Says Modern Education Is Plastic, Pliable Enterprise

The appointment of Dr. James Muilenburg to the deanship of the College of Arts and Sciences was announced to the student body by President Harold S. Boardman at the first assembly on Wednesday, September 21. Dr. Muilenburg will replace Dr. James S. Stevens, the first dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, who retired July 1, 1932.

Dr. Muilenburg was born in Orange City, Iowa, June 1, 1896. He was graduated magna cum laude from Hope College, Michigan, in 1920, and immediately accepted a position as instructor in English at the University of Nebraska. He later left Nebraska to take a course in graduate work at Yale, where he received his doctor's degree in the History and Literature of Religion in 1926. He was employed at Yale as a teacher of biblical literature, and spent one year in further study at the University of Marburg, Germany. Dr. Muilenburg later accepted a position as associate professor in the History and Literature of Religion at Mount Holyoke College which he held until his recent appointment as dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Dean Muilenburg has already expressed his appreciation of the University and the students, and hopes to be able to know all of them personally. He states that his office is always open to students and that he is ready at all times to advise them about personal matters or matters pertaining to studies.

Dr. Muilenburg regards education as a cooperative enterprise in which both students and faculty must participate.

"Education today," he says, "is an enterprise that is plastic and pliable in a way that it has not been for many generations. The academic technique used in the classrooms of many of our colleges is not only archaic but also ineffective. There is no warrant to be positive or dogmatic about matters questionable since drawing definite conclusions is not the supreme function of college education. We are coming increasingly to see that education is a cooperative enterprise, a process in which the student as well as the teacher must participate.

"There is no value whatever in rehearsing facts which are better phrased in text books and current magazine literature. The classroom should be a place for cooperative thinking where all relevant ideas are aired and faced and reckoned with.

"Quite as important as classroom procedure and experience is the common life we share on our campus. The motives which make for friction in society at large are present on every campus. A significant University life, then, should be concerned with the problem of cooperative living.

"This is certainly among the chief reasons why I have come to the University of Maine, and I must add that it is because I believe we have a unique opportunity of making a real contribution to educational experiment and progress that I have come to share in the experiment.

"After saying this it must be clear to everyone why I am so eager to meet the members of our community and to come to know them. I hope the coming year will make such a thing possible."

"Blondie" Hincks Named Assistant Dean of Men

Maynard A. (Blondie) Hincks, winner of the Washington Alumni Watch last June, has been appointed assistant to the Dean of Men, replacing Charles E. O'Connor, who held that position last year and who has entered the Yale Divinity School at New Haven.

Hincks is a letter man in football and baseball, as well as having been co-captain of baseball last year. He was president of the Athletic Association, member of Alpha Zeta and Delta Tau Delta, Senior Skull, Sophomore Owl, member of the Student Senate, member of Scabbard and Blade, and winner of the William Emery Parker Scholarship.

Sam Reese, George Cobb, and Win Hoyt have recently been added to the list of Sophomore Owls for this year.

At the election of officers held Friday, Sept. 23, Milt MacBride was elected president, and Ken Black, treasurer.

NEW PROCTORS ARE CHOSEN FOR DORMS

From the ranks of the junior and senior classes, a total of fifteen men have been selected to act as proctors in the freshman dormitories during this academic year. Ten of these fourteen are situated in Hannibal Hamlin Hall, and the remaining four are extending their rights of proctorship in Oak Hall.

The chief duties of the proctors are to maintain a disciplinary control over the freshmen on their floor, and to advise them in regard to the various problems that may arise.

The students who have been selected by Dean Corbett to act as proctors are as follows: John F. Wilson, 208 H.H., as head proctor; John P. Doyle, 303 H.H., Donald P. Corbett, 111 H.H., Monroe Romansky, 312 H.H., Frederick C. Burk, 211 H.H., Gordon T. Richardson, 110 Oak, Robert W. Stubbart, 411 H.H., James E. DeCourcy, 406 H.H., Frank W. Hagan, 202 Oak, Paul R. Langlois, 102 H.H., Clarence K. Wadsworth, 302 Oak, Sven Hallgren, 308 H.H., Philip S. Parsons, 410 Oak, Roger H. Heffer, 202 H.H., and Kenneth E. Aldrich, 401 H.H.

The proctors for the freshman women's dormitories are: Elizabeth Barrows, Maples; Polly Brown, M. Vernon.

A sum of money has been found and taken to the Registrar's office, where it may be claimed after proper identification.

Cupid Permanently Wounds Several Through Spring and Summer Months

It seems that many people have been serious minded this year, and as a result many well known "Mainiacs" have entered that mystic field of matrimony.

Everyone knows how Sam Calderwood held out on us from November 19 until commencement week before he announced his marriage to Frances Palmer. This fall they have an apartment in Orono, and Sam is finishing his senior year at Maine.

Then too, Anna Buck, a Pi Beta Phi,

Herb Lewis Is Elected Senior Skull President

Herbert Lewis was elected president of the Senior Skulls at an election held at the initiation last Spring, and Monroe Romansky was chosen secretary and treasurer.

Herb Lewis has been prominent in athletic circles throughout his course at Maine. He has been a member of the football team every year, and played baseball the first three years. He is also a member of the Student Senate, and Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He was a Sophomore Owl.

"Mun" Romansky is also a prominent athlete, having played football and baseball each year, and basketball his freshman year. He was a Sophomore Owl and is a member of Tau Epsilon Phi fraternity.

15 NEW MEMBERS ARE APPOINTED TO U. OF M. FACULTY

Many Graduate Fellows Added to Teaching Staff Of Departments

Several new members have been added to the faculty for the ensuing year. There are also many graduate fellows in the various departments.

Keith H. Lewis, B.A., Wisconsin, 1932; graduate fellow in Bacteriology.

Winthrop Charles Libby, B.S., Maine, 1932; graduate fellow in Agricultural Economics and Farm Management.

Howard Lewis Mendall, B.A., Maine, 1931; graduate fellow in Zoology.

Eugene Cecil Ogden, B.S., Michigan State, 1932; graduate fellow in Botany and Entomology.

Abbie Louise Sargent, B.A., Maine, 1932; graduate fellow in Spanish and Italian.

Treasurer Announces Parking Rule Change

Students Now Allowed to Leave Cars Behind Stevens Hall. Rule Is Temporary.

Treasurer Youngs announced yesterday afternoon a drastic change and improvement in the parking laws. From today, until further notice, students will be allowed to park their cars in the rear of Stevens Hall to the north of a line which will be established approximately in the center of the building. This should provide ample parking space for the time being, but this arrangement is only temporary, although is effective until further notice.

and Amel Kisonak, a Phi Kappa, were married last winter and played cozy until commencement.

In January "Bill" Knight, Sigma Chi (Ex-33) and Ruth Austin were married. They are making their home with her parents in Ellsworth.

Adelle Allen, an Alpha Omicron Pi, and Jack Longley, a Beta Theta Pi, surprised us all when they announced their marriage which took place in Bangor April 29. They are living in New Haven, Conn. where Jack is in business with his father.

On June 11, Mabel Lancaster, instructor in the Home Economic department, became the bride of John Stewart, a Sigma Nu. They are living in Old Town.

"Peg" Warren, a U. of M. alumna, and member of Phi Mu sorority, was married to Arlen Cook, an instructor in the English department.

At Camden, Maine, on September 5, a pretty wedding took place when Ruth Young '33 and member of Phi Mu sorority was married to Linwood Bowen '32 and member of Lambda Chi Alpha. Mrs. Bowen has resumed her studies and Mr. Bowen is instructing in Biochemistry here.

GYM CONSTRUCTION BEGUN LAST WEEK BY PORTLAND FIRM

Original Plans Not Adopted Due to Fund Shortage. Cost Is $165,000

President Harold S. Boardman announced in chapel that work began on the new gym Sept. 19, 1932. This athletic building will stand out among the largest in the world, and to Maine alumni it will represent the memory of our Maine men who fought in the World War.

The decision to go forward with the construction was made at a meeting of the Memorial Building Committee, the Alumni Council, Executive Committee, and the Trustee Committee on Conference held Sept. 11, at which time a motion was passed authorizing the Memorial Building Committee to construct the gymnasium at a cost including all expenditures not to exceed $165,000.

The gymnasium, which is to be 137 feet wide and 150 feet deep, will join the Indoor Field on the south side. It will be three stories high. The design is not as originally planned. Utility has been given first consideration in the plans recently adopted with just enough to be spent in decorative effect to give a pleasing finish to the building. The architects have endeavored to produce a modern athletic plant of economical construction with a maximum of light and air, and a minimum of wasted space. The style of the building is modern with here and there traces of classical tradition. The architectural embellishments are limited in number because of the cost. However, one feature will be three carved brick panels above the arches of the central motif and the main entrance doors which will have ornamental aluminum grates backed by glass. The lobby which will furnish a place for bronze tablets to be placed later is also to serve as a trophy room, the walls and floor being stone. The architectural effect will be produced by variation of color and texture of limestone, marble, and blue stone.

On the first floor are offices, varsity, freshman and visiting team locker rooms, women's room, kitchen, and storage. On the second floor are three general locker rooms, a faculty locker room, and a classroom, two hand ball courts, and a special exercise room. On the third level there are two special exercise rooms in the front of the building.

At the request of the Alumni Association a Trustee Committee on Conference was appointed to represent the Board of Trustees in the development of plans. The Trustees who have cooperated in this work are Hon. Harmon G. Allen of Springvale, Hosea B. Buck '93, Bangor, and Edward E. Chase, Portland.

Much time has been spent in an effort to produce a building which would render the largest value for money expended. These plans were developed by the Memorial Building Committee of which William McC. Sawyer '01 of Bangor is chairman and Harry E. Sutton '09 of Boston is vice-president; the other members of the committee are: A. W. Stephens '99, New York; Dr. J. S. Ferguson '89, Malba, L.I., N.Y.; H. A. Hilton '05, Bangor; N. H. Mayo '09, Providence, R. I.; H. G. Philbrook '09, Boston; C. P. Crowell '98, Bangor; together with these men serving on a sub committee are: Arthur L. Deering '12, Orono, President of the Alumni Association, ex-officio and R. H. Bryant '15, Biddeford; R. H. Fogler '15, Chicago, Ill.; Ralph Whittier '02, Bangor; who is treasurer of the Building Committee as well as of the Memorial Fund.

Little and Russell of Boston are architects of the Gymnasium, being the same company which designed the Indoor Field Armory. It is expected that the work will be completed within six months.

The contracts have been awarded as follows: General Contract, Kerr and Huston, Portland; Plumbing, Pierce and Cox Company, Boston; Heating and Ventilating, J. V. Kenneally Co., Boston; Electricity, Dole Co., Bangor.

MASQUE PLAYERS PRESENT "THERE IS ALWAYS JULIET"

The successful Broadway play, "There's Always Juliet," by John Van Danton, was presented by a group of Maine Masque players at the Orono town hall on July 28. Hershel Bricker of the public speaking department directed the production.

The cast who returned to the campus to take part in the play were: Leonora Perryette, Arlene Merrill; Florence, Barbara Sawyer; Dwight Houston, Atwood Levensaler; and Peter Walmsley, George Stinchfield.

Tickets for Holy Cross Game Are On Sale Here

There has been some inquiry concerning tickets for the Holy Cross-Maine game at Worcester, October 8. The Worcester County Alumni Association have secured a block of about four hundred tickets, near or at the center of the field, which is being held for the use of Maine alumni and students. The charge for these tickets is one dollar plus ten cents tax. A limited number of tickets are available at the Alumni office, 13 Fernald Hall. Tickets should be secured before Wednesday, October 5.

DEBATERS TO MEET MOUNT ALLISON U.

First International Contest For Local Orators To Be Held Oct. 24

The first international debate to take place on this campus for a number of years will be held in the University chapel Oct. 24, when a Maine team debates Mount Allison University, which is located in Sackville, New Brunswick. The subject is that which will be used for all debates during the fall semester: Resolved, That most advertising tends to be detrimental to the best interests of the general public.

The first interscholastic debate of the present season will take place Oct. 18 against the University of Vermont. Arrangements are also being made for debates with Bates and Bowdoin which will probably be given some time before Christmas. There will be no debates from Christmas to the end of the semester. Another type of debate, in which two teams, affirmative and negative from the University present debates before civic bodies, is being used this year. The first of this series of debates will be given before the Grange at Bradford, Maine, on October 12. The debaters will appear before Ellsworth Grange, October 26.

A new system of coaching has been adopted this year. Six men who have had experience in debate will have charge of the new men who are over thirty in number, and they in turn will be under the direction of D. W. Morris, Debating Coach. The veterans are Hamilton Boothby, Max Rapaport, Arnold Kaplan, Roger Heffer, Stanwood Searles, and Errol Higgins. Donald Stewart has been chosen manager of the debating team for this year.

Tennis Club Tournament Is Slated To Begin Saturday

A tennis tournament open to all undergraduates will begin Saturday, October 1, under the auspices of the Tennis Club. The purpose of the tournament is to enable candidates to qualify for the varsity meets next spring. Credit for P.T. will be allowed all entrants who play two matches per week.

Names should be handed in at once to Coach G. W. Small, Manager W. L. Stone, Phi Gam House, or Treasurer L. O. Mayers, Lambda Chi House, as the drawings will be made on Saturday morning, and no names can be accepted thereafter.

Those players who paid their fees in the spring will be exempt from the entrance fee of fifty cents.

BRAHM TRIO TO PLAY IN ASSEMBLY TUESDAY

At the chapel period next Tuesday morning the Brahm trio of Bangor will present a recital. The trio, composed of Stanley A. Cayting, violinist; James Maxwell, cellist; and Miss Mary Hayford, pianist, have made similar appearances in other years before the student body and have been well received.

The price of board in all dormitories has been dropped from $7.00 per week to $6.50 per week, largely due to the decrease in the market price of food.

Night Shirt Parade Is Said To Be Fiercest In Past Six Years

Maybe they didn't take the sophisticated sopho to Balentine, but the frenzied frosh certainly did things up brown in the Night Shirt Parade last night, first by putting on one of the best fights in years, second by attending the theatre in Orono, clad in their tattered pajamas, and third by climbing into the arms of the sentinel of the night who stands in the center of Orono, not directing traffic, but holding up the memory of the blue and the grey, especially the blue, which happened to be the color of several eyes last night. When up on the statue the howling mob let out a "Maine the long way," and then did what they could for the "Stein Song."

Swen Hallgren pulled the trigger after the newcomers had been lined up in clean pajamas, and the sophomores went into action. So did the freshmen. In less than a minute the paddles, some of them, had changed owners, and pajamas had changed resting places, from frosh back to the wet lawn. Paddles were swung with great dexterity and much sincerity, and many a man was seen to move quickly when one of them hit its mark.

REGISTRATION ONLY 12 PER CENT LOWER

Registration for the fall semester up to September 20, shows an enrollment of 1521 students—a drop of nearly 200 from the enrollment of the fall semester of last year. The class of '35 had the largest drop, losing over a hundred of their members, while the juniors were not far behind, with seventy-five of their members unable to return. The senior class held up better than any other losing only fifty from their ranks, while the freshman class was about ten per cent smaller than last year's class.

Maine has about a 12 per cent drop from last year, while many of the larger schools, especially through the South and Mid-West have lost between 40 and 60 per cent of their last year's enrollment.

An interesting phase of the registration is that while the Junior class is the smallest of the three upper groups, the seniors have one of the largest fourth year classes that Maine has ever had.

The enrollment of classes for 1931 and 1932 follow:

	1932	1931
Graduates	43	69
Juniors	339	319
Seniors	322	394
Sophomores	362	399
Freshmen	430	476
Specials	19	46
Two Year Agriculture	6	9
Totals	1521	1705

Student Senate Plans Early Class Elections

Plans for the coming class elections were made by the Student Senate at its first meeting of the year held in Rogers Hall Tuesday night with President John Wilson presiding. Primary nominating meetings will be held by each class at 7:00 P.M. on October 18. Representatives from each fraternity and sorority and from off-campus men and women will constitute the personnel of these meetings. The freshmen will meet in the M.C.A. building, the sophomores in 11 Coburn Hall, the juniors in the Chapel, and the seniors in 24 Rogers Hall.

Secondary elections will be held at 7:00 P.M. on the evening of October 25 by each class in the same place as the primary meetings. Final elections will be held during the day of November 1 in Alumni Hall.

Following the discussion of the elections, a new shingle for the Senate was adopted. The shingle was designed by John Quinn '34, representative from Alpha Tau Omega.

GRIM REMINDERS

Through the efforts of Llewellyn N. Edwards, '98, former bridge engineer of the State Highway Commission, two sets of cannon have been set up on the campus. The smaller two of these, overlooking the Stillwater River from the lawn below Fernald Hall, were part of the equipment of the Frigate "Constitution", and the larger two, near the Beta tennis courts, were used in the Civil War.

May these cannon serve as ever present reminders of what to keep away from. They are relics of WAR. As we pass them from day to day may we recall the purpose they served before they became ornaments. Those cannon were originally built for murder and the destruction of property. We have been told that their purpose was noble and just. Is the slaughter of youth just?

Let these cannon serve to inspire us to study and take an interest in foreign affairs, so that in the future international dispute will be solved with a pen and a smile, rather than a cannon and a scar.

A WORN OUT RACKET

We have at Maine Freshman Rules, contrived to keep the first year man in his place. Why should we then force our way into that place? That this forcing of themselves into freshman activities by upperclassmen is carried on was unpleasantly noticeable at the Freshman Reception in Alumni Hall last Friday night.

Regardless of the fact that they knew that the reception was to be exclusively for freshmen, a number of upper class students "crashed" the affair. The result was that many freshmen, who were somewhat less nervous than others or uncertain of just what treatment they would receive at the hands of veteran students, did not enjoy themselves as it was meant that they should.

The best way to end this situation, which is not novel, is for the habitual "crashers" to realize that, though they think themselves clever and derive a feeling of personal triumph when they succeed in crashing, in reality are making nuisances of themselves.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Working toward our aim of producing the best newspaper we can, the Campus announces that beginning with the issue of October 13 the Campus will be printed on news print. Since the Campus is a newspaper and not a magazine, we feel that it should look like a newspaper. A part of our task in producing this journal is to make it attractive, and we believe that when it is printed on newsprint it will be more so than it is now.

Another reason for the change is that the Campus is a modern college paper, and modern college papers are now printed nearly universally on news stock.

WELCOME

To Dr. James Muilenburg, new dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, the Campus extends a sincere welcome and promises to aid him wherever possible. Cooperation is probably the best route to success, and we hope that every student will cooperate with the new dean so that the College of Arts and Sciences may continue its task successfully.

A bit of conversation overheard while strolling in and about Alumni Hall during registration furnishes an amusing sidelight on the attitudes prevalent on the Maine campus as contrasted with those elsewhere.

As one of the new transfers neatly expressed it, "The question uppermost in mind at other schools seems to be, 'Where did you travel this summer?' while at Maine the usual catchism begins with 'Where did you work this summer?'"

The class of 1936 can be counted upon to produce great literary works, if there is any significance in the names appearing in the Freshman list. Pearl Buck has registered in the College of Arts and Sciences, and the name of Robert Burns appears twice on the list.

Editor of The Campus
Dear Editor:

Last spring there was organized on this campus the Liberal Club. For four months, beginning with March, it made headway. It is our desire to continue the organization.

Like all new groups, we ran into some difficulty. Ours was not financial, because there was no money involved. By that I mean no dues are charged nor the speakers paid. Our difficulty was the lack of attendance especially on the part of the freshman class and on the part of the co-eds.

The freshman class more than the upperclassmen should be present at these gatherings because it gives them an opportunity to meet some of the most influential members of the faculty and a number of upperclassmen as well as keeping in touch with contemporary events.

As for the co-eds, I believe they think that the Liberal Club is a sort of stag affair. This is not so. The Liberal Club is an open forum for all the students of the University, men as well as women.

Here is a list of some of the speakers at our meetings last spring: Professor Jackman, Education; Dr. Rice, Biology; Professor Kirshen, Economics; Professor Stetler, Sociology; Mr. Moreland, English.

This time we are not going to wait until next spring to begin, for we are holding our first meeting on Thursday evening, Oct. 6. We hope to see a number of new faces present.

The speaker alone should be enough inducement for everyone to be present, as we have succeeded in getting Dean James Muilenburg, new dean of Arts and Sciences, to speak.

The Liberal Club
V.H.E.

Editor of The Campus

Sir:
It seems to me that if potatoes have gone down to 30¢ a barrel, that stag dances should also come off the high horse.

I suggest that if co-eds were charged 25¢ and men 35¢ or even the customary two bits that the increased attendance would balance the income.

We're all for it.
Elmer Fudd

Because of the failure of Willard S. Caswell, elected editor-in-chief of the 1934 Prism at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Class of 1934 held in June, to return to college this fall, a new board will be chosen at a meeting of the committee held today.

Dean Muilenburg Talks At Monday Assembly

Dean James Muilenburg, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, was the speaker at assembly Monday morning, taking for his topic "Adventures in a Time of Confusion."

Reviewing briefly the present situation of the country, Dean Muilenburg divided his discussion into three general headings, economic, social, and educational. The definitions of democracy and of education were presented in an original and forceful way, and many thought-provoking suggestions for conduct in this time of stress were given.

The student body, with Mr. Fielder, who opened the assembly, paid tribute to the memory of Elmer Martikainen and Clifford O'Donnell.

Dean Cloke Announces Degree Requirements

In the pamphlet entitled "Information Regarding Degrees and Theses" of date April 21, 1927, the following has been approved to take the place of Section I—General Requirements:

The professional degrees of Chemical Engineer, Civil Engineer, Electrical Engineer, General Engineer, or Mechanical Engineer, may be conferred upon graduates in the curriculum of Chemistry or Chemical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, General Engineering and Mechanical Engineering respectively, upon the presentation of a satisfactory thesis which shall constitute an original contribution to the advance of engineering. The candidate must hold a position of responsibility and must have accomplished professional work of eminence for a period of at least five years subsequent to graduation. A full and complete statement covering the professional experience of the candidate must be presented at the time of registration.

Dean Hart and Professor J. R. Crawford will visit schools in Aroostook county during the coming month.

There will be a meeting of the Maine Masque, Thursday, Sept. 29, in 25 Stevens Hall at 7 o'clock.

Night Shirt Parade Is Said to Be Fiercest in Past Six Years

For ten minutes they kept up the brawl, and then Hallgren came to the rescue (whose rescue it was no one has yet been able to determine) by firing the gun twice into the air. But the freshmen, still piqued for action, marched on Balentine. When they arrived there they cheered and yelled but the sight of such a galaxy of feminine beauty as was gathered on the steps of the dorm frightened and awed the frantic frosh, who then marched on Orono. Paint was secured from some unknown source and large, bright, if not too artistic "36's" were painted on the bridge there.

Numerous movements, rumored to be on foot for devilment of various kinds, failed to develop in the fracas. A report reached the dormitories that two crates of well ripened tomatoes had been procured to welcome the frosh as they poured from the doors. Strangely enough, the tomatoes did not come forth but the rain did, so the mud was plentiful.

Another move, a counter attack on the part of the freshmen, also failed to materialize. This was a rumored plan to catch some of the Sophomore Owls, who are proud of their curly locks, and remove said locks from the head of said Owl by means of scissors.

Despite the rage of Jupe Pluvius, who persisted in washing the earth and all that is there-in, a large crowd was gathered in the road before the dorm to watch the performance and cheer it on.

FRESHMAN HARRIERS HAVE SMALL SQUAD

Contrary to the calibre of freshman cross country material which has reported to Coach Jenkins in the past few years, this season's turnout is one of the most inexperienced that the Pale Blue mentor has been confronted with. With the possible exception of one man, not one of the candidates has had any actual experience in running.

As a result of this turnout, there are excellent opportunities for every freshman, who has run a little or believes he is capable of doing so, to stand a good chance of making the team. In a lot of actual cases, men have come out for the squad who have never donned a spiked shoe before, and have developed into first class cross country hill and dale runners.

There are several examples of such occurrences right here at Maine. Only a few years back a certain candidate reported to the squad who had no knowledge whatsoever about running. He worked hard, practised diligently and finally won national recognition when together with his teammate, Harry Richardson, he set a new cross country record at the I.C.A.A. A.A. meet in New York. This runner is none other than Maine's own "Bud" Lindsay. Still another perfect example is the case of Ken Black, star frosh plodder of last year. Coming to the preparatory school cross country meet here three years ago in the capacity of manager of the Kents Hill outfit, Black was forced to enter the meet when one of the members of his team became sick. In the meet he finished high up among the leaders and in the following year he entered Maine and took cross country up in earnest. Besides being the outstanding plodder for the yearlings last year, Black broke the indoor half mile record.

The opening meet takes place Saturday with Lee Academy at Lee. Coach Jenkins will select a team of 7 men from the freshman candidates who show up best in practise this week and look to be in the best condition.

CLIFFORD L. O'DONNELL DIES IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Clifford L. O'Donnell, '34, was fatally injured on the evening of September 20, when an automobile, in which he was riding with three other students, left the road and overturned in a field. He died of a fractured skull before he reached the hospital. The other occupants of the car were: L. C. Lynch, R. B. Hackett, and H. J. McCusker.

Balentine and Colvin Halls recently elected house officers for the fall semester. The results follow: Balentine president, Doris Hutchinson; vice-president, Grace Quarrington; secretary, Ruth Libby; treasurer, Doris Rosen; Colvin president, Doris Ballard; vice-president, Louise Clements; secretary, Estelle Blanchard; treasurer, Melba Gifford.

The annual M.C.A. drive starts about the first of October.

The MAINE SNOOPUS

GRACIOUS ME, how everybody around this fair campus has become a big shot. The wee (and not-so-wee) laddies who wore caps and ties last year appear with black spots on their fair little foreheads, and the sweet and beautiful lil co-eds who wore the funny bonnets last year are wearing stars, probably a kick-back from seeing that ole eclipse, and the lil chaps who got commanded at in the Armory are going to do the commanding this year.... Speaking of Armory, shhshshshh Lieut. Jose, the handsome one with the roadster, has spindly legs. He couldn't make spiral puttees stay on them and neither could a regular army looney.... Some folks is nerts an' we don't mean perhaps. Trainer Grady of Kappa Sick dove off the Orono bridge Friday with all his clothes on for a measley $4. Who said depression?.... Craig and Fairchild are in their second child-hood. Of course you don't believe it, but look at the freshman picture.... Of course you heard about Hollywood in Maine. Capt. Wear of "Ten-shum" fame is being visited by Richard Arlen Wear, who arrived this summer. And we know you've seen Jean Harlow parading about.... Oh, how our hearts go out to the naive frosh, especially to the one who asked her matron where the banks were in Orono, was told there was only one bank, and then insisted that there were more than one because she had always heard of the "Banks" where co-eds went for their nicotine indulgence.... Two new buildings gung up on campus equals two shelters from the cauld an' wintry blasts.... We hate to indulge in old stuff, but we'll hurriedly mention pins and then rings, not engagement either, after that we'll mention faded summer luvz.... pins, Jones, Collins; Huot, Brackett; rings, Longley-Allen, Hincks-Stearns, Bowen-Young, Kiszonak-Buck, Calderwood, Hagan, Haggett, Tomlin, Ficket-Wilson.... Affairs that have gone blotto, let's see now. Lieut. Scott and Levensaler have sought separate paths, the beautiful Gifford and Mr. Lester have found that it Cawn't be, Dot Baker and Phil Mason were awakened to the fact that it was infatuation, not love, Marj Lovely and Al Howard came to the conclusion that they were too young to be serious, and Kay Adams and Paul Wheeler are not that way about each other any longer. Ah the tragedy of it.... Red Walton went on a deep sea fishing trip with nine others. Red was one of three who didn't suffer mal de mere and laughed at those who did. He is hard hearted.... Here's something you didn't know about. The little froshies started a nightshirt parade all their own during freshman week, just for practice we suppose, but it was broken up in short order.... There was a tornado in Texas while we were vacationin', but we didn't know Reese and Robertshaw were down there. They musta bin tho. Where's their hair gone to???. Ask the W. A. A. president about her experience when she was flattered at the Frosh Reception.... Keep a box of matches with you, freshmen.

SEALEY IS PRESIDENT OF FRESHMAN CLASS

The freshman class elected temporary class officers at a meeting held Friday evening, Sept. 16, which was in charge of the President of the Student Senate, John Wilson. These officers are: President, John Sealey of Southborough, Mass., a student in the College of Agriculture; Vice-president, Joseph Hotz of Clifton, N. J., a special student in the College of Technology; Treasurer, Arthur Roberts of West Kennebunk, who is registered in the department of Forestry; and Secretary, Arleen Higgins of Lewiston, a student in the department of Home Economics.

NOTICE
Would the student who brought me a brown suit to press that he got wet on Sat., Sept. 17th, please call? I have something that belongs to him that was found in the pocket.

DIVERSIFIED PROGRAM AT FROSH RECEPTION

The annual Freshman Reception sponsored by the M.C.A. was held in Alumni Hall last Friday night from 7 to 10:30. Those present were divided into six sections bearing the names of countries with a host and hostess in charge of each. The freshmen were assigned to these by drawing tags and were escorted there by the many efficient ushers.

The first event of the evening was a series of yells. Each group composed one consistent with its country. The cheer shouted by France under the leadership of Red Hagan was considered by the judges as best.

A grand march led by Dixie Dickson and "Freddie" Burk terminated at the refreshment table where cider and doughnuts were served in large quantities.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing. Smith Ames' orchestra furnished the music. Cut-ins were in order after the first numbers of each dance.

Hazel Scully and Howard Stevens were in charge of the arrangements.

A stag dance will be held in Alumni Hall tomorrow night under the auspices of the Home Economics Club. Music for the affair will be furnished by the Club Albion Orchestra.

The M.C.A. is to hold a Faculty-Student Retreat next Saturday and Sunday at Camp Jordan. The program for the most part is to be a discussion of faculty-student relations. There are expected to be about forty in the group including fifteen faculty members drawn from all three colleges.

FIRST TWO STAG DANCES OF YEAR WELL ATTENDED

The first stag dance of the year was held in Alumni Hall Tuesday, September 20, and sponsored by the A.A.U.W. The hall was filled with students and the dance proved to be a financial success. Even though the freshmen girls received their first big "rush," the upperclassmen didn't hold down the benches. The music for this dance was supplied by Perley Reynolds' orchestra.

The second stag dance was held by the Tri Delt and equalled the first in prosperity. Smith Ames supplied the music and it seemed that the theme song for both dances should have been, "Since stag dances are started again, Old Man Depression is on the wane."

Jessie Ashworth '29, A O Pi, sailed from San Francisco on S. S. President Coolidge, August 26 for Peiping, China, where she plans to study international relations, as a result of a national fellowship awarded by A O Pi.

Abbie Sargent and Peg Fowles, members of the Class of '32, have returned to school this fall and are working on their master's degrees in addition to doing some teaching.

Six members of the class of 1936 were recipients of tuition scholarships awarded by the University last June. They are: Allan Corbett, Orono; John M. Koombs, Boothbay Harbor; Bernice Voemans, Lee; Alice M. Campbell, Machias; Vernon A. Herrick, Easton; William H. Berry, Fryeburg.

Olive Perkins '32, a member of A O Pi, is doing research work in the biology laboratories at Yale Medicine School.

Pat Huddleston '32, well-known for his orchestra and prominent member of SAE, is working for his master's degree at Duke University. It is rumored that he has some connection with an orchestra there also.

Ed Hawes and Wilfred Davis '32, are working in the Forestry Department at Yale for their master's degrees.

Jimmy Whitten '32, member of Sigma Nu, is trying for his M.D. at Harvard Medical School, and Ed Fields, Sigma Chi, is entered as a Junior at Rutgers University where he is majoring in journalism.

John Barry '32 is a radio announcer at station WLWZ in Bangor.

Miss Marion Rogers of the Department of Physical Education attended Miss Constance Applebee's Hockey Camp at Mt. Pocono, Pennsylvania, during the second week in September. Miss Applebee comes from England every summer to conduct this camp for coaches and pre-season training for college, and for those aspiring toward the All-American team.

The day's schedule was filled with technical and practical instruction. In the morning there were sessions in practice stroking, followed by scrimmage and sessions of lecture. The afternoons were occupied with match games, and there was practice in umpiring under the supervision of national and international tournament umpires. English folk dancing took place in the evenings.

The first meeting of the Home Economics Club was called Monday noon, September 20th. The entire meeting was devoted to the discussion of plans for their Home Economics Club stag dance which comes this Friday evening.

Those who have been tuning in on WHDH in Boston recently have heard Sylvia Hickson '32, who has been taking the part of Edith in the advertising playlet, "Just Friends."

At the annual convention of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education held at Corvallis, Oregon, this past June, Dean Paul Cloke was elected one of the two Vice-Presidents of the Society.

Backfield Shines As Maine Defeats Rhode Island 12 - 0

Romansky Takes Ball Over Marker Twice at End of Uninterrupted Marches of 53 and 56 Yards

The University of Maine football team lived up to its expectations Saturday afternoon at Alumni Field as it gained a revengeful victory over a stubborn Rhode Island State eleven to the tune of 12-0 in the opening game of the season.

The early season crowd watched a Maine team outplay the Rams in every department of the game.

With "Mun" Romansky leading the way, the Pale Blue never was in danger of being scored on. Early in the initial period Don Favor hurled a bullet pass to Johnny Wilson who was downed on the visitors' 25 yard line. But there the Maine attack was halted as Rhode Island recovered a fumble and booted out of danger. In the second canto the Maine backs ripped the visiting line and marched 53 yards for the initial score with "Mun" Romansky crashing over. The try for point was blocked.

The second score came in the 3rd quarter just after the kick-off to Maine was run back by Parsons to his own 44 yard line. With Wilson, Means, and Romansky making consistent gains, the second score came as a climax of three successive runs by Romansky. Johnny Wilson again failed to make good his placement kick.

Coach Brice sent in numerous substitutions towards the end of the game, and with MacBride and Ted Butler in the backfield, the Blue continued to threaten for the remainder of the game. The Maine backfield played with machine-like precision although the line failed to function up to its usual standards. George Cobb, lately shifted from fullback to center, played a good game at his new post, while the field-general, John Wilson directed the team well. Wright, Robidoux, and Collison played best for the visitors.

Furnishing a fitting completion to Maine's athletic lay-out, will be the new baseball field, situated at the northwestern end of the Armory. The place, formerly a swamp, has been leveled and drained and is now being tiled for good drainage. When the field is completed in the Spring, more than three miles of tile will have been used, according to estimates. From the position of home plate, the diamond offers a playing range of 600 feet to the center field barrier, 475 feet to the left side limits, and 420 feet to the right field limits.

King Football again occupying the limelight! Once more the Hoskosh football hero will wear a black eye proudly as a testimony to his deep love for the Oomba pigskin flash, and once again the Oomba man will gladly display heel prints on his cheek as illuminating evidence that the deepest friendship exists between the two rival colleges.

Saturday's game was the first peek the spectators had at the new rules which have aroused a great deal of curiosity as to how they will affect the gridiron game. Who knows but that some day the keen master minds of the game may frame some rules which cannot be invaded.

The changes in the rules are going to help the game because they will reduce the number of injuries. But it seems that the rule calling for the runner being dead the instant any part of his body except his hands and feet touches the ground is going to take a lot out of football. The idea of this rule is to protect the ball-carrier from injury and piling on.

Many serious injuries have come from this one thing and for that reason it is an especially good rule. But on the other hand, your scribbling scribe thinks that it is bound to take a good deal of the spectacular out of the popular American sport.

How many times have you seen a back break into the open and be partially tackled two or three times, go down on one knee, and then get up again and continue on his way for a great run and many times a touchdown? Under the new rule this cannot happen, for the moment the runner goes down on one knee the progress of the ball is stopped right there.

One of the rules which will certainly be of great benefit to the players is the substitution rule which allows a player to return to the game once in any quarter. This will tend to lessen the heavy duty that was imposed on the star player because the coach was afraid to take him out of the game. Now he can take him out, rest him, and then send him back in the next quarter without fear of losing the benefit of his stellar performer.

26 VETERANS OUT FOR VARSITY CROSS COUNTRY

Coach Jenkins' varsity cross country team this year consists of twenty-six men, most of whom have already had experience on last year's freshman or varsity teams. During the first of September, letters were sent to prospective candidates requesting them to begin training at once. The first day of practice found Harry Booth, Harry Williamson, Don Corbett, Ted Earl, and Larry Jackson, former varsity men, and Ken Black, Harry Saunders, Joe Marsh, Bill Cole, and Frank Morong, members of last year's undefeated freshman team, on hand to get in trim for the first meet with the University of New Hampshire at Durham on October 15.

HINCKS IS WINNER OF WASH. ALUMNI WATCH

The Washington Alumni Association watch was awarded to Maynard Hincks, and the Victoria Weeks Hacker watch to Margaret Churchill at Commencement last June. The presentation of these watches, which are awarded to the man and woman who in the opinion of the faculty and students have done the most for the University during their courses, was the result of a secret ballot taken last spring.

Both recipients were very active during their four years at college. Maynard Hincks is at present assistant to the Dean of Men.
