High-Schoolers To Visit Campus This Saturday

Over 1000 students, faculty members, and administrators will represent more than 60 Maine High Schools at the annual High School Day here this Saturday. They will arrive at 9 a.m. for a full day of sight-seeing and learning about the University.

The program will begin with registration in the Memorial Union between 8:45-10:30. This will be followed by tours of the campus, with University students acting as guides. At 10:15 motion pictures of University of Maine events will be shown in Room 137 of the Physics Building.

A general meeting at 11:15 in the Memorial Gymnasium will feature music by the Maine Steiners and a skit by the freshman girls. Mayor Peter Berry, President Lloyd Elliott, Nancy Waisanen, and Mark Shibbes will speak.

Luncheons will be held in Stodder Hall and the Commons at 12:30. The students will attend meetings of the college of their choice during the first part of the afternoon and visit departments of special interest at 2:00. The day will end with refreshments in the Main Lounge of the Memorial Union.

Committee Has Many Activities For Graduation

The 1960 Commencement Committee held its first meeting on March 23 in the first floor lounge of the Commons. The Committee made the initial plans for the many activities of the June 3-4-5 Commencement Weekend.

Prof. Waldo M. Libbey '44 will serve as the Chairman of this year's committee. Other members of the committee include Philip J. Brockway '31, George H. Crosby, Florence E. Dinsmore, Vernon C. Elsmore '43, Stuart P. Haskell '56, Nelson B. Jones, and Francis S. McGuire '31.

Frank W. Myers '35, Velma Oliver '25, Edward H. Piper '43, Mary F. Reed '29, Elizabeth S. Reid '41, Assoc. Prof. Marion Rogers '38, Assoc. Prof. Samuel Sezak '31, William Wells '31, Assoc. Prof. Emeritus Marion Buzzell '14, and Asst. Prof. Emeritus Howe W. Hall '14 are on the committee also. Students on the 1960 Commencement Committee are Charles J. Ochmanski, senior class president, and Nancy E. Waisanen, president of AWS. The Alumni staff will have Dr. T. Russell Woolley '41 and Margaret M. Mollison '50, Executive Director and Assistant Director of the Alumni Association, as their representatives to the committee.

The class of 1960 and Mr. George H. Crosby, Registrar, will plan the class events to take place during Commencement Weekend. Mr. Crosby will also handle the Commencement and Baccalaureate Services.

The program as a whole is not quite set, but the Committee is busy holding organizational meetings to complete the plans for the 1960 Commencement Weekend to which seniors, their parents, and their friends will be most welcome.

Governor John Reed shakes hands with Arthur "Skip" Huot, newly elected treasurer of the Maine State YGOP.

University Delegates Attend YGOP Convention In Portland

The biannual convention of the Maine Young Republican Clubs was held in Portland on April 1st and 2nd. Present at the convention were eleven delegates from the University of Maine. John E. Christiansen, Herman T. Diehl, David R. Downing, George A. Henry, and Miles E. Hudson participated as voting delegates. Arthur B. Huot, Nancy B. McCabe, Terrence F. McCabe, Sallie J. Sinclair, Guy H. Sturgis, and Jane Wilson were also present. Mrs. Marilyn Diehl attended as an observer.

Election of officers of the council for the coming two years was held and a YGOP platform was adopted. Arthur B. Huot, a University delegate, was elected to the office of Treasurer of the Maine Council of Young Republican Clubs.

The following planks are of particular interest to University students: (1) The general endorsement for financial aid to the University of Maine and the state teachers colleges in keeping with expansion and development (2) Adoption of voting rights for persons eighteen years or older (3) optional military science at the University of Maine (4) Financial aid to the University of Maine for the express purpose of establishing an educational television station at Orono and (5) study of a proposed industrial institute to be established at the University of Maine. The last two planks were specific proposals of the University of Maine YGOP.

Herman Diehl, president of the University YGOP, was particularly gratified with the results of the convention. He had this comment: "It has been recently intimated in a letter to the Campus that there is little value in belonging to such a political interest group as the University YGOP. Well I am convinced that the genuine value in practical government that we received at the convention not only was invaluable but also belittles any argument which scoffs at the worth of either the YGOP at the University or our Democratic counterparts."

In regard to the proposed debate on the civil rights issue, Diehl stated: "We have not as yet received a definite answer to our challenge. Although the issue concerning civil rights is now a month old, I still feel that a debate would be in order."

The University will construct a new women's dormitory to be ready for occupancy by the fall of 1961. The new dormitory was made necessary by a 36% increase in application over last year by women students. The women's dormitory now under construction will be filled to capacity next year, and the new dormitory will partially alleviate the situation a year from this fall.

"This new dormitory, just approved by the University trustees, will be of great help," President Lloyd H. Elliott said. "While it will not solve all of our admissions problems, the additional space will permit the University to take some of the backlog of applicants that has built up."

President Elliott added that the housing problem for men is not so bad as for women because of the construction of Gannett Hall last fall. The situation will be further alleviated by the construction, begun last week, of a new men's dormitory which will house 262 men when completed. The dormitory which will be finished in July of 1961, will be almost a duplicate of Gannett Hall.

Announce Cast For Play

Judith Fowler will play the leading role in the next Maine Masque production of Antigone by Jean Anouilh. The story is based on the classical legend of Antigone and is part of the story of the house of Laius. James Barushok will direct the play.

Antigone will be played by Judith Fowler; Creon, Don Billett; Ismerne, Diane Ingalls; Chorus, Bob Joyce; Nurse, Meg Thompson; Haeman, Jack Arsenault; Messenger, Ed Dorian; Guards, Chuck Micciche, Ray Tanquay, and Fred Varricchio.

The Anouilh version of Antigone was first produced in Paris during the Nazi occupation. The Maine Masque will present the production from April 27 to April 30.

'Satchmo' Will Invade Campus For Weekend

By Ron Drogin

Great musical sounds will blaze forth from the world's foremost trumpeter Saturday afternoon in the Memorial Gymnasium when Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong will appear to headline a fabulous Greek Weekend. Sponsored by the fraternities and sororities at the University of Maine, the second annual Greek Weekend includes a Mardi Gras Masquerade Ball on Friday night, discussion groups on Saturday morning, and fraternity parties that evening. Sunday features a Panhellenic banquet and sing.

Familiar with most University students through his Columbia and Decca records, numerous movie and television appearances, and recent performances at Old Orchard Beach, Armstrong has thrilled jazz followers everywhere. Acclaimed as a living legend and symbol of jazz music, Armstrong's career has set the pattern for the development of American jazz. His great numbers include "High Society, St. Louis Blues, St. James Infirmary Blues, Mack The Knife, Saints Go Marching In, Muskrat Ramble, Perdido, and Margie."

Appearing with Armstrong in his 2 p.m. Memorial Gymnasium performance are Velma Middleton and a five-man All Star band. The group includes clarinetist Peanuts Hucko, Trummy Young on trombone, pianist Billy Kyle, Mort Herbert with bass, and Danny Barcelona playing the drums. Velma Middleton has thrilled audiences everywhere with her original singing delivery.

Admission to the Armstrong concert will be $1.50 a person. Tickets may be purchased from any fraternity or sorority member, or at the door.

Come To The Mardi Gras

The Mardi Gras-Masquerade Ball scheduled Friday evening at 8:30 p.m. in the Men's Commons features entertainment by the Maine Bears, The Ball, free to all fraternity and sorority members, opens the Greek Weekend festivities. Rather than appear in the usual formal or semi-formal attire, the Greeks will wear crazy hats or ties, loud jackets, or costumes for the dance which ends at 1 a.m.

Workshops are the order of business for Saturday morning with Greek affairs as topics of discussion. The following fraternities will host workshop groups from 10 a.m. until 11:30 a.m.

For Men

Interfraternity Relations, Phi Gamma Delta; Pledge Program, Phi Mu Delta; Fraternity Finances, Phi Eta Kappa; Rushing, Kappa Sigma; Publications, Beta Theta Pi; House Maintenance, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Food and Kitchen, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

For Men and Women

Public Relations, Lambda Chi Alpha; Social Affairs, Phi Kappa Sigma.

For Women

Scholarship, Pi Beta Phi Room; Standards and Attitudes, Delta Delta Delta; Discrimination, President's Room; Panhell Activities, Delta Zeta Room; Strength of Panhell, Chi Omega Room; Sorority in Campus Activities, Alpha Omicron Pi.

Houses Plan Parties

Saturday evening will find fraternities offering parties and drop-ins winding up a hectic day. On Sunday, the girls swing into more action with a Panhellenic Banquet at North Estabrooke at 12:15 p.m. Maine Superior Court Justice Thomas E. Delahanty will speak on "A Woman's Role in a Political World."

The annual Panhellenic Sing is scheduled for Sunday afternoon at 2 in the Memorial Union. The singing by the sororities will be judged by Mr. William Sleeper, Robert Groth, and Arthur Reardon.

General Chairmen of the weekend are Donald Lewis and Mary Gentile. Others on the committee are Elizabeth Colley, Kenneth Hamilton, Elizabeth Denihan, Arthur Huot, Patricia Benner, Madonna Fogg, Janice Hourin, Judi Johnson, Carol Warren, Peter Gammons, and Vicki Waite.

Louis Armstrong, the world's foremost trumpeter, will hold forth in the Memorial Gymnasium Saturday afternoon.

Guests To Discuss Dewey

Dr. George Dykhuizen of the University of Vermont will speak at the University on Tuesday, April 12 at 7:30 p.m. His subject will be John Dewey and American Thought, and the program will be presented in connection with the Dewey Centennial Program of Vermont.

Dr. Dykhuizen is chairman of the Department of Philosophy and Religion at the University of Vermont. He holds degrees from Indiana University and the University of Chicago. He also served as Fulbright professor at Cairo University in Egypt for 1953-54.

The address will be given in the Memorial Union at 7:30 p.m. Students, faculty, and the public are urged to attend.

Dr. George Dykhuizen

Repairs Completed

Construction and repair work ran rampant during vacation. The second floor of Aubert Hall and the freshman chemistry laboratory in 234 Aubert were tiled. The entrance to the Armory was given a new set of doors, glazed to provide visibility. A display cabinet was built in the Armory corridor for objects of military interest.

Ball, Jazz Concert To Top Activities On Greek Weekend

By Vicki Waite

Take a deep breath and plunge into a whirlpool of activities. Proms, banquets, houseparties (with outings!) will be continuous until June.

A rousing weekend is in store thanks to the efforts of the Greek Weekend Committee. The Masquerade Ball, Friday evening, will be something unique in the way of dances here on campus. We've all been to fraternity parties where a certain type of costume was in order, but this dance will lend itself to anything from a period costume to semi-formal dressed topped by a crazy hat. The dance will be held at the Commons with music by the Maine Bears. The admission is free and it will last from 8:30 p.m. to 1:00 a.m.

Saturday morning will be taken up with workshops being held in the fraternity houses and sorority rooms.

There is only one place on this campus to be Saturday afternoon. On with the shades man, we all is going to "make the scene" at the gym with Louis Armstrong.

As far as the sororities are concerned the weekend will still be going strong Sunday with a banquet and the Panhellenic Sing.

Fink Named Director

Dr. David R. Fink, Jr., Assistant Professor of Education of the University, has been named director of the 13th annual Dirigo Boys State to be held here from June 12-17.

This will be the second year that Dr. Fink has served as director. The week-long program is sponsored by the Maine Department of the American Legion.

Dr. William Sezak, Associate Professor of Sociology at the University, and Allen Pease, Assistant Professor of Social Science at Gorham State Teachers College, will be assistant directors.

Dr. Eugene A. Mawhinney, Associate Professor of Government, and Walter S. Schoenberger, Assistant Professor of History and Government, will be political party advisors.

About 460 high school juniors are expected to be enrolled for the week of practical experience in the workings of state and local government. The boys are sponsored by community groups and organizations.

Lucky Strike's Dr. Frood reveals

A Foolproof Method for Rating Your College

Dear Dr. Frood: Do you believe in the theories that Shakespeare was actually either Marlowe or Bacon?

English Major

Dear English: All rot. I have done considerable research on the subject and can prove that Marlowe was actually Bacon, and that Bacon (who was a bit of a ham) was, in reality, Marlowe, and that Shakespeare, an itinerant grape squeezer who could neither read nor write, was, in fact, Queen Elizabeth.¹

Dear Dr. Frood: I have a very serious personal problem. I am secretly engaged to three students here. Just between you and me, however, they are all fools. I really love a certain Professor Bowdley, who is married. What should I do? Needless to say, this letter is not for publication.

Millicent Tweedley

Dear Millicent: Your secret is safe with me. I've left strict instructions not to print our correspondence. Confidentially, however, you'll never get Bowdley. I wrote Mrs. Bowdley about the situation, in order to advise you better, and she says Professor Bowdley is too old for you.

¹ See "Shakespeare Was a Grape Squeezer," by Dr. Frood, Frood Publishing Company, '60.

Dear Dr. Frood: Whenever I am with girls, I stutter. Frankly, I think it is because my parents never told me about the birds and the bees. What can I do?

A. W. Shucks

Dear A. W.: You had better read some books on the subject. I especially recommend Mildred Twiddle's "The Bees Are Your Friends," and Agnes Moffet's "Songs in the Treetops."

Dear Dr. Frood: Is there any accepted method for determining the academic ratings of American universities and colleges?

I. V. Leeger

Dear I. V.: Of course. Simply take the total number of graduates and divide by money.

Dear Dr. Frood: Whenever I put my Lucky down, my roommate picks it up and finishes it. How can I stop him?

Put Upon

Dear Put: Light both ends.

Dear Dr. Frood: I am just a little bit worried about exams. I have not attended any classes this semester. I have not done any reading, either. I must be in Aiken for the polo matches until the day before exams and, of course, will be unable to study. Any suggestions?

Buzzy

Dear Buzzy: Do you think professors' hearts are made of stone? Just tell them what you told me. I am sure they will understand, and if they don't excuse you altogether from exams, they certainly will arrange some nice little oral quiz you can take at your leisure later on in the summer.

Statement Of Policy

As new Editor-in-Chief of the Maine Campus, I will reveal the policies we will follow during the coming year. Our purpose will be to communicate to the campus community all news of importance that space permits. We will deal with controversial issues and cover the news as fully as possible.

We welcome your opinions and letters, but please remember that we cannot print letters that are unsigned or libelous. Ideas expressed in columns are the opinions of the columnists, not of the entire Campus staff.

We will strive to keep the newspaper an active influence on the University of Maine campus.

A Little Hustle Please

Examinations, whether they be quizzes or prelims, are not just undesirable tasks which the student must suffer through taking and the instructor must suffer through correcting. They are an integral part of the learning process. They inform both the student and the instructor of the student's progress and achievement in a particular course.

We hear many arguments against the subjective examination. We could probably dig up equally as many arguments against the objective exam. But there is one element of testing that stands head and shoulders above all others in importance: the student's immediate knowledge of the results.

If we are to have any faith in psychological and educational research, we must accept the premise that the sooner the examinee learns of his errors, the more certain he is of correcting them. There is a relationship between the time it takes an instructor to hand back a corrected exam and the amount of learning accomplished by taking it.

With this in mind it seems logical that each instructor bears the responsibility of correcting and handing back his examinations with the utmost speed.

But there are many instructors on this campus who apparently do not know the meaning of speed. Many students go into a prelim and even into a final unaware of how they did on the previous test. We will grant that many instructors, especially those who must give subjective exams, have to spend long hours wading through reams of paper trying to come up with one grade per paper. It is expected that these exams will take a little longer in returning—but not several weeks, or months! If it takes that long to correct these exams, it is time to change the type of exam.

In all fairness to the student who must be present at prelims at the proper time and who must turn in his term papers on time or suffer the consequences, grade-wise, we appeal to the instructors to make the effort to correct and return the papers on time or suffer his students' criticism.

Then There Is Monster-brooke

By Judith Ohr

Did you know there's a monster on campus? Did you know this monster lives on a hill? And did you know that this monster's name is Estabrooke?

Every night this monster swallows up 187 girls and keeps them locked in his stomach until morning. But this monster isn't a bad monster. He wants people to like him, but he doesn't have much to offer. The monster's master has lots of other little creatures to keep happy—Stodder, Colvin, Chadbourne. Somehow, the master forgets about Estabrooke and doesn't take as good care of him as a master should. This monster's lacking lots of little things that the other creatures have, that's why lots of girls don't like him.

First of all, our monster doesn't have a washing machine. Isn't that tragic? One hundred eighty-seven girls and no washer. Poor, poor dwellers of the monster. They must stand over a basin and scrub and scrub. "Ah, this is a monster medieval!" Even the creatures that keep the boys are equipped with washing machines galore.

Our monster has beautiful lounges. But, sadly, they're filled with nothingness. No television to enchant the dwellers. No radio to inform them. No hi-fi to entertain them. But, yes, the lounges do have electric lights.

Our monster's insides are painted in beautiful pastel colors. But, gads, please don't lean against the walls for they are cracked and peely and the slightest jar will shower the ground with paint chips.

Even duty at the mouth of the monster isn't pleasant. Ring! Ring! There goes the telephone and you must jump up and rush into a horror chamber to answer it. Now, runs back and buzz, buzz, buzz. Then run to the phone and hang it up. The horror chambers aren't really too bad IF you go into the right one on the first try and IF you don't stub a toe or crack an ankle running in the door.

Tragic, isn't it, to think a monster like this exists in twentieth century USA. But our monster's brave. He knows that next year when the masters make out their shopping list they might buy him some presents. Our monster's looking toward a bright future. I wonder if he'll have it?

House History

Phi Eta Kappa Is Strong Local

Local fraternities may be found on many college campuses, but no campus can boast of having one as consistently tops as the University of Maine. Phi Eta Kappa was first recognized as the strongest local fraternity in the country in 1911, just five years after its founding. Since this time it has been rated with the best in the nation year after year.

Founded in the fall of 1906 in Oak Hall, the traditional birth place of fraternities at the University of Maine, Phi Eta Kappa became a reality when twelve University men, drawn together by common interests, ideals, and the knowledge that they could do better work for their University and themselves if they were organized, built the nucleus of the new organization. Within two weeks of the first meeting the remainder of Phi Eta's nineteen charter members had been initiated into the fraternity.

By the end of the first year the brothers numbered twenty-six and felt the need for a fraternity house. With the help of the trustees of the University the funds were raised. Our home on College Avenue is now owned by the brotherhood.

In the early years Phi Eta Kappa was interested in the possibility of joining a national organization. Theta Delta Chi was chosen by the Phi Eta brothers as a fraternity whose interests, ideals, and qualifications for membership paralleled their own. Feelers on a possible joining of the two groups were favorably acknowledged by the national organization.

A representative of the local attended Theta Delta Chi's national convention where its petitions were favorably received. However, when the final vote was taken on membership, a unanimous decision being required, the bid was rejected by a single vote. The Bowdoin chapter, the cause of rejection, informed them that regardless of the qualifications, there was going to be only one Theta Delta Chi chapter in the state of Maine.

In 1911 the search for a suitable national was begun again. This time the organization chosen was Phi Kappa Psi, a national fraternity of 98 chapters throughout the country. With the backing of some of Phi Psi's alumni living in Maine, a petition was advanced to the national.

Of the 98 chapters six mid-western chapters rejected the petition on the basis of the opinion that the state of Maine and everything connected therewith was anything but "Blue-Blood," failing to realize that it was the Washburns of Maine who made possible the rapid rise of the Mid-West industry.

The self-centered prejudice and lack of adherence to their own ideals shown by the two national fraternities in their rejections of Phi Eta's petitions alienated the independent local's consideration of any further petitions to national fraternities. Since then Phi Eta Kappa has been invited to affiliate with prominent national organizations such as: Delta Sigma Phi, Phi Delta Theta, Theta Upsilon Omega, Alpha Delta Alpha, Phi Kappa Tau, Phi Sigma Kappa and others. In fact, after the earlier rejection, Phi Kappa Psi proposed affiliation but was rejected.

Phi Eta is proud of its record over the past fifty-four years. We have been represented on the U. S. Olympics team, and several alumni have held national sports records. We are also honored by the fact that the present Governor of Maine is a loyal alumnus.

We feel that intramural sports are for every member of the house. Through the concentrated efforts of the brothers we have amassed the highest over-all point total in intramural competition for the past ten years.

Because there are no discrimination clauses in our constitution or by-laws, we are able to accept anyone into the brotherhood whose ideals and interests are similar to ours. Our financial strength has always been sufficient and has provided our brothers with low-cost housing, dues, and fees. During World War II, Phi Eta Kappa remained open and took in the brothers of six other fraternities; Phi Eta was the only fraternity to obtain a University award for meritorious conduct during the war.

Due to its stress on all aspects of University life and high membership standards, Phi Eta has remained an important contributor to the University community through the years.

Two years ago four of my fraternity brothers went to the Lucerne Inn to work as bar boys for a State of Maine oil convention. The oil convention turned out to be a convention of all the gas station attendants in Maine. Cocktail hour arrived and these men amused themselves by drinking vodka and water with whiskey chasers. Needless to say they didn't enjoy their meals. If any of them had graduated from Maine, which some probably did (Mech. Eng.), visions of the old Men's Cafeteria probably floated in their heads.

Ramblings

"Man Is Nowhere Anyway..."—Kerouac

By Foe Meader

Man is nowhere anyway
Because nowhere is here
And I am here to testify

That's a little Kerouac. Kerouac is sort of refreshing after listening to the R.F.D. Dinnerbell. Maine is about as far east as you can get and all you hear on the radio is Western music. It seems to me that Maine could get some Eastern music. Come to think of it though, it isn't too romantic to sing about pig sties and potatoes.

I don't want you to get the feeling that I don't like Maine. My parents were born in Albion and I've spent summers in Maine since I was one year old.

My greatest remembrance is walking barefoot through cow pastures and letting the mud around the drinking holes squish up between my toes. However, people grow old and the joys of youth soon dim in the mind of the sophisticate. (I'm 21.)

The greatest institution in Maine seems to be the Drive-in Theater. Every Friday and Saturday night the boys arrive, beer in hand, sideburns on head, and '50 Ford under rear. Considering the beer drunk, the theaters sometimes even try to show intellectual movies. (You know, "The Blob," etc.) Most of these pseudo New York Hoods left High School after their sophomore year and went to work in the local garage. Their highest dream is to go to California and work in the airplane factories.

It's the dress that really kills me. I have yet to walk into the Anchorage and not see someone sitting at a front table wearing a flannel shirt. Speaking of shirts, there's nothing I hate more than shirts that lace up the front. I always have the feeling that someone is trying to learn how to tie their shoes.

Mrs. Elliott Discusses Manners At Alpha Chi

Mrs. Lloyd H. Elliott was guest speaker at a formal meeting of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority Monday, April 4. The First Lady of the University, a charter member of Delta Theta Chapter of Alpha Chi Omega, selected as her topic "Etiquette and Social Customs." She expressed regret at the present tendency to become informal to the point of rudeness.

Stressing the importance of instilling good manners in children, Mrs. Elliott said, "The social graces are as important to behavior as dress is to appearance." Among the specific topics discussed by Mrs. Elliott were good grooming, proper dress at social functions, introductions and acknowledgements, conversations, and dance chaperons and guests.

Riflemen Take Second

The varsity rifle team has gained in prestige as a result of its fine showing in the New England sectional match of the National Rifle Association shoot-offs.

Maine finished second behind Northeastern in the field of 14 colleges, 1150 to 1137.

High scorer for Master Sgt. David M. Bell's Black Bears was John Almond of Rochester, N. H., with 289.

DON'T FORGET

Turn in your empty packs of Marlboro, Parliament, Phillip Morris and Alpine, to win your housing unit the Zenith table TV. Second prize a 24 cup West Bend automatic coffee maker. All entries are to be turned in to room 3 Fernald Hall April 8, 1960, between 12 and 2 p.m.

The Maine Press Club will hold its first meeting of the year Wednesday, the 13th, at 7 p.m. So far the Press Club has been pretty inactive on campus. It is the intent of a mass of interested juniors to get it going again. Therefore, any students in any year interested in any fields of writing are invited to the meeting. Since this will be the first meeting, any suggestions on organization will be appreciated.

Charles Lewis Elected New President Of F.F.A.

The collegiate chapter of the FFA held its annual election of officers in the Bumps Room of the Union, March 23. Elected were: president, Charles Lewis; vice president, Joe Hoxie; secretary, Wayne Thurston; treasurer, Richard Wilson; reporter, Norman Dean; sentinel, Martin Gagnon; and FFA Representative, John Rhoda.

Alpha Chi Omega held an initiation ceremony Monday, Mar. 21, in the chapter room at 7 p.m. Judy Gray, a freshman nursing student from South Paris, and Regina Murphy, an education major from Bangor were initiated.

WHO WENT TO THE PROM—AND WHY

"Hello," said the voice on the telephone. "This is Werther Sigafoos. I sit next to you in psych. I'm kind of dumpy and I always wear a sweat shirt."

"I'm afraid I don't remember you," said Anna Livia Plurabelle.

"I'm the one whose lecture notes you've been borrowing for two years," said Werther.

"Oh, yes!" said Anna Livia. "What do you wish, Walter?"

"Werther," said Werther. "What I wish is to take you to the Junior Prom next April."

"But this is November 27, Westnor," said Anna Livia.

"Werther," said Werther. "Yes, I know, but you are so round and beautiful that I was afraid you might have a date already."

"As a matter of fact I do, Wingate," said Anna Livia.

"Werther," said Werther. "Oh, drat!"

Anna Livia did not really have a date, but she was expecting to be asked by Stewart Stalwart, athletic and BMOC, handsome as Apollo, smooth as ivory, wearer of faultless tweeds, smoker of Marlboro cigarettes which even without his other achievements would stamp him as a man with know-how, with a pleasure-oriented palate. If you think flavor went out when filters came in, try a Marlboro. This one brims with zest and zip and the good, mild taste so dear to those who smoke for the pure joy of it. Get yourself a pack of Marlboros and listen to your friends say, "There, by George, goes a smoker who knows a hawk from a handsaw."

But I digress. Anna Livia waited and waited for Stewart Stalwart to ask her, but two days before the Prom, to everybody's amazement, he asked Rose-of-Sharon Schwartz, a nondescript girl with pavement-colored hair and a briefcase.

Anna Livia immediately phoned Werther Sigafoos. "My Prom date has come down with a dread virus," she said, "and I have decided to accept your invitation, Waldrop."

"Werther," said Werther. "Oh, goody ganders!"

The next day Anna Livia received a phone call from Stewart Stalwart. "My Prom date has come down with a dread virus," he said. "Will you go with me?"

"Certainly," she said and promptly phoned Werther and said, "I have come down with a dread virus and cannot go to the Prom with you, Whipstitch."

"Werther," said Werther. "Oh, mice and rats!"

So Anna Livia went to the Prom with Stewart and who do you think they ran into? Rose-of-Sharon with Werther, that's who!

Stewart had felt obliged to ask Rose-of-Sharon because she always did his homework, but she had weseled out because she really wanted to go with Werther with whom she felt a great oneness because they were both so dumpy. He fell wildly in love with her at the Prom, and today they are married and run a very successful five-minute auto wash in New Bern, N. C.

Anna Livia and Stewart are happy, too. They are still juniors and have not missed a prom in sixteen years. © 1960 Max Shulman

ART ZALKAN — Sports Editor

On behalf of the new sports staff and myself, we welcome you back to the Maine campus. Hope you all had a wonderful vacation and that you are ready for the final weeks of school. Summer is just around the corner minus a few more cold days.

In hopes of starting off on the right foot with you, I should like to take space to explain in detail what will be the policy of the new staff. It will be our policy to give you the best possible coverage of all MAINE sports. We will keep you informed on all activities in the State Series and the Yankee Conference. We will give you full coverage on the intramural level also.

At times it will be necessary to omit items of news. This will be necessary because we lack space and not because we are ignorant of the facts. If at anytime during the year, we have neglected to mention your favorite sport, PLEASE DROP US A LINE, and we will correct this.

Always remember that our sports page is designed to please you. Without your help and co-operation, we will not be able to achieve the goals and aims that we wish to attain—that of making the University of Maine the most sports minded college in the nation and that of making sports at the University of Maine the very best possible.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Brett Russell, Maine's skiing captain during the past season, placed 15th in the nation in the NCAA ski jump meet held in Montana during the past 10 days. Brett placed third among the eastern skiers.

Attention!!! Camp Counselors!!! the Red Cross is offering a life saving course. Those of you who plan to be counselors this summer should look into this. . . . It could mean extra MONEY!

Billy Burke, former ace pitcher for the Maine Black Bears, is now hurling for the Mass. Mutual Life Insurance Co. in Ohio. His address is 800 Dixie Terminal Bldg., Cincinnati. Billy sends his warmest regards to all his friends at MAINE.

Look for SOCCER to begin next fall. The administration and the athletic board has given the green light to those in charge of the program. All we need now is a coach, a field, some players, and a schedule.

Here's a solid tip for you loyal MAINE fans. If you haven't ordered your Prism, you're missing the boat. Rumor has it that the 1961 Prism is the best ever.

Word has it that Coach Hal Westerman is looking for two football assistants for next fall. Former line coach, Jim Butterfield, is now at Colgate. Lew Clark, "Westy's" end coach, is not returning this fall. Lew is going to be coaching himself in order to get his Ph.D.

Colby College's basketball squad named Skip Chappelle the "most valuable Opponent" on their All-Opponent five. Skip scored some 85 points against them.

Johnny Norris, former All-Yankee Conference center for MAINE in 1952-53, has left his coaching position at Calais for a similar position at Bucksport. The power of the MAINE coaching system pays off again.

Boston College had 110 candidates turn out for Spring football practice last week. Can the MAINE Bears top this figure? "Westy" plans to call his team out on April 16. He'll be glad to see you there. Let's get out there and show all of New England that we are the best in the area.

Next Week . . . Betty Co-ed goes to Spring football practice.

Bangor Y To Offer Instruction

The Penobscot County Chapter of the American Red Cross announced recently that a special series of life saving and instructor's courses will be offered at the new Bangor YMCA pool beginning Tuesday, April 12.

A Senior Life Saving course will be given on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 10 p.m. This course, offered for six dollars per person, will be given for five weeks.

Miss Mildred McGuire, water safety chairman, assisted by Mrs. Betty Solorzano and other instructors, will be in charge of the ten classes.

Immediately following these sessions, an instructor's course will be given for four consecutive nights beginning May 16 at no extra charge for those persons enrolled in the life saving instruction.

For those taking the instructor's course only, the charge for the use of the pool and facilities will be sixty cents.

Applicants are urged to register at the Bangor YMCA, Hammond Street, on April 12, the first night of instruction.

Big Blue Back From South Disappointed But Confident

"Disappointed but not discouraged" is the way Coach Jack Butterfield, Maine's baseball coach, expressed himself when quizzed about last week's Southern baseball swing. "We need lots of work on our hitting, continued Butterfield. "On the whole, we have a better balanced ball club than we had last year."

The Maine Black Bears returned to the Orono campus Sunday afternoon a defeated group, but by no means a pessimistic bunch.

The Big Blue team, playing only four of its six scheduled games, did not have too much luck. They lost all four games. On Monday of last week, the Bears lost to Washington College, 5-4, after having a 4-1 lead going into the eighth inning.

Against Navy, the Bears lost 4-1. Following two rained out games at Washington, D. C., the Maine squad fell victims to Rutgers University, 3-2, in 11 innings and then lost to Columbia University, 4-2, on Saturday afternoon.

Pitching, the thing that worried Butterfield, was excellent. The Maine hurling staff issued only four free passes while giving up only eight earned runs. "Pete Henderson was the best individual performer on the trip," stated the Maine mentor. "He was real tough against Rutgers." The young sophomore gave up three hits in five innings while striking out six. He walked only one batter.

Butterfield has this to say of his fielders. "Valiton was the most outstanding. Ranzoni did an adequate job while Dunphy was good defensively but needs to improve his hitting. Livesey started to come around towards the end of the trip. He needs to get his timing squared away."

Butterfield started Tuesday to prepare for a tough Yankee Conference and State Series schedule. His first game will be with Rhode Island University on April 15 at Kingston.

Freshman Baseball

By Earl Smith
Assistant Sports Editor

Ken Perrone, new freshman baseball coach, is pleased, to say the least, with his first coaching assignment.

"I couldn't have asked for a better ball club to start with," beamed the rookie coach. "I don't want to sound too enthused because this is my first job, but I feel that I have quite a good ball club."

Perrone, who starred with the Black Bears as a senior last season, has been in charge of the first year men for four weeks and has narrowed his squad down to 24 men.

"We have excellent depth in the infield as well as in the pitching and catching departments," he said.

The youthful diamond boss hesitated to single out any one standout on his lineup and pointed out that the entire squad is worthy of mention for its attitude and hustle.

The Bear Cubs will begin a nine game schedule on April 25 against the Bates frosh.

Perrone noted that the freshman schedule this season is one of the best ever.

"We have no high school games, and for the first time we will be playing the freshman teams from the other three Maine colleges as well as the varsities of the prep schools in the area," he said.

Among the ex-high school stars that dot the frosh roster are Bob Couture and Laddie Deemer on the mound, with Alton "Bump" Hadley or John Gibbons behind the plate.

Tennis Starts

Brian McCall, successful basketball coach, will be moving from one court to another soon, as he takes charge of the 1960 edition of the tennis team.

Lost by graduation last June were Bob Chase and Bob White, the most consistent single winners of the 1959 team. Last season's doubles team of Edler and Chase will be broken up, with Edler the only possible returnee.

Leading candidates for possible varsity berths will be sophomores Dave O'Donnell, Dave Miles, Don Idleman and Walt Higgins.

On The Island

By Fred Stubbett

As the second half of the semester begins and the intramural program starts down the home stretch, a look at the fraternity point leaders seems in order.

With three sports left, volleyball, softball, and tennis, Phi Eta has a comfortable lead over second place Phi Mu, 300 to 255.

No other fraternity has sufficient point totals to challenge either of the leaders although Delta Tau and Phi Kap are doing well in comparison to past years.

If Phi Mu is to catch Phi Eta, they must pick up sizable portions of the approximately 80 points available from volleyball, 70 points from softball, and 40 points from tennis.

This week marks the beginning of the volleyball schedule. Both the fraternity and non-fraternity leagues are divided into four branches this year with each team playing three games during the regular competition.

The play-offs will pit the winners of each branch in a single elimination tourney culminating with the campus championship match between the fraternity and non-fraternity winners on Wednesday, April 13.

Applications for softball and tennis entries will soon be distributed; however, both sports will have to wait until the playing surfaces are free of moisture.

Starting with this week's contests and continuing whenever possible, the outstanding intramural athlete of the week will be mentioned in this column.

The choice will be made after consultation with officials and intramural faculty advisors.

The selections will be based on the individual's over-all performance as well as his value to his team, with sportsmanship not being neglected in the choice.

King Football Returns

"Don't shake your head! This is the real thing! Coach Hal Westerman will have his Black Bear gridders back in football togs April 16 for Spring football practice. Look out, 1960 opponents!"

Frosh Track

On the cinder track Coach Ed Styrna has his frosh tracksters back in action after a three week layoff.

Most of the first year track men competed during the indoor track season and are in top shape for the outdoor swing.

The squad of 35 men is prepping for a five meet schedule which begins on April 23 against the Boston College yearlings.

"Our first meet with BC will be the toughest," reports Coach Styrna, "but this is one of the better freshman groups that I have had."

Several of the Baby Bears have already rewritten the freshman record book in indoor track. Pete McPhee who holds the mark in the quarter mile will return to action along with Baron Hicken in the hurdles and Bill Blood in the weights. Both athletes starred during the winter season, Blood setting a school record in the shot put.

These three, along with a host of other standouts, could lead the frosh to an undefeated season.
