Chet Jenkins has a reason to smile when talking about his ace cross country runner, Dick Dow. The Maine star has been setting a torrid pace in cross country competition by posting one record and breaking three others in the first four Maine meets.

The boy from Friendship has compiled this amazing record without the added experience in high school. He attended both Weston high in Massachusetts and Livermore Falls high in Maine where neither school had a coach.

At Maine Dow captained the Annex Frosh to a very successful season two years ago when the squad lost but one meet, that to the Maine sophomores of Orono. He was the number one man there and placed third in the New England and 14 in the Nationals.

In his sophomore year the Maine harrier was just behind the number one man, Harland Harnden. Despite this fact he managed to take a first against Boston College in a dual meet, and a fourth place in Yankee Conference competition. He also placed sixth in the New England.

This year his victories have been just short of spectacular. The lanky 5 ft. 9 in., 150 pounder set a record on the new Bates course. In the Pale Blue's second meet against New Brunswick, Dow bettered the 3½ mile record and set the new time of 18:07. He commented that this was the roughest course he had ever run.

In the last two meets Maine has competed on their own home course. Against Colby, the fleet footed runner shattered a New Hampshire record time of 21:34 by 23 seconds. The previous mark had been set by Cy Dunkley. In their last encounter against New Hampshire he shaved off an additional 17 seconds.

Maine has come up again with a truly good runner and again the cross country team is being put on the map, not only by one man, however, but by a host of good competitors.

Jayvees, Frosh Clash Oct. 30

A great deal will be decided on Monday Oct. 30 at 2:00 p.m. when the Jayvees under the guidance of end coach John Cuddeback and the Frosh under Sam Sezak meet on the athletic field.

The Frosh have won both their games this year, defeating Maine Central Institute, 12-6, and downing Higgins Classical, 7-0. On the other hand, the Jayvees have played only one game as a unit, losing 20-12, to the Maine Maritime Academy in a hard fought game.

Last year's game between the two teams found the Jayvees on the long end of a 7-0 score. Needless to say, the Frosh are out to avenge that setback.

Head Coach Dave Nelson and his two assistants, Hal Westerman and Mike Lude, will be two interested scouts at the game. They are looking for replacements to fill in the posts held by the senior members of this year's varsity squad.

Freshman Thinclads Take On Invading Old Town Harriers

Coach Chester Jenkins' Freshman cross country squad will attempt to continue its whirlwind winning streak next Tuesday when a strong Old Town aggregation invades the home course.

The Old Town harriers surprised nearly everyone but themselves, last week, when they won out over five other teams, two of which had beaten them before, in a sectional meet here at Orono.

The hard-running frosh have been victors in four straight meets to date. Ellsworth, Bangor, Lee Academy, and Ashland have all looked at the heels of the freshman runners, at the tape. The trio of Frosh harriers which are giving the opposition plenty to worry about are Bob Farrington, Carlton MacLean, and Jerry Mills. They also show promise of giving Old Town the same trouble.

Key Men Return To Bear Line-Up For Game

By BOB LORD

Grid action on the State Series front blows wide open with all its color and excitement this week end as the four Maine colleges prepare to take each other apart in the annual battle for the coveted flag.

In the first round this Saturday, the Black Bears of Coach Dave Nelson are pitted against Bates' resurgent Bobcats in what promises to be a thriller all the way. Game time here is 1:30 p.m. At Waterville, Bowdoin will face Colby's sparkling "Mule Train," which has been rolling over everything in sight since an opening game loss.

Records May Mislead

Maine will enter its first Series tussle with a far more enviable record than the Garnet forces of Coach Ducky Pond. But past contests and results of within-the-state tilts show that the record book may well be put away in some dusty corner.

Thus far this season, the Pale Blue performers have victimized Rhode Island, Vermont, and Connecticut. New Hampshire has dealt Maine its only loss. Bates, on the other hand, has suffered losses by lopsided scores to Springfield, Tufts, Rhode Island, and Massachusetts. But last week end, the Garnet Squad surprised the Maine sports world by edging a highly regarded Northeastern eleven.

Key Men Back

Maine's coach Nelson will have back in the line-up several key players who did not see service against Connecticut. Returning to action should be Bob Whytock, Milt Victor, Ray Cox, Joe Alex, and Fred Fitantes. Gordon Pendleton and Hal Marden, who saw very little action at Storrs, are also slated for full-time duty. Les Leggett and Karl Burton are still sidelined, and there is some possibility that Bill Bird may not be available come Saturday.

Last Quarter Drive

The Bear eleven, despite being riddled with injuries in key spots, chalked off their third Yankee Conference win of the season last week at Storrs, by spanking the Uconns, 16-7. All Maine's points came in the final canto. Gene Sturgeon fired a pass to Walt Hewins for the first Bear tally, and Win Brown converted to tie the game at 7-all.

Brown then booted a field goal to put the Pale Blue ahead 10-7, whereupon a pass interception set up another six-pointer for Maine. Phil Coulombe blasted over for the final score.

Last Year

Maine suffered its first State Series set-back at the hands of the Bobcats by a 6-0 score.

Last year's statistics:

	Me.	Bates
First Downs	8	9
Yds. gained rushing	112	131
Forwards	12	10
Completed	3	4
Yds. Gained	34	38
Intercepted by	1	2
Punting	31	37
Yds. lost penalties	25	0

Publishers To Hold Seminars

(Continued from Page One)

Library. Vincent Hartgen, associate professor of art, has arranged for the exhibition of a group of William Gropper's satirical lithographs on political subjects.

Weekly newspapers will be exhibited in the journalism rooms in Fernald Hall.

President Hauck will welcome the visiting editors and publishers to the University at a Friday luncheon, in Estabrooke Hall, at 12:45.

Public seminars (see program on Page One) will be held tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 5 in the Louis Oakes Room of the Library.

Louis M. Lyons, curator for the Nieman Foundation for Journalism at Harvard University, will speak on "The Newspaper Job."

"Freedom Of Information"

Herbert Brucker, editor of the Hartford Courant, will speak on "Freedom of Information on the Home Front." Brucker is the author of "Freedom of Information."

Harold L. Cross, newspaper lawyer and former associate dean of Columbia University's graduate school of journalism, will lead a seminar on "Significant Legal Events Affecting Newspapers."

At 10 a.m. Saturday there will be an informal gathering of speakers, and visiting editors and publishers in Room 3, Fernald Hall.

Col. Summers To Speak

At 10:30, Lt. Col. William M. Summers, former editor-in-chief of the Stars and Stripes, European edition, now a staff member of Maine's military department, will speak on "Journalism and the Armed Services."

At 11 a.m. John McKernan, sports commentator and co-publisher of the Penobscot Times, will speak on "Sports News for Community Papers."

Legislators Meet To Dedicate Lab

(Continued from Page One)

sociations, the Maine Farm Bureau Federation, and the Maine State Grange.

Clarence Parker, of Sebec Station, a member of the legislature and the Advisory Council, was particularly active in promoting appropriation legislation for the building.

Other Advisory Council members, agricultural leaders, and officers of agricultural groups who have been invited to attend are Waldo Chick, during whose presidency of the Maine Poultry Improvement Association the legislation was enacted; H. Parkman White, present president of the association; Norris Clements, Winterport, Advisory Council member; Edward Denny, Damariscotta, Advisory Council member; Clifford McIntyre, president of the Maine Federation of Agricultural Associations; Frank W. Hussey, president of the Maine Farm Bureau Federation; Lewis C. Guptill, master of the Maine State Grange; Clifford Smith, president of the Maine Livestock Breeders Association; Fred Nutter of Corinna; and Obed Millet of Palmyra.

A luncheon for the visitors will be held in Estabrooke Hall at noon, following the dedication. The group will also be guests of the University for the Bates-Maine game in the afternoon.

East and West Halls are temporary dormitories acquired through the Federal Public Housing Authority.

Riflemen Are Active On Target Range

U. of M. devotees of rifle competition are getting their season off to an active start, with a large number taking advantage of new facilities provided by the Military Department.

A completely remodeled rifle range, located in the college armory, is now available to all students. Several rifle teams are now practicing daily on the range, which is said to be one of the best in New England.

According to Sgt. Earl B. Eastwood, varsity rifle team coach, the range now has many additions and improvements. A new target backstop has been installed, which completely eliminates the possibility of bullets ricocheting back on the range. Room is provided for four men to shoot at the same time, either prone or standing.

A girls' rifle team is being formed and now practices regularly on Thursday nights. About eight girls have shown interest in the team, and it is hoped that many more will try out.

Furkey Named ROTC Instructor

First Lieutenant John D. Furkey has been appointed as instructor in basic infantry on the school's ROTC staff.

Lt. Furkey arrived here Oct. 12 after he had been called into the service as a reserve officer. He holds an A.B. degree from St. Michaels College, where he graduated in 1949.

A native of Burlington, Vt., the lieutenant spent five years in the infantry as an enlisted man during the war. He served in both the European and Mediterranean theaters of operation and was in the D-Day invasion of France with the 28th division.

Following his release from the army in 1947, Lt. Furkey returned to complete his college studies which he left in 1942.

Four men on the 1950 University of Maine ski team have jumped distances exceeding 200 feet.

Smith Speaks At Dinner

Dr. Payson Smith, of the School of Education, is scheduled to speak today at the annual dinner meeting of the University of Maine Alumni Teachers' Association. The meeting will be held at the United Baptist Church in Lewiston.

Delta Zeta Holds Tea

The annual Founders Day tea of Delta Zeta sorority was held last Tuesday in the President's room, North Estabrooke. Guests at the affair were house mothers and members of other sororities. Members of Delta Zeta poured and acted as hostesses.

HILLSON ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

For the week of October 23, 1950

To

GREG MCFARLAN

For his fine work as Committee Head of the "Crusade for Freedom" Drive

The recipient of this award is entitled to
$2.00 PERSONAL CLEANING SERVICE
ABSOLUTELY FREE

HILLSON CLEANERS

18 Mill Street

Orono 647

Be Happy-Go Lucky!

"I'm pretty bright, I make straight 'A's,"
I'll soon have my degree,
I know the facts you've got to know—
Like L.S./M.F.T.

By Robert S. Kaiser
Colorado School of Mines

"It's not in any book, I know,
But just the same it's true.
If you would like a perfect smoke
It's Lucky Strike for you!"

By Carolyn M. Lauer
University of Michigan

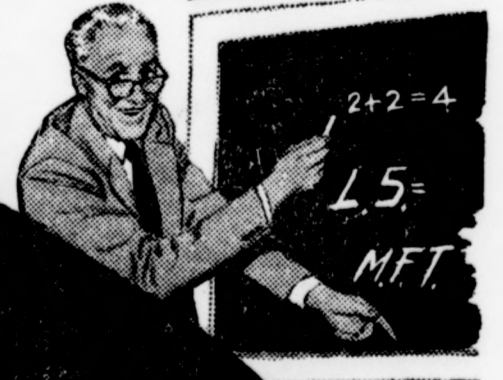

Enjoy your cigarette! Enjoy truly fine tobacco that combines both perfect mildness and rich
taste in one great cigarette - Lucky Strike!

Perfect mildness? You bet. Scientific tests, confirmed by three independent consulting laboratories, prove that Lucky Strike is milder than any other principal brand. Rich taste? Yes, the full, rich taste of truly fine tobacco.

Only fine tobacco gives you both real mildness and rich taste. And Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. So enjoy the happy blending that combines perfect mildness with a rich, true tobacco taste. Be Happy—Go Lucky!

Professors are a different lot,
They teach us Lit. and Psych.
But when it comes to cigarettes
They all teach Lucky Strike!

By John D. Wilson
Brown University

L.S./M.F.T.-Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco

COPR., THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY