21 Seniors are Honored by Election to Phi Kappa Phi

The election of twenty-one seniors to Phi Kappa Phi was announced this week by Prof. Edward N. Brush, secretary of Phi Kappa Phi. Membership in this society is the highest scholastic honor obtainable at the University of Maine. The new members are:

Rockwood N. Berry, major in horticulture, is a member of Alpha Zeta, Scabbard and Blade, Maine Masque, Future Farmers of America, and was winner of the Hood Scholarship.

Corinne L. Comstock, history and government major, has received the Secondary School Scholarship and the Chi Omega sociology prize. She is a member of Neai Mathetai and of the All-Maine Women.

Donald B. Devoe, majoring in physics, won the Phi Beta Kappa scholarship in his sophomore year and is a member of the Physics Club.

Lloyd W. Griffin, an English major, received a University Scholarship and has taken the tutorial honors course.

Charles A. Hall, zoology major, is a member of Pack and Pine, the Debating Society, and the Biology Club. Frances T. Horne, majoring in psychology, is a transfer from Westbrook Junior College, a member of the glee club, and winner of the Chi Omega sociology prize.

Edward L. Kozicky, a major in wildlife conservation, is a member of the Maine Outing Club and the Forestry Club.

Alfred A. Mann, chemical engineering major, has been a member of the baseball team and is a member of Tau Beta Pi.

Robert S. McDonald, a major in engineering physics and a transfer from Portland Junior College, is a member of Tau Beta Pi, Pale Blue Key, Maine Masque, Physics Club, Der Deutsche Verein, and I.A.A.

Margaret E. Philbrook, history major, is a member of the campus Photography Club, International Relations Club, and Students Arts Club.

Alumni Gather for Homecoming Day Celebration As Brice Readies Eleven for Dangerous Colby Visitors

Mules Substitute Passes for Lost Johnny Daggett

By John P. Dimmer

With an enthusiastic Homecoming Day crowd in the stands, the varsity football team will attempt to break into the State Series win column when they clash with the undefeated Colby Mules at Alumni Field on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. The Bears, disappointed after their close 7-6 defeat by Bates on Saturday, are expected to play their best ball of the current season in an effort to remain in the running for the state crown.

Colby enters the contest with an imposing record. The powerful Mules have smashed their way to four wins in five games, their only setback being the 13 to 13 tie with Bowdoin on last Saturday. Coach Al McCoy's eleven boasts wins over New Hampshire, City College of New York, Vermont, and Middlebury.

Colby Backfield Powerful

Although Colby will sorely miss the services of its speedy climax runner, Johnny Daggett, the Mules will have no lack of backfield material in Saturday's contest. Bob LaFleur, sophomore halfback playing his first year of varsity ball, is the triple-threat man of the visitors. LaFleur has starred in every Colby game thus far, with his passing and kicking paving the way for most of the Mule wins.

In the shifty Daggett's place, Coach McCoy will probably start Wendell Brooks, whose capable play has evoked much favorable comment. Turk Hassan, the Mohammedan quarterback of the visitors, will call signals and act as blocking back. At fullback Hayward is the probable starter. (Continued on Page Three)

'Cabbages and Kings' to Open Monday Night

First Production Features Large Student Cast

The Maine Masque's first production of the current year, "Cabbages and Kings," will open on Monday night, Nov. 4, in the Little Theatre for a four-night run.

Directed by Herschel Bricker, the play by Beatrice Besse and Frank Hanson is a satire on present-day society.

Music for the show, which includes all original tunes, is under the direction of Steve Kierstead.

Appearing in the singing leads are Elayne Snow and Harold Blood, playing the parts of Alice and Bill respectively.

The complete cast is as follows: Cards—Faulkner Chase, William Demant, Edward Falardeau, Buel Godwin, Bud Hatch, Charles Inman, Charles Pfeiffer, John Robie, Betty Albert, Jane Barker, Emma Broisman, Winona Cole, Rita Johnson, Barbara Savage, and Mollie Tarr.

President Hauck Toastmaster at Annual Luncheon

Two new events will be included in the Homecoming program this weekend, it was announced by the Alumni Office here this week.

During the "M" Club meeting Friday evening at 7:30, an alumni-faculty social gathering will be held in the M.C.A. building. The entertainment will include campus movies, games, and refreshments.

To give the alumni an opportunity to see Estabrooke Hall, new women's dormitory, an open house will be held immediately after the football game Saturday afternoon. Tea and light refreshments will be served.

To Present Service Emblem

A feature of the alumni-faculty luncheon Saturday at 11:45 a.m. will be the presentation of the Alumni Service Emblem by Alumni President George Bearce.

Robert Thurrell, vice-president of the Alumni Association, will pay tribute to the guests of honor, the championship hammer throwers, in behalf of whom Archer L. Grover, '39, will respond.

Pres. Arthur A. Hauck will act as toastmaster at the luncheon, at which Gov. Lewis O. Barrows and Pres. Franklin W. Johnson, of Colby College, will also be guests. Five hundred and fifty alumni and faculty attended the affair last year. (Continued on Page Four)

Gov. Barrows Rally Speaker

Gov. Lewis O. Barrows is expected to be the guest speaker at the Homecoming rally Friday night at 6:45, preceding the second State Series game with Colby Saturday.

The rally will finish with the touching off of a huge bonfire behind the Memorial Gymnasium. Prior to the rally there will be a parade around the campus, headed by the band and the cheerleaders.

The program includes a trumpet solo by Ken Wright and an entertainment sponsored by the Sophomore Owls. Other speakers besides the governor will be Coach Fred Brice, Sam Sezak, Jayvee coach, and Phil Jones, freshman football coach.

Radio Programs Get Started On New Basis

Kierstead Presents 'Masque' Songs on Special Broadcast

The first production of the current season of the University of Maine Radio Guild went on the air last Sunday night, Oct. 27, from the studio in Lord Hall over a WLBZ hook-up.

Those who participated in the program were Dave Astor, Robert Elwell, Philip Pierce, Chester Cram, Robert Harrison, Esther Holden, Grace Burdell, and Betty Thomas. Narrators were Russell Woolley and Richard Davis. Don Taverner was production assistant, and Duane Marshall was technician for the show.

On Wednesday, Oct. 30, at 7:45 p.m., Steve Kierstead and his orchestra went on the air with a special program, presenting a preview of the music from "Of Cabbages and Kings," the fall production of the Maine Masque.

Next Sunday, Nov. 3, the program will be divided into two parts, a resumé of campus news and student activities and a dramatization of the life of an average freshman boy and girl.

On Wednesday, Nov. 6, the program "Foods and Fashions" begins, with the first script featuring late fall and winter fashions. This information will be presented in dramatized form, with Camilla Doak and Ernestine Carver in charge of the production.

Faculty Airs Campaign Views In Pre-Election Discussion

Belittling the third term and dictatorship issues, and reaching the conclusion that the stands of Willkie and Roosevelt were very nearly identical, five members of the University of Maine faculty participated in a panel discussion on the issues of the presidential campaign in the Little Theatre, Oct. 28, at 3:30 p.m.

Prof. Herbert D. Lamson, of the department of sociology, spoke first, outlining what he believed to be the ten most important issues, including

"That Awful Roosevelt Family."

Everett J. Burr, instructor in economics, discussed the stand of the Democratic and Republican parties on labor. He said that the New Deal's labor policy died in 1938, and that the Democrats were basing their expectations on their past performance.

Willkie Overwhelming Choice Of Faculty and Students

Wendell L. Willkie, Republican candidate for president in next Tuesday's election, is the overwhelming choice of the faculty and students of the University of Maine by a majority of 44 per cent of the total vote, a poll conducted by the "Campus" this week revealed.

President Roosevelt, Democratic candidate for re-election to a third term, got only 281 votes to 750 for Willkie. Earl Browder, Communist candidate, received 37, and Norman Thomas, Socialist, was written in on the ballot by five of the 1,073 who voted.

The faculty was evenly divided, but only 62 voted. Willkie was strongest at Beta Theta Pi and Alpha Gamma Rho, where he received in each case all but one vote. Kappa Sigma and Lambda Chi gave Roosevelt only two votes each, while Sigma Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Alpha Tau Omega gave him his heaviest vote, with the exception of the faculty.

The freshman men's dormitories and the off-campus students gave Browder most of his votes.

Heifetz Concert Is Well Attended

Before one of the largest crowds in the history of the Bangor Community Concert Association, Jascha Heifetz, world-famed violinist, presented a program ranging from the sonatas of Brahms and Beethoven to the impressionistic compositions of Robert Russell Bennett, on Monday, Oct. 28, in the Bangor City Hall.

Mr. Heifetz was accompanied by Emanuel Bay at the piano.

The program consisted of: Sonatas, by Brahms; Sonata No. 5 (Spring), by Beethoven; Concerto, by Wieniawski; Air for G String, by Bach; Rondo, by Schubert; Hora Staccato, by Dinicu; and Hexapoda (Five Studies in Jitteroptera), by Bennett.

Arts Clubs To Hold Joint Meeting

Nov. 20 has been set as a tentative date for a joint meeting of the Students Arts Club and the Faculty Arts Club to be held in the Alumni Gymnasium.

Entertainment will be provided by student and faculty talent. A skit may be arranged by Prof. Walter R. Whitney of the English department.

Reginald V. Hobbah, of the economics department, will act as master of ceremonies.

Speaking Contest Opens Next Month

Preliminaries in the John M. Oak prize speaking contest will be held in December, the final to be held in January, it was announced this week by Prof. Mark Bailey.

A first prize of $30 and a second prize of $20 will be awarded for the best eight to ten minute persuasive talk. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors are eligible.

The prize is taken from the income of a fund established in 1935 by the estate of John M. Oak, a graduate of the class of 1873, and a University trustee from 1908 to 1915.

Details about the contest may be obtained from Prof. Bailey in 240 Stevens Hall.

ASCAP Counselor To Appear Here In Three Lectures

Smith Will Speak On Various Phases Of the Theatre

Professor S. Stevenson Smith, educational counselor for the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers, will give three lectures at the University of Maine on Nov. 6, 7, and 8.

On Wednesday, Nov. 6, Prof. Smith will speak in the Little Theatre at 4:15 on "The Stage in War Time." There will be a luncheon in Estabrooke Hall on Thursday noon at which he will speak on "Vaudeville in Shakespeare's Plays."

On Friday, at 4:15, he will speak in the Little Theatre on "Broadway Tackles Politics" or on "Bernard Shaw, the Showman." The public is invited to all the lectures. Tickets for the luncheon may be obtained at 330 Stevens Hall.

Prof. Smith, who is here as a guest of the Maine Masque, received his B.A. from Reed College, Portland, Oregon. From 1920 to 1923 he was Oregon Rhodes Scholar at Oxford, completing his graduate work there.

He edited "The New Oxford," a political and literary review; he was a (Continued on Page Four)

Business Assistants And Editorial Board Announced

The appointments of Donald Kilpatrick and Barbara Gowen as assistant editors, Philip Pierce as photography editor, and Mary Louise White as news editor, was announced this week by Robert Ellwell, editor of the 1942 "Prism."

Kilpatrick, a member of Phi Eta Kappa, is in the College of Agriculture. He was a Sophomore Owl and is a proctor in Oak Hall.

Miss Gowen, a member of Alpha Omicron Pi, is in the College of Arts and Sciences. She is a member of the Women's Forum, the Arts Club, and Y.W.C.A.

Pierce, a member of Alpha Tau Omega, is in the College of Arts and Sciences. He is a member of the Maine Masque and is on the "Campus" staff.

Miss White, a member of Alpha Omicron Pi, is in the College of Agriculture. She is a member of the Y.W.C.A. and is on the "Campus" staff.

Jerry Goulette, business manager of the "Prism," has announced the appointment of Eleanor Ward as assistant circulation manager. Miss Ward, a member of Chi Omega, is in the College of Arts and Sciences. She was a Sophomore Eagle and a member of Neai Mathetai.

Others aiding in the "Prism" subscription drive include Gloria Miniutti, Ruth Eastman, Miles Mank, and Frederick Kelso.

'Campus Prints Incorrect Story

The "Campus" sincerely regrets an incorrect report last week of the speech made by Dr. Payson Smith before the Faculty Arts Club on Oct. 19, and a most unfortunate choice of words in the headline used with the story.

According to Prof. Leslie F. Smith, president of the Faculty Arts Club, Dr. Payson Smith pointed out certain differences between the normal school and the liberal arts college, but he "did not however suggest that one was better than the other. Least of all did he 'attack' the normal schools or anything else."

A letter from Dean Olin S. Lutes, of the School of Education, criticizing the article, will be found in the correspondence column on page two.

Justice of Peace Necessary To Certify Absentee Ballot

Students and members of the faculty who wish to vote by an absentee ballot in the presidential election next Tuesday must do so in the presence of a justice of the peace, it was pointed out this week by University authorities.

Irving Pierce, University accountant, is a justice of the peace and is qualified to make the affidavit required. Voters must appear before him, display their unmarked absentee ballot, mark it in his presence, and place it in a sealed envelope provided with the ballot. Mr. Pierce will then sign an affidavit certifying that the ballot was marked in this manner.

Four years ago over 125 affidavits were made out by Mr. Pierce, about evenly divided between faculty members and students. Early this week he had made out only 25, but he expected that by election day the total would be at least equal to that of the last presidential election.

Probably 500 students are eligible to vote this fall, but not more than 20 per cent are expected to avail themselves of this democratic privilege.

Tolerance in the United States

Are the people of the United States becoming less tolerant? This question inevitably arises in a consideration of the democracy of our country. In Germany, Italy, Japan, Russia, France, and England, the governments cannot afford to be tolerant. To do so would be to risk the destruction of their states' avowed aims. Can and will the United States—its government not yet subjected to wartime strains—retain the salient feature of democratic government—tolerance?

In the presidential campaign this year is seen the evidence of a growing intolerance. Wendell Willkie has had eggs, tomatoes, stones, and wastepaper baskets thrown at him as he attempted to bring his issues to the people in this country. We wonder if a candidate for the highest office in this land should not at least have the right to speak to an audience without being molested. His rival, Franklin D. Roosevelt, condemned these actions of some of his over-zealous followers. We do not claim that such features have not distinguished presidential campaigns in the past, but we do feel that there is a certain ugly significance to such deeds performed in the supposedly enlightened era in which we live.

We are willing to grant that possibly Jehovah's Witnesses are a nuisance to the community in which they reside. Yet we question if it is tolerance in any form to drive them out with shouts of derision and riots. After all, our Constitution does grant religious freedom to all. It is sometimes hard to know just when to draw the line in such discriminations.

We do not mean, however, that the United States should permit liberty to revert to license in the name of tolerance, but rather it should interpret tolerance in the spirit of those who framed the Constitution. Before we condemn others, we should have definite evidence and clear thinking to justify what we say and do.

Intolerance breeds suspicion, hatred, ill-feeling between classes, race prejudice, persecution, and results in the destruction of democratic institutions. So we say: if America is to remain a democracy, tolerance must be cultivated and cherished to as great an extent as the well-being of the country can possibly allow.

Friends in South America

To further closer relations with our Latin-American neighbors, plans were made at a sports congress held in Buenos Aires during the summer to inaugurate a program of Pan-American games in 1942.

Since the war has caused the disappearance of the Olympic games, it is fitting that this half of the world, which is still lucky enough to remain peaceful, should carry on the spirit of good will and friendly competition that was the aim of the Olympics.

Anything that enhances our good-neighbor policy should be supported enthusiastically. Good neighbors must play together as well as work together. It has often been observed that the best way to become acquainted with people and to learn more about them is to watch them at play. The experience gained by athletes of the Americas in visiting and competing with each other and the interest aroused in sports lovers of all countries will be a valuable contribution to the good-neighbor policy.

Confirmed pessimists will undoubtedly assert that this is no time to think of games. On the contrary, these are most propitious times to provide relaxation, to relieve tension, and to turn minds from grim events abroad to the development and maintenance of a cooperative spirit in all fields in the western hemisphere.

Editor,
The "Maine Campus"
Dear Sir:

Dr. Payson Smith and I are both seriously disturbed by the article in last week's issue of the "Campus" with the heading "Smith Attacks Normal Schools." Not by the wildest stretch of the imagination could any such interpretation properly be placed on Dr. Smith's address to the Faculty Arts Club on October 19. The heading in particular is misleading and objectionable, but the first two paragraphs also give a very wrong impression.

This address was on the subject "Some Problems of Teacher Educa-

The Liberal Viewpoint

By Martin Scher

As the last week before the presidential election rolls around, it is very interesting to note the literature, anecdotes, endorsements, canards, vehement phrases, and laudatory speeches which appear and only add to the general confusion of the average voter who has not decided for whom to cast his solitary vote.

In this connection, your correspondent hereby submits several pieces connected with the campaign, doing so only in the spirit of fun, making no choice, advocating no candidate.

A leaflet found in Orono this week:

VOTE REPUBLICAN
BECAUSE:

1. We're sick of having our bank deposits guaranteed and our banks safe.
 2. We're sick of the increase in farm income and automobile production.
 3. We're sick of relief given the unemployed and the destitute.
 4. We're sick of the increase in stock market values.
 5. We're sick of the increased earnings of companies and corporations.
 6. We're sick of seeing the hotels prosper.
 7. We're sick of business recovery and returning prosperity.
- LET'S GO BACK TO THE GOOD OLD HOOVER REPUBLICAN DAYS OF MARKET CRASHES, BANK CLOSINGS, BREAD LINES, HUNGER MARCHES, BANKRUPTCIES, SUICIDES, AND

EVERYTHING ELSE THAT MAKES LIFE EXCITING. LET'S GO CRAZY VOTE REPUBLICAN!

An anecdote in the Clover Business Service, Norwalk, Conn., Oct. 23, 1940:

I have just returned from the National Hardware Convention at Atlantic City and I was amazed to find that most of the delegates—even the usually rabid Democrats—were for Willkie—"Willkie Democrats."

I asked one Southern jobber how he had voted in the first and second elections of Roosevelt, and he said he had voted the Democratic ticket. I asked him how he was going to vote this year and he said quickly, "I am voting for Willkie."

I said, "I suppose the reason is that you don't like the third term." He said, "No, it is not that; what I don't like is his past two terms." A story in this week's issue of "Friday":

Democrats swear this really happened to a young reporter when he called Republican headquarters and asked how Mr. Willkie's throat was holding out after his long speaking tour. "Listen," said a weary voice at the other end of the phone, "would you like to know what's really wrong with Mr. Willkie's throat?"

"Yes," said the cub expectantly, hoping for the hot inside tip. "Well," he was told, "when he made his first speech he stuck his foot in it."

In the Library

By Catherine Ward

The answer to a publisher's prayers: William Lyon Phelps, professor emeritus of English literature at Yale, for when he bestows his blessing on a book its success is assured and sales boom.

This summer Mr. Phelps listed a number of books published in the past year which he believes deserve great praise. At the head of the non-fiction list he placed "New England Indian Summer," by Van Wyck Brooks. He lauded the award of the Pulitzer prize to Carl Sandburg's "Lincoln—The War Years."

Following these he commented on "Statesmen of the Lost Cause," by Burton J. Hendrick, whose heroes are Lincoln, the Statesman, and Lee, the Soldier; "George Washington," by Dunn and Stephenson; "Doctor at Timberline," by Charles F. Gardiner, an exciting tale of a doctor written by a doctor; "Happy Days," by H. S. Mencken.

"Canada," by John MacCormac, indispensable information about our northern neighbor; "Roman Foundation," by Hugh Walpole, religiously inspired; "I Married Adventure," by Osa Johnson, thrills on every page; "Letters," by Richard Halliburton, the man who showed us the "Royal Road to Romance"; "Empire on the Seven Seas," by James Truslow Adams.

"Lillian Russell," by P. Morrell, the glamor girl of the gay nineties; "Clara Schumann," by J. N. Burk; "As I Remember Him," by Hans Zimmer; "Country Lawyer," by B. Partridge; "A Goodly Fellowship," by Mary Ellen Chase—a teacher's life can be adventurous; "Big River To Cross," by B. L. Burman—Mississippi, 1940; "Books and You," by Somerset Maugham, teller of tales par excellence.

In the field of fiction, Mr. Phelps accords first place to "The Fire and the Wood," by R. C. Hutchinson, and considers it the best novel he has read in the past year. Other choices among novels are: "How Green Was My Valley," by Richard Llewellyn; "Bethel Merriday," by Sinclair Lewis; "Portrait of Jenny," by Robert Nathan; "Trees of Heaven," by Jesse Stuart; "An Old Captivity," by Nevil Shute; and "Mrs. Skeffington," by Elizabeth

What endears Mr. Phelps to many a reader of average taste is the fact that he does not eye the thriller with disdain. He is a human critic, who derives as much enjoyment from murder stories like Percival Wilde's "Inquest," Frank Gruber's "The French Key," and Patricia Wentworth's "Account Rendered," as he does from works of a more literary vein.

Ellwell to Attend FFA Convention

Robert Ellwell, a junior in the College of Agriculture and former national president of the Future Farmers of America, will leave for Kansas City, Mo., on Friday to attend the thirtieth National F.F.A. Convention.

He will be in charge of exhibits at the gathering of farm youth held in conjunction with the American Royal Livestock Show and Agricultural Exposition.

Ellwell, editor of the 1942 "Prism," was a member of the "Maine Campus" staff for two years, won the W. H. Bowker Scholarship in 1938, and was awarded second place in the John M. Oak prize speaking contest last spring.

A member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, he is active in the Agricultural Club, the Maine Radio Guild, and the Maine Masque.

To all "shutter bugs" and "lens hounds" we strongly advocate that you get on the ball. The "Prism" wants pictures, in fact, wants them badly enough to offer thirty dollars in prizes to the best three turned in.

If you own an inexpensive camera, don't let that worry you. Second place money last year was grabbed off by a kid with a box camera, for which he paid the staggering sum of one buck.

Show rehearsals are a strenuous piece of business. If you don't believe it, ask a member of the cast of "Cabbages and Kings" who slept through a three-hour session the other night.

Privately, many a movie producer admits that he makes pictures for an audience with a mental age of 12 years.

If you consider yourself to be of this mental age, stay away from "Angels Over Broadway." If not, then by all means see this movie which stars Doug Fairbanks, Jr., Rita Hayworth, and Thomas Mitchell. It is definitely not a movie made for morons!

Surprisingly enough, the finest acting is not found in the characterization of Thomas Mitchell, old reliable scene stealer, but in the part portrayed by John Qualen, a character actor.

Qualen's portrayal of a little man whose life is banded about by a drunkard, a crook, and a hussy is one of the finest pieces of acting to ever hit the screen.

Columbia's John Reed King, announcer and Princeton alumnus, keeps himself busy... King announces "Early Risers' News" at 6:30 a.m., owns a newspaper, writes on contract bridge, and is a scientific gardener.

Wonder what he does in his spare time?

Movie propaganda hits a new high with the March of Time's new film on war, "The Ramparts We Watch."

Presenting only one side of the question, highly dramatized at that, the merits of this film can best be judged on the basis of how you like your propaganda served. Make mine a small helping, please.

MONDAY MORNING QUARTERBACKING

IN Monday's column John Kieran said, "Probably Oologist Harlow, of Harvard, will spend this week trying to impress on his crimson players the importance of getting that extra point after touchdown." Perhaps it wouldn't be a bad idea for Maine's Fred Brice to instruct his Bears in a little of the same.

However, that's past history now, so the best thing we can do is lick those Bobcat wounds and prepare for some Mule kicks in the Homecoming game Saturday. From all accounts of that scrap down in Waterville last week, the Colby team is traveling to Orono with one of the strongest aggregations it has had in years.

If Saturday's game is anything like the previous games that Colby has been playing this year, the homecoming crowds will think they are being attacked by German dive bombers. If you don't believe us, look at the statistics. They tried 33 passes and completed 12. This is what might be termed a pass-crazy crew with their heads up in the clouds.

This being the case, perhaps some one of the Black Bears will be able to sneak around them while they are in the upper strata of atmosphere and score a couple of six pointers. Here's hoping they do, because if Maine can beat Colby and Bowdoin the Bears have a chance of winning the State Series!

A SUGGESTION

A decided handicap under which the Maine team is working, and one which in past years has received much publicity, is that of late classes. It is seldom that the majority of the squad reports for practice before five o'clock. This means about one hour of practice a day. All three of the other Maine colleges have their teams reporting at 2 every afternoon.

Of course the first answer to this is that many of the Maine players are either Tech men or Aggies and have late labs and field trips. This is true, but why can't they be allowed to have an hour of practice at night—say from seven to eight.

The minute that this night practice question is brought up, however, everyone throws their hands up and says, "Oh no! You can't do that. It would be taking time from their studies." All we can say to this is that there is ample precedent for it on campus. If the members of the Masque are allowed to practice all hours of the night as they do, why can't the football team be granted this same privilege? Or maybe the football team isn't considered as important as the Masque.

NOTES IN PASSING

IT looks like the the cross country team has at last hit its stride after a slow start—also the Jayvee football team who won its first game in two years last week-end, and really looked like a ball club.

Al Toppam, Bates tackle, who suffered a concussion in the game last Saturday, is recovering rapidly and is probably back in classes by now.

Coach Fred Brice may have his worries, but he can at least be thankful that none of his squad have yet gotten themselves involved in a stabbing affair. One of Coach Dana Bible's star guards at the University of Texas is in the hospital recovering from a knife stab that penetrated his lung. The stab was acquired in an as yet unexplained fight.

Make your homecoming week complete.

Maine Runners Retain Title In State Race

Pale Blue To Meet Rhode Island State In Meet At Boston

By John Enman

Maine added another link to its chain of victories by once again winning the State Meet at Augusta last Friday. Scoring 20 points—a perfect tally is 15—the team actually ran away with the title against Bowdoin, Bates, and Colby. Bates was second with a total of 52 points, Bowdoin an unexpected third with 65 points, and Colby followed with a score of 108 points.

As was predicted, McLauthlin, the fleet Bates sophomore, was first across the finish line. His time around the four-mile course at the Augusta Country Club was 19:05, 19 seconds under the mark made by Don Smith, of Maine, last year.

Ken Blaisdell Second

Following McLauthlin were the Maine harriers. Ken Blaisdell romped home second with the time of 19:16, while Howie Ehrlentach and Dwight Moody strode in together in 19:39. The Black Bear further displayed his strength when Dick Martinez and Mark Ingraham followed the former two with respective times of 19:42 and 19:45. Drury of Bates placed seventh and then the last two Maine runners crossed the finish line. Leo Estabrooke made his turn around the course in 20:03, Art Farris in 20:07.

In looking over the records of the race, we find the following: Maine placed all her seven runners within the first nine, losing only first and seventh places to Bates. This was what Coach Jenkins promised at the beginning of the year—a well-balanced team without individual stars.

The renowned state champions face a tough test on Nov. 5 when they journey to Boston to run against Rhode Island, Rhode Island, at present, seems to be about the strongest team in New England so the race will be some sort of a yardstick for the New Englanders.

Rhode Island Powerful

Last week Rhode Island trimmed New Hampshire 17-50 by placing men first, second, third, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, and tenth. The star runner of the Rams is Bob Nichols, last year's freshman champion in the New England meet. Against New Hampshire he placed first, with Les Nichols and Tingley running hand-in-hand with him. The annual Frosh-Soph hat game will be played at Alumnae field Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. In the event the sophomores are victorious, the Sophomore Eagles will probably decide the date when the freshman girls may take off their hats. Refreshments will be served in the field house following the game. Dorothy McLeod is chairman of the committee and is being assisted by Betty Price, Rita Wilcox, and Marie Rourke.

The Sophomore and Senior hockey teams played Phi Gamma Delta and Sigma Chi respectively Sunday morning at Alumnae field. Both fraternities won, Phi Gamma Delta scoring a 2 to 0 victory over the Sophomores, and Sigma Chi winning 3 to 1 over the Seniors.

Results of the hockey games played last week are: Monday, Seniors 0, Sophomores 1; Tuesday, Juniors 8, Freshmen 0; Thursday, Juniors 6, Seniors 0; Saturday, Sophomores 7, Freshmen 0; and Monday, Juniors 4, Seniors 0.

The schedule for the last six games is: Thursday, Sophomores vs. Seniors; Saturday, Freshmen vs. Sophomores; and Alumnae vs. Undergraduates; Tuesday, Nov. 5, Freshmen vs. Seniors.

First Round Of Tennis Tourney Ends

Yates and Adams, Rogers and Jackson Prove Dark Horses

The tennis doubles tournament, which has been delayed this year because of cold weather, finally got under way last week, and the first round has now been completed. The second round will start this week.

Of the seeded teams, all came through to the second round with the exception of Welch and Slocum, who defaulted to Yates and Adams, and Ingalls and Thompson, who were defeated by Rogers and Jackson, (6-0) (6-1). Besides these "dark horse" teams, the other winners of the first bracket were as follows:

Pratt and Tooley (bye); Hastings and Broder (defeated Bodwell and Buck); Wheeler and Johnson (defeated Kaelin and Harrison); Gross and Weinstein (defeated Davis and Graves); Steinmetz and Weston Evans; (defeated Bryan and Wayne Evans).

Bob LaFleur 'Big Threat of Undeclared but Tied Colby

As reserve backs the Waterville eleven has Scioletti, Downie, Stevens, Ryan, MacLraith, and Ferris, with the first-named pair expected to give plenty of trouble to the Maine defense, mainly on the passing and kicking of Nat Crowley, Ed Barrows' line plunging, and Tom Pollock's running, passing, and kicking, with Lowell Ward, Cy Brody, and Parker Small also ready for blocking and pass-receiving duties.

No Change in Maine Line

The Bear forward wall will start as usual, but some reserves are expected to see service, since Saturday's game showed that a lack of experienced line subs contributed much to the Bear's last period lapse. Offensively the Pale Blue showed well all the game, and defensively they held the Bobcats for three periods, but the constant pounding took its effect in the final canto, and Bates sent Flanagan and Belliveau slashing through the line for long gains and the deciding tally.

The Colby line is also experienced and well-stocked with reserves. At the end posts Hegan and Helin, who team with LaFleur on the Mule passing attack, are likely starters, with Bubar and Rhodenizer also available for service. At tackle McCoy has a wealth of material. In addition to the veterans, Hughes and Shiro, he can field four other fairly experienced tackles, Volpe and Wiedul, both sophomores, and Mathewson and Murphy.

Undeclared 1944 Given Edge Over Junior Varsity

The freshman and junior varsity football teams who were both victorious last week-end will battle before the homecoming fans Saturday morning. The Jayvees, playing good ball, handed M.C.I. a 13 to 0 defeat last Saturday after the freshmen had eked out a win over Coburn by the margin of a field goal—9 to 6.

Jayvees Take M.C.I. 13-0

The Jayvees played brilliant football to take the game. In the first period, after successive drives at the enemy's goal, Bob French went over from the four-yard line to score the Jayvee's first tally. Ray Kenney made the point after goal when he bucked over the strip.

The second Jayvee score came as a result of a spectacular 23-yard run by Titcomb after he completed a pass from Bob French. He was driven out of bounds on the enemy's one-yard line, and on the next play Rollins went through a good hole to score. A pass play was attempted by Maine for the extra point but was knocked down, incomplete.

Sandy MacKenzie and Bill Harding turned in their usual brilliant performances at the guard and tackle positions respectively. Both ends, Titcomb and Young, did their share of carrying Maine to victory. Outstanding in the backfield were Bob French, Louis Ellis, and Ray Kenney.

Frosh Harriers Run Farmington

The Freshman "A" cross country team came into its own by defeating a strong harrier squad from Gorham Normal School here last Saturday, 43-20. Hodkins, Gorham ace, finished the three-mile grind first with a time of 16:32, but the next seven men to cross the line were Stanley, Brackett, Atwood, Condon, Johnson, Powers, and Hamm, all of Maine.

If the freshman pack continue to improve at their present rate, they should outpoint the powerful Farmington Normal squad which they oppose this Saturday.

Kappa Sig Wins Intramural Football Final 99 Yard Drive in Waning Minutes Nets Score

By Tommy Stotler

A last period drive of 99 yards, which netted three first downs, and a touchdown in the final minute of play gave the Kappa Sigma touch football team a thrilling victory over a scrappy Phi Kappa Sigma eleven in the finals of the intramural tournament.

Held without a first down in three periods by the hard-charging Phi Kap line, the Kappa Sigs took to the air in the fourth period, and with Doc Winters tossing passes to Gene Leger and Don Ross drove its way from its own one-yard line to a touchdown.

The game opened uneventfully, but midway through the first period Chet Colley's 30-yard ruckback of a punt gave Phi Kap the ball on the Kappa Sig's 15. However, the winner's line held and took the ball on downs. This was the high tide of the Phi Kap offense, since a smart quick kick by Winters kept them in their territory throughout the remainder of the first half.

Phi Kap Out Front

In the third quarter Phi Kap went out in front by virtue of a long pass from Jack Maasen to Gil Carlson that secured the initial first down of the game. Late in the third quarter Kappa Sig lost two of its offensive stars when Larry Muzroll and Jack Curley were forced to leave the game because of injuries.

Maasen booted to the Kappa Sig nine, and a clipping penalty left the ball on the one yard line. Then the fireworks began. After an attempted pass, Winters to Dimmer, failed, Winters scooped up a low pass from center and kicked the ball out to the Phi Kap 40. Chet Colley, speedy back of the Phi Kap eleven, attempted to grab the ball on the run but fumbled.

Riese, Kappa Sig halfback, recovered the ball on his own 30. Then the Kappa Sig offense began to roll. Winters passed to Leger for a first down to tie up the game. Three passes, two to Leger and one to Don Ross, who made a circus catch in grabbing the ball away from two Phi Kap defense men, brought the pigskin to the Phi Kap 4 yard line.

Leger Scores Thriller

With but a minute and thirty seconds left, two plays failed to gain. Then Winters again faded and tossed to Leger. The tall Kappa Sig end grabbed the ball in the end zone for the touchdown. Kappa Sig kicked off, and a desperate last-minute pass by Maasen was intercepted by Winters as the game ended.

For the winners, Doc Winters, Gene Leger, and Don Ross were outstanding, with the whole backfield playing heads-up ball, and the line holding Phi Kap to a lone first down. Jack Maasen, Don Goodchild, Charlie Bartley, and Gil Carlson played good games for Phi Kap, with Maasen's passing and kicking particularly outstanding. The entire Phi Kap line, led by Norm Marriner, consistently outcharged its opponents, stopping the Kappa Sig running attack for the first time this year.

Panel Discussion --

had adopted the slogan that they had always protected the laborer. He thought that Lewis would demand concessions from the Republicans, if they won.

Prof. Maurice D. Jones, of the agricultural economics department, said of the farm vote that the Democrats were here again relying on their past accomplishments. He felt that the difference between the candidates as far as agriculture is concerned is the same as the difference between their stands on public versus private enterprise.

Prof. Jones stated that Willkie would look to the carrying out of farm measures, but that such measures would probably be financed by the producers themselves rather than by the general public. When asked for an appraisal of New Deal farm legislation, he said that despite seven years of attempted control, large crop surpluses still remained.

Candidates' Attitudes Identical
Ethan A. Hurd, instructor in government, emphasized the point that the attitudes of Willkie and Roosevelt were identical, in respect to war, defense, conscription, and aid to England.

He explained that the disagreement arises in the personalities themselves. He said that in view of the challenge from the dictators, there would be a tendency to place more faith in F.D.R.

Lawrence L. Pelletier, instructor in history and government, laid the essential agreement between the parties to the foreign war. He said that agreement on fundamentals was a good thing and that the campaign showed a desirable unanimity among the American people.

Discredit Third Term Issue
He discredited the third term issue by saying that it narrowed down to an anti-Roosevelt feeling. He felt that Willkie's claim that as a production man he could speed up defense was invalid.

When questioned concerning the national debt, Burt said that the problem to be considered there was the payment of the interest on the debt, not the actual size of the principal. He said that Willkie could give more jobs if he spent more money.

When questioned on the third term and dictatorship issues, Pelletier said that the President does not have too much power. He stated that Roosevelt had weakened in his second term and might possibly be even weaker in a third term.

Pelletier felt that we were in a situation where we could not take a risk on an unknown quantity.

Pres. Arthur A. Hauck acted as chairman for the discussion, but refrained from making any political comment.

Engineers Address Joint Club Meeting

The Maine branch of the A.I.E.E. held a joint meeting with the Radio Club Thursday evening, Oct. 24, in Lord Hall. Prof. Walter J. Creamer and Mr. N. E. Wilson, both of the electrical engineering department, spoke.

Prof. Creamer spoke of modern means of communication. He explained the difference in the speed of transmission of information by telephone, telegraph, and television, and also gave a demonstration of the art of recording for use at various speeds of transmission.

Mr. Wilson told of his work in connection with the Westinghouse testing laboratories, relating several incidents which occurred while testing circuit breakers and the manner in which these tests were performed.

'Prism' To Hold Photo Contest

A total of $30 prize money will be given for pictures suitable for publication in the 1942 "Prism," it was announced this week by Philip Pierce, photography editor.

An effort is being made to increase the informal picture section of the year's "Prism." It is urged that all picture-takers make as many contributions as possible.

The prize money will be divided into three awards: first prize, $15; second prize, $10, and a third prize of $5 for the most entries submitted by a single contestant.

All pictures eligible for first and second prizes must be 5 x 7 size or larger. All prints submitted will be judged for third prize regardless of size. Contestants may enter as many pictures as they wish.

All entries should be sent to Box 52, Alumni Hall, or the "Prism" office in the M.C.A. building, marked with the name and address of the contestant.

Pictures will be judged on the subject matter and the quality of the photography. Judges of the contest will be Philip Pierce and Dick White, official "Prism" photographer.

schedule, after its win last Saturday over Coburn. Pleased by the success of their charges, Coaches Phil Jones and Al Beverage are making preparations to take on the junior varsity squad of Coaches Sam Sezak and Jack Moran. A great deal depends upon the outcome of this game Saturday, since the losing team will never hear the end of it.

The Coburn game last Saturday proved to be of the story-book type. The game neared the end with a 6-6 tie. With approximately a minute and a half to go, Al Hutchinson calmly booted a clean 52-yard field goal which put the score in favor of the Frosh. The freshmen gained their touchdown via a 45-yard pass from Hutchinson to Bob Nutter, who ran about 10 yards to the goal line.

Hutchinson was the shining light in the Frosh lineup and the continued fine performances of Ward, Nutter, Burrill, Squires, and Neal deserve praise. Coombs, who substituted for Hutchinson, played very well in this position.

Give Frosh Slight Edge

The Jayvee-Frosh clash that will take place here next Saturday will be one of the hardest fought battles of this season's campaigns. Although the freshmen have a theoretical edge over the Jayvees, it would be impossible to predict the outcome after the brand of ball the Jayvees have been playing lately. The line is reputed to be greatly strengthened. There are three backfield threats, Louis Ellis, Ray Kenney, and Bob French, that will make it hard for a Freshman victory.

The undefeated Frosh gridders have many outstanding performers who will be of interest to watch in Saturday's game. Nutter and Hutchinson are the two fleetfooted backs who have netted the greatest gains for the Frosh. Hutchinson's versatility was shown in the last game when he passed and kicked his team to victory. Don Presnell is the plugging quarterback whose fight sparks his team on. Dick Burrill makes the left side of the line nearly impregnable by his fierce tackling.

be strongest at the guard positions. Here Mel Baum and Captain Daly will start, with Liss, Bedo, and Mansfield as replacements. At center the Mules have Loring, who also doubles as a place-kicker, and Cross.

The game is expected to be a wide-open battle with offensive tactics being stressed. The Colby eleven does not hesitate to use its passing attack, as the Bowdoin battle showed, and, although it may not be too accurate in spots, is an ever-dangerous threat to the Bears, whose pass defense has not functioned too well at critical moments to date.

Mules Toss Many Laterals

Also the Mules have a definite fondness for open-field laterals, tossing them at any time and from any position. Thus far these tactics have proved very successful, but the Bears will be ready for any razzle-dazzle attack with a few tricks of their own. With Nat Crowley and Tom Pollock throwing the ball, and Parker Small and Roger Stearns continuing their fine pass-receiving, the Pale Blue is liable to show the Mule a bit of its own medicine.
